EUROPEAN CHARTER FOR REGIONAL OR MINORITY LANGUAGES

Appendix 1 to the fifth Periodical Report presented to the Secretary General of the Council of Europe in accordance with Article 15 of the Charter

THE NETHERLANDS

ADMINISTRATIVE AGREEMENT ON FRISIAN LANGUAGE
AND CULTURE
2013-2018

The State of the Netherlands, represented in this matter by the Ministers of the Interior and Kingdom Relations, Foreign Affairs, Security and Justice, Social Affairs and Employment and Education, Culture and Science.

The aforementioned ministers, hereinafter jointly referred to as the central government, each inasmuch as it pertains to his or her responsibility in the matter, on the one hand and

the province of Fryslân,

Represented in this matter by the Queen's Commissioner, Mr J.A. Jorritsma, hereinafter referred to as the province, on the other,

whereas:

the responsibility of the central government to look after the Frisian language was officially recognised in 1970 in the Cabinet position on the report of the Frisian Language Politics Commission;

as a member state of the Council of Europe, the Netherlands has entered into the obligation to protect Frisian by ratifying the Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities and the European Charter for Regional or Minority Languages.

the central government and the province of Fryslân therefore have a joint responsibility for safeguarding the Frisian language and culture;

in view of this joint responsibility and duty of care, the central government and the province of Fryslân periodically enter into administrative agreements to find ways to implement the responsibility regarding the Frisian language and culture and how to fund it;

the central government and the province reserve the right to make supplementary agreements during the term of this administrative agreement in the light of national and international developments pertaining to the Frisian language and culture;

have decided to set down the following administrative agreement:

SECTION 1: GENERAL

(Article 7 of the European Charter)

If the quality of the language policy being aimed for at a national, provincial or regional level is good, it is important when drafting policy plans never to lose sight of their impact on the use of the Dutch or Frisian language. This simplifies compliance with the provisions of the European Charter endorsed by the Netherlands. This must also be set down in a formal sense.

- 1.1. The central government and the province shall ensure that all policy memoranda pertaining to fields which can be regarded as part of the area of operation of this administrative agreement, with due observance of the provisions of the European Charter ratified by the Netherlands, shall pay attention to the impact of the draft policy plans on the Frisian language.

Action: Central government, province.

- 1.2. The special status of the Frisian language and culture is set down in specific legislation and convention provisions. The central government acknowledges that this status must be guaranteed by the government level most suited to the purpose. By entering into this administrative agreement, the province of Fryslân is complying with this duty (state/province). The coalition agreement of the Cabinet (Rutte II) contains the intention to work towards provincial mergers over a period of time. This means that the current 12 provinces will make way in the long term for five regions. It is the intention of the Rutte II Cabinet to achieve a merger of the provinces of Noord-Holland, Utrecht and Flevoland during its Cabinet term. In the case of the other provinces this is not scheduled to take place till much later. Initiatives to bring this about will be developed during this Cabinet term. It will be up to the province of Fryslân to determine its own position in this. For the Cabinet, the special position of the province of Fryslân from a cultural point of view, as guaranteed by the Charter for Regional or Minority Languages, among others, will be taken into account in the process and the development of further policy.

Action: Central government, province.

- 1.3. The coalition agreement of the Cabinet (Rutte II) contains the intention to work towards provincial mergers over a period of time. This means that the current 12 provinces will make way in the long term for five regions. The intention is to achieve the merger of the provinces Noord-Holland, Utrecht and Flevoland during this Cabinet term. In the case of the other provinces this is not scheduled to take place till much later. Initiatives to bring this about will be developed during this Cabinet term.

It will therefore be up to the province of Fryslân to determine its own position in this. For the Cabinet the special position of this province from a cultural point of view, as guaranteed by the Charter for Regional or Minority Languages, among others, will be taken into account in the process and the development of further policy.

Action: Central government, province.

In order to advise the Dutch government and the province of Fryslân on all matters pertaining to the Frisian language, the central government and the Provincial Executive of the province of Fryslân have a joint advisory body. The advisory body can report on the needs and wishes with regard to the Frisian language and culture to all administrative bodies and judicial organisations, inasmuch as these are located in the province of Fryslân or have the province of Fryslân as their area of operation. The advisory body will also provide support in drawing up rules and policy plans pertaining to the Frisian language by administrative bodies established in the province of Fryslân which do not belong to the central government, and to elements of the central government for which the area of operation covers the province of Fryslân or part of it. The current Frisian consultative body will be incorporated into this new body for the Frisian language, which will be funded by the central government and the province jointly. The Use of Frisian Language legislative proposal which has already been sent to the Lower House of Parliament proposes the establishment of the Body for the Frisian Language.

