joining together
to fight e-crime

E-crime is any crime where information or communications technology is used. By its very nature E-crime is a global issue, and as prosecutors we are charged with the task of upholding law and protecting the victims of E-crime; the Global Prosecutors E-crime Network (GPEN) will enable us to join together and pool our resources, to fight cybercrime effectively, efficiently and in a coordinated way.
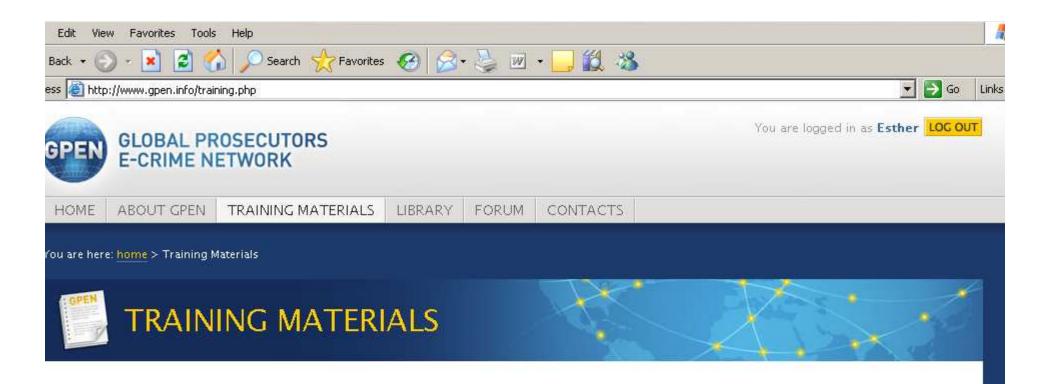

Training Materials

Download e-crime training materials from prosecuting authorities around the world and upload your training materials to share global best practice.

Library

Download information, legislation and legal guidance on e-crime from our international library and upload information you have found useful.

TRAINING MATERIALS

One of the aims of the GPEN project is to facilitate the education and training of e-crime prosecutors around the world. There is a global need for training and standardisation of legal and procedural standards in dealing with e-crime matters. Training of prosecutors to prosecute e-crime cases is a priority area for international efforts against cyber crime.

Training materials can be downloaded and adapted or improved for use by prosecutors around the world. The revised training programme can then be uploaded to the system to enable prosecutors in other countries to take advantage of the improvements or changes that you have made.
