EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

CO-PRODUCTION

■ Leveraging the working methods developed during the pandemic, Eurimages continued to employ online and hybrid meetings in 2023, as well as electronic signatures for contracts and payments, ensuring the smooth continuity and efficiency of its operations.

■ In 2023, the Fund received 315 applications for co-production support (surpassing the previous record high of 256 applications received in 2021), of which 51 ineligible projects were withdrawn by the Secretariat or producer. Of the 264 eligible projects, 94 were supported, corresponding to an annual selection rate of 35.6%.

■ The 94 co-productions supported received an average of €277,200 per film for a total amount of €26.1 million, which corresponds to 96.8% of the overall aid requested by supported projects at the time of application. Projects receiving support in the form of advances on receipts represented 69.1% of all co-productions supported (compared to 63.4% in the previous year), while grants represented 30.9% of supported projects.

■ Support repayments for 2023 amounted to €1.5 million. As in previous years, a small minority of films accounted for most of this revenue.

■ In 2023, 58 films supported by Eurimages were nominated for awards, winning a total of 39 prizes at major international film festivals. Major successes include the co-productions "CHICKEN FOR LINDA!", "ROBOT DREAMS", "THE RYE HORN", "GREEN BORDER" and "BLAGA'S LESSONS".

DISTRIBUTION

■ After the Distribution Support Programme ended in March 2020, the Board of Management tasked a dedicated Study Group with developing a new format for the programme. Meeting ten times over 2022 and 2023, the Study Group formulated proposals for a new distribution support programme, which were presented to the Board of Management in December 2023.

■ The principles and outline of the new programme, now renamed as Film Marketing & Audience Development Support programme, were adopted by the Board of Management at its December 2023 plenary meeting. The new support programme aims to improve the marketing and audience development of films supported under the co-production support scheme. The programme will provide funding of up to €50,000 for up to 15 films per year to cover various early-stage marketing and promotion activities.

■ Comprehensive guidelines will be developed in the first half of 2024, with the programme set to launch in second half 2024, after final approval by the Board of Management.

CINEMAS

■ In 2023, €551,800 was awarded to supported exhibitors based on their 2022 activities. This support included bonuses for admissions to Eurimages films and for events including screening of non-national films by female directors on International Women's Day. A total of 63 exhibitors across five different countries¹ were supported, with an average of five screens per cinema.

■ This amount also included a total of €23,500 paid to Europa Cinemas' fees due by exhibitors for their participation in the network.

¹ Armenia, Canada, Switzerland, Türkiye, and Ukraine. This program is intended only for exhibitors based in a member State of the Fund that does not have access to the provisions of the EU's Creative Europe-MEDIA programme.

■ Total expenditure on the Cinemas Support Programme increased by 9.3% over the previous year, excluding support for Russian cinemas. The Russian invasion of Ukraine in early 2022 had led to the exclusion of the Russian Federation from Eurimages, resulting in the termination of contracts with eight Russian exhibitors and the cancellation of their financial support.

PROMOTION AND COMMUNICATION

■ Total expenditure for the Promotion and Communication activities was €517,000 in 2023, as the Fund reaffirmed its commitment to film awards, sponsorship activities, and collaboration with film festivals and markets.

■ A total of ten Eurimages Co-production Development Awards were granted in 2023 across seven selected markets. As part of the exceptional measures in favour of Ukraine, three special Co-production Development Awards were granted to Ukrainian projects within the CineMart, Berlinale and CPH:DOX co-production markets in Rotterdam, Berlin and Copenhagen.

■ Eurimages also renewed its partnership agreement with the Ukrainian Institute to financially support the promotion of seven Ukrainian films as part of the 2023 edition of its proMOTION programme.

■ In 2023, the Eurimages International Co-production Award, celebrating a producer's commitment to international co-production, was presented at the European Film Awards to Lithuanian producer Uļjana Kim.

GENDER EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY

■ In 2023, the gender equality strategy had available €150,000 to carry out promotional and awareness-raising activities. This budget included the sponsorship of six film-related initiatives focusing on gender equality, as well as the €30,000 Audentia Award, granted annually to the best female director at a different festival. In 2023, the prize was awarded to Anna Hints for her feature film "SMOKE SAUNA SISTERHOOD" at the Beldocs Documentary International Film Festival, Serbia

■ The year's programme focused on the implementation of the 2021-2024 action plan, including a seminar on gender equality data which was held during the 2023 Venice Film Festival, the selection of seven new gender equality initiatives for sponsorship, and the designation of three festivals to host the Audentia Award in 2024, 2025, and 2026.

■ Additionally, the Fund reaffirmed the measure allowing female directors to apply for up to 25% of their total budget in co-production support for fiction or animation projects.

■ Efforts to promote gender equality have significantly increased the proportion of supported projects directed by women, rising from 21% in 2014 to 45% in 2023. The value of support awarded to female-led projects also increased, reaching €12.3 million in 2023, reflecting the Fund's commitment to gender balance.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

■ In 2023, Eurimages' overall revenues were €28.5 million, reflecting a 12.4% year-on-year increase primarily due to a strong increase in financial income driven by higher interest rates. Member States' contributions, adjusted for inflation since 2020, accounted for 88.31% of the annual income.

■ Programme expenditure rose to €26.7 million in 2023, bouncing back from previous years, when spending had been impacted by the pandemic and the exclusion of the Russian Federation from the Fund in 2022. This increase was mainly due to higher expenditure on co-production support. Operating expenses were €3.8 million, consistent with the 5-year average and representing 12.6% of total expenditure.

■ The number of full-time equivalent staff members slightly decreased in 2023, with resources for the Pilot Programme for Series Co-Production now being managed separately from Eurimages' budget.

SUSTAINABILITY STRATEGY

■ In December 2021, the Eurimages Board of Management adopted an environmental sustainability strategy, formulated by a study group of national representatives and experts. This strategy includes three main areas: supporting a sustainable film industry, reducing the environmental footprint of the Fund's operations, and promoting international cooperation on sustainability measures.

■ In January 2023, the Fund introduced a new selection criterion to raise awareness about the environmental impact of international co-productions and encourage producers applying for support to adopt measures to reduce this impact. Of the 315 projects applying for support in 2023, 55% mentioned using a carbon calculator, 17.5% mentioned a green certificate, 43.5% hired or planned to hire a green consultant, and 9% had an environmental theme.

■ The Study Group had proposed the creation of three Eurimages Green Co-production Awards to reward international co-productions that have succeeded in combining sustainable production and artistic quality. However, this project has been put on hold for the time being.

■ Eurimages is currently developing an e-learning platform on sustainable film production, with specifications approved in December 2023 and a call for proposals to follow. The project aims to launch in 2024, targeting film professionals across member States.

SERIES CO-PRODUCTION

■ Over the past years, the Council of Europe has strengthened its political commitment to fostering international co-productions of series, paving the way for the development of a new legal instrument and public financial support. In May 2022, the Council of Europe's Steering Committee for Culture, Heritage, and Landscape (CDCPP) appointed experts to assess the possible creation of a legal instrument to codify the rules of drama series co-production, potentially as a convention. A dedicated Working Group met throughout 2022 and 2023 to examine a feasibility report and then develop a proposed text, for submission to the CDCPP in the second half of 2024.

