Albania

Q133 (General Comment): As per provisions of Law No 96/2016 “on the status of judges and prosecutors in the republic of Albania”, Art. 48, “Promotion to Higher or Specialized Levels” - the Council opens the promotion procedure by calling for applications - the call for applications is published on the website of the Council and it contains the necessary information for the vacancy - following a call for applications for a promotion, the candidate may apply for up to three vacant positions or positions expected to become vacant. - only applicants who have passed the asset declaration and background check and have no disciplinary sanction in force are allowed to participate further in the promotion procedure.

- the Councils reviews the applications and ranks eligible candidates by reference to the following indicators:

a) Firstly, two previous evaluations, taking into consideration that:

i) The experience in seconded positions, as magistrate in a mobility scheme or as member of the Council, whose mandate has ended three years before the application, will be an advantage;

ii) In cases of more candidates with the same grades, the magistrates within the group of candidates with the highest evaluation grades shall be ranked according to a scoring scheme established by the Councils;

b) Secondly, if after the evaluation made under letter “a” paragraph 9 of this Article, there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their specific professional experience required for the vacant position;

c) Thirdly, if after the evaluation made under letter “b” paragraph 9 of this Article, there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their seniority as magistrate or jurist.

The Councils shall decide to promote the candidates ranking highest with the grades attained by a procedure and rules contained in paragraph 9 and 14 of this Article.

Q133 (2019): As per provisions of Law No 96/2016 “on the status of judges and prosecutors in the republic of Albania”, Art. 48, “Promotion to Higher or Specialized Levels” - the Council opens the promotion procedure by calling for applications - the call for applications is published on the website of the Council and it contains the necessary information for the vacancy - following a call for applications for a promotion, the candidate may apply for up to three vacant positions or positions expected to become vacant. - only applicants who have passed the asset declaration and background check and have no disciplinary sanction in force are allowed to participate further in the promotion procedure.

- the Councils reviews the applications and ranks eligible candidates by reference to the following indicators:

a) firstly, two previous evaluations, taking account of: i) the experience in seconded positions, as magistrate in a mobility scheme or as member of the Council, whose mandate has ended three years before application shall be an added value;

ii) in case of more candidates with the same grades, the magistrates within the group of candidates with the highest evaluation grades shall be ranked according to a scoring scheme established by the High Judicial Council;

b) secondly, if under the evaluation made there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their specific professional experience required for the vacant position;

c) thirdly, there are more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their seniority as magistrate or jurist.

The Council decides to promote the candidates ranking highest with the grades attained by this procedure and rules.

Q134 (General Comment): The Councils review the applications and rank eligible candidates by reference to the following indicators:

a) Firstly, two previous performance evaluations, taking into consideration that:

i) The experience in seconded positions, as magistrate in a mobility scheme or as member of the Council, whose mandate has ended three years before the application, will be an advantage;

ii) In cases of more candidates with the same grades, the magistrates within the group of candidates with the highest evaluation grades shall be ranked according to a scoring scheme established by the Councils;

b) Secondly, if after the evaluation made under the first paragraph, there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their specific professional experience required for the vacant position;

c) Thirdly, if after the evaluation made under the second paragraph there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their seniority as magistrate or jurist.

The law on the status of judges and prosecutors provides for the following evaluation levels of a magistrate:

a) ‘Excellent’: in case of an ethical and professional performance of very high qualities; b) ‘Very good’: in case of an above average ethical and professional performance c) ‘Good’: in case of an average ethical and professional performance; ç) ‘Acceptable’: in case of a below average ethical and professional performance; d) ‘Incapable’: in case of a poor ethical and/or professional performance. Hence, during promotion, a judge that has two evaluations as excellent will be promoted vis-à-vis someone who has an evaluation as excellent and very good.

Q134 (2019): The Councils review the applications and rank eligible candidates by reference to the following indicators:

a) Firstly, two previous performance evaluations, taking into consideration that:

i) The experience in seconded positions, as magistrate in a mobility scheme or as member of the Council, whose mandate has ended three years before the application, will be an advantage;

ii) In cases of more candidates with the same grades, the magistrates within the group of candidates with the highest evaluation grades shall be ranked according to a scoring scheme established by the Councils;

Q138 (General Comment): High Prosecutorial Council publishes the promotion announcement for prosecutors which includes the application deadline, the information and documentation attached, the candidacy procedure and the place of submission of documentation. The following candidates may be promoted:

a) the prosecutor who fulfils the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacancy;

b) the prosecutor in command or the one in the delegation scheme who meets the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacant position;

After the announcement of the promotion procedure, the candidate may run for no more than three vacancies or positions expected to become vacant. If the prosecutor is running for more than one position, he shall rank them by preference.

The High Prosecutorial Council verifies candidates regarding the integrity and assets and only candidates who successfully complete this process and who do not have disciplinary measures in place are admitted to further promotion procedures.

Detailed rules on the promotion of prosecutors are provided in Article 47 and subsequent of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended.

Q138 (2022): The specific comment made in this cycle for Q138, is different from the general comment, anyway The GENERAL comment is still valid. Also, in the end of the comment may be added: The promotion procedure at the highest levels of prosecution takes place in three stages, as follows: a) In the first stage is carried out the verification of the candidates for meeting the legal conditions of candidacy; b) In the second stage is taken the decision on the ranking of qualified candidates, and; c) In the third stage, is taken the decision to promote the candidate listed above others.

With Decision no. 222, dated 27.07.2022, High Prosecutorial Council approved the Regulation "For the promotion to the highest levels in Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction". According to this Regulation, the promotion procedure at the highest levels takes place in three stages, as follows: a) In the first stage is carried out the verification of the candidates for meeting the legal conditions of candidacy; b) In the second stage is taken the decision on the ranking of qualified candidates, and; c) In the third stage, is taken the decision to promote the candidate listed above others.

Also, with Decision no. 200, dated 23.09.2020, the Council has approved the Regulation "On the criteria and procedures for the promotion of heads of Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction". High Prosecutorial Council publishes the promotion announcement for prosecutors which includes the application deadline, the information and documentation attached, the candidacy procedure and the place of submission of documentation. The following candidates may be promoted: a) the prosecutor who fulfils the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacancy; b) the prosecutor in command or the one in the delegation scheme who meets the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacant position. After the announcement of the promotion procedure, the candidate may run for no more than three vacancies or positions expected to become vacant. If the prosecutor is running for more than one position, he shall rank them by preference. High Prosecutorial Council verifies candidates regarding the integrity and assets and only candidates who successfully complete this process and who do not have disciplinary measures in place are admitted to further promotion procedures.

With the Decision no. 51, dated 19.03.2019, High Prosecutorial Council approved the "Regulation on the criteria and procedure for the promotion of prosecutors at the Special Prosecutor's Office against Corruption and Organized Crime". According to this Regulation, the promotion in this prosecution follows this procedure:

- a) First, Ad-Hoc Commission perform an initial assessment of all candidates to determine if they meet the legal requirements for promotion to office as a special prosecutor.
- b) Then, the Commission proposes to the Council the disqualification of candidates who do not meet the legal requirements.
- c) The High Prosecutorial Council disqualifies any candidate who does not meet the legal requirements and announces the official list of candidates who continue the evaluation process.
- d) The Commission continues with the evaluation and conducts the interviews with the candidates. The Commission requests from public institutions any type of document important for the evaluation.
- e) The Commission uses documents and letters of motivation to make relevant proposals for the evaluation of candidates, based on:
 - i. previous professional evaluations; and
 - ii. special ethical and professional criteria. The Council also takes into account the candidate's personal and professional commitment as an expert.

Q138 (2021): High Prosecutorial Council has approved the Regulation "On the criteria and procedures for the promotion of heads of Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction", with Decision no. 200, dated 23.09.2020.

Q138 (2020): High Prosecutorial Council has approved the Regulation "On the criteria and procedures for the promotion of heads of Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction", with Decision no. 200, dated 23.09.2020.

Q138 (2019): High Prosecutorial Council publishes the promotion announcement for prosecutors which includes the application deadline, the information and documentation attached, the candidacy procedure and the place of submission of documentation. The following candidates may be promoted:

- a) the prosecutor who fulfils the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacancy;
 - b) the prosecutor in command or the one in the delegation scheme who meets the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacant position;
- After the announcement of the promotion procedure, the candidate may run for no more than three vacancies or positions expected to become vacant. If the prosecutor is running for more than one position, he shall rank them by preference.

The Council reviews the applications and ranks eligible candidates by reference to the following indicators:

- a) firstly, two previous evaluations, taking account of: i) the experience in seconded positions, as magistrate in a mobility scheme or as member of the Council, whose mandate has ended three years before application shall be an added value;
- ii) in case of more candidates with the same grades, the magistrates within the group of candidates with the highest evaluation grades shall be ranked according to a scoring scheme established by the High Judicial Council;
- b) secondly, if under the evaluation made there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their specific professional experience required for the vacant position;
- c) thirdly, there are more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their seniority as magistrate or jurist.

The Council decides to promote the candidates ranking highest with the grades attained by this procedure and rules.

The law on the status of judges and prosecutors provides for the following evaluation levels of a magistrate:

- a) 'Excellent': in case of an ethical and professional performance of very high qualities;
- b) 'Very good': in case of an above average ethical and professional performance;
- c) 'Good': in case of an average ethical and professional performance;
- ç) 'Acceptable': in case of a below average ethical and professional performance;
- d) 'Incapable': in case of a poor ethical and/or professional performance.

Hence, during promotion, a prosecutor that has two evaluations as excellent will be promoted vis-à-vis someone who has an evaluation as excellent and very good.

Q139 (General Comment): Regarding the promotion to the highest levels in Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction and the promotion of heads of Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction, other promotion criteria are the lack of disciplinary measures and the successful review of the verification of assets and image of candidates. Q137 (General Comment): RULEBOOK on criteria and measures for assessing the expertise, qualifications and dignity of candidates in the procedure of proposing and electing holders of public prosecutorial office

CRITERIA FOR THE SELECTION OF THE DEPUTY PROSECUTOR

Article 10-Criteria for the election of a deputy public prosecutor shall be applied during the election of deputy public prosecutors who are in a permanent position in another or higher public prosecutor's office.

Deputy public prosecutors who are elected to this position for the first time shall be elected to a permanent position by a decision of the Council, unless their work has been assessed twice as "unsatisfactory" within a period of three years.

Fulfillment of criteria-Article 11

In the procedure for the election of the Deputy Public Prosecutor, the degree of fulfillment of the candidate criteria is determined on the basis of the following criteria:

- 1) evaluation of expertise and skills;
- 2) interview

Article 12-Evaluation of expertise and skills

The expertise and qualification of candidates for election as Deputy Public Prosecutors is determined on the basis of the evaluation of work evaluation according to the Rulebook on Criteria for Evaluation of the Work of Public Prosecutors and Deputy Public Prosecutors.

The evaluation of the evaluation of the work "performs the public prosecutor's function extremely successfully" is evaluated with 50 points.

The evaluation of the evaluation of the work "successfully performs the public prosecutor's function" is evaluated with 30 points.

The evaluation of the evaluation of the work "does not satisfy" did not receive points.

If the candidate does not have an evaluation of the evaluation of work, the Council will order the Public Prosecutor's Office in which the candidate performs the function of Deputy Public Prosecutor to perform an extraordinary evaluation of the candidate's work and submit the assessment thus submitted to the Council.

Interview with the registered candidate-Article 13

Before making a decision on the election, the Council conducts an interview with the registered candidate.

The interview aims to determine the communication skills, readiness to perform the public prosecutor's office and the professional integrity necessary for the position for which he / she is running.

The grade of the conversation is expressed by points from 1 to 20.

