MEETING REPORT

MEETING REPORT

1. Introduction

The meeting was opened by the Expert Group's Chair who welcomed the participants. The list of participants is reproduced in Appendix I. The agenda was adopted as reproduced in Appendix II.

2. Presentation of an outline for a framework reference to be submitted to the conference participants for approval

(See document (P-PG/Work(2012)1)

The Chair presented the draft outline for a reference framework as a basis for reflexion and debate, in particular its four objectives and eight themes. He highlighted the need to protect in the current economic crisis the performance and competitiveness of the enterprise as well as the need to secure the functioning of the work tools. He underlined the importance to explain the risks linked to drug use in terms of dysfunctions. The document was examined point by point. A revised version will be produced in due course taking into account all the comments made.

In the debate, participants emphasised inter alia the following points:

- the risks originating in private life should also be addressed by prevention policies;
- the necessity to find an articulation between security and health considerations;
- the need to integrate the reference framework in the European as well as the ILO contexts;
- the need to implement prevention policies also in small enterprises as far as available resources allow it;
- there should be a methodological coherence with other prevention policies (e.g. alcohol, harassment, absenteeism, etc.);
- the need to establish individual responsibility of staff and managers with a view to identifying individual problems;
- the need to extend the health and safety critical prevention policy to the totality of staff;
- the non examination of determinants in case of suspicion of alcohol and drug use;
- etc.

Mr Parquet and Mr Windey (consultants) presented the two schemes included in the outline for a reference framework. Participants agreed to revise them in order to make them more comprehensible. The idea of well-being at the workplace should also be included in them.

Participants were asked by the Chair to cluster the themes included in the outline around the following poles:

- collective prevention
- individual prevention
- implementation of health & safety policy in the workplace (all aspects, including screening)
- responsibility for treatment

Comments were made with regard to the importance of training, the fact that the prevention policy should be implementable, the social costs attached to drug consumption, the need to have an evidence-based prevention policy directed at enterprises, the fact that policies should help enterprises to implement prevention measures, the difficulties to distinguish private and public life.

Finally, the Chair presented a number of proposals which could be made at the conference towards member States and International Organisations with regard to follow-up activities helping to implement the reference framework on an international or national level. The Secretariat advised to include these proposals in part in the opening speech of the conference chair and in part in the conclusive chapter of the reference framework drafted by the consultants.

Participants agreed to instruct the Secretariat to draft a final declaration for the conference participants, which should include the following six items:

- the increase in problematic drug use with repercussions in the workplace;
- the need to become aware of the responsibility of all actors concerned;
- the principles of a pragmatic prevention policy, the reference framework describing the necessary tools for such a policy;
- the difficulty to distinguish private and public life in the light of modern working conditions and the current economic crisis;
- the applicable Council of Europe values centred around the individual's integrity and human dignity, equality of treatment and the right to health;
- the differences of possible approaches based on the need to articulate security and health concerns;
- the coherence of different prevention approaches, independent of their focus.

The Secretariat announced that a preliminary draft of such a final declaration will be circulated to the members of the adhoc committee in a week's time.

3. Preparation of the 2012 Conference on alcohol and drugs and prevention policies, Strasbourg, 14/15 May 2012

(See document (P-PG/Work(2011)8prov)

Participants examined the draft programme as circulated by the Secretariat. The adhoc committee instructed the Secretariat to convey a certain number of questions and considerations to the representatives of the ILO and WHO Europe as guidance for their presentations at the conference. The representative of Sweden was asked to contact the Swedish and Norwegian speakers with similar guidelines as will do the Luxemburg representative for the Luxemburg speaker and Mr Windey for the Belgian speaker.

Participants expressed their demand that the contents of the various interventions should refer to and be in coherence with the elements of the reference framework, which is to be perceived as the Ariane's thread of the programme.

Once the programme will be completed, the invitation letters will be sent out to the Permanent Correspondents of the Pompidou Group member States with the request to identify participants of the four pre-determined categories (politician, central administration, employers' organisations and trade unions).

Participants agreed that the PG Chair, Mr Apaïre, will also chair the conference.

6. Any other business

None.

7. Date of the fourth meeting of the ad hoc expert group

Participants agreed to convene the next meeting for 12 October 2012 in Paris.