■ In parallel with the discussions on a possible legal instrument, in 2021 Eurimages initiated consultations with a panel of experts to explore financial instruments to enhance drama series international co-productions. These consultations resulted in the launch of the Council of Europe Pilot Programme for Series Co-Productions in January 2023. This three-year initiative, funded by 13 contributing countries in its first year of operation, aims to enhance international co-productions of drama series through financial support, promoting geographical and thematic diversity in storytelling.

■ The new programme includes two Calls for Partnerships and a yearly Call for Projects, addressing the development and production phases. The first Call for Projects opened in October 2023 with a budget of €3,12 million, resulting in grants for seven series co-productions and involving 33 broadcasters or streaming services from 15 countries. The Pilot Programme also launched a Call for Partnerships in October 2023, with a budget of €200,000. Four festivals were selected to host the Council of Europe Series Co-Production Development Awards, each worth €50,000.

PERSPECTIVES

■ Russia's invasion of Ukraine in February 2022 led to the exclusion of the Russian Federation from the Council of Europe and Eurimages on 16 March 2022. This exclusion affected the Fund's financial resources and required case-by-case management of film projects involving Russian producers.

■ To support Ukrainian film professionals, Eurimages continued in 2023 the specific measures introduced in 2022, and 22 member States made joint contributions to help cover Ukraine's contribution.

■ In late 2022, Eurimages hired the company Evaluet OG (AT) for an external evaluation focused on governance and decision-making processes. Conducted from December 2022 to June 2023, the evaluation's findings were presented to the Board of Management, and then reviewed, by the Executive Committee. An initial series of proposals for implementation made by the Executive Committee were adopted by the Board of Management in December 2023.

■ In September 2023, on the foot of an evaluation recommendation, the Fund hired a Data Scientist to improve data analysis on supported projects, aiming to enhance the management and transparency of its activities. This initiative will primarily benefit Eurimages' management and governing bodies, with future plans to make more data publicly accessible.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF EURIMAGES

MISSION STATEMENT

Operational since 1989, Eurimages is the Council of Europe's fund for the co-production, distribution and exhibition of international cinematographic works. The Fund currently includes 39 countries.

Eurimages aims to promote freedom of expression and encourage cooperation between professionals from its member States through the co-production of independent cinematographic works. Since its creation, the Fund has supported numerous co-productions that have won prestigious awards, including Oscars, Golden Globes, the Palme d'Or (Cannes), the Golden Bear (Berlin) and the Golden Lion (Venice).

The Fund comes under the aegis of the Council of Europe's Directorate for Democracy², whose long-term strategic objective is to safeguard and achieve genuine democracy by working with member States in three main areas:

- Strengthening democratic institutions and citizens' confidence in them.
- Building inclusive societies, free from discrimination, hatred and violence.
- Helping young people to have confidence in a shared European future.

GOVERNANCE

The Fund is managed by a Board of Management made up of national representatives of the member States^{3,4}. The Board, which met twice in 2023, defines the Fund's policy and strategy. To prepare its decision-making, the Board sets up working groups or study groups on specific issues. Since 1 January 2017, the Fund has been chaired by Madame Catherine Trautmann.

Since 2022, an Executive Committee has been responsible for ensuring the continuity of the Fund's management between Board of Management meetings, notably by approving the support recommendations drawn up by independent external experts. It is made up of representatives from one-third of the Fund's member States by rotation over a three-year period. The Executive Committee met six times in 2023 to deal with the current business of the Fund, and on three further occasions in an enlarged format in the second half of the year in order to review the recommendations made by the external evaluators. An Observer nominated by the Executive Committee attends each of the Co-production Project Evaluation meetings, to ensure that the work of the independent experts is in conformity with the policy and strategy of the Fund.

The Secretariat is responsible for preparing meetings of the Board of Management, of the Executive Committee and the working groups and study groups as well as for implementing decisions. Liaising with film professionals, the Secretariat examines applications for support, checking the eligibility of projects and monitoring support agreements. The Secretariat, based in Strasbourg, operates under the authority of its Executive Director, Susan Newman Baudais (since 1 March 2022) and its Deputy Executive Director, Enrico Vannucci.

Following an external evaluation carried out in 2018, the Fund initiated an in-depth reform of its governance and decision-making process, as well as a review of its working procedures. 2023 was the second year of full implementation of this reform. During the first half of 2023, a further external evaluation was carried out to prepare the necessary adjustments to the new decision-making system.

DECISION-MAKING PROCESS ON FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Since 1 January 2022, Eurimages has implemented a new decision-making process for the allocation of financial support within the co-production support programme. Independent external experts – hailing from the film, audiovisual and cultural industries - are now responsible for assessing applications for support, in accordance with the selection criteria and strategy defined by the Board of Management. This task was previously performed by national representatives on the Board of Management. External experts are involved in the co-production support programme but may also be called upon for other programmes managed by the Fund.

■ Eurimages has set up a pool of about 500 experts approved by the Board of Management. These experts were selected through a call for expressions of interest published on the Fund's website, based on their professional competence and experience, according to the criteria established by the Board of Management. Experts are hired three times a year, following the three application deadlines for the co-production support scheme. Geographical diversity in the origin of the experts, as well as their area of expertise, gender, language skills, age and availability are also taken into account during the selection process for a project evaluation session⁵. In 2022 and 2023, a total of 139 experts were called upon during the project evaluation sessions (3 sessions per year).

■ Depending on the number of eligible film projects applying for Eurimages co-production support, external experts are sorted into several working groups of five people, each working group evaluating a maximum of 20 projects. As a first step, each expert carries out an individual assessment of the co-production projects allocated to their group based on the criteria established by the Board of Management and on the documents provided by the Secretariat. This work is carried out remotely over a period of around five weeks and results in a short, written assessment and a preliminary individual ranking. After that, each working group participates in a one-day meeting, during which the five experts in the group make recommendations for financial support on the basis of the overall preliminary ranking. These recommendations take the form of a final ranking of the projects in relation to the budget allocated to each working group. The results are then examined and adopted by the Executive Committee before being communicated to the producers.

BUDGET

■ Eurimages is one of the Council of Europe's Enlarged Partial Agreements⁶. It has its own annual budget (just over €28.5 million in 2023) to implement its various programmes of activities.

■ This budget consists mainly of mandatory contributions from the Member States and the reimbursement of support granted⁷.

MANAGEMENT OF THE CO-PRODUCTION SUPPORT PROGRAMME

ANNUAL ACTIVITY

■ In 2023, taking advantage of the working methods developed during the pandemic, Eurimages continued to employ online and hybrid meetings, and electronic signatures for contracts and payments, ensuring the smooth continuity and efficiency of its operations.

■ Starting from 2021, Eurimages has reduced the number of annual film project evaluation meetings from four to three, a change intended to streamline and simplify the Fund's work.

■ In 2023, Eurimages received a total of 315 applications for co-production support, of which 51 ineligible projects withdrawn by the Secretariat or by the producers. Out of the 264 eligible projects, 94 were supported, corresponding to an annual selection rate of 35.6%, in line with that observed in 2022 (36.8%). The detailed list of projects supported can be found in Annex III.

