Training course on project management and youth co-operation in times of war
Lublin, Poland
13 – 15 October 2024

Call for participants

BACKGROUND

The full-scale aggression of the Russian Federation against Ukraine is a daily threat to life of Ukrainian people. As a consequence, about 2 million young people became internally displaced, and more than 2 million were forced to leave Ukraine, more than 106 facilities of youth infrastructure were affected, of which 38 were completely destroyed or damaged.

The Reykjavik Declaration and Principles for Democracy identifies the importance of young people and of youth policy, and calls “to support the participation of young persons in democratic life and decision-making processes, including through education about human rights and core democratic values, such as pluralism, inclusion, non-discrimination, transparency and accountability”. This point is especially pertinent in the context of Ukraine, where youth, men and women alike, is fighting in the military to protect Ukraine and all of Europe from the Russian aggression, sacrificing their well-being, health and their lives. Despite monumental and multifaceted challenges, young people are overwhelmingly willing to participate in the recovery of the country.

The cooperation between the relevant authority responsible for youth policy in Ukraine and the youth sector of the Council of Europe dates back to the late 1990s. With the beginning of the full-scale aggression of the Russian Federation against Ukraine, cooperation was adapted and expanded through framework cooperation programmes and technical assistance projects, to address the emerging needs of young people in the war and post-war periods. In 2021 the Council of Europe and the Ministry of Youth and Sports of Ukraine signed a five-year Framework Programme for Cooperation in the field of Youth Policy with three main priorities of action: education for human rights and democratic citizenship, strengthening youth work policies and practices, and improving the quality of youth work in youth centres, supporting the development of youth centres. Among of its priorities for cooperation in 2024, the Ukrainian side highlighted the importance of quality youth projects and non-formal learning activities with young people in Ukraine based on standards of the Council of Europe. The Framework Programme correlates with the project “Youth for Democracy in Ukraine” a part of the Council of Europe Action Plan for Ukraine, which focuses on participatory youth policies, recognition of youth work in wartime, and support of youth centres and youth organisations as platforms of civic activity and democratic participation.

In October 2022, the European Youth Foundation (EYF) launched a special call for projects by youth organisations in support of young people from Ukraine. The special call is open and foresees support both for projects with local impact and a European dimension, and for international youth activities. By July 2024, 40 projects were supported, 36 of a local-national nature and 4 of an international nature.

Additionally, the Youth Department of the Council of Europe has had a long-lasting co-operation with the European Youth Forum, especially in relation to reaffirming the role of and support for youth organisations. Within this co-operation, the European Youth Forum has taken steps to connect the European Youth Capital project, especially in relation to Lviv European Youth Capital 2025, with more international youth activities. A clear interest has been affirmed to use the occasion of the Lviv European Youth Capital 2025 to renew co-operation between youth organisations from Ukraine and from other Council of Europe member states.