SECTION 2: EDUCATION

(Article 8 of the European Charter)

Introduction

Good education is the basis for today's society in the Netherlands. Understanding and speaking their native language is something children learn 'by themselves', but reading and writing it is not. As the competition with other languages is becoming increasingly fierce, in terms of both spoken and written use of the Frisian language, learning to read and write Frisian is essential for its continued existence. In this context, what is referred to as the continuous learning period, from preschool age through to higher education, is very important for Frisian. The education section of the European Charter is based on this concept, as is this administrative agreement.

The following point of departure for policy on Frisian in education is applicable:

the central government determines the general education, cultural and media policy, and with regard to Frisian directly or indirectly ensures compliance with the European Charter;

the province of Fryslân determines the policy with regard to Frisian (within the frameworks of the general education regulations) and will ensure its implementation;

the central government will make resources available to enable the province of Fryslân to implement its policies on the Frisian language; this includes use of the resources of the province itself.

the policy of the province with regard to Frisian and the general education, cultural and media policy of the central government must reinforce one another where possible.

2.1 Agreements on Frisian during preschool period

2.1.1 Working language in childcare and playgroups

Under articles 1.55 and 2.12 of the Childcare and Playgroup Quality Act, in areas in which the Frisian language is in living use alongside the Dutch language, childcare and playgroups have freedom of choice with regard to the working language. This means that, in areas in which Frisian is the working language in childcare and playgroups, this is permitted. Just to clarify: this pertains to childcare and playgroups, and not to the preschool and early school education sector.

The inspection policy of the Regional Health Service in Friesland is geared towards permitting the use of Frisian as working language, or applying a bilingual policy.

2.1.2 Basic competencies/multilingualism

There are basic competencies applicable to the Frisian language and multilingualism, which have been developed into multilingualism modules, and the modules for refresher courses have been developed in detail and signed by the relevant parties in the Frisian education field.

2.1.3 Adult provision

The Regional Education Centres (ROCs) will be encouraged, during this administrative agreement, to further integrate the multilingualism module into the curriculum of the courses training people to be educational advisers/education assistants (Educational Advice Work) at Frisian Poort and Friesland College, in order to link up better with subjects such as developmental psychology and language development.

2.1.4 Action plan

Frisian language teaching material is to be available for the entire curriculum for preschool education in Fryslân for systematic use by a growing number of institutions, as long as the teaching material is used alongside Dutch and is not funded from the specific payment for the preschool and early school education sector.

The playgroup and childcare project, which implements a language policy focused on multilingual development, shall be vigorously continued. At the end of this administrative agreement, there shall be 200 playgroups and centres for childcare in Fryslân which pursue a language policy focused on multilingual development.

The Provincial Executive issues its advice within eight weeks. The Minister of Education, Culture and Science can only go counter to this advice if he/she provides reasons. At the time of the signing of this administrative agreement, a draft proposal is being prepared which fleshes out in greater detail the involvement of the central government and the province of Fryslân in determining the core objectives.

The Provincial Executive of Fryslân, in cooperation with the education sector, shall develop criteria for granting exemption as referred to in Section 9, fourth paragraph, of the Primary Education Act, and as referred to in Section 11e, first paragraph, of the Secondary Education Act, which are sufficiently supported by the schools. The Provincial Executive shall discuss the criteria formulated in consultation with Minister of Education, Culture and Science.

The Provincial Executive of Fryslân, in cooperation with the education sector, shall also develop criteria for granting partial exemption for the core objectives for Frisian in primary education and the core objectives for the Frisian language and culture in secondary education, which are sufficiently supported by the schools, with a view to the option of partial exemption, which is part of the legislative proposal currently being prepared referred to above. SECTION 3: JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES, ADMINISTRATIVE AUTHORITIES AND PUBLIC SERVICE DEPARTMENTS

(Articles 9 & 10 of the European Charter)

Introduction

The use of the Frisian language in public administration has been anchored in legislation since 1995 in the General Administrative Law Act (section 2:2). Moreover, the Use of Frisian (Legal Matters) Act, which came into force in 1997, expanded the options for using Frisian in the court room.

A legislative proposal on rules governing the use of the Frisian language in public administration and in legal matters was submitted to the Lower House of Parliament on 25 July 2012. The purpose of the act is, in any event, to reverse as much as possible the current limitations on the use of Frisian in public administration and in legal matters, thereby strengthening the position of Frisian in both sectors.

3.1 Agreements on the use of Frisian by judicial authorities

1. Monitoring

The use of Frisian in court cases in the province of Fryslân is being monitored.

Action: Central government.

2. Review of judicial map

The proposed review of the judicial map is resulting in increases of scale in legal matters. The central government shall ensure that the existing legal position of Frisian-speaking litigants shall be guaranteed and not reduced in the review of the judicial map.