Ranking list- Article 14

The Council compiles the ranking list of candidates for proposing and electing the Deputy Public Prosecutor after the conducted procedure, based on the sum of points.

If more candidates who hold public prosecutor's office achieve the same number of points, the candidate who has a longer experience after passing the bar exam has the advantage.

Q137 (2019): There is no special procedure for promotion of public prosecutors or deputy public prosecutors. If a public prosecutor applies for election of a public prosecutor at the higher instance, e.g. a public prosecutor at a basic public prosecution office applies for the election of a public prosecutor at the high prosecution office he/she has to go through the regular election procedure foreseen by the law, as stated in questions 119 and 120.

Q138 (General Comment): Interview with the registered candidate

Article 13.

Before making a decision on the selection, it is more important to talk with the registered candidate.

The purpose of the interview is to determine communication skills, readiness to perform the function of public prosecutor and professional integrity necessary for the position for which he is running.

The evaluation of the conversation is expressed in points from 1 to 20.

Ranking list

The Council compiles a ranking list of candidates for the nomination and election of the deputy public prosecutor after the procedure, based on the sum of points.

If several candidates holding the position of public prosecutor achieve the same number of points, priority is given to the candidate with longer experience after passing the bar exam.

If several candidates who are not holders of the public prosecutor's office and the candidate who performs the public prosecutor's office have the same number of points, the candidate who performs the public prosecutor's office has priority.

If several candidates who are not holders of the office of public prosecutor achieve the same number of points, the candidate with longer experience in legal affairs after passing the bar exam has priority.

The ranking list is published on the Council's website and notice board.

The appeal body is a Commission with a 2 year mandate consisted of the chairman of KJC, and three other judges from court of Appellate and the Supreme Court (usually the head of Supreme & Appellate court).

Q137 (2022): The process is carried out by the Committee that is established by the Council and the final decisions is made by the Council upon the proposal of the Committee.

Q138 (General Comment): Upon need, the KPC makes a decision to open an internal announcement of prosecutors' promotion which is published on the official websites of the KPC and State Prosecutor. The KPC establishes the Commission for promotion and transfer of prosecutors which reviews all applications and documents submitted in accordance with the internal competition for transfer and promotion of prosecutors as well as the data provided by Prosecutors' performance review unit. After reviewing the data of all candidates, the Commission shall draft a list of all candidates who meet the criteria for transfer and promotion. The Commission shall carry out the assessment and interview all candidates who meet the promotion criteria. The Commission shall draft the final report on the proposed list of candidates for transfer or promotion based on their ranking, which is then sent for approval to KPC within 7 days.

Q138 (2022): This process is regulated with an internal Regulation. If necessary, the KPC decides on the announcement of an internal competition for the promotion of prosecutors, which is published on the web portal of the prosecutorial system. KPC establishes the commission for promotion and transfer of prosecutors which has the task to review applications and documents submitted based on the internal competition for transfer and promotion of prosecutors and based on the data provided by the Prosecution Performance Review Unit. After reviewing the data of all candidates, the Commission compiles the list with the names of all candidates who meet the criteria. The commission continues with the evaluation by interviewing all the candidates who have met the criteria. Then, the Commission drafts the final report with the list of candidates proposed to the Council for transfer or promotion based on their ranking according to the points earned. Prosecutors have the right to appeal against the final report of the commission within 7 days.

Work of all judges and presidents of the courts is subject to regular evaluation. Performance evaluation involves all aspects of a judge's work and/or work of a president of the court, and represents the basis for the election, mandatory training of judges, and dismissal.

Evaluation is conducted based on publicised, objective and uniform criteria and standards, in a single procedure ensuring the participation of the judge and/or president of the court whose performance is being evaluated. The criteria, standards, and procedure for the performance evaluation of judges and/or president of the courts are pursuant to the Law on Judges, Law on High Judicial Council and Rulebook on the criteria, standards, procedure and bodies for evaluation of performance of judges and court presidents ("Official Gazette of RS", Nos. 81/2014, 142/2014, 41/2015, 7/2016), which is being applied as of 1st July 2015.

Decisions of the HJC regarding the selection of judges to permanent judicial positions at the another or higher courts must be reasoned (based on the criteria outlined in the HJC's Rules of Procedure) and published in the Official Gazette.

Albania

(General Comment): The Councils review the applications and rank eligible candidates by reference to the following indicators:

a) Firstly, two previous performance evaluations, taking into consideration that:

i) The experience in seconded positions, as magistrate in a mobility scheme or as member of the Council, whose mandate has ended three years before the application, will be an advantage;

ii) In cases of more candidates with the same grades, the magistrates within the group of candidates with the highest evaluation grades shall be ranked according to a scoring scheme established by the Councils;

b) Secondly, if after the evaluation made under the first paragraph, there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their specific professional experience required for the vacant position;

c) Thirdly, if after the evaluation made under the second paragraph there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their seniority as magistrate or jurist.

The law on the status of judges and prosecutors provides for the following evaluation levels of a magistrate:

a) 'Excellent': in case of an ethical and professional performance of very high qualities; b) 'Very good': in case of an above average ethical and professional performance c) 'Good': in case of an average ethical and professional performance; ç) 'Acceptable': in case of a below average ethical and professional performance; d) 'Incapable': in case of a poor ethical and/or professional performance. Hence, during promotion, a judge that has two evaluations as excellent will be promoted vis-à-vis someone who has an evaluation as excellent and very good.

(2019): Prosecutorial Council

Serbia

(General Comment): RULEBOOK on criteria and measures for assessing the expertise, qualifications and dignity of candidates in the procedure of proposing and electing holders of public prosecutorial office
CRITERIA FOR THE SELECTION OF THE DEPUTY PROSECUTOR

Article 10-Criteria for the election of a deputy public prosecutor shall be applied during the election of deputy public prosecutors who are in a permanent position in another or higher public prosecutor's office.

Deputy public prosecutors who are elected to this position for the first time shall be elected to a permanent position by a decision of the Council, unless their work has been assessed twice as "unsatisfactory" within a period of three years.

Fulfillment of criteria-Article 11

In the procedure for the election of the Deputy Public Prosecutor, the degree of fulfillment of the candidate criteria is determined on the basis of the following criteria:

- 1) evaluation of expertise and skills;
- 2) interview

Article 12-Evaluation of expertise and skills

The expertise and qualification of candidates for election as Deputy Public Prosecutors is determined on the basis of the evaluation of work evaluation according to the Rulebook on Criteria for Evaluation of the Work of Public Prosecutors and Deputy Public Prosecutors.

The evaluation of the evaluation of the work "performs the public prosecutor's function extremely successfully" is evaluated with 50 points.

The evaluation of the evaluation of the work "successfully performs the public prosecutor's function" is evaluated with 30 points.

The evaluation of the evaluation of the work "does not satisfy" did not receive points.

If the candidate does not have an evaluation of the evaluation of work, the Council will order the Public Prosecutor's Office in which the candidate performs the function of Deputy Public Prosecutor to perform an extraordinary evaluation of the candidate's work and submit the assessment thus submitted to the Council.

Interview with the registered candidate-Article 13

Before making a decision on the election, the Council conducts an interview with the registered candidate.

The interview aims to determine the communication skills, readiness to perform the public prosecutor's office and the professional integrity necessary for the position for which he / she is running.

The grade of the conversation is expressed by points from 1 to 20.

Ranking list- Article 14

The Council compiles the ranking list of candidates for proposing and electing the Deputy Public Prosecutor after the conducted procedure, based on the sum of points.

If more candidates who hold public prosecutor's office achieve the same number of points, the candidate who has a longer experience after passing the bar exam has the advantage.

(2019): There is no special procedure for promotion of public prosecutors or deputy public prosecutors. If a public prosecutor applies for election of a public prosecutor at the higher instance, e.g. a public prosecutor at a basic public prosecution office applies for the election of a public prosecutor at the high prosecution office he/she has to go through the regular election procedure foreseen by the law, as stated in questions 119 and 120.

(General Comment): High Prosecutorial Council publishes the promotion announcement for prosecutors which includes the application deadline, the information and documentation attached, the candidacy procedure and the place of submission of documentation. The following candidates may be promoted:

- a) the prosecutor who fulfils the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacancy;
- b) the prosecutor in command or the one in the delegation scheme who meets the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacant position;

After the announcement of the promotion procedure, the candidate may run for no more than three vacancies or positions expected to become vacant. If the prosecutor is running for more than one position, he shall rank them by preference.

The High Prosecutorial Council verifies candidates regarding the integrity and assets and only candidates who successfully complete this process and who do not have disciplinary measures in place are admitted to further promotion procedures.

Detailed rules on the promotion of prosecutors are provided in Article 47 and subsequent of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended.

(2022): The specific comment made in this cycle for Q138, is different from the general comment, anyway The GENERAL comment is still valid. Also, in the end of the comment may be added: The promotion procedure at the highest levels of prosecution takes place in three stages, as follows: a) In the first stage is carried out the verification of the candidates for meeting the legal conditions of candidacy; b) In the second stage is taken the decision on the ranking of qualified candidates, and; c) In the third stage, is taken the decision to promote the candidate listed above others.

With Decision no. 222, dated 27.07.2022, High Prosecutorial Council approved the Regulation "For the promotion to the highest levels in Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction". According to this Regulation, the promotion procedure at the highest levels takes place in three stages, as follows: a) In the first stage is carried out the verification of the candidates for meeting the legal conditions of candidacy; b) In the second stage is taken the decision on the ranking of qualified candidates, and; c) In the third stage, is taken the decision to promote the candidate listed above others.

Also, with Decision no. 200, dated 23.09.2020, the Council has approved the Regulation "On the criteria and procedures for the promotion of heads of Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction". High Prosecutorial Council publishes the promotion announcement for prosecutors which includes the application deadline, the information and documentation attached, the candidacy procedure and the place of submission of documentation. The following candidates may be promoted: a) the prosecutor who fulfils the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacancy; b) the prosecutor in command or the one in the delegation scheme who meets the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacant position. After the announcement of the promotion procedure, the candidate may run for no more than three vacancies or positions expected to become vacant. If the prosecutor is running for more than one position, he shall rank them by preference. High Prosecutorial Council verifies candidates regarding the integrity and assets and only candidates who successfully complete this process and who do not have disciplinary measures in place are admitted to further promotion procedures.

With the Decision no. 51, dated 19.03.2019, High Prosecutorial Council approved the "Regulation on the criteria and procedure for the promotion of prosecutors at the Special Prosecutor's Office against Corruption and Organized Crime". According to this Regulation, the promotion in this prosecution follows this procedure:

- a) First, Ad-Hoc Commission perform an initial assessment of all candidates to determine if they meet the legal requirements for promotion to office as a special prosecutor.
- b) Then, the Commission proposes to the Council the disqualification of candidates who do not meet the legal requirements.
- c) The High Prosecutorial Council disqualifies any candidate who does not meet the legal requirements and announces the official list of candidates who continue the evaluation process.
- d) The Commission continues with the evaluation and conducts the interviews with the candidates. The Commission requests from public institutions any type of document important for the evaluation.
- e) The Commission uses documents and letters of motivation to make relevant proposals for the evaluation of candidates, based on:
 - i. previous professional evaluations; and
 - ii. special ethical and professional criteria. The Council also takes into account the candidate's personal and professional commitment as an expert.

(2021): High Prosecutorial Council has approved the Regulation "On the criteria and procedures for the promotion of heads of Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction", with Decision no. 200, dated 23.09.2020.

(2020): High Prosecutorial Council has approved the Regulation “On the criteria and procedures for the promotion of heads of Prosecution Offices of the general jurisdiction”, with Decision no. 200, dated 23.09.2020.

