The joint European Union (EU) and Council of Europe (CoE) Project "Controlling Corruption through Law Enforcement and Prevention" (CLEP) in the Republic of Moldova ended on 31 May 2020. The project aimed at strengthening the anti-corruption framework in the Republic of Moldova in line with the CoE conventions and other international treaties. Pursuant to the project's Description of Action, an external evaluation was planned to take place in the last three months of implementation. This was not done due to COVID-19 restriction of travel. The purpose of the evaluation is to provide an assessment of the overall project progress against its objectives and expected results, as well as its possible impact. The Primary users of the evaluation will be the Council of Europe, EU Delegation in the Republic of Moldova and the National Anti-Corruption Centre. Secondary users are the other members of the project's Steering Committee<sup>2</sup>. The lessons learned and recommendations from the evaluation will be followed up by the beneficiary institutions and will inform the implementation of the current and future technical assistance in the similar areas targeted by the project.

The external evaluation will be conducted by 2 independent evaluators, taking into account the evaluation methodology, criteria and questions mentioned below.

Description of the CLEP project in the Republic of Moldova:

The "Controlling Corruption through Law Enforcement and Prevention Project (CLEP)" was implemented over 36 months from June 2017 to May 2020. It had a total budget of 2 225 000 Euros and was funded 89.89% by the European Union and 10.11 % by the CoE and implemented by the CoE.

The overall aim of the project was to strengthen the anti-corruption framework in the Republic of Moldova in line with the CoE conventions and other international treaties. Corruption, despite several advances of anticorruption policies, remains one of the main impediments for development, affecting all sectors of society in the Republic of Moldova. The 2019 Transparency International Corruption Perception Index rated the Republic of Moldova at 32 (120 out of 180 assessed countries).

The project objective was to support the reform of the anti-corruption regulatory framework and relevant institutions in line with European and international standards and re-enforce national and international co-operation of specialised law enforcement and prevention systems.

Activities were organised around the following Expected Results (ERs) to contribute to the achievement of the project objective:

1. Gaps and deficiencies in the regulatory framework concerning prevention and fight against corruption and money laundering/terrorism financing are addressed in line with relevant CoE and EU practices;
2. Capacities of authorities to design and implement corruption and money laundering prevention measures are enhanced;
3. Strengthened asset recovery framework and capacities of relevant involved and dedicated structures;
4. Upgraded information sharing systems and capacities for the national mechanisms concerning corruption offences/violations and of tracing of assets and their recovery;
5. National and international co-operation between the national and international law enforcement agencies on data exchange and international tracing of crime proceeds concerning corruption and other forms of economic crime are supported and enhanced;
6. Public awareness and participation in the fight against corruption is increased.

Overall and in line with its objective and Expected Results, CLEP implemented 73 activities, which included 4480 participants (2380 men and 2050 women). A total of forty-two Technical Papers<sup>3</sup> were drafted and delivered to the beneficiary institutions. The activities were delivered through review and assessment of

- Were all activities organized efficiently and were objectives achieved on time?

(3) Added value of the project

- To what extent is the effectiveness of the intervention higher due to the fact that it was specifically implemented by the Council of Europe?

Methodology

The Project management team will be at consultants' disposal throughout the assessment to assist with information and any questions they might have.