■ The 94 co-productions supported received a total of €26.1 million, corresponding to 96.8% of the aid requested at the time of application.

EVOLUTION OF ACTIVITY

■ The number of eligible projects has risen steadily over the past decade, aligning with the increased volume of co-productions in member States⁸. In 2023, the number of eligible projects reached a record high of 264 films, surpassing the previous peak of 2018 films registered in 2021. This marks a notable increase compared to the relatively stable period from 2017 and 2022. Meanwhile, the number of supported projects has fluctuated between 71 and 110 in the last ten years, reaching 94 films in 2023, 23 more than in the previous year.

■ The trend in supported projects generally followed that of eligible projects, with the exception of 2018 and 2019, when the total amount of support granted fell well below the average level. This decline was primarily linked to the reduction of the available budget to address the non-payment of the Russian Federation's contribution for the second consecutive year. A similar reduction was also observed in 2022, coinciding with the exclusion of the Russian Federation from the Fund, the arrears in the payment of Argentina's contribution, and the provisions made to mitigate the effects of inflation.

■ The average amount awarded per supported project continued to increase, reaching €277,200 in 2023, compared to €263,900 in 2022.

■ Out of the 94 projects supported in 2023, 29 received grants (each €150,000 or less), while 65 received advances on receipts. The proportion of subsidies, which were first introduced in 2021, has slightly decreased compared to the previous two years.

The share of documentaries among supported projects has gradually increased over the years, jumping from 8% in 2019 to 17% in 2023, reflecting the Fund's growing support for non-fiction cinema. Fiction projects, while still the majority, have seen their share slightly decline from 79% in 2019 to 76% in 2023. Animation has stabilized at a lower share, representing between 7% and 10% of all films supported in the last three years, after a significant drop in 2020.

Out of all supported projects, in 2023 the share of projects falling within the lowest budget bracket (less than €1.5 million) continued its decline, accounting for 40% of all supported projects. Conversely, films in the highest budget brackets (between €3 million and €5 million, and more than €5 million) saw their share increase to 16% each, reflecting a slightly more balanced and diversified support across all budget ranges compared to the previous years.

REPAYMENTS FOR THE YEAR

Repayments of co-production support totalled €1.5 million in 2023. As in previous years, a small minority of films accounted for the majority of this income, with 18 films generating 50% of total repayments for the year. It should also be noted that 70% of repayments in 2023 were concentrated around 41 films.

EVOLUTION OF REPAYMENTS

In the budget forecast for 2023, the level of support repayments was estimated at €1.3 million, as in the previous year. Actual repayments vary considerably from year to year, depending mainly on three factors: the type of projects supported, their commercial success and their financing structures⁹.

After a significant slowdown in 2012, repayments remained high between 2013 and 2017, peaking at €2.2 million in 2016. From 2018 onwards, the level of repayments decreased and stabilised at around €1.5 million, a slowdown that can be partly attributed to the pandemic. After declining to €1.3 million in 2022, the level of repayments picked up again, with receipts reaching €1.5 million in 2023.

Since 2018, the number of projects generating repayments settled at around 300 films per year, compared to fewer than 200 films before 2014. A significant increase could be observed in 2021 with 356 films generating a refund, a level also seen in 2023, when 350 films repaid a certain amount of the support received. The increased number of co-productions to be monitored has a direct impact on the workload generated by the management of repayments.

The reduction in the average budget of films supported has led to a decrease in the number of Collection Account Management Agreements (CAMA)¹⁰ signed until 2020. While only 18 projects signed a CAMA in 2022, this figure jumped to 31 projects in 2023, corresponding to a third of all films supported. In 2023, CAMA revenues accounted for almost 55% of total repayment receipts, slightly above the average for the last 10 years (53.5%).

The proportion of supported films for which a CAMA has been signed remains low (33% of films in 2023 compared to 25% of films in 2022). The absence of a CAMA on projects is associated with an increased administrative workload as well as with a lower chance of revenue recovery.

The average reimbursement per film continues to decline year on year, falling from €10,000 in 2016 to €4,300 in 2022 and 2023. This trend, coupled with the decrease in the number of collection agreements signed, is also a factor of increased workload.

As early as 2021, the Secretariat highlighted the risk of a reduction in reimbursements due to difficulties in distributing films during and after the pandemic. In addition, with the introduction of non-repayable grants for projects receiving financial support up to €150,000, it will be necessary to measure the impact of this measure on the level of repayments registered in future years. At the time of the introduction of grants (January 2021), this category of films accounted for an average of just over 2% of annual amounts repaid between 2008 and 2018, representing an average of €34,000 per year.

¹⁰ For projects with a budget of €3 million or more, co-producers undertake to set up a "Collection Account" established by a "Collection Agency". For projects with a budget of less than €3 million, Eurimages reserves the right to request the establishment of a Collection Account (see website).

AWARDS AND NOMINATIONS OF THE YEAR

■ In 2023, 58 films supported by Eurimages were nominated for awards and won a total of 39 prizes at major international film festivals. Major festival successes include the co-productions "CHICKEN FOR LINDA!", "ROBOT DREAMS", "THE RYE HORN", "GREEN BORDER" and "BLAGA'S LESSONS".

MANAGEMENT OF THE DISTRIBUTION SUPPORT PROGRAMME

As decided by the Board of Management at its 156th meeting in October 2019, the Distribution Support Programme ended on 31 March 2020. Consequently, no contributions to marketing and advertising costs for films on release were granted in 2021, 2022 and 2023.

During the June 2022 meeting, the Board of Management decided to set up a Distribution Study Group to develop proposals for relaunching the programme in a new format. The criteria for redefining this support programme are as follows:

- Only films supported under the co-production support programme will be eligible for distribution support, in order to create synergy between the Fund's programmes.
- Films co-produced by any member State of the Fund will be eligible.
- As far as possible, the new programme should be open to different categories of beneficiaries (distributors, sales agents, producers).
- The budget allocated to this programme will be equivalent to the one allocated for the previous distribution support programme (that is, a maximum of €1 million).

The Study Group on Distribution met three times between September and December 2022, seeking advice from several professional organisations including Europa International, Europa Distribution, European Producers Club and CEPI. The 2021 report by EY Advisory (France) also served as a basis for this work, which continued in 2023 with 7 meetings of the Study Group taking place from February to November 2023.

Concrete proposals for a new programme were presented to the Board of Management in December 2023. The objective of the revamped programme is to promote innovative marketing and audience-development solutions for film projects that have already been selected within the Eurimages co-production support programme. This new selective scheme will target producers, in close coordination with sales agents and communication agencies and distributors, with a view to boosting marketing and promotional activities in Eurimages member countries and beyond.

Eurimages will provide an additional funding of up to €50 000 € to a maximum of 15 films to be selected each year. Projects will only be able to apply after they are granted Eurimages co-production support, but before the first market presentation or festival screening of the film. Eligible expenses may include activities related to audience design, audience & market insight, digital marketing campaigns, creation of media assets and stills photography, press and PR expenses, outreach and networking events and language versioning for release outside co-production countries.

