NATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS STRATEGY

1. General provisions

The need for approval of the National Human Rights Strategy (hereinafter – the Strategy) was determined by the necessity to improve state activities on observance and enforcement of human rights and freedoms, establishing an efficient mechanism of protecting human rights and freedoms in Ukraine and settling systemic issues in this realm.

Developments of the Revolution of Dignity (November 2013 – February 2014) proved irreversible commitment of Ukrainian people towards shaping a true constitutional and democratic state, where rights and freedoms of each and every person are respected.

The problem of protecting human rights and freedoms is aggravated by the temporary occupation of the part of Ukrainian territory and the military aggression of the Russian Federation in certain areas of Donetsk and Luhansk regions. Along the top-priority objectives related to strengthening national security, overcoming economic crisis, reforming public administration, etc., observing human rights remains the main commitment of the state, and it should direct the state activities in all efforts that it undertakes. The risks of restrictions of human rights and freedoms grow disproportionately during the crisis and require a particular control on the side of civil society.

The Strategy aims at uniting the society around understanding the value of human rights and freedoms that shall be protected equally and without discrimination.

The Strategy focuses on responding to the main systemic challenges in the area of protecting human rights and freedoms and new challenges that the society faces with, but it is not exhaustive in terms of the problems in this area. The system of protecting human rights and freedoms will be improved with due account of both domestic experience and frameworks and principles developed and piloted by the international community. In this regard, the Strategy will effectively build on the experience of Ukrainian Parliament Commissioner for Human Rights, Ukrainian human rights defendants, the United Nations, the Council of Europe, the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, other international organizations, and the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights.

In cooperation with other states, Ukraine will apply a human rights based approach and develop bilateral relations based on respect for international commitments in this area.

2. Goal and expected outcomes of the Strategy

The goal of the Strategy is to ensure the priority of human rights and freedoms as a pivotal driver of the state policy that guides state authorities and local governments in a decision-making process.

The implementation of the Strategy will result in introducing systemic approach to fulfilling the objectives and ensuring cohesive actions of the state authorities and local self-government bodies in the area of human rights and freedoms, establishing the efficient (accessible, understandable, predictable) mechanism of observing human rights and freedoms in Ukraine.

3. Principles of the Strategy

The Strategy is based on the following principles:

- openness and transparency of implementation of the Strategy with the aim to maximize the involvement of all stakeholders to implementation and monitoring;
- equality and non-discrimination in observing equal rights and freedoms;
- specificity and feasibility of strategic goals and measurability of the expected results of the Strategy;
- integrity at interpretation and implementation of the Strategy;
- allocation of financial and other resources necessary to achieve the strategic goals;
- addressing the new challenges in time.

4. Strategic Areas

Human life is the highest value of society. The state's duty to protect human life is of particular significance, with regard to current circumstances, in particular:

- Violation of the right to life due to illegal actions of the terrorist organizations "Donetsk people's republic" and "Luhansk people's republic", fighters, mercenaries, as well as due to the aggression of the Russian Federation;
- Increased illegal arms trafficking;
- Disproportional use of force and special equipment by law enforcement officials;
- Inadequate health care of the citizens of Ukraine;
- Inefficient investigations of death;
- Lack of efficient system of immediate population warning on the treats or emergencies.

Combating torture and cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment

The torture, cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment remains a systemic problem in Ukraine.

Lack of efficient investigation of crimes and inefficient system of prevention and protection from tortures create an atmosphere of impunity and provoke the spread of it.

Developments related to the aggression of the Russian Federation aggravated the problem of improper treatment and made society more tolerant to it.

Strategic goal:

- To create an efficient system of prevention of the torture, cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment;
- To shape conditions for prevention of improper treatment;

Ensuring the right to freedom and personal inviolability

Systemic problems in this area are particularly the practice of non-compliance with procedural law by law enforcement officers and judges, unconformity of the domestic human rights law to international standards leading to arbitrary deprivation of liberty (in particular, violation of human rights during admission to mental health hospitals, in temporary facilities for foreigners and stateless persons who stay in Ukraine illegally and in temporary facilities for refugees), enforced disappearances on the temporarily occupied territory of Ukraine and in the area of anti-terrorist operation in Donetsk and Luhansk regions.

Strategic goal:

- support is provided to victims of enforced disappearances and their families.

Ensuring the right to a fair trial

The right to independent, impartial and unbiased trial is not ensured in a proper way. In particular, it is proved by the facts that judges are dependent from executive and legislative authorities; the judiciary is appointed in non-transparent way; procedural instruments to protect the rights and interests of persons are imperfect; system of legal aid does not include new categories of people who need it; systematic failure of court decisions; insufficient unity and consistency of jurisprudence; justice legislation and its application do not comply with international standards.

Government intervention with professional activities of journalists has been decreased, regulations have been provided for the establishment of Public television and radio broadcasting of Ukraine and basic standards of transparency of ownership of mass media, new standards of the higher education are based on the autonomy of higher educational establishment and academic liberty of all stakeholders. At the same time, an array of problems still has to be addressed. The most urgent of them are excessive state regulation of information relations; improper protection of the journalists; state propaganda and restrictions of public speeches on certain issues; influence of owners of mass media on editorial policy; improper implementation of legislation in the area of access to information, including public information; no guarantee of access of everyone to information resources, in particular to the Internet.
