SUPERVISION CLOSED - MAIN REFORMS ADOPTED

> Functioning of justice

Legal certainty reinforced: A legislative reform abolished the supervisory review procedure and set up of a three-level court system, with a cassation procedure as last instance as in numerous other Council of Europe member states – thus ensuring a procedure meeting the requirements of the Convention.

Agrotehservis group (62608/00)
Judgment final on 30/11/2005

Final Resolution
CM/ResDH(2011)313

Significant improvements of civil procedure (adoption of a new Code of Civil procedure in 2005):

- The first instance courts lost the power to filter appeal against their own decisions;
- A single procedure for delivery of all kind of summonses, subpoenas or judicial notifications is provided;
- Repeal of the provision requiring the need to exhaust non-judicial means before applying to a court;
- The Administrative Offences Code was revised in 2008 so as to provide a right to appeal.

> Freedom of expression

The Law on defamation was amended in 2003, exempting value judgments from liability. State bodies are prohibited from demanding non-pecuniary damages for the publication of false information, although they have a right of refutation. A Civil Code amendment provides that “negative information shall be deemed false unless proven otherwise by the person who disseminated it.” Information obtained from official sources does not require verification of authenticity.