(2019): High Prosecutorial Council publishes the promotion announcement for prosecutors which includes the application deadline, the information and documentation attached, the candidacy procedure and the place of submission of documentation. The following candidates may be promoted:

- a) the prosecutor who fulfils the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacancy;
- b) the prosecutor in command or the one in the delegation scheme who meets the criteria for promotion in accordance with the requirements of the vacant position;

After the announcement of the promotion procedure, the candidate may run for no more than three vacancies or positions expected to become vacant. If the prosecutor is running for more than one position, he shall rank them by preference.

The Council reviews the applications and ranks eligible candidates by reference to the following indicators:

- a) firstly, two previous evaluations, taking account of: i) the experience in seconded positions, as magistrate in a mobility scheme or as member of the Council, whose mandate has ended three years before application shall be an added value;

ii) in case of more candidates with the same grades, the magistrates within the group of candidates with the highest evaluation grades shall be ranked according to a scoring scheme established by the High Judicial Council;

- b) secondly, if under the evaluation made there is more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their specific professional experience required for the vacant position;

- c) thirdly, there are more than one candidate with the highest scores, the Council shall rank these candidates referring to their seniority as magistrate or jurist.

The Council decides to promote the candidates ranking highest with the grades attained by this procedure and rules.

The law on the status of judges and prosecutors provides for the following evaluation levels of a magistrate:

- a) ‘Excellent’: in case of an ethical and professional performance of very high qualities;
- b) ‘Very good’: in case of an above average ethical and professional performance;
- c) ‘Good’: in case of an average ethical and professional performance;
- ç) ‘Acceptable’: in case of a below average ethical and professional performance;
- d) ‘Incapable’: in case of a poor ethical and/or professional performance.

Hence, during promotion, a prosecutor that has two evaluations as excellent will be promoted vis-à-vis someone who has an evaluation as excellent and very good.

(General Comment): Interview with the registered candidate

Article 13.

Before making a decision on the selection, it is more important to talk with the registered candidate.

The purpose of the interview is to determine communication skills, readiness to perform the function of public prosecutor and professional integrity necessary for the position for which he is running.

The evaluation of the conversation is expressed in points from 1 to 20.

Ranking list

The Council compiles a ranking list of candidates for the nomination and election of the deputy public prosecutor after the procedure, based on the sum of points.

If several candidates holding the position of public prosecutor achieve the same number of points, priority is given to the candidate with longer experience after passing the bar exam.

If several candidates who are not holders of the public prosecutor's office and the candidate who performs the public prosecutor's office have the same number of points, the candidate who performs the public prosecutor's office has priority.

If several candidates who are not holders of the office of public prosecutor achieve the same number of points, the candidate with longer experience in legal affairs after passing the bar exam has priority.

The ranking list is published on the Council's website and notice board.

(General Comment): Upon need, the KPC makes a decision to open an internal announcement of prosecutors' promotion which is published on the official websites of the KPC and State Prosecutor. The KPC establishes the Commission for promotion and transfer of prosecutors which reviews all applications and documents submitted in accordance with the internal competition for transfer and promotion of prosecutors as well as the data provided by Prosecutors' performance review unit. After reviewing the data of all candidates, the Commission shall draft a list of all candidates who meet the criteria for transfer and promotion. The Commission shall carry out the assessment and interview all candidates who meet the promotion criteria. The Commission shall draft the final report on the proposed list of candidates for transfer or promotion based on their ranking, which is then sent for approval to KPC within 7 days.

(2022): This process is regulated with an internal Regulation. If necessary, the KPC decides on the announcement of an internal competition for the promotion of prosecutors, which is published on the web portal of the prosecutorial system. KPC establishes the commission for promotion and transfer of prosecutors which has the task to review applications and documents submitted based on the internal competition for transfer and promotion of prosecutors and based on the data provided by the Prosecution Performance Review Unit. After reviewing the data of all candidates, the Commission compiles the list with the names of all candidates who meet the criteria. The commission continues with the evaluation by interviewing all the candidates who have met the criteria. Then, the Commission drafts the final report with the list of candidates proposed to the Council for transfer or promotion based on their ranking according to the points earned. Prosecutors have the right to appeal against the final report of the commission within 7 days.

Albania

Q142 (2022): The amount provided by the State Budget to the School of Magistrates is 2 470 872 EURO

The total amount of funds given to the SoM by donors in 2022 is: 1 997 EURO.

Q142 (2019): Please note that under the justice reform laws, namely the law on the governance organs of the justice system, adopted at the end of 2016, the school of magistrates is in charge of initial training of not only judges and prosecutors (as it previously was) but also of state advocates, legal advisers and chancellors. Hence, the increase in budget since 2016 and as compared with 2018 data.

Q143 (2022): A training topic may be developed regularly or occasionally in different academic years. This is a different variable since the calendar of continuing education training activities itself is variable from one academic year to another. The components that influence the variability of this data are mainly the needs of the justice system for the development of training activities in a specific direction or field, as well as the selection of this topic by the main beneficiaries of continuing education, which are the in-service magistrates.

In other words, after we conduct the needs assessment process and collect the concrete needs of in-service magistrates, we organize the training activities. This is why we have checked the boxes “as needed” intending to say, “according to the needs of the system”. This means that we organize them regularly but according to the needs of the in-service magistrates.

Q143 (2019): In the end of 2016, as part of the justice reform law, law No 96/2016 "ON THE STATUS OF JUDGES AND PROSECUTORS IN THE REPUBLIC OF ALBANIA" was adopted. The law makes it mandatory for a magistrate must to attend the continuous training and take all other reasonable steps to keep him/herself updated about relevant legislative and case law developments.

The continuous training period is: a) Not less than five full days per year and not less than 30 full days during five years; b) Not more than 40 full days per year and 200 full days during five years.

Q144 (2019): In the end of 2016, as part of the justice reform law, law No 96/2016 "ON THE STATUS OF JUDGES AND PROSECUTORS IN THE REPUBLIC OF ALBANIA" was adopted. The law makes it mandatory for a magistrate must to attend the continuous training and take all other reasonable steps to keep him/herself updated about relevant legislative and case law developments.

The continuous training period is: a) Not less than five full days per year and not less than 30 full days during five years; b) Not more than 40 full days per year and 200 full days during five years.

Q145 (2022): A training topic may be developed regularly or occasionally in different academic years. This is a different variable since the calendar of continuing education training activities itself is variable from one academic year to another. The components that influence the variability of this data are mainly the needs of the justice system for the development of training activities in a specific direction or field, as well as the selection of this topic by the main beneficiaries of continuing education, which are the in-service magistrates.

This means that we organize them regularly but according to the needs of the in-service magistrates.

Q145 (2019): The continuous training period is: a) Not less than five full days per year and not less than 30 full days during five years; b) Not more than 40 full days per year and 200 full days during five years. Hence, a judge has to undergo continuous training at least 5 days per year. The training should be relevant to his function.

Q146 (2022): A training topic may be developed regularly or occasionally in different academic years. This is a different variable since the calendar of continuing education training activities itself is variable from one academic year to another. The components that influence the variability of this data are mainly the needs of the justice system for the development of training activities in a specific direction or field, as well as the selection of this topic by the main beneficiaries of continuing education, which are the in-service magistrates.

This means that we organize them regularly but according to the needs of the in-service magistrates.

Q147-1 (2021): Please note that more attention is being given to initial training, as the number of new students has substantially increased

Q147-1 (2020): Non-judge and non-prosecutor staff: 630 participants in in-person training courses and 337 participants in online training courses

Q147 (2022): The total does not match as SoM does not organize trainings only for judges or only for prosecutors. In the table of training activities, trainings are defined which are addressed to a specific target group such as judges, prosecutors, judicial police officers, state lawyers, administrative staff of courts or prosecutions, chancellors, etc. but most of the training activities are open to all subjects whose law recognizes the right to be trained by the School of Magistrates. So, apart from the fact that there are trainings with a certain target group, the same trainings where judges have participated, prosecutors have also participated, especially when it comes to dealing with procedural law, where the confrontation of the prosecutor's perspective with the court is quite important. In this case, in 76 trainings for judges, there were trainings dedicated only to judges, but also trainings where there were judges, prosecutors and other subjects of the justice system.

Q147 (2021): Please note that more attention is being given to initial training, as the number of new students has substantially increased

Q147 (2020): The decrease in the number of in-person training course in days is due to Covid-19 related restrictions

Q150 (General Comment): HPC: According to Article 182, of the Law "On the governance institutions of the justice system", as amended, the Adviser of the Ethics at High Prosecutorial Council, is responsible, in cooperation with the School of Magistrates, for the initial and in-service training on ethics.

The obligation of magistrates is not for attending a specific topic, it is only for a specific number (5 training days a year). They have the freedom to choose the topics they want to be trained in, where their needs are directed in such a way that they exercise their function as effectively as possible.

Q150 (2022): No, judges/public prosecutors do not have to undergo compulsory in-service training solely dedicated to prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest. The obligation of magistrates is not for attending a specific topic, it is only for a specific number (5 training days a year). They have the freedom to choose the topics they want to be trained in, where their needs are directed in such a way that they exercise their function as effectively as possible.

Q151 (2022): The obligation of magistrates is not for attending a specific topic, it is only for a specific number (5 training days a year). They have the freedom to choose the topics they want to be trained in, where their needs are directed in such a way that they exercise their function as effectively as possible.

Q152 (2022): The obligation of magistrates is not for attending a specific topic, it is only for a specific number (5 training days a year). They have the freedom to choose the topics they want to be trained in, where their needs are directed in such a way that they exercise their function as effectively as possible.

Q152 (2019): 2. A magistrate must attend the continuous training in accordance with the legislation in force. The continuous training period is not less than five full days per year and not less than 30 full days during five years.

Q154 (2020): To answer to the question on the decrease of number of judges and prosecutors:

The needs-based methodology of drafting the training calendar makes it mandatory for the School of Magistrates to plan and hold the training activities as requested by judges and prosecutors in service. Because last year a considerable part of judges and prosecutors in service participated in specific trainings on EU Law and because there have been a lot of changes in the domestic legislation, including basic laws (e.g. criminal code, criminal procedure code), the interest of in-service judges and prosecutors has been higher for trainings on changes of legislation rather than in EU training activities.

Q154 (2019): Training is organised by the School of Magistrates

Q155 (2020): The reason is with the coming of the pandemic, the training activities we had planned with our international partners, due to suspension of international travel, were cancelled. This is why there were no activities financed by our international partners on the topic and therefore no participating judges or prosecutors.

Q155 (2019): Partner organisations of the School of Magistrates that have conducted these training are Euralius (2 days), Council of Europe (6 days), IRZ (4 days), European Center (4 days) = 16 days overall.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

Q142 (General Comment): There are two training institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina which are responsible for judicial training in two different entities in the country. Each of these institutions is responsible for both judges and prosecutors.

Q142 (2022): There are two training institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina which are responsible for judicial training in two different entities in the country. Each of these institutions is responsible for both judges and prosecutors. Their respective adopted budgets for 2022 were: The Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of Republika Srpska - 281 970 EUR. Budget funds for the Center for Education of Judges and Prosecutors in the Republic of Srpska have increased as material costs rose in 2022 due to the growth of inflation. The Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina - 333 132 EUR. Many of training courses delivered in the training institutions are prepared by domestic experts who are financed by external donors. The external donor funds used for this purpose are not included in the budget of the training institutions. In addition, the training institutions spent grants worth EUR 38.985,57 provided within the specific projects by the external donors in 2022, (i.e. the external donors which provided the grants were: UNICEF, the Council of Europe - SOUTH-EAST EUROPE Freedom of expression, The AIRE Centre - Advice on Individual Rights in Europe).