Action: Central government.

3.2 Agreements on the use of Frisian by administrative authorities

A. Administrative redvisions

In the case of plans for municipal redvisions, the province and the central government shall work to notify the municipalities in question of the need to adopt an adequate municipal language policy. In the case of administrative redvisions, the central government and the province of Fryslân will make agreements, in consultation with the parties involved, regarding protection of the position of the Frisian language in the municipality to be newly formed. In the case of municipal redvisions, these agreements will be made with the municipalities in question and the Provincial Executive of Fryslân.

Action: central government and province.

B. Administrative bodies

The province shall encourage administrative bodies which are not part of the central government and are not established in the province of Fryslân (the field of operation of which extends to the province of Fryslân or part of it) and judicial bodies which have the province of Fryslân as their territory to implement a language policy.

Action: province.

In the Use of Frisian Language legislative proposal, which at the time of the signing of this administrative agreement is before the Lower House of Parliament, it states that the administrative bodies established in the province of Fryslân which do not form part of the central government must draw up rules on the use of the Frisian language in written documents and in verbal use. It also proposes that these administrative bodies draw up a policy plan on the use of the Frisian language. This is a legal obligation.

SECTION 4: The media

(Article 11 of the European Charter)

Introduction

In this administrative agreement, the term media is deemed to mean: printed media, radio and television ("traditional media") and new media (the internet, digital cable, video on demand, narrowcasting, social media). The central government and the province are working to ensure that Frisian will also be given a suitable position in the new media. Developments in this area are moving very quickly. In these developments, use of the Frisian language is being given the attention needed to strengthen the position of Frisian in the media. The province of Fryslân has the ambition to make the position of Frisian in all forms of new media (the internet and electronic mail) at least equal to that of Frisian in traditional media (radio and television, in particular) in Fryslân.

At the time this administrative agreement was entered into, Omrop Fryslân is broadcasting radio 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It broadcasts informative and cultural programmes during the daytime, and music programmes during the evening and at night. Regional television broadcasts just over 11 hour of original material per weekday. There are 27 hours of Frisian programming broadcast via NOS on the national channels each year: 21 hours of broadcasting time for Frisian language documentaries (FryslânDoc) and six hours of broadcasting time each year for schools television and secondary education. NOS offers Frisian language school television programmes for primary education (10 hours per year) via the internet. These programmes are provided by the national television department of Omrop Fryslân and are also broadcast via the regional channel.

4.1 Media agreements

1) Protection of Frisian language and culture

The central government and the province shall pursue a policy of maintaining and actively promoting Frisian language and culture, including with the use of media.

Action: Central government and province.

2) Funding of media

In accordance with the European Charter for Regional and Minority Languages and the Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities of the Council of Europe, the central government shall make sufficient resources available for full and multifaceted Frisian programming on radio, television and the internet. At the time this administrative agreement was entered into, realisation of this Frisian language programming was the responsibility of Omrop Fryslân.

The coalition agreement of the Rutte II Cabinet states intentions concerning the broadcasting structure, as well as its funding. The central government and the province are together examining how these intentions can be implemented in the case of the Frisian regional broadcaster, and how the various aspects will be implemented, taking into account the convention agreements pertaining to the use of the Frisian language in the media. On the basis of this, the central government and the province will make more detailed agreements on funding of the programming of the regional broadcaster in Fryslân.

Action: Central government and province.

² The Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities of the Council of Europe, article 4, and the European Charter for Regional and Minority Languages, article 11.1.a iii.

Paragraph 10

In addition to the standard financing of the basic regional broadcasting provision, the central government and the province can make resources available to Frisian regional broadcasting on a project basis for programme projects which are in line with the policy of strengthening Frisian as a minority language.

Paragraph 11 (to be added)

Paragraph 12 (to be added)

The Commission for Safeguarding Frisian in the Media has issued advice on the position of Frisian in the media and on safeguarding the convention agreements on Frisian language in the media.

In accordance with the convention agreements on Frisian language in the media, the Frisian regional broadcaster has a special position in terms of safeguarding the Frisian language as the second state language in the Netherlands. This pertains particularly to the special role of the regional broadcaster in the province of Fryslân in terms of the preservation, promotion and living use of Frisian.

The central government shall be responsible for ensuring that, when developing in detail the intentions of the Rutte II Cabinet with regard to the broadcasting structure and the further development of the media policy, the report and advice of the Commission for Safeguarding Frisian in the Media will be taken into account.