The principles and outline of the revised scheme, renamed as Film Marketing & Audience Development Support, were adopted by the Board of Management at its December 2023 plenary meeting. During the first semester 2024, the Study Group and the Secretariat will prepare detailed regulations and a draft support agreement with a view to launching the new programme after their approval by the Board of Management at its June 2024 meeting.

MANAGEMENT OF THE CINEMAS SUPPORT PROGRAMME

ANNUAL ACTIVITY

■ The technical management of the programme has been entrusted to Europa Cinemas¹¹ in order to ensure the complementarity of the various support systems, in particular with that of the European Commission's Creative Europe – MEDIA Programme.

■ In 2023¹², a total of 63 exhibitors across 5 countries¹³ were supported, with an average of 5 screens per cinema.

■ The Russian invasion of Ukraine at the beginning of 2022 led to the exclusion of the Russian Federation from the Council of Europe and Eurimages. Following an opinion from the Legal Service of the Council of Europe, the Executive Committee and the Board of Management of Eurimages decided to terminate the contracts between Eurimages and the 8 exhibitors from the Russian Federation, who were no longer eligible for support from the Fund.

Table 6: Number and size of exhibitors supported, by country (2023)

	Armenia	Canada	Switzerland	Türkiye	Ukraine	Total

Average number of screens per exhibitor	4	7	2	8	6	5
Average number of seats per screen	231	130	149	126	130	134

■ Based on the activities carried out in 2022, a total of €551,000 was awarded to exhibitors in 2023. The amount of support provided to exhibitors is contingent upon their achievement of certain targets¹⁴ as regards the proportion of screenings of eligible films, eligible non-national films and films supported by Eurimages.

■ Eurimages' support also includes two additional bonuses. A first bonus, granted to 40 exhibitors in 2023, was calculated based on the number of admissions to Eurimages films. A second bonus was granted to 10 exhibitors for events organised on International Women's Day which included screenings of eligible non-national films directed by women.

¹² Please note that Eurimages Cinema Support Programme spans two years. In this document, the reporting year refers to the payment of support provided by Eurimages, which is based on the cinema's activities from the previous year. In previous versions of this report, the reference year was the cinema's programming year. When comparing data from different editions of the report, please consider this methodological change.

¹⁴ The rules governing exhibition support are available on the Eurimages website.

Each exhibitor supported received on average €8,700. A detailed list of cinemas supported can be found in Annex VII.

A total of €23,500 euros was also paid to Europa Cinemas, corresponding to the deduction of the fees due by exhibitors for their participation in the network.

EVOLUTION OF ACTIVITY

Including ancillary additional expenses¹⁵, total expenditure for the Cinemas support programme reached €551,800 in 2023, representing a 9.3% year-on-year increase in the five eligible countries. This amount excludes Russian cinemas, which are no longer eligible for Eurimages support (in 2022, support for Russian cinemas would have amounted to €83,400).

The increase recorded in 2023 does not offset the significant drop in expenditure observed in 2021 and 2022 resulting from cinema closures due to the COVID-19 crisis. While 2022 ticket sales indicate some recovery in cinema exhibition, admission levels have not yet returned to pre-pandemic figures.

Following the recommendation of the Cinema Working Group, as an exceptional measure to limit the effects of the pandemic, an additional €157,000 was allocated in 2021 to 28 cinemas in the network¹⁶, based on their 2020 activity.

Restated series.

Considering the parameters used to calculate the support granted to exhibitors, the average percentage of screenings of eligible films per cinema was in line with the levels observed before 2020. The other parameters (average percentage of non-national film screenings and average percentage of Eurimages film screenings per cinema) remained relatively stable compared to previous years.

¹⁶ These cinemas were identified as those whose Eurimages support in 2021 decreased by more than 65% compared to the previous year if they had received other public support for 2020, and by more than 30% if they had received no other public support.

MANAGEMENT OF PROMOTION AND COMMUNICATION ACTIVITIES

CO-PRODUCTION DEVELOPMENT AWARDS

■ The Eurimages Co-production Development Awards aim at encouraging international co-production from the initial stages of a project. A total of ten prizes were awarded in 2023 in the seven markets selected for the 2021-2023 period, and most of the activities sponsored by Eurimages for the same period were held in their respective locations.

■ Three calls for proposals were launched in 2023 to select the following activities for the 2024-2026 period:

- the co-production markets which will present the Eurimages Co-production Development Awards;
- the two initiatives which will present the Eurimages New Lab Awards and
- sponsorship activities.

■ As part of the exceptional measures taken by the Eurimages Fund in favour of Ukraine, three special prizes were awarded to Ukrainian projects within the CineMart, Berlinale and CPH:DOX co-production markets in Rotterdam, Berlin and Copenhagen.

EURIMAGES INTERNATIONAL CO-PRODUCTION AWARD

■ This prize is awarded at the European Film Awards ceremony in recognition of producers' commitment to international co-production. The Eurimages Fund contributes €70,000 to the organisation of this annual ceremony.

■ In 2023, this prize went to the Lithuanian producer Uljana Kim.

CO-OPERATION WITH FESTIVALS AND CO-PRODUCTION MARKETS

■ In 2023, Eurimages took part in seven out of the ten initiatives selected as part of its sponsorship activities, namely:

- the “Co-production Podcast” in co-operation with Cineuropa;
- “Producers on the Move” at the Cannes Festival and EUROPE! Umbrella & Reception at the Toronto International Film Festival organised by European Film Promotion;
- a working lunch organised as part of the Alliance 4 Development (A4D) initiative during the Locarno Film Festival;
- Festival du Nouveau Cinéma de Montréal;
- “European Arthouse Cinema Day” organised by the Confédération des Cinémas d'Art et d'Essai (CICAE) and
- the Producers Connection initiative organised by the Amsterdam International Documentary Film Festival (IDFA).

Partnerships with the Festival Etoiles et Toiles du Cinéma Européen in Strasbourg and with CEE Animation both terminated at the end of 2022. The sponsorship of the Networking Event at Meetings on the Bridge in Istanbul was canceled since this initiative took mostly place online in 2023.

EVOLUTION OF ACTIVITY

After a period of continuous growth, the expenditure¹⁷ for the Promotion programme decreased in 2020 and 2021, mainly due to the suspension of the Lab Projects Awards in 2021. The budget allocated to the Promotion programme has been increasing again since 2022, coinciding with the resumption of festival and market activities after the pandemic. The launch of the special ProMOTION programme, in collaboration with the Ukrainian Institute, has further bolstered this upward trend in 2023, with total expenditure for the year reaching € 517 000.

GENDER EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY

ANNUAL ACTIVITY

■ In 2023, Eurimages allocated a budget of €150,000 for promotional and awareness-raising activities organised within its gender equality strategy. This budget included the sponsorship of six film-related initiatives focusing on gender equality, as well as the €30,000 Audentia Award, granted annually to the best female director at a different festival. In 2023, the prize was awarded to Anna Hints for her feature film "SMOKE SAUNA SISTERHOOD" at the Beldocs Documentary International Film Festival.

■ The 2023 programme focused on the implementation of the 2021-2024 action plan, which encompasses several workstreams described in the table below. Key highlights include a seminar on gender equality held during the 2023 Venice Film Festival, the selection of seven new gender equality initiatives for sponsorship, and the appointment of three festivals to host the Audentia Award in 2024, 2025, and 2026. Additionally, the Fund pursued the measure allowing female directors to request up to 25% of their total budget in co-production support for fiction or animation projects.