Q143 (General Comment): The relevant legislation on juvenile criminal justice requires that in-service training for specialized functions is obligatory for prosecutors and judges assigned to work on criminal cases involving juveniles; they must take certain training courses in order to be able to work on such cases. This program lasts 4 days and covers 4 topics.

In addition, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina decided that as of 2022 an in-service online training on ethics, prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is compulsory for all judges and prosecutors. Furthermore, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has introduced in 2022 a mandatory managerial training for newly appointed court presidents and chief prosecutors: it includes the following topics: 1) Developing leadership and management skills 2) Proactive role of court presidents 3) Electronic tools for managers, and 4) Modern public relations. Moreover, all chief prosecutors and court presidents are required to attend the training on the role of chief prosecutors and court presidents in preserving the judicial integrity.

Q143 (2019): In-service training for specialized functions is obligatory only for the judicial office holders assigned to work on criminal cases involving juveniles; they must take certain training courses in order to be able to work on such cases.

Q145 (General Comment): Judges and prosecutors are offered general in-service training, as well as specialized training, every year.

Q145 (2019): Number of days per year for in-service training for all judicial office holders is from minimum 3 to maximum 10 days. The judicial office holders may choose between training topics, which are related to the issues they most frequently work on.

The newly appointed judicial office holders must complete specially designed training courses at the judicial training centre within 6 months of their appointment. In order to qualify for appointment to judicial or prosecutorial office, one must have passed a bar examination and have a certain number of years of practical experience after having passed the bar examination.

Q146 (General Comment): Judges and prosecutors are offered general in-service training, as well as specialized training, every year.

Q147 (2021): Number of in-service training courses in 2021 were provided by the institutions for the training of judges and prosecutors – please refer to the comment provided for Q142. Training courses are held in different formats: in-person, online and combined. Individual training courses last one or more days. It should be taken into account that both judges and prosecutors took part in certain training courses (e.g. there were joint training courses aimed at enhancing the competences of criminal judges and prosecutors dealing with corruption cases, organized crime cases etc.). Non-judge staff and Non-prosecutor staff: The institutions for the training of judges and prosecutors could not provide precise data for the training courses that were at disposal to this category of participants. Other professionals: The data in the table refers to the training courses that were available for the legal advisers working in prosecutors' offices and courts.

Q147 (2020): Number of delivered in-person training courses plummeted in 2020 as a result of the measures taken against the spread of coronavirus. Number of on-line training courses increased considerably in 2020 as a result of the measures taken against the spread of coronavirus.

Q147 (2019): The number of on-line training courses was much lower in 2019 compared to 2018, because the judicial training centers did not deliver the planned on-line courses due to the lack of resources and other unforeseen circumstances.

Q150 (General Comment): The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina decided in 2022 that in-service online training on ethics, the prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is compulsory for all judges and prosecutors. The acquired knowledge of judges and prosecutors is tested at the end of the training course.

Q150 (2019): In-service training on ethics, the prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is offered yearly by training institutions, however it is not obligatory. It cannot be confirmed that all the judges and prosecutors who have been reappointed during the major reform in 2003 have undergone the training on ethics. Attending training on ethics, the prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is obligatory only for the newly appointed judicial office holders.

Q151 (General Comment): The estimated duration of online training is up to 5 hours.

Q153 (General Comment): The majority of prosecution offices have specialized departments with prosecutors who are experienced in investigating and prosecuting sexual violence cases. Specialized trainings for prosecution of domestic violence cases are held regularly for prosecutors who are responsible for domestic violence cases

Q153 (2019): The majority of prosecution offices have specialized departments with prosecutors who are experienced in investigating and prosecuting sexual violence cases. Specialized trainings for prosecution of domestic violence cases are held regularly for prosecutors who are responsible for domestic violence cases.

Q154 (2021): The statistics provided for this question include the number of the training courses organized or financed by other stakeholders in the framework of co-operation programmes which are reported under the question Q 155.

The abovementioned number of training courses days in 2021, pertaining to the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights, was determined in the annual working plans of the training institutions. The training courses on the different topics with regards to the European Convention on Human Rights have been an integral part of the training institutions' curricula for many years now. Also, the training courses on the European Union Law have been included regularly in the annual working plans of the training institutions for the several years preceding to 2021.

Q154 (2020): The statistics provided for this question include the number of the training courses organised or financed by other stakeholders in the framework of co-operation programmes which are reported under the question Q 155.

The abovementioned number of training courses days in 2020, pertaining to the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights, was determined in the annual working plans of the training institutions. The training courses on the different topics with regards to the European Convention on Human Rights have been an integral part of the training institutions' curricula for many years now. Also, the training courses on the European Union Law have been included regularly in the annual working plans of the training institutions for the several years preceding to 2020. The training institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina delivered several new training courses on the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights that they had developed in cooperation with the relevant foreign organizations' experts. The involvement of judges and prosecutors in the new training courses increased the participation at the classes on European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights.

Q154 (2019): There are two training institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina which are responsible for judicial training in two different entities in the country. Each of these institutions is responsible for both judges and prosecutors. The names of the training institutions are as follows: The Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of Republika Srpska and the Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The abovementioned number of training courses days in 2019, pertaining to the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights, were determined in the annual working plans of the training institutions. The training courses on the different topics with regards to the European Convention on Human Rights have been an integral part of the training institutions' curricula for many years now. Also, the training courses on the European Union Law have been included regularly in the annual working plans of the training institutions for the several years preceding to 2019.

Q155 (2021): Below is the list of the stakeholders, with the list of the training courses on the European Law and the European Convention on Human Rights, they financed and co-organized in the reporting year with the training institutions from Bosnia and Herzegovina. The courses were delivered within the implementation of the annual working plans of the training institutions. The stakeholder, which co organized EU law training courses with the training institutions from Bosnia and Herzegovina, was the German Foundation for International Legal Cooperation; the trainings covered the subject: „The relation between EU Law and national law“. The partner organizations, which co organized training courses on EU Charter of Fundamental Rights/European Convention on Human Rights with the training institutions from Bosnia and Herzegovina, were as follows: 1. Q142 (2022): Out of the total amount of the implemented budget of the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution (CTJSP) stated in the table above, the funds in amount of 21,296.00€ come from the donation - THE GRANT AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE AND THE CENTRE FOR TRAINING IN JUDICIARY AND STATE PROSECUTION OF MONTENEGRO.

Note: The amount of 240.540,51 € represents financial support from international and domestic partners for training activities organized in cooperation with the CTJSP). The total amount includes also donor support as recommended to be included by Cepej.

Q142 (2020): NOTE. Funds for the work of the Centre shall be allocated in the special portion of the Budget of Montenegro in the amount of 2% of the allocated budget for judiciary and state prosecution service. Article 53 of the Law on the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution (“Official Gazette of Montenegro” no. 58/2015)). The budget allocated to the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution still remains below the statutory minimum of 2% of the budget allocated to the judiciary and prosecution. In addition to the amount allocated from the public budget for training activities, the Centre obtained financial support from international partners for implementation of training activities. However, the Centre does not have exact information, since a number of international partners did not submit the report on funds allocated for training activities which were implemented in cooperation with the Centre. Anyway, upon the collected data, it is visible that financial support of the international partners in 2020 amounted to around – 169,784.62 €

Q142 (2019): In addition to the amount allocated from the public budget for training activities, the Centre obtained significant financial support from international partners for implementation of training activities. However, the Centre does not have exact information, since a number of international partners did not submit the report on funds allocated for training activities which were implemented in cooperation with the Centre. Anyway, upon the collected data, it is visible that financial support of the international partners in 2019 amounted to around 383,825.00EUR .

Q143 (General Comment): Judges and state prosecutors shall have the right and duty to attend the in-service training for at least two working days annually for which they are to apply based on their own interest. (Article 45 paragraph 2 of the Law on the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution (“Official Gazette of Montenegro” no. 58/2015)). The training is not compulsory for judges of specialized courts (except for the mentioned two days per year), however, the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution in the framework of the In-service Training Program organizes regular training for judges of specialized courts at the annual level (judges of Commercial Court and Administrative Court). The only compulsory specialized training is the training for judges for the juveniles (who are the only ones competent to act in criminal proceedings with juveniles) according to the Law on the Treatment of Juveniles in Criminal Proceedings). All judges in charge of juveniles went through the specialized training. The trainings for management functions in courts are organized in accordance with current needs and, thus, these are not compulsory. When it comes to training activities for the use of computer facilities in office, these training activities are organized and conducted by the other authorities such as the Judicial Council and Human Resource Management Authority.

Q147-1 (2022): In addition, as per the column one 121 other participants (representatives of state institutions, law enforcement officers, lawyers, etc) undergone trough training.

Comment: The participants in the training activities also included other legal professionals, i.e. the representatives of the Ministry of Justice (and Human and Minority Rights), notary public offices, the Ministry of Finance and Social Welfare, LGBTQ organizations and Institution of the Protector of Human Rights and Freedoms of Montenegro (Ombudsman).

Note: (comment ref. column 3 - Total): The total of 108 participants in training activities includes: 31 judges, 6 prosecutors, 42 non-judge staff (3 candidates for judges + 27 advisors from courts + 12 trainees from courts), 7 non-prosecutor staff (4 candidates for state prosecutors + 3 advisors from state prosecution offices), 22 legal professionals from other public institutions (5 lawyers, 11 the Ministry of Justice (and Human and Minority Rights) + 1 notary public offices + 1 the Ministry of Finance and Social Welfare + 3 LGBTQ organizations + 1 Institution of the Protector of Human Rights and Freedoms of Montenegro (Ombudsman).

Note: (comment ref. column 3 - Non-judge staff): 3 candidates for judges + 27 advisors from courts + 12 trainees from courts.

Note: (comment ref. column 3 - Non-prosecutor staff): 4 candidates for state prosecutors + 3 advisors from state prosecution offices.

In non-prosecutor and non-judge staff we did not count trainees/interns in courts and state prosecution offices. The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution implements theoretical part of professional training of trainees/interns in courts and state prosecution offices, in accordance with the Law on Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices and Bar Examination (“Official Gazette of Montenegro”, no. 55/2016 and 57/2016) and upon the Training Programme for Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices which was adopted in January 2018. In 2022, the CTJSP organized training for 108 interns, of which 88 are interns in courts and 20 in state prosecutor's offices. The trainees were divided into five groups, and a total of 23 trainings were conducted (2 live and 21 online), i.e. 55 days of training.

Q147-1 (2021): This change was caused by COVID-19 pandemic. Owing to the aforementioned change, the Centre now has more modalities of training, i.e. in-person, hybrid and online training activities, which in a sense can be considered as a systematic change, or more precisely – the broadening of modalities.

Q147-1 (2020): Note: Additional to above numbers in non-prosecutor and non-judge staff we did not count trainees/ interns in courts and state prosecution. The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution implements theoretical part of professional training of trainees/ interns in courts and state prosecution offices, in accordance with the Law on Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices and Bar Examination (“Official Gazette of Montenegro”, no.55/2016 and 57/2016) and upon the Training Programme for Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices which was adopted in January 2018. In 2020, the Centre organised 24 training (of this number 15 online trainings - all together 57 days of training) activities for 141 trainees/interns, 107 in courts and 34 in state prosecution offices.

Q147 (2021): - Yes, other legal professions are invited for certain trainings, the table above shows the number of trainings and days in which they were invited and participated together with judges and prosecutors.

- The Centre always organizes joint training activities for both judges and state prosecutors, with the exception of training activities in civil matters which are intended only for judges dealing with civil matters (as well as lawyers, bailiffs, notaries, ...). There were 18 training activities (5 face to face and 13 online) of this kind in 2021 and they lasted for 27 days.

