

Are you new to Global Education Week? Here are three ways you can take part in this unique international campaign taking place from 13th to 19th November 2023.

PARTICIPATE IN AN ORGANISED EVENT

If you prefer to join an event, contact your national coordinator and check the Global Education Week website or national platforms to find events of your interest near your location.

ORGANISE YOUR OWN EVENT

If you choose to organise your own event, start by contacting your national coordinator.

- Design engaging activities that will raise awareness about Global Education. This can include interactive discussions, workshops, film screenings, or guest speakers, schools debates.
- Clearly communicate the objectives of the event and the significance of Global Education.
- Create promotional materials (e.g., flyers, social media posts) to invite others to participate.
- Collaborate with others: Consider partnering with local organisations, schools, or community groups that share an interest in Global Education. Collaborative efforts can enhance the impact and reach of your event.

JOIN AN ONLINE INITIATIVE

If you choose to join online, there are plenty of possibilities! Some activities such as webinars, campaigns or online contests can take place online. Stay tuned on the Global Education Week webpage to be up to date!

Spread the word about your participation in Global Education Week with your friends, family and colleagues, and take the opportunity to raise awareness about Global Education in your Network.

Support the visibility of the Global Education Week on Social Media and on your website. Share Global Education Week posts using the hashtags #GEW2023, #GlobalEducationWeek and #iLEGEND, and tag the @NSCentre and your national coordinator.

During and after the event, capture photos, videos, or testimonials that highlight the impact of Global Education. Share these materials on the internet to inspire others and showcase the importance of Global Education and its recognition in formal and non-formal education sectors!

Whether you choose to join an existing event or organise your own, your participation will contribute to raising awareness about Global Education and its role in making the change you would like to see in the world.