■ The Diversity and Inclusion Strategy¹⁸ was approved at the June 2022 Board meeting. As part of this new strategy, a first initiative consisted of a mapping exercise of existing diversity and inclusion measures, a project implemented in collaboration with EFAD (European Film Agency Directors Association). A second initiative, approved at the December 2023 Board meeting, allows producers from 2024 onwards to highlight elements of diversity and inclusion in the script, as well as the commitment of the team to diversity and inclusion in all possible areas of impact of the project.

Actions	Initiatives	Explanations
1. Increase the presence of women working in artistic and technical roles	a. In order to encourage more women to apply for support, the Fund will continue to offer a range of incentives reflecting its commitment to gender parity. These incentives include measures already in place, including the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ No ranges: ensure that the amounts requested for women's applications are not lowered¹⁹. ■ The tie-breaking rule: always choose a project led by a woman in the event of a tie. New initiatives from 2021: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Explicitly invite producers to provide information on their previous works, highlighting collaborations with female directors, any awards won, and participation in film festivals for films directed by women. Additionally, ask producers to include details about their technical and artistic staff, and to perform the Bechdel-Wallace test as part of their application. New initiatives from 2022: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Increase the possible support for projects directed by women to 25% of the total production cost (instead of 17%) while maintaining the maximum ceiling of EUR 500.000. As for the new Eurimages Distribution Support Programme, films directed by women will be given priority in order to promote the distribution of these works.	From 2021: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Not a compulsory rule, this measure allows applicant producers to highlight the gender perspective within their company or within the project's script. From the implementation of the new system in 2022: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ The 25% threshold draws inspiration from documentaries, where this measure has led to a significant increase in applications. ■ In preliminary rankings of projects based on the off-site evaluations sent by the experts, the Secretariat awards extra points to projects led by women to move them up the ranking. ■ When launching the new Distribution Support Programme for films supported by Eurimages, priority should be given to films made by women²⁰.

¹⁸ <https://rm.coe.int/diversity-and-inclusion-strategy-en/1680a87cd4f>

¹⁹ This practice is now applied to all films.

²⁰ Due to technical constraints, this proposal is currently being replaced by raising experts' awareness of the equality strategy during their assessment sessions.

	a. In order to showcase female talent, a new communication strategy will be adopted, relying heavily on social media to promote the success of women supported by the Fund in different sectors. Social media networks will be used to ensure that information and interviews can then be disseminated widely. Webinars and a tracking system could be used to facilitate interaction between women filmmakers, staff and national representatives. Networking opportunities should be maintained, and outreach meetings could be developed to include regular one-on-one interviews at festivals between Eurimages staff, representatives and women in creative and artistic roles. The Audentia Prize will be maintained in its current form to reward the best female director at a different festival each year; other Audentia prizes could be envisaged to reward women in sectors other than filmmaking. In addition, smaller festivals, possibly dedicated to animation or documentaries, could become strong partners of Eurimages in its gender equality work.	Social media will be used to draw the attention of younger target groups to the Eurimages website and to the Fund's focus on gender equality to encourage more women to apply for funding. It is considered premature to change the nature of the award or to extend it to other areas. but juries will be asked to consider the 'outstanding contributions' of other women heads of department. Eurimages may consider awarding other Audentia awards to other departments in the future.
2. Awareness raising	a. Develop and implement a broader communication strategy, as mentioned above, relying more on the Eurimages website and social media to reach new audiences and, where appropriate, offering Eurimages patronage to increase the visibility of festivals and other initiatives that share and promote gender equality values. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> List of women-led projects, awards and prizes received. Publication of sponsorships offered. Declaration of Eurimages' values on gender equality. 	Ensure better accessibility of gender equality information on the homepage of the website.
	b. At member State level and with national, supranational and regional funds and festivals, ensure a regular presence on panels and at relevant conferences. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Close co-operation with networks is envisaged (e.g., with EFAD) Eurimages representatives should be ambassadors for gender equality in their countries.	During the transition period in 2021. communication on the new incentives is particularly important.
	c. With regard to industry professionals and students, encourage female graduates to submit more applications. Close co-operation with networks is envisaged (CILECT).
3. Data monitoring	a. EVOLUTION OF ACTIVITY

The significant increase in the amounts committed for this programme in 2022 is due to the increase in the number of sponsored events and residencies supported, as well as the launch of a Study Group to implement positive measures for diversity. The budget for 2023 maintained the same level as in 2022.

Restated series.

In 2020, the slight drop in expenditure²¹ on gender equality was primarily linked to the cancellation of certain activities due to the pandemic. However, spending on these activities picked up again since 2021 as the post-pandemic recovery began and new projects were initiated.

EVOLUTION OF STATISTICS

Since 2012, in response to the low female presence in key creative roles, all the programme's activities have aimed at improving gender balance without hindering filmmakers' artistic and creative freedom.

Efforts to raise awareness and make the Fund more attractive to projects helmed by women have helped to increase the proportion of films by female directors among supported projects. This share jumped from 21% in 2014 to 45% in 2023.

Similarly, the gender gap in the amount of co-production support granted has narrowed considerably over the years, reflecting the Fund's effort to promote gender equality in the industry. Support awarded to project led by female directors has steadily increased from €3.8 million in 2014 to €12.3 million in 2023. This corresponds to 47% of total co-production support awarded during the year, a slightly higher share than the proportion of projects by female directors supported by the Fund. This result can also be ascribed to a particularly high number of high-budget films (> € 3 million) by female directors supported during the year (12 films in 2023, compared to only 5 in 2022). Funding for male directors, despite some fluctuations, has generally declined, decreasing from €18.4 million euros in 2014 to €13.8 million euros in 2023.

Over the period 2014-2023, more than half of the eligible projects directed by women received support, compared to a 41% selection rate for projects directed by men during the same period.

Among supported projects directed by women, the overall share of documentaries stands at 20%, compared to 10% for men. This disparity is due to the underrepresentation of women as directors of animation projects and their limited access to higher budgets for fiction films.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

EVOLUTION OF RECEIPTS

Revenues for 2023 were set at €28.5 million, representing a 12.4% growth year-on-year. This increase was primarily due to an increase in income generated by financial products, driven by a sharp rise in interest earned.

As in previous years, the Fund was mainly financed by mandatory contributions from member States, accounting for approximately 88.31% of the year's income in 2023. Member States' contributions, like all Council of Europe budgets, were subject to the principle of "zero nominal growth²²" between 2013 and 2019. During this period, the variations in the total receipts coming from contributions were solely due to accessions of new Members. Contributions were again adjusted to inflation from 2020 onwards. Details of contributions paid by each member State are available in Annex XII of this report.

Total	26 493.4	27 900.3	27 222.9	25 367.0	28 520.4	3 153.4	12.4%

In 2021, the decrease in member States' contributions was linked to the departure of Argentina on 1 January 2021 after only a few months within Eurimages. In 2022, the volume of member's contributions dropped again, due to the exclusion of the Russian Federation from the Council of Europe and Eurimages in March, as the Russian contribution was reduced pro rata temporis. The resulting drop in revenues was partially moderated by a "zero real growth" rate of 0.4% applied to Members' contribution. As inflation climbed in 2023, the volume of members' contribution rose again in 2023, reaching € 25.3 million, +1.9% on the previous year, driven by a "zero real growth" rate of 2.1%.