- In 2021 the Centre organized 6 training activities (5 face to face and 1 online) only for prosecutors and they lasted for 12 days.

- Out of the 33 total trainings that were conducted in-person, 3 trainings were conducted in a hybrid training format.

Total - online training courses available (e learning) – 58 training days For judges - online training courses available (e learning) – 57 training days For prosecutors - online training courses available (e learning) – 38 training days For non-judge staff - online training courses available (e learning) – 28 training days For non-prosecutor staff - online training courses available (e learning) – 28 training days Training for other professionals - online training courses available (e learning) – 21 training days - Advisers from courts and state prosecution offices are allowed to participate in trainings intended for judges and state prosecutors in case that judges and state prosecutors are prevented from attending the trainings. Their participation hereof is listed in the table above. In the table above we did not include training activities organized within the Special training programme for advisers from courts and state prosecution offices (adopted on 23 December 2019). In 2021 the Centre organized 11 two-day training activities – 4 of which were conducted online (8 training days for 46 judicial advisers and 31 prosecutorial advisers), whereas 7 training activities were conducted face to face (14 training days for 85 judicial advisers and 27 prosecutorial advisers), which were attended by the total of 189 advisers from courts and state prosecution offices. In addition to the abovementioned programme, 30 advisers (23 judicial advisers and 7 prosecutorial advisers) attended another 2 training activities (4 training days) organized face to face in cooperation with the NGO “The Centre for Democracy and Human Rights” (CEDEM).

- In the table above related to online trainings, we did not include 2 HELP online courses (e-learning) due to the days of training (multi-month courses):

- The first HELP online course – e-learning (19 February – 10 May 2021) – The total of 49 participants successfully completed this course – 11 judges, 2 state prosecutors, 17 advisers from courts, 2 advisers from the Special State Prosecution Office, 7 trainees from courts, 1 trainee from a state prosecution office, 3 candidates for judges, 2 candidates for state prosecutors, 2 lawyers, 2 special pedagogues of the Professional Service of the High Courts.

The Basic State Prosecutor's Office in Podgorica and the Basic State Prosecutor's Office in Plav have prosecutors who are specially trained in the field of domestic violence and sexual violence.

The High State Prosecutor's Office in Bijelo Polje, the High State Prosecutor's Office in Podgorica and the Basic State Prosecutor's Office in Bar have specialized prosecutors for dealing with juvenile victims, in the criminal offences of domestic violence and sexual violence.

Q153 (2022): There are prosecutors specialized in the area of domestic violence and sexual violence. They undergone trough trainings for these topics, possess certificates and, among other, they work on cases regarding criminal offences related to these types of violence.

Q153 (2020): Note: The Centre continuously, every years, organizes trainings for judges and state prosecutors on these specific topics. The mentioned trainings are conducted at least twice a year.

Q154 (2021): In reference to question 154, we included all trainings that the Center organized by itself and in cooperation with other partners.

Q154 (2020): Between 2019 and 2020 there has been a decrease of the number of trainings in EU Law due to the Covid-19 pandemic and to the end of the EUROL II project (from 2018 until May 2020 - through this project there were a large number of trainings pertaining to EU law and European standards).

Q154 (2019): NOTE: Total number of participants is actually much larger since advisors in courts and state prosecution offices, trainees, lawyers, police officers and representatives of other state bodies and institutions also participate in the training activities organised by the Centre.

Regarding trainings on EU Charter of Fundamental Rights/European Convention on Human Rights, there were many more training activities on the ECHR – two training activities were on the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights, whereas the rest of training activities were on the ECHR.

Q155 (2022): Note (comment ref. column 2 – EU law) The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution of Montenegro and Judicial Academy of Serbia in cooperation with European Institute of Public Administration (EIPA) implemented 1 two-day training activity, i.e. regional conference on the EU Environmental Law. In total, 18 representatives of Montenegrin and Serbian judiciary participated in this activity (8 judges, 6 state prosecutors, 2 advisors from state prosecution offices and 2 representatives of Judicial Academy of Serbia).

Q155 (2021): In 2021, the Center organized trainings in cooperation with the international partners and projects as follows: - European Institute of Public Administration (EIPA) - EIPA's European Centre for Judges and Lawyers in Luxembourg (ECJL)- EIPA Institute from Luxembourg with the support of the Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs, through the Technical Support Program to strengthen the capacity of judicial bodies and the quality of justice in Montenegro; - HELP Program for the Western Balkans and Turkey, Council of Europe (The European Programme for Human Rights Education for Legal Professionals); - AIRE Center from London (Advice on Individual Rights in Europe) through the project "Strengthening the rule of law and supporting authorities in Montenegro"; - EU and Council of Europe project "Freedom of expression and freedom of the media in Southeast Europe – JUFREX 2- Montenegro".

Also, in the table above we did not include that in 2021 the Centre in cooperation with - HELP Program for the Western Balkans and Turkey, Council of Europe (The European Programme for Human Rights Education for Legal Professionals) organized 2 HELP e-learning courses and participated in one regional HELP online course:

- The first HELP online course – e-learning (19 February – 10 May 2021) - The total of 49 participants successfully completed this course – 11 judges, 2 state prosecutors, 17 advisers from courts, 2 advisers from the Special State Prosecution Office, 7 trainees from courts, 1 trainee from a state prosecution office, 3 candidates for judges, 2 candidates for state prosecutors, 2 lawyers, 2 special pedagogues of the Professional Service of the High Courts.

- The second HELP online course – e-learning (22 September – 10 December 2021) - The total of 53 participants successfully completed this course – 16 judges, 6 advisers from courts, 4 trainees from courts, 3 trainees from state prosecution offices, 3 candidates for judges, 5 lawyers, 12 representatives of the Ministry of Justice and Human and Minority Rights of Montenegro and 4 representatives of the Office of the Protector of Human Rights and Freedoms of Montenegro.

- The regional HELP online course (9 June – 16 July 2021) organized by Council of Europe HELP Program, Regional Cooperation Council (RCC) and GIZ Open Regional Funds for South East Europe - Legal Reform. This training was implemented in English over a 2-months period and was designed for judges and prosecutors from South East Europe (2 state prosecutors successfully finished the online course).

Q155 (2020): In 2020, the Center organized trainings in cooperation with the international partners and projects as follows:

- European Institute of Public Administration (EIPA) - EIPA's European Centre for Judges and Lawyers in Luxembourg (ECJL)- EIPA Institute from Luxembourg with the support of the Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs, through the Technical Support Program to strengthen the capacity of judicial bodies and the quality of justice in Montenegro;

- HELP Program for the Western Balkans and Turkey, Council of Europe (The European Programme for Human Rights Education for Legal Professionals);

- AIRE Center from London (Advice on Individual Rights in Europe) through the project "Strengthening the rule of law and supporting authorities in Montenegro";

- EU and Council of Europe project "Freedom of expression and freedom of the media in Southeast Europe – JUFREX 2- Montenegro".

Q155 (2019): NOTE: All training activities on the EU law were implemented in cooperation and with financial support of the Institute of Public Administration of Luxembourg (EIPA) and EURoL II project. The Centre co-funded implementation of all training activities on the EU law and these activities were a part of the Annual Training Programme of the Centre (that is why these activities have been presented within the answer to the question no. 154). NOTE:When it comes to the second part of the answer, which is related to the training on the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights/European Convention on Human Rights (Number of training courses in days): besides 6 days of training, there were 2 online courses. The exact number of days for 2 HELP online courses had not been provided since these courses lasted for several months and therefore it was not possible to calculate the exact number of days. However, the number of training activities as well as the number of judges and state prosecutors who participated in these courses had been provided.

Q142 (2022): Implemented budget from donors: 52 640 €.

Q142 (2021): The approved budget increased because in 2021 started new (eighth) generation of candidates on the Academy of judges and public prosecutors.

Q142 (2020): The approved budget of the Academy of judges and public prosecutors decreased because in 2019, were planed more money for seventh generation of candidates on the Academy, but at the end it was concluded that less money are enough for the number of candidates that enter in the seventh generation. Because of that on the end of 2019, implementation of the budget was 757.941 euros. Approximately, according to this amount was made and the new budget in 2020, having in mind that in 2020 there wasn't a new generation on the Academy.

Q142 (2019): Budget is lower in comparison with the budget from 2018 because in that budget were planed money for new generation on the Academy for judges and public prosecutors from the court and prosecutorial associates, but this generation was not realized.

Q143 (General Comment): There are different programs for initial and continuous training of judges and public prosecutors adopted by the Board of the Academy on the proposal of the Program Council.

Q143 (2021): There are special programs for initial and continuous training of judges and public prosecutors adopted by the Board of the Academy on the proposal of the Program Council.

Q146 (General Comment): Every two years the Board of the Academy on the proposal of the Program Council of the Academy adopts The Program for continuous training of judges and public prosecutors. Also, there is separate special program for new elected judges and public prosecutors.

All events are organized according to the program for continuous training conducted by the Academy for judges and prosecutors.

Q146 (2021): There is a two years Program for continuous training of judges and public prosecutors adopted by the Board of the Academy on the proposal of the Program Council of the Academy for judges and public prosecutors. There is a special program for new elected judges and public prosecutors.

Q146 (2019): There is a two years Program for continuous training of judges and public prosecutors adopted by the Board of the Academy on the proposal of the Program Council of the Academy for judges and public prosecutors. There is a special program for new elected judges and public prosecutors.

Q147-1 (2022): 2348 participants is total number for non-judges and non-prosecutors for in live trainings, and 91 is total number for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff for e-learning training. The Academy`s system can`t provide separate number for this category.

Q147-1 (2021): The Academy usually organizes common trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. Some of those participants cannot be differentiated (between non-judge and non-prosecutor staff) and those categories are therefore answered as NA. 1229 is total number for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff that participated on the trainings. Total number of participants in online training courses (e-learning) is 3 and because of the same reason it is answered as NA.

In 2021 increased the number of organized trainings which also means increased number of participants.

Q147-1 (2020): The Academy usually organizes common trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. Some of those participants cannot be differentiated (between non-judge and non-prosecutor staff) and those categories are therefore answered as "NA". 370 non-differentiated non-judge and non-prosecutor staffs participated on trainings (208 with physical presence and 162 participated online). In 2020, only 2 separate trainings were realized for the non-judge and non-prosecutor staff with physical presence, whereby a total of 56 non-judge and non-prosecutor staff participated, out of which 27 for non-judge and 29 for non-prosecutor staff, which are included in the total number of 370.

Q147 (2021): In 2021, because of COVID 19 situation most of the trainings which were planned to be delivered in person, were delivered on-line. From a total of 235 delivered trainings, 69 were trainings for judges, 31 trainings for prosecutors, 94 trainings were common for judges and prosecutors, 17 for non-judge staff and 0 for non-prosecutor staff, 11 trainings were organized as common for non-judges and non-prosecutors and 16 for other categories).

Because we don't have separate row for common trainings, in the total number of 160 for judges are included 66 trainings organized only for judges + 94 common trainings for judges and public prosecutors. In total number of 125 trainings for public prosecutors are included 31 trainings organized only for public prosecutors plus 94 common trainings. In total number of 28 trainings for non-judges staff are included 17 trainings organized for non-judges staff plus 11 common trainings for non-judges staff and non-prosecutors staff.

In total number of 11 trainings for non-prosecutor staff are included 11 from common trainings, separate trainings only for non-prosecutors were not organized.

Trainings for judges reflected in days are total 188 days (69 +17 from common trainings) Trainings for prosecutors in days are total 187 (68 +119 from common trainings), for non-judge staff are 27 days (17+10 from common trainings) and for non-prosecutor staff are total 10 days.

