

Council of Europe
The Secretary General

Strasbourg, 15 June 2015

Dear Minister,

I am pleased to write to you in relation to the Council of Europe Convention on Action against Trafficking in Human Beings (CETS No. 197). This year we are marking the 10th anniversary of the opening for signature of this ground-breaking Treaty.

To date, 43 European countries have ratified this Convention, which established GRETA - an effective and independent monitoring mechanism controlling the implementation of the obligations contained in the Convention.

GRETA has so far evaluated the policies in 39 countries, and concluded that much progress has been made. But still much more needs to be done.

In order to reach our goal, we need to continue to ensure a pan-European response to human trafficking challenges, using the tools provided by international treaties, particularly the Council of Europe's Anti-trafficking Convention.

Over recent years a growing number of States which are not members of the Council of Europe have also expressed interest and Belarus has indeed already acceded to this Convention. This positive development underlines the value of the standard-setting activities of the Council of Europe internationally.

On the occasion of the tenth anniversary of this important Treaty, I would urge your country to take the necessary steps towards the signature and ratification of this important Convention without delay. I am aware that the Czech Republic has already taken important steps to develop the legislative, institutional and policy framework for preventing and combating human trafficking. I would be grateful for confirmation of your intentions at the earliest opportunity.

The involvement of all Council of Europe member States is particularly important for safeguarding the sustainability of these mechanisms.

Yours sincerely,

Thorbjørn Jagland

Mr Milan Chovanec
Minister of the Interior of the Czech Republic