Boosted by a sharp increase in interest rates, income generated by financial products soared from €410 000 to a record high €1.77 million in 2023, corresponding to 332.3% growth year-on-year. Income generated by repayments also rose in 2023, increasing by 13.0% to a total of €1.51 million.

²² In other words, during that period the inflation rate was not applied to recalculate the amount of compulsory contributions payable by member States.

EVOLUTION OF ACTUAL EXPENDITURE²³

After dropping from €20.0 million in 2019 to €14.9 million in 2020 due the pandemic, the Fund's actual expenditure on programmes bounced back to €22.1 million in 2021, reaching €26.7 million in 2023.

The increase in the share of operating costs in 2020 was the direct consequence of the reduced expenditure on programmes registered during the first year of the pandemic. In 2023, actual operational expenses amounted to €3.8 million, in line with the 5-year average figure, accounting for 12.6% of total actual expenditure.

EVOLUTION OF PROGRAMME EXPENDITURE DECISIONS²⁴

Annual expenditure related to decisions supporting the various programmes significantly grew in 2023, reaching a total of €27.2 million, marking a record high. This was mainly due to an increased expenditure aimed at co-production support.

As shown in the chart below, co-production support accounts for the largest share of expenditure decisions, representing as much as 95.7% of the Fund's spend in 2023.

EVOLUTION OF THE NUMBER OF STAFF MEMBERS

The number of full-time equivalents (FTEs) employed by the Eurimages' Secretariat in 2023 was slightly lower than in the previous year.

Since 2023, resources aimed at the Pilot Programme for Series' Co-production are no longer part of the Eurimages' budget.

It should be noted that Eurimages, due to its status as an enlarged partial agreement, has an autonomous budget but remains impacted by the more general constraints of the Council of Europe, particularly in terms of human resources and office space.

BACKGROUND

■ Eurimages' commitment to take account of environmental issues in its activities was formalised in the context of the reform of the Fund in September 2020, with the adoption of Resolution CM/Res(2020)8²⁵ by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. This document, which is the statutory text of the Fund, now stipulates that the impact on the environment should be taken into account and reduced as far as possible both in the implementation of activities and in the operation of the Fund.

■ In the spring of 2021, the Fund set up a Sustainable Development Study Group with the participation of members of the Board of Management and specialists in environmental protection or sustainable film production. The group met four times in 2021 and developed the Fund's strategy in this area around three axes:

- supporting a sustainable film industry;
- improving the environmental footprint of the Fund's operations and
- encouraging cooperation among Member States on measures to promote a sustainable film industry.

This strategy was adopted by the Board of Management in December 2021.

■ In 2022, the Study Group met four times to develop concrete measures that could be implemented quickly, mainly in the framework of the Co-production support programme. The Group's proposals were adopted by the Board of Management at its meeting in November 2022. In 2023, the four meetings of the Group focused on the concrete implementation of these proposals.

■ The Study Group is also a platform to facilitate the exchange of knowledge and experience between member States and public funds, as strengthening international cooperation is key to disseminate best practices and accelerate the adoption of common standards.

MAIN IMPLEMENTATION CHALLENGES

■ Within its mission of international cooperation, Eurimages is committed to working with all its member States, without excluding any, based on consensus. Given the significant variations among member States in the development of the film industry, sustainability policies, available infrastructures, and public support, it is crucial to harmonise and coordinate the calculation of carbon emissions. Adopting common sustainability labels or certifications is essential for achieving this goal.

■ Eurimages must align its policies with both mandatory and non-mandatory measures implemented at the national level, avoiding the imposition of additional layers of obligations on producers.

■ As a "financial gap" fund, Eurimages typically intervenes in film production at an advanced stage of financing, relatively close to the start of shooting. Consequently, the main challenge is to encourage producers to adopt sustainable development measures early in the development or production process, rather than resorting to "greenwashing" their projects when applying for Eurimages funding.

MEASURES INTRODUCED IN 2023

■ At the end of 2022, the Eurimages Board of Management approved the measures proposed by the Sustainable Development Study Group. Three strands of action were planned for 2023.

■ In January 2023, the Fund introduced an additional selection criterion, currently non-mandatory, for Co-production Support Programme, aimed at assessing "the existence of measures put in place to reduce the environmental impact of the co-production project". Applicants are now encouraged, on a voluntary basis, to include information on the measures they may have adopted to reduce the environmental impact of their projects. Independent experts take this new criterion into account as part of their overall assessment of a project applying for co-production support. The aim of this measure is to raise awareness among applicants and create a leverage effect. During the year, additional efforts were made to improve the collection of data from producers applying for support and to encourage the industry experts participating in the project evaluation sessions to take better account of this new selection criterion. Out of the 315 eligible projects that applied for Eurimages support in 2023, 55% (174 projects) mentioned the use of a carbon calculator, with Carbon Clap (FR), Eureka (EUR), Creast (ES), Klimaktiv (DE, AT, IT, CH) and Albert (UK) being the most frequently cited calculators. The share of projects using a carbon calculator was slightly higher (59%) among for the 93 films selected for funding. In addition, 17.5% out of the 315 eligible projects mentioned the use of a green certificate in their funding application, with Green Film (IT) being the most frequently mentioned certification. This figure rises to 25% for the 93 projects supported. Furthermore, 43.5% of eligible projects and 40% of supported projects either hired or planned to hire a green consultant or trained or planned to train a member of the production team specifically on green issues. Finally, 9% of the projects supported in 2023 referenced an environmental theme, as declared by the producer in their note of intent.

■ The Study Group had proposed the creation of three Eurimages Green Co-production Awards for international co-productions that have succeeded in combining sustainable production and artistic quality. A call for expressions of interest was launched in spring 2023 to select interested film festivals, markets, and events. Unfortunately, this call was unsuccessful despite many professionals expressing interest in this project. The reasons for this disappointing result may include the following:

- The organisation of these awards, as described in the specifications, may be too complicated for festivals to implement as it requires specialised knowledge.
- Eurimages launched six different calls for proposals simultaneously, which may have resulted in these new initiatives being overlooked amidst the others.
- In Spring 2023, not so many films could be categorised as sustainable productions, especially international co-productions, which limits the scope of these awards.
- The budget for these awards may not be sufficient, particularly to cover organisational costs in the context of film festivals.
- The project may not adequately address the primary concern for producers, which is the preparation and implementation of a sustainability plan.

The Fund will consider whether to launch another call for proposals for such a project in the future.

■ Eurimages also intends to be active in the field of training for sustainable film production. The Fund is currently working on the development of an e-learning platform focused on green production, particularly on international co-production and related issues. This new tool will be aimed at film professionals - producers, directors, technicians, etc. - across all the Fund's Member States, addressing their requirements and expectations. However, this platform will not lead to the obtention of a diploma or a qualification in green management. Throughout 2023, the Study Group worked on preparing the project specifications. After these were approved by the Board of Management at its December 2023 plenary meeting, a call for proposals was launched. The platform is expected to go online in early 2025.