Paragraph 13 (to be added)

Article 10

Programmes of the Frisian regional broadcaster will be eligible, until 1 January 2017, for support from central funds in the area of broadcasting productions, such as the Fund for the Promotion of Dutch Cultural Broadcasting Productions. This has been laid down in the articles of the Promotion Fund and elsewhere. In the letter dated 6 December, the Cabinet announced that the budget of the Media Fund would be set to zero as of 1 January 2017. The fund will be wound up on that date. The cuts to the budget will have consequences for the programming of the national and regional public broadcasters. The NPO has announced that it will continue to make the type of programmes funded by the fund. It is important that the NPO ensures a good embedding of the tasks and functions carried out by the Media Fund in promoting and financing specifically public cultural media productions at the national and regional public broadcasters.

Paragraph 14 (to be added)

Paragraph 15 (to be added)

Frisian language television drama productions will be eligible until 1 January 2017 for subsidies from the Fund for the Promotion of Dutch Cultural Broadcasting Productions.

Paragraph 16 (to be added)

Paragraph 17 (to be added)

Expertise in relation to Frisian language and culture has been guaranteed in the composition of the boards of bodies set up pursuant to the Media Act and the boards of funds relating to broadcasting productions. External expertise in the field of the Frisian language can be engaged in such cases as arise.

Paragraph 18 (to be added)

SECTION 5: CULTURAL ACTIVITIES AND FACILITIES

(Article 12 of the European Charter)

Art and Culture are alive and blossoming in the province of Fryslân. To a large extent, the Frisian language is the working language for cultural activities. The Frisian cultural infrastructure includes a number of basic facilities, namely: theatre company Tryater, Tresoar, Keunstwurk, de Afûk and the Fryske Akademy. Alongside these basic facilities, there are more than 300 amateur drama associations (including 46 associations for young persons' drama), 29 Iepenloftspullen, 289 music associations and 530 choirs. Music schools and creativity centres also play an important role in keeping Frisian language and culture alive, and strengthening it. Furthermore, there are various publishing houses which publish Frisian language books. This broad infrastructure is facilitated by knowledge institutions supported by the province. The involvement of the central government in supporting Frisian language cultural activities and facilities is set down in article 12 of the European Charter (12.1, 12.2 and 12.3). Changes to the funding of the cultural institutions in question will be discussed at the earliest possible stage bilaterally between the central government and the province of Fryslân.

Action: province.

In the event that evaluation of Tryater results in an end to or reduction of the provision of opportunities to maintain the company, or after the activities are ended by the company, the Minister of Education, Culture and Science and the Provincial Executive Fryslân shall consult with one another regarding the situation at that point.

11.3.1.1 The European Charter

The European Charter contains a section on economic and social life, a number of articles of which the Netherlands has ratified, namely 13.1, a, b, c and D and 13.2, b and c. In line with this, a number of objectives have been formulated in this administrative agreement in the economic and social fields. It should be borne in mind in this context that, with regard to language use, language behaviour and language codes, there is little legislation and are few regulations in this field.

This does not affect the fact that use of the Frisian language in the economic and social sector can be promoted in a facilitatory sense. It is also important in this context that any legal impediments to Frisian are removed if possible, in order to promote use of Frisian in economic and social life.

11.3.1.2 Frisian in economic and social life

11.3.1.2.2.3.2.2

SECTION 7: CROSS-BORDER EXCHANGES

(Article 14 of the European Charter)

Frisians enjoy a special position in Fryslân as a cultural and linguistic minority. The parties therefore feel that it is important that the special position of Fryslân in the Netherlands is also known abroad, in accordance with articles 14a and 14b of the European Charter.

Moreover, it is important to be able to compare the situation for linguistic minorities elsewhere in Europe with that in Fryslân. However, within the context of the European Union, it is more important still for Fryslân to create its own distinct profile. Regions in the European Union with a regional or minority language are given the opportunity to establish contacts with one another. From a linguistic perspective, the relationships with the Frisian language areas in Germany have traditionally been important for Fryslân, but the relationships with other minority languages in Europe are no less important.

7.1 Agreements on cross-border exchanges

1) Network for the Promotion of Linguistic Diversity

The province is a member of the European Network for the Promotion of Linguistic Diversity (NPLD) and makes use of this network to optimally organise international contacts with areas with a minority regional language in countries such as Italy, England and Spain in the context of various substantive themes.

The NPLD network can also be used for this.

Action provided:

3) International projects

Participation as partner/lead partner in more international projects, in cooperation with partners from European minority language areas, making news in this context of the NPLD network.

Action provided:

4) Exchange projects for young people

There are sufficient resources available to realise and promote international (multilateral) exchange projects for young people from minority language areas.

Action provided:

5) Exchanges in the areas of culture and education

There are sufficient resources available to realise and promote exchanges in areas such as culture and education between the province of Fryslân and the Frisian language areas in Germany (the region of Ostfriesland in the federal state of Nedersaksen, particularly in the municipality of Saterland, and Kreis Nordfriesland)

Action provided:

10.10.2014 10:00:00
