Youth Social Rights Network

1- Youth Social Rights Network (YSRN) Sulkhan Chargeishvili

<http://ysrnetwork.weebly.com/>

Youth Social Rights Network (YSRN) brings together young people and youth organizations working on the improvement of access to social rights for young people. The network is also a space for private organizations, local authorities and other public authorities to work together on accessing to social rights.

Our mission is to improve the access to social rights, social inclusion and participation of young people; (particularly those from disadvantaged neighbourhoods or those facing disadvantage).

2- Youth Express Network (Y-E-N) Véronique Bertholle

<http://www.youthexpressnetwork.org>

Y-E-N/R-E-J is a European network of grass-root youth organisations. Our vision is to reach an inclusive society, where young people, their needs and participation are recognised, valued and appreciated. Our 29 member organisations in 23 different countries all work at local, regional or European level on social inclusion of young people. Our Board is pan European and our coordination office is based in STRASBOURG, France. Since 1993, we have organised more than 90 international training courses, seminars, cross-border and mobility projects bringing together social/youth workers and young people with fewer opportunities. We also have conducted researches on youth and social related issues and have been trying to be the voice of young people with fewer opportunities in local, regional and international institutions, either by representing them or by supporting them to create and be part of youth councils. We are member of YFJ and INGO Conference of COE.

3- Ficéméa Sonia Chebbi

<http://www.ficemea.org/>

The International Federation of Centers for Training in Active Education Methods (Ficeméa) regroups 42 organizations present in Europe, South America, Africa and the Indian Ocean. For the last sixty years, our Federation has been working to promote active education working towards change in social and educational practices. Active education aims at the emancipation of individuals throughout their life, including training in the quality of citizenship, in order to promote a democratic life.

4- Parcours le Monde (Take a World Discovery Journey!) - Grand East Anne-Lise Morel

<http://parcourslemonde.org/>

The association PARCOURS LE MONDE – GRAND EST, is a recognized charity association (France, “law1901”) created in December 2015 and aims to promote and develop European and international mobility as well as intercultural dialogue and citizenship, through formal and non- formal education. Activities are particularly aimed at young people (16 to 30) or to public with fewer opportunities. The association seeks, through international mobility, to contribute to the social and professional integration of these public.

5- Volonteuropa

James Moon

<http://volonteuropa.eu/>

Volonteuropa is an international network promoting volunteering, active citizenship and social justice in Europe and beyond.

Volonteuropa works at all levels, from the local to the international, and across the public, private and third sectors. We facilitate exchange, foster collaboration, and carry out research and advocacy.

Volonteuropa currently has over 50 members in more than 20 countries across Europe.

Our vision is of a world in which the principles of inclusiveness, collaboration, sustainability and fairness guide thinking, behaviour and practice in Europe, resulting in genuine social justice for all.

Our mission is to work collaboratively with our members and partners to champion the role of volunteering and active citizenship as pathways for social justice in Europe and beyond.

6- AFEV

Fanny Sarron

<http://www.afev.fr/>

The Afev is the first student solidarity network intervening in the neighborhoods. It is a French association created in 1991 on the basis of the findings of inequalities in the neighborhoods on one side, and the conviction that young people want to commit on the other side. The Afev has four action programs which contribute each specifically to fight against inequality, educational in particular and to promote social cohesion in neighborhoods.

7- AEGEE

Aleksandra Kluczka

<http://www.aegEE.org>

AEGEE is one of Europe's biggest interdisciplinary student organisations, striving for a democratic, diverse and borderless Europe. As a non-governmental, politically independent, and non-profit organisation AEGEE is open to students and young people from all faculties and disciplines. Founded in 1985 in Paris, today AEGEE has grown to a Network of 13000 friends, present in 200 cities in 40 countries all over Europe. Through our activities, we empower students and young people in Europe to take an active role in society. We create a space for dialogue and learning opportunities as well as act as their representative towards decision-makers. AEGEE strengthens mutual understanding among young Europeans and brings Europe closer to young people.

8- European Academy of Sports of Rhineland-Palatinate

Markus-Andreas Kowalinski

<http://www.sportakademie.de/>

The European Sportacademy of Rhineland-Palatinate provides multidisciplinary education and advanced training for trainers, nursery, teachers, executives and managers in organized sports.

Since 2015, the European Sportacademy accommodates 10 underaged unaccompanied refugees from Syria and Afghanistan. The European Sportacademy uses special intercultural teaching methods based on sport and physical activity.

We provide several concepts for the training of confidence and self-confidence on the basics of Fairplay. We can show the potential of sport clubs for a sustainable integration in local contexts.

9- LICRA

Yannick Stamm

<http://www.licra.org>

The International League against Racism and Anti-Semitism is on the front line to fight against racism, to defend victims of discrimination and to provide civic education. Secular Association, it defends the republican values. The association aims to be vigilant. Day after day, it fights racism and the trivialization of xenophobic acts, providing legal assistance to victims, often not informed of their rights. It is very attentive to racist or anti-Semitic remarks in the press, on television, radio and Internet. LICRA fight against discrimination based on origin, nationality or religious practice of individuals in all fields of society: employment, housing, education, health and sport. LICRA is based, both in its preventive work with youth and on public awareness- raising on the wonderful cultural “vehicle”, including literature, theater or cinema, to thwart the diktat prejudices.

10- Huis Van de Jeugd - Youth and Sobibor

Daniëlle van der Meer

<https://www.huisvandejeugd.nl>

The 'Huis van de Jeugd' (House of Youth) offers professional support for voluntary juvenile work, the work volunteers do today is that which bears the fruit of the future. The Huis van de Jeugd works directly with and for its public: civic participation is requisite if we are to achieve full collaboration between the government and the citizens.

This philosophy is also directly in line with what our organization tries to do: the concept is to highlight certain historical events in order to resolve contemporary issues. We try to create awareness through remembrance, if you will