THE BUDAPEST DRAMA SERIES PROCESS

BACKGROUND

■ In 2019, Eurimages hired an external consultant to carry out a study on the impact of artificial intelligence in the audiovisual sector, exploring the possibility of intervention by the Council of Europe in the field of TV series. In 2021, Eurimages continued to participate in the meetings of the Ad Hoc Committee on Artificial Intelligence (CAHAI) in order to ensure that the audiovisual dimension was taken into account in the Committee's work.

■ In 2020, the Fund continued to reflect on the possibility of creating a new scheme for pan-European public financial support and a legal framework to facilitate international co-productions of TV series. The feasibility of creating a new legal and/or financial instrument was examined by internal Council of Europe committees in 2021 (CDCPP²⁶ and GR-C²⁷). An audiovisual policy advisor, Alex Traila, was seconded in early 2021 by the Romanian authorities to develop this project within the Eurimages Secretariat.

■ Under the auspices of the Hungarian Chairmanship of the Committee of Ministers, Eurimages, in co-operation with the Hungarian National Film Institute and the Hungarian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade, organised a conference on 30 September and 1 October 2021 on the theme "Preserving independent production, diversity and pluralism of TV series in Europe". The event, structured as a brainstorming session among audiovisual industry professionals (including producers, distributors, broadcasters, representatives of national film funds), provided an opportunity to discuss the most urgent needs for facilitating the production of high-end series in a highly competitive market dominated by non-European players.

■ Recognizing the urgent need to further develop policy and mobilize the cultural and creative sectors in order to promote and foster cultural diversity, cultural participation and creative production, particularly in the digital environment, Ministers of Culture issued a joint declaration²⁸ on 1 April 2022 in Strasbourg. They invited the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe to continue supporting the Budapest Drama Series Process²⁹ and to develop – through future work by the Steering Committee for Culture, Cultural Heritage and Landscape (CDCPP) and Eurimages – a new legal instrument to codify the rules of international drama series co-productions and a public financial instrument for these co-productions.

■ The Committee of Ministers on 15 June 2022 in Turin endorsed³⁰ the implementation of the actions outlined in this declaration and forwarded them to the Steering Committee for Culture, Heritage and Landscape (CDCPP), as well as to the Board of Management of the European Support Fund for the Co-production and Distribution of Creative Cinematographic and Audiovisual Works 'Eurimages', for information and appropriate follow-up, in accordance with their respective mandates.

LEGAL INSTRUMENT TO CODIFY THE RULES OF DRAMA SERIES CO-PRODUCTION

■ The Steering Committee for Culture, Heritage and Landscape (CDCPP) appointed the CPPWG-Series expert members in May 2022, following their decision of December 2021 to set up a Working Group of experts. This group was tasked with assessing the feasibility of a legal instrument on European series and potentially developing it into a proposed text of a convention, considering recent technological and financial developments in the European film and TV industry. The CDCPP therefore requested its Bureau to select up to 15 experts for this Working Group.

■ CPPWG-Series held meetings in June and October 2022, as well as in April, June and October 2023. In these sessions the Group examined the conclusions of a feasibility report, determined that the appropriate legal instrument could be a

²⁸ "Creating our future: Creativity and cultural heritage as strategic resources for a diverse and democratic Europe" Final Declaration, Council of Europe Conference of Ministers of Culture, Strasbourg, 1 April 2022

²⁹ Under the auspices of the Hungarian Presidency of the Council of Europe, an exploratory conference on "Preserving Independent Production, Diversity and Pluralism in Drama Series in Europe: Can International Cooperation be Part of the Solution?" was held in Budapest, on 30 September and 1 October 2021. Acknowledging the groundwork carried out during this conference and the future steps to be taken during successive presidencies of the Committee of Ministers, the Hungarian authorities named this initiative "The Budapest Drama Series Process". Convention on co-production of audiovisual works in the form of series and initiated the drafting process to propose a text for such a convention. The work of the CPPWG-Series is scheduled to conclude in the second semester of 2024. A report on their work, including a proposed text of a draft convention, will be submitted to the CDCPP.

PILOT PROGRAMME FOR SERIES CO-PRODUCTIONS

Following the conclusions of the Budapest Conference in 2021 and the decision of the Italian authorities to swiftly convene the Ministers of Culture for a conference under their country's Presidency of the Committee of Ministers, Eurimages initiated a consultation with a various panel of experts. The consultation aimed to explore financial instruments to enhance the international co-production of series, resulting in the creation of the Council of Europe Pilot Programme for Series Co-Productions. This three-year initiative is funded by donors through the Council of Europe's voluntary contribution system and operates with its own budget and staff, distinct from those of Eurimages.

The Pilot Programme aims to increase the geographical and thematic diversity of audiovisual storytelling by strengthening international co-production practices through financial support for independently produced, high-quality series. The Programme promotes and supports the development of independent serial storytelling through an adaptable financing mechanism that can navigate the constantly evolving business environment for series. This will be achieved through fostering international co-productions that embrace the principles of shared intellectual property (IP) and secondary rights ownership. It is essential to promote the circulation of culturally and linguistically diverse works across member States, involving all audiovisual media service providers. To ensure that member States maintain creative control over co-productions involving external players, incentivisation strategies will be put in place.

The Programme's implementation phase started on 1 January 2023 thanks to the financial support of 13 Contributing Countries (Belgium, Croatia, Estonia, Greece, Hungary, Luxembourg, Netherlands, North Macedonia, Portugal, Serbia, Slovak Republic, Slovenia and Spain). The main activities will include a yearly Call for Projects and two Calls for Partnerships, addressing respectively the development and the production phases of international series.

The first Call for Partnerships opened in October 2023 with an available budget of €200 000. As a result, four festivals were selected to host the Council of Europe Series Co-Production Development Awards (€50 000 each)³¹.

The first Call for Projects opened in October 2023 with a budget of €3,12 million. Following assessments by experts from Finland, Germany, Italy, and France, it was decided to support seven series co-productions with grants of either €250,000 or €500,000 each³². Among the supported projects, 64% of the series creators are female, and the projects feature ten national, regional, or minority languages³³. Seven producers from four countries, along with 26 co-producers from 15 countries and 33 broadcasters/streaming services from 15 countries, were involved in these projects. Overall, 171 professionals from 20 different countries participated in these projects³⁴.

³¹ The selected markets are located in Croatia, Estonia, Netherlands, and Spain. See Table 29 in Appendix XIII.

PERSPECTIVES

CONSEQUENCES OF THE INVASION OF UKRAINE

■ Russia's invasion of Ukraine at the end of February 2022 led to the exclusion of the Russian Federation from the Council of Europe and Eurimages on 16 March 2022³⁵.

■ As the financial resources of the Ukrainian public authorities are entirely devoted to the national defence effort, Ukraine's contribution to the Fund has been compromised. At the request of the member States, a mechanism has been established whereby countries, on a voluntary basis, can contribute to the financing of Ukraine's contribution. At the time of publication of this report, 22 member States³⁶ have made solidarity contributions.

■ In 2023, Eurimages also renewed the special measures introduced in 2022 to support Ukrainian film professionals. These measures primarily focused on the Promotion Programme and are detailed in the corresponding section of this report.