According to the system on the Academy for judges and public prosecutors, the trainings are common for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff and the days of training are therefore reflected under both categories.

In the column on -line training courses available in 2021, by the Academy were organized a total of 10 common on line trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge staff and non prosecutor staff. From this 10 trainings, on 2 trainings participated judges, on 1 training participated public prosecutors, 7 trainings were organized as common for judges and prosecutors.

In 2021 the number of organized trainings increased in compared to 2020 when the number decreased because of the COVID 19 situation.

Q147 (2020): In 2020, because of COVID 19 situation most of the trainings which were planned to be delivered in person, were delivered on line. From a total of 121 delivered trainings, 79 were delivered online (74 trainings for judges, 49 trainings for prosecutors, 0 for non-judge staff and non prosecutor staff and 6 for other categories). Because we don't have separate row for common trainings, in the total number of 211 available trainings in 2020, are included 79 which were planned to be common trainings for judges and public prosecutors. According to the system on the Academy for judges and public prosecutors, the trainings are common for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff and the days of training are therefore reflected under both categories. In the column on line training courses available in 2020, by the Academy were organized a total of 9 common on line trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge staff and non prosecutor staff. From this 9 trainings, on 8 trainings participate judges, on 7 trainings participate public prosecutors, on all 9 trainings participate non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. For the numbers of participants please see the answer on Q147-1. The total number of trainings in 2020 in coparison with 2019 decreased because of the COVID 19 situation.

Q147 (2019): In other common training are included common trainings on which participate all judiciary professionals together: judges, public prosecutors, non-judge staff, non-prosecutor staff and other legal professionals (attorneys, bailiffs etc.). There was an increase in common trainings in 2019, due to the new multidisciplinary approach of the new management of the Academy.

Regarding online trainings, in 2019, three trainings were organized by the Academy in cooperation with KPMG in frame of the project for training on judges for implementation on the Law on tax in Albania, North Macedonia and Kosovo. Also, Academy on their website has online trainings for all steps of the criminal procedure. E-learning system has been developed in the frame of the project IPA 2008 „Further strengthening of the institutional capacities of the Academy for the training of judges and prosecutors“. On this system several different courses are developed (Initial training for the e-learning system, Interactive course for Outline EU Law e-Course pilot training; Interactive course for application on article 8 from the ECHR; Interactive course for application on article 10 from the ECHR; Interactive Course - Bribery through the Concept of an Official - Corruption; Interactive course - Confiscation of illegal property; Interactive Course - Juvenile Justice). Academy is currently working on improving and upgrading the existing E-learning platform, which in the future will allow following of more courses, with much more interactive contents, and users will have the opportunity to check their knowledge through tests that will bring them a certificate for the passed training. Also, currently this type of trainings are on voluntary basis and they are not mandatory for judges or public prosecutors. According to the new Law which is under preparation, when judge or public prosecutor will perform this type of training that will be calculate in the total numbers of trainings for that judge or public prosecutor, which is not a case in the moment.

Q150 (General Comment): Trainings on topics related to ethics, corruption prevention and conflict of interest are not obligatory.

Namely, within the days for obligatory trainings which have to be realized by judges and public prosecutors, they on voluntary base apply for trainings from the List on trainings in the Annual Catalog for obligatory trainings depending on their interest on the topic and the matter on what they are working as well as their working schedule (days when they do not have trial).

4071987 e - from the budget of Republic of Serbia

128826 e - funded by donors

Q143 (General Comment): A Constitutional Court decision was passed regarding the Act on Judicial Academy provision related to election of the Academy candidates. Therefore, initial training is no longer compulsory prerequisite for election.

The candidates who successfully pass the admission exam to the JA become the users of the initial training. Beneficiaries of initial training, in accordance to the article 40 of the Law on Judicial Academy are employed for a fixed time of 30 months, in the Academy. The beneficiaries of initial training are paid 70% of elementary earnings of a basic court judge, during the fixed time employment in the Academy. Attendance to initial training is being considered as working experience in legal profession. The initial training is composed of practical and theoretical education, with knowledge and skill testing. Since 2012, when the first generation finished the Judicial Academy and until February 2019 (ending with VII generation that took exit test), 99 candidates were proposed for the first time election to a judicial or prosecutorial function.

Judges and prosecutors appointed for the first time who have not attended initial training (i.e. from the rank of judicial assistants, lawyers, and other jurists) must attend a mandatory special continuous training programme. According to the Law on Judges, Article 9, there is a possibility that the HJC assigns a judge to mandatory training as a result of the evaluation procedure; until present date, it never happened that someone came to training on this basis (the first regular 3-year evaluation took place only in 2018).

Q143 (2020): We've increased the number of practices this year.

Q143 (2019): Based on decisions of the High Court Council (HCC), certain types of training which is regularly organised as optional by the JA becomes compulsory. For example, since the 2016-2018 evaluation cycle, the HCC has enacted decisions whereby presidents of courts and acting presidents must undergo training for management functions. Moreover, while ethics training is organised as optional training, based on a decision of the HCC an, project plan funded by IPA, supporting the HCC, training on ethics has become compulsory, organised through this project. Moreover, certain laws enacted in the recent period have provided that judges and pp's acting in certain fields (ex. Anti-corruption) must undergo certain additional types of compulsory training.

In Serbia there exist two parallel ways of access to the career of a judge or a prosecutor: as a judicial or prosecutorial assistant (or any other candidate who fulfils the condition prescribed by Law) or as a Judicial Academy (JA) graduate. Therefore, having in mind the two tracks to become a judge/pp, the type of training may be initial training or general in service training (optional between the two tracks). We have chosen "optional" for both types of training as it reflects better the two track system. However, choosing and undergoing one of the two tracks is still compulsory.

In the period 2014-2016, 196 judges and deputy-prosecutors were appointed (elected) at first instance level, out of which only 21 (10.7 %) have graduated the Judicial Academy. The remaining 175 (89.3 %) were selected among the judicial and prosecutorial assistants. Those 175 appointments represent 9.7 % of the total number of judicial and prosecutorial assistants. On the other hand, 76% of the JA graduates from the from the observed period have not been appointed (elected) yet (Assessment Report on Judicial Training, drafted as part of the TAIEX Peer Review Mission conducted in the period 7-9 June 2017).

The capacities of the JA have been improving yearly, based on a dedicated capacity building plan. Therefore, certain training which has previously occurred only sporadically, on the basis of donor support, has now become regular part of the training program (ex. IT training), organised occasionally.

Q144 (General Comment): In article 43 of the Law on Judicial Academy Continuous training is mandatory when required by the law or by the decision of the High Judicial Council and the State Prosecutorial Council in the event of a change in specialization, significant changes in regulations, the introduction of new methods of work and the elimination of shortcomings in the work of judges and deputy public prosecutor noted in evaluating their work. Currently, following laws require the mandatory trainings for judges dealing with specific kind of cases: Law on Determining the Origin of Property and the Special Tax, Law on Juvenile Offenders and Criminal Protection of Juveniles, Law on establishing facts about the status of new-born children suspected to have disappeared from maternity wards in the Republic of Serbia, Law on Prevention of Domestic Violence and Law on Organization and Jurisdiction of the State Bodies in Combating Organized Crime, Terrorism and Corruption.

In general, the continuous training of judges is performed based on the Continuous Training Program adopted by Managing Board of the Academy every year for the next year.

Q144 (2021): Double-checked by competent institution.

Q144 (2020): In article 43 of the Law on Judicial Academy Continuous training is mandatory when required by the law or by the decision of the High Judicial Council and the State Prosecutorial Council in the event of a change in specialization, significant changes in regulations, the introduction of new methods of work and the elimination of shortcomings in the work of judges and deputy public prosecutor noted in evaluating their work.

The continuous training of judges is performed based on the Continuous Training Programme adopted by Managing Board of the Academy every year for the next year. In 2020 training programme covered the following areas: criminal, civil, labor, commercial, and administrative and misdemeanor law, human rights and European Union law. The training aimed at acquiring and improving special knowledge and skills (such as integrity and ethics, computer literacy) was singled out as a separate area.

The continuous training of prosecutors is performed based on the Continuous Training Programme adopted by Managing Board of the Academy every year for the next year. In 2018, the training programme covered the following areas: criminal, civil, labor, commercial, and administrative and misdemeanor law, human rights and European Union law. The training aimed at acquiring and improving special knowledge and skills (such as integrity and ethics, computer literacy) was singled out as a separate area. Article 165 of the Law on Juvenile Offenders and Criminal Legal Protection of Juveniles stipulates that the Judicial Academy, in cooperation with the Ministry of Justice, scholar institutions, professional associations and non-governmental organizations, has competence for providing special training and professional advancement to persons working in the area of rights of the child, juvenile offences and criminal legal protection of juveniles. The Academy is regularly organizing professional counselling, tests of knowledge and other forms of additional professional advancements and continuous training of judges for juveniles, public prosecutors for juveniles, judges and public prosecutors proceeding in criminal cases for criminal offences upon Article 150 of the Law, police officers, professional employees within the institutions of social protection, institutes and institutions for penal sanctioning, lawyers and other professionals. The Judicial Academy is issuing adequate certificates for the completed tests of knowledge and professional advancement. In addition to that, Article 28 of the Law on Prevention of Domestic Violence stipulates that competent police officers and public prosecutors, deputy public prosecutors and judges implementing the Law are obliged to complete specialized training in accordance with the program adopted by the Judicial Academy. The specialized training is conducted by the Judicial Academy for public prosecutors, deputy public prosecutors and judges, in cooperation with other professional institutions and organizations, and the specialized training is conducted for police officers by the Criminal-police Academy. Upon completed specialized training, the Judicial Academy and the Criminal-police Academy are issuing certificates on the completed training to the participants. The issuing and the form of the certificates are closely regulated by an act of the Judicial Academy and the Criminal-police Academy.

Q147-1 (2021): During 2020, many trainings were delayed or canceled, both online and in person, given the pandemic and measures prescribed by the state due to Covid 19. Double-checked by competent institution.

Q147 (2022): A large number of trainings includes few groups of stakeholders, such as police officers, lawyers, social workers, NGO representatives, tax administration officials and others, depending on the topic discussed of the specific training, and not only judges and prosecutors. Also, where possible and appropriate, Judicial Academy gathers judges, prosecutors, judicial and prosecutorial assistants and the users of the initial training of the Judicial Academy at the same trainings. This is the reason why total number of all participants is higher than the sum of the number of judges, prosecutors, non-judge and non-prosecutor staff who attended the trainings. For example, in 2022 Judicial Academy trained, together with judges and prosecutors, 1105 police officers and 643 lawyers.

Q147 (2021): During 2020, many trainings were delayed or canceled, both online and in person, given the pandemic and measures prescribed by the state due to Covid 19. Double-checked by competent institution.

Q147 (2019): Trainings are as a rule organised as common, which is why it is difficult to distinguish training for judges, prosecutors and staff. Currently, accurate statistics on the number of training courses delivered, expressed in days, do not exist. There were 358 training courses organised in 2019, with 8,934 participants 1,107 lecturers. No e-learning courses have been organised in 2019.

Q150 (2022): The training solely dedicated to prevention of corruption and conflict of interest is not compulsory but Judicial Academy devotes a lot of attention to this topic in its Annual program and every year a large number of judges and prosecutors attend trainings in this area organized by Judicial Academy. In 2022 Judicial Academy organized 23 trainings devoted to topics of ethics and integrity for judges and prosecutors. For example, Academy organized 4 trainings entitled Professional ethics for judges and prosecutors covering following subtopics:

- Competencies for recognizing and solving ethical dilemmas
- Prevention and resolution of risky situations for the emergence of corruption
- Corruption and anti-corruption tools
- Responsibility for ethical behavior

Furthermore, Judicial Academy organized 10 trainings "Protection against undue influence on judges" for the new elected judges of basic courts in the whole country. It covered the following subtopics:

- The notion of undue influence in the judiciary;
- Judicial independence and protection from undue influence on judges - international standards and national legal framework;
- Guide for judges - protection from unauthorized influence;
- Types of undue influence, mechanisms for protection against undue influence and examples from comparative and domestic practice.