2023 EXTERNAL EVALUATION

■ According to its statutory texts, Eurimages is required to conduct an external evaluation of its activities at least every five years. Following the 2018 evaluation, the Fund launched a call for tenders at the end of 2022 to hire external experts to carry out a new evaluation in 2023. Following this call for tenders, the Austrian company Evaluet OG, led by consultants Serani Siegel and Camille Massey, was selected, with contributions from experts Florian Krautkrämer, Susa Katz and Georgina Vaz Cabral.

■ This assessment focused on the governance and decision-making process of the Fund as finalised in 2022, excluding a review of the programmes. The objectives of the evaluation were as follows:

- assessing the extent to which the reform has achieved the objectives originally set by the member States and the Council of Europe;
- assessing the impact of the recent reform on the governance and decision-making process of the Fund, including its strengths and weaknesses;
- make proposals to improve, refine and simplify current procedures and processes.

■ The external evaluation was conducted between December 2022 and June 2023, and the resulting evaluation report was presented to the Board at its June 2023 meeting. The Executive Committee, meeting in an enlarged format to include other interested members of the Board of Management, thoroughly examined the recommendations of the external evaluators during three meetings in September, October and November 2023 in order to determine the appropriate follow-up actions, with a first series of proposals presented to the Board in December 2023. The review of these recommendations will continue in 2024 with the aim of preparing a concrete action plan proposal for the Board of Management.

■ In particular, this process shall define the conditions for the renewal of the pool of external experts, for which a new call for expression of interest will be launched in the second half of 2024. Furthermore, the launch of a new support scheme replacing the former Distribution support programme, is also scheduled to take place during the second half of 2024³⁷.

DATA ANALYSIS

■ In September 2023, Eurimages hired a data scientist on a temporary contract to improve the analysis of data on projects applying for and benefiting from financial support. The aim of this initiative is to facilitate the production of indicators to monitor the Fund's activities and provide stakeholders with data on the Fund's progress towards its strategic and operational objectives. This is part of a broader approach to better measure the impact of the support awarded and the performance of the Fund. The main beneficiaries of this project will be the management and governing bodies of Eurimages. However, in a second stage, more data could be made available to the public, enhancing the Fund's transparency.

Programme	Description
Co-production support programme	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ The Fund's main activity, this programme aims to encourage cooperation among professionals in the film industry. It is intended for independent producers who are nationals of the Fund's member States. ▪ Eligible³⁸ projects (fiction, animation, or documentary feature films of at least 70 minutes) are financed in the form of advances on receipts or subsidies. ▪ The Fund publishes three calls for projects every year. ▪ The Secretariat applies eligibility criteria and reports to the Executive Committee. ▪ Eligible projects are assessed by Co-production Working Groups, made of independent external experts.
Distribution support programme	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ The Distribution support programme, currently frozen, aimed to support the distribution of European films, enhance their visibility, and increase their audience. ▪ It was intended for distributors in Eurimages member States without access to the EU's Creative Europe Media programme (Armenia, Canada, Georgia, Switzerland, Türkiye, and Ukraine). ▪ Marketing and advertising expenses for eligible films³⁹ were financed through grants. ▪ The programme is currently being revised to include all member States and will operate in synergy with the Co-production support programme. A study group is developing a new format for the programme, with proposals presented in December 2023. The new Film Marketing & Audience Development support programme will be launched subject to approval in June 2024.
Exhibition support programme	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ This programme aims to promote diversity in film programming, develop a network of exhibitors and strengthen the presence of feature films originating in the Fund's the member States in cinemas. ▪ The technical management of the programme has been entrusted to Europa Cinemas. The scheme is intended for exhibitors based in Eurimages member States which do not have access to the European Union's Creative Europe Media programme Armenia, Canada, Georgia, Switzerland, Türkiye, and Ukraine). ▪ Eligible⁴⁰ cinemas are financed in the form of grants.
Promotion programme	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ This programme aims to increase the visibility of Eurimages' activities and promote international co-production by awarding different prizes within a selection of film festivals and markets: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ The "Co-production Development Awards" to encourage co-production from the early stages of a project. ✓ The "Lab Project Awards" to reward innovative projects that explore new forms of expression. Suspended in 2021, this programme will be relaunched in a new format. ✓ The "European Co-production Award – Prix Eurimages", created in association with the European Film Academy and aimed at rewarding a distinguished producer from a Eurimages member States. ▪ The programme encompasses sponsorship and patronage activities as well as Eurimages' presence at the film markets of major festivals such as Berlin, Cannes and Venice.
Gender Equality strategy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ This strategy aims to reduce gender inequalities in the film industry and promote the role of female film professionals both in front of and behind the camera. ▪ The measures and actions to be implemented are based on the following objectives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Integrating a gender equality approach into all policies and measures, considering the gender dimension. ✓ Combatting gender stereotypes and sexism in film portrayals by raising awareness among filmmakers. ✓ Preventing and combatting violence against women by highlighting how degrading images can encourage violence and by advocating for greater respect for women's dignity. ▪ The includes various activities and actions within Eurimages and encourages other film funds to take into account the gender perspective into their efforts.

Sustainability strategy

- The Fund's strategy aims to reduce the environmental impact of the film industry and promote sustainable practices within the sector.
- The strategy revolves around three axes:
 - ✓ Supporting a sustainable film industry.
 - ✓ Improving the environmental footprint of Eurimages' operations.
 - ✓ Encouraging cooperation among member States on measures to promote a sustainable film industry.
- The measures and actions to be implemented include:
 - ✓ Introducing an additional, non-mandatory selection criterion in the Co-production Support Programme to assess environmental impact measures, aimed at raising awareness and encouraging voluntary adoption of sustainable practices.
 - ✓ Collecting data from producers on the use of carbon calculators and green certifications to better understand and improve industry practices.
 - ✓ Developing an e-learning platform focused on green production, particularly international co-productions, to train film professionals across member States.

(*) Amounts supported minus cancellations.

NB: The rate of repayment per year of support indicates the financial performance of the films supported in a given year. The rates of repayment have been calculated by excluding recent years, taking into account the time needed to complete the production of the film and to ensure that the film is sufficiently advanced to allow for revenue recoupment.

APPENDIX VI – LIST OF THE FILMS WITH THE BEST REPAYMENT RATES

In 2023, the top 35 films with the highest repayment rates remained largely unchanged from previous years.

Currently, there are seven films that have fully or nearly fully repaid the support received: “ABRE LOS OJOS”, “LE HUITIÈME JOUR”, “ANOTHER ROUND – DRUNK”, “IDA”, “MICROCOSMOS”, “KOLYA”, and “THE HUNT”.

A total of 38 films exceeded the cumulative repayment threshold of 50% in 2023. This list includes 5 films supported after 2013, of which one project was supported after 2018.

By the end of 2023, a total of 1,303 films had generated a repayment, corresponding of 53.4% of the 2 348 films supported by the Fund since its establishment.

It should be noted that the repayment system records all receipts since the inception of the Fund, but the Secretariat only actively follow-ups on films supported within the last ten years. This activity is particularly focused on films released in cinemas over the past five years.