Solely for prosecutors Academy organized 3 trainings for trainers coverings following topics:

- External illegal and inappropriate influence by public officials, politicians and other sources (economic, corruption, dissatisfied individuals, etc.)
- External illegal and inappropriate media influence.
- Internal illegal and inappropriate influence (within the prosecution).

Q150 (2019): Judges and prosecutors working in specialized departments for suppression of corruption have to undergo specialization on all relevant topics concerning fighting corruption, i.e. there are numerous courses covering this target group.

Q151 (2019): The average length of training dedicated to ethics is 1 day, the prevention of corruption 2 days and conflicts of interest 2 days.

Q153 (2022): For domestic violence, according to Article 9 of the Law on the Prevention of Domestic Violence in each public prosecutor's office, except for those with special competencies, the public prosecutor appoints deputy public prosecutors who have completed specialized training in order to exercise the competencies of the public prosecutor's office in preventing domestic violence and prosecuting perpetrators of crimes defined by this law. According to Article 28, specialized training is conducted by the Judicial Academy for Public Prosecutors, Deputy Public Prosecutors and Judges, in cooperation with other professional institutions and organizations. According to Article 3 of the same Law, domestic violence, in the sense of this law, is an act of physical, sexual, psychological or economic violence.

Q153 (2021): Prosecution offices have appointed, specialized prosecutors for cases of domestic violence. In addition, prosecutors and judges, in order to process cases involving juveniles (both as victims and criminal offenders) need to have a certificate, i.e. to pass a specialized training.

Q153 (2020): For domestic violence, according to Article 9 of the Law on the Prevention of Domestic Violence in each public prosecutor's office, except for those with special competencies, the public prosecutor appoints deputy public prosecutors who have completed specialized training in order to exercise the competencies of the public prosecutor's office in preventing domestic violence and prosecuting perpetrators of crimes defined by this law. According to Article 28, specialized training is conducted by the Judicial Academy for Public Prosecutors, Deputy Public Prosecutors and Judges, in cooperation with other professional institutions and organizations. Kosovo*

Q142 (2022): Based on the Law on the Academy of Justice, Kosovo has a joint institution that provides training for judges and prosecutors, administrative staff of courts and prosecutors' offices, as well as, according to the possibility and requirements, also for the free professions and other legal professionals.

The budget that was available for the year 2022 is a total of 660,149 euros, within which were all expenses for training, staff payments and other categories of goods and services. With the Law on the Budget of the Republic of Kosovo for the year 2022, the initial budget for this year was 660,149.00 euros, for all economic categories including salaries and wages, goods and services and municipal expenses.

The total amount of donations made for 2022 was 27,007.11 euros, from JUFREX the donation is 12,007.11 euros, of which 4,227.11 are carryovers from 2021 and 7,780.00 euros are donations this year, a donation of 15,000.00 euros was made by UNDP this year, while 24,607.11 euros were spent from the total donations for this year, and the remainder for the next year is 2,400.00 euros unspent donation from UNDP.

Q142 (2020): The initial budget of the Academy of Justice has been 964,342, however, because of the budgetary cuts by government the the final budget for 2020 has been 519903. When we refer to budgetary cuts, we always mean because of the pandemic situation.

Q143 (2022): General training during service, or continuous training for judges as stated by the Law on the Academy of Justice is in principle voluntary, while the training quota is determined by the KJC for mandatory training within the year.

Also, for specialized functions, such as the case for a judge of the Economic Court, training is mandatory.

Training for CMIS has been mandatory training. In the reporting period, there was a training for Registers, statistical reports and dashboards of CMIS which was dedicated to the administrative staff of the courts, namely heads of the office for case management, statistical officers, administrators and assistant administrators of the courts in which they participated 35 participants from all courts.

We have highlighted the in-service training on child-friendly justice as optional for all judges, since all without exception have the opportunity to participate in training, while juvenile judges choose to continue training in this field as they are within the scope of their work competencies.

In-service ethics training is mandatory for all judges except for judges who are 2 years before retirement. However, for 2022, the Judicial Council has removed the obligation for ethics training, which is why we have emphasized that it was optional.

In addition to professional training, the program also offers interdisciplinary training, which is why judges also participate in other trainings during their service.

Q144 (2022): In principle, ongoing training for prosecutors is voluntary, however, during a calendar year, all prosecutors must participate in at least three (3) trainings. All trainings according to the order in the questionnaire can become mandatory if this is assessed by the Unit for review and evaluation of performance in the KPK and in cases where there are legislative changes, when the prosecutor is promoted in office as well as for professional ethics.

According to Regulation No. 01/2020 for training and professional development in the prosecutorial system, Ethics training is mandatory.

For each field according to the weight, the same description applies as for the judges.

Q145 (General Comment): There are on-going trainings throughout the year.

Q145 (2022): Continuous trainings are offered annually and judges based on the legal framework according to experience must participate in trainings according to competence from 1 day of training per year to 7 days of training. This quota is often exceeded, especially by judges at the basic level.

Specialized trainings are offered every year and are for commercial issues, prevention of corruption, domestic violence, money laundering, etc. and the participation of judges in these trainings is indisputable.

In-service training for court leadership functions (e.g. court president) is provided annually, however, on an as-needed basis.

The training program of the AD every year has as part of the training curriculum the topics according to the description in the table and in each of these trainings judges who are competent and decide the relevant cases participate.

Q145 (2019): There are on-going trainings throughout the year, with the exception of July and August

Q146 (General Comment): There are on-going trainings throughout the year, with the exception of July and August

Q146 (2022): Continuous briefings are offered every year and prosecutors participate in at least 3 trainings during the year as required by the legal framework. This quota is exceeded especially by the basic level prosecutors.

The comments provided about the frequency of training of judges also apply to prosecutors.

Q146 (2019): There are on-going trainings throughout the year, with the exception of July and August

Q147-1 (2022): Besides 3,810 participants judges, prosecutors, non-judge staff and non-prosecutor staff, the total number of participants at the Academy of Justice was 4,374 participants, including the participants from 139 trainings for private enforcement agents, free legal aid officers and victims' defenders, 289 other participants from the Probation Service, Kosovo Police, lawyers, Center for Social Work, Financial Intelligence Unit, etc.

Q147 (2022): -In the total number of trainings 209, there were also 114 joint trainings for judges and prosecutors, 145 continuous trainings programme, 10 trainings for free legal professions, 7 training of trainers. For non-judge staff and For non-prosecutor staff there were 33 joint trainings.

-Regarding the category Number of days of delivered live (in person, hybrid, video conference) trainings, the total number of 354 days includes 237 trainings jointly for judges and prosecutors, 35 days trainings only for judges, 10 days only for prosecutors, 36 days of trainings jointly for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. Furthermore, there were 10 days training for free legal professions and 19 days for trainings for trainers.

Q147 (2020): With regard to online courses, because of the pandemic situation, during 2020 have been organized a higher number of online training courses for judges and prosecutors compared to the number of online training courses available: 68 training courses for Judges(111 days), 48 training courses for prosecutors (86 days). This number of training courses includes also in-person training courses, which, for the well-known reasons, could not be held in person.

Q150 (General Comment): At the moment, compulsory trainings are those dedicated to ethics while other trainings are not mandatory. With regard to prevention of corruption or conflict of interest, these trainings are not mandatory and the attendance of judges and prosecutors in these trainings is mainly based on their competencies and jurisdiction.

Q150 (2022): AJ has the obligation that the training program is adequate with the training needs and requirements that have resulted from the strategies at the national level and other integration reports. Therefore, there is a continuous program of training for the prevention of corruption and conflict of interest, and as a target there are judges and prosecutors who deal with the relevant cases and mainly from the special department, the department for serious crimes.

From the point of view of the AJ, these trainings should be mandatory, while the strategies and other monitoring reports of the justice system estimate that there is no significant progress and improvement is needed in the fight against these crimes.

In the comments above, it has been highlighted that the competent authority to specifically determine the mandatory trainings are KJC and KPC. Currently, the training regulations of the two councils have emphasized mandatory training according to performance evaluation, when there are legislative changes, according to experience and ethical issues.

Q150 (2019): At the moment, compulsory trainings are those dedicated to ethics while other trainings are not mandatory. With regard to prevention of corruption or conflict of interest, these trainings are not mandatory and the attendance of judges and prosecutors in these trainings is mainly based on their competencies and jurisdiction.

Q153 (2022): To the trainings carried out on domestic violence and training against the sexual integrity of children.

Q153 (2019): Each Basic Prosecution Office has a prosecutor who is assigned to deal with domestic violence cases (regional coordinator for domestic violence). Each prosecutor is specially trained on this issue. At the same time, other prosecutors are regularly trained in these specific topics. Kosovo Prosecutorial Council prepares and approves on a yearly basis the Training Policies document which is sent to the Academy of Justice where it proposes training topics for prosecutors and domestic violence and sexual violence are part of the many topics included in this document.

Q154 (2019): All trainings are organized by Academy of Justice

Q155 (2022): A total of 16 trainings for ECHR were carried out, 13 of them were supported by EU projects such as JUFREX, OSCE, EKOJUST and GIZ

1 training on Domestic violence and violence against women and 1 by EJTN on Freedom of Expression in the digital age were conducted by HELP, this training was conducted with the physical participation of 2 Legal Advisors from the Constitutional Court.

Albania

(2022): The amount provided by the State Budget to the School of Magistrates is 2 470 872 EURO

The total amount of funds given to the SoM by donors in 2022 is: 1 997 EURO.

(2019): Please note that under the justice reform laws, namely the law on the governance organs of the justice system, adopted at the end of 2016, the school of magistrates is in charge of initial training of not only judges and prosecutors (as it previously was) but also of state advocates, legal advisers and chancellors. Hence, the increase in budget since 2016 and as compared with 2018 data.

(2022): There are two training institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina which are responsible for judicial training in two different entities in the country. Each of these institutions is responsible for both judges and prosecutors. Their respective adopted budgets for 2022 were: The Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of Republika Srpska - 281 970 EUR. Budget funds for the Center for Education of Judges and Prosecutors in the Republic of Srpska have increased as material costs rose in 2022 due to the growth of inflation. The Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina - 333 132 EUR. Many of training courses delivered in the training institutions are prepared by domestic experts who are financed by external donors. The external donor funds used for this purpose are not included in the budget of the training institutions. In addition, the training institutions spent grants worth EUR 38.985,57 provided within the specific projects by the external donors in 2022, (i.e. the external donors which provided the grants were: UNICEF, the Council of Europe - SOUTH-EAST EUROPE Freedom of expression, The AIRE Centre - Advice on Individual Rights in Europe).

Montenegro

(2022): Out of the total amount of the implemented budget of the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution (CTJSP) stated in the table above, the funds in amount of 21,296.00€ come from the donation - THE GRANT AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE AND THE CENTRE FOR TRAINING IN JUDICIARY AND STATE PROSECUTION OF MONTENEGRO.

Note: The amount of 240.540,51 € represents financial support from international and domestic partners for training activities organized in cooperation with the CTJSP). The total amount includes also donor support as recommended to be included by Cepej.

(2020): NOTE. Funds for the work of the Centre shall be allocated in the special portion of the Budget of Montenegro in the amount of 2% of the allocated budget for judiciary and state prosecution service. Article 53 of the Law on the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution (“Official Gazette of Montenegro” no. 58/2015)). The budget allocated to the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution still remains below the statutory minimum of 2% of the budget allocated to the judiciary and prosecution.

In addition to the amount allocated from the public budget for training activities, the Centre obtained financial support from international partners for implementation of training activities. However, the Centre does not have exact information, since a number of international partners did not submit the report on funds allocated for training activities which were implemented in cooperation with the Centre. Anyway, upon the collected data, it is visible that financial support of the international partners in 2020 amounted to around – 169,784.62 €

(2019): In addition to the amount allocated from the public budget for training activities, the Centre obtained significant financial support from international partners for implementation of training activities. However, the Centre does not have exact information, since a number of international partners did not submit the report on funds allocated for training activities which were implemented in cooperation with the Centre. Anyway, upon the collected data, it is visible that financial support of the international partners in 2019 amounted to around 383,825.00EUR .

North Macedonia

(2022): Implemented budget from donors: 52 640 €.

(2021): The approved budget increased because in 2021 started new (eighth) generation of candidates on the Academy of judges and public prosecutors.

(2020): The approved budget of the Academy of judges and public prosecutors decreased because in 2019, were planed more money for seventh generation of candidates on the Academy, but at the end it was concluded that less money are enough for the number of candidates that enter in the seventh generation. Because of that on the end of 2019, implementation of the budget was 757.941 euros. Approximately, according to this amount was made and the new budget in 2020, having in mind that in 2020 there wasn't a new generation on the Academy.

(2019): Budget is lower in comparison with the budget from 2018 because in that budget were planed money for new generation on the Academy for judges and public prosecutors from the court and prosecutorial associates, but this generation was not realized.

Question 143

(2022): A training topic may be developed regularly or occasionally in different academic years. This is a different variable since the calendar of continuing education training activities itself is variable from one academic year to another. The components that influence the variability of this data are mainly the needs of the justice system for the development of training activities in a specific direction or field, as well as the selection of this topic by the main beneficiaries of continuing education, which are the in-service magistrates.

In other words, after we conduct the needs assessment process and collect the concrete needs of in-service magistrates, we organize the training activities. This is why we have checked the boxes "as needed" intending to say, "according to the needs of the system". This means that we organize them regularly but according to the needs of the in-service magistrates.

(2019): In the end of 2016, as part of the justice reform law, law No 96/2016 "ON THE STATUS OF JUDGES AND PROSECUTORS IN THE REPUBLIC OF ALBANIA" was adopted. The law makes it mandatory for a magistrate must to attend the continuous training and take all other reasonable steps to keep him/herself updated about relevant legislative and case law developments.

The continuous training period is: a) Not less than five full days per year and not less than 30 full days during five years; b) Not more than 40 full days per year and 200 full days during five years.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): The relevant legislation on juvenile criminal justice requires that in-service training for specialized functions is obligatory for prosecutors and judges assigned to work on criminal cases involving juveniles; they must take certain training courses in order to be able to work on such cases. This program lasts 4 days and covers 4 topics. In addition, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina decided that as of 2022 an in-service online training on ethics, prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is compulsory for all judges and prosecutors. Furthermore, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has introduced in 2022 a mandatory managerial training for newly appointed court presidents and chief prosecutors: it includes the following topics: 1) Developing leadership and management skills 2) Proactive role of court presidents 3) Electronic tools for managers, and 4) Modern public relations. Moreover, all chief prosecutors and court presidents are required to attend the training on the role of chief prosecutors and court presidents in preserving the judicial integrity.

(2019): In-service training for specialized functions is obligatory only for the judicial office holders assigned to work on criminal cases involving juveniles; they must take certain training courses in order to be able to work on such cases.

Montenegro

(General Comment): Judges and state prosecutors shall have the right and duty to attend the in-service training for at least two working days annually for which they are to apply based on their own interest. (Article 45 paragraph 2 of the Law on the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution ("Official Gazette of Montenegro" no. 58/2015)). The training is not compulsory for judges of specialized courts (except for the mentioned two days per year), however, the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution in the framework of the In-service Training Program organizes regular training for judges of specialized courts at the annual level (judges of Commercial Court and Administrative Court). The only compulsory specialized training is the training for judges for the juveniles (who are the only ones competent to act in criminal proceedings with juveniles) according to the Law on the Treatment of Juveniles in Criminal Proceedings). All judges in charge of juveniles went through the specialized training. The trainings for management functions in courts are organized in accordance with current needs and, thus, these are not compulsory. When it comes to training activities for the use of computer facilities in office, these training activities are organized and conducted by the other authorities such as the Judicial Council and Human Resource Management Authority.

Serbia

(General Comment): A Constitutional Court decision was passed regarding the Act on Judicial Academy provision related to election of the Academy candidates. Therefore, initial training is no longer compulsory prerequisite for election.

The candidates who successfully pass the admission exam to the JA become the users of the initial training. Beneficiaries of initial training, in accordance to the article 40 of the Law on Judicial Academy are employed for a fixed time of 30 months, in the Academy. The beneficiaries of initial training are paid 70% of elementary earnings of a basic court judge, during the fixed time employment in the Academy. Attendance to initial training is being considered as working experience in legal profession. The initial training is composed of practical and theoretical education, with knowledge and skill testing. Since 2012, when the first generation finished the Judicial Academy and until February 2019 (ending with VII generation that took exit test), 99 candidates were proposed for the first time election to a judicial or prosecutorial function.

Judges and prosecutors appointed for the first time who have not attended initial training (i.e. from the rank of judicial assistants, lawyers, and other jurists) must attend a mandatory special continuous training programme. According to the Law on Judges, Article 9, there is a possibility that the HJC assigns a judge to mandatory training as a result of the evaluation procedure; until present date, it never happened that someone came to training on this basis (the first regular 3-year evaluation took place only in 2018).

(2020): We've increased the number of practices this year.

(2019): Based on decisions of the High Court Council (HCC), certain types of training which is regularly organised as optional by the JA becomes compulsory. For example, since the 2016-2018 evaluation cycle, the HCC has enacted decisions whereby presidents of courts and acting presidents must undergo training for management functions. Moreover, while ethics training is organised as optional training, based on a decision of the HCC an, project plan funded by IPA, supporting the HCC, training on ethics has become compulsory, organised through this project. Moreover, certain laws enacted in the recent period have provided that judges and pp's acting in certain fields (ex. Anti-corruption) must undergo certain additional types of compulsory training.

In Serbia there exist two parallel ways of access to the career of a judge or a prosecutor: as a judicial or prosecutorial assistant (or any other candidate who fulfils the condition prescribed by Law) or as a Judicial Academy (JA) graduate. Therefore, having in mind the two tracks to become a judge/pp, the type of training may be initial training or general in service training (optional between the two tracks). We have chosen "optional" for both types of training as it reflects better the two track system. However, choosing and undergoing one of the two tracks is still compulsory.

In the period 2014-2016, 196 judges and deputy-prosecutors were appointed (elected) at first instance level, out of which only 21 (10.7 %) have graduated the Judicial Academy. The remaining 175 (89.3 %) were selected among the judicial and prosecutorial assistants. Those 175 appointments represent 9.7 % of the total number of judicial and prosecutorial assistants. On the other hand, 76% of the JA graduates from the from the observed period have not been appointed (elected) yet (Assessment Report on Judicial Training, drafted as part of the TAIEX Peer Review Mission conducted in the period 7-9 June 2017).

The capacities of the JA have been improving yearly, based on a dedicated capacity building plan. Therefore, certain training which has previously occurred only sporadically, on the basis of donor support, has now become regular part of the training program (ex. IT training), organised occasionally.

Kosovo*

(2022): General training during service, or continuous training for judges as stated by the Law on the Academy of Justice is in principle voluntary, while the training quota is determined by the KJC for mandatory training within the year.

Also, for specialized functions, such as the case for a judge of the Economic Court, training is mandatory.

Training for CMIS has been mandatory training. In the reporting period, there was a training for Registers, statistical reports and dashboards of CMIS which was dedicated to the administrative staff of the courts, namely heads of the office for case management, statistical officers, administrators and assistant administrators of the courts in which they participated 35 participants from all courts.

We have highlighted the in-service training on child-friendly justice as optional for all judges, since all without exception have the opportunity to participate in training, while juvenile judges choose to continue training in this field as they are within the scope of their work competencies.

In-service ethics training is mandatory for all judges except for judges who are 2 years before retirement. However, for 2022, the Judicial Council has removed the obligation for ethics training, which is why we have emphasized that it was optional.

In addition to professional training, the program also offers interdisciplinary training, which is why judges also participate in other trainings during their service.

Question 144

Albania

(2019): In the end of 2016, as part of the justice reform law, law No 96/2016 "ON THE STATUS OF JUDGES AND PROSECUTORS IN THE REPUBLIC OF ALBANIA" was adopted. The law makes it mandatory for a magistrate must to attend the continuous training and take all other reasonable steps to keep him/herself updated about relevant legislative and case law developments.

The continuous training period is: a) Not less than five full days per year and not less than 30 full days during five years; b) Not more than 40 full days per year and 200 full days during five years.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): The relevant legislation on juvenile criminal justice requires that in-service training for specialized functions is obligatory for prosecutors and judges assigned to work on criminal cases involving juveniles; they must take certain training courses in order to be able to work on such cases. This program lasts 4 days and covers 4 topics. In addition, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina decided that as of 2022 an in-service online training on ethics, prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is compulsory for all judges and prosecutors. Furthermore, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has introduced in 2022 a mandatory managerial training for newly appointed court presidents and chief prosecutors: it includes the following topics: 1) Developing leadership and management skills 2) Proactive role of court presidents 3) Electronic tools for managers, and 4) Modern public relations. Moreover, all chief prosecutors and court presidents are required to attend the training on the role of chief prosecutors and court presidents in preserving the judicial integrity.

(2019): In-service training for specialized functions is obligatory only for the judicial office holders assigned to work on criminal cases involving juveniles; they must take certain training courses in order to be able to work on such cases.

Montenegro

(2022): Judges and state prosecutors shall have the right and duty to attend the in-service training for at least two working days annually for which they are to apply based on their own interest. (Article 45 paragraph 2 of the Law on the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution ("Official Gazette of Montenegro" no. 58/2015)).

The only compulsory specialized training is the training for state prosecutors for the juveniles (in charge of juveniles), according to the Law on Treatment of Juveniles in Criminal Proceedings). All state prosecutors in charge of juveniles went through the specialized training. The trainings for management functions in state prosecution offices are organized in accordance with current needs and, thus, these are not compulsory. When it comes to training activities for the use of computers in state prosecution offices, these training activities are organized and conducted by the other authorities such as Prosecutorial Council and Human Resource Management Authority.

(2020): NOTE: Judges and state prosecutors have the right and obligation to attend the training they apply for upon their own interest, at least two working days per year (Article 45 paragraph 2 of the Law on the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution (“Official Gazette of Montenegro” no. 58/2015)).

In 2020 the trainings will be implemented upon a special Training Programme for Court Presidents and Heads of State Prosecutor’s Offices in Montenegro, which was adopted in 2019 and which contains the following training modules: human resource management, financial management and acquisition of managerial skills. 90% of heads of state prosecutor’s offices participated in so-far ad hoc trainings. When it comes to training activities for the use of computers in state prosecution offices, these training activities are conducted by the Prosecutorial Council and Human Resource Management Authority.

Additional comment: In practice, Commission for Monitoring the Implementation of the Code of Ethics of the State prosecutors holds regular trainings on the topic of ethics in State Prosecution offices. Also, the Commission submits the proposal to the Center for Training in Courts and State Prosecution Office of the topic of ethics, so this topic is the part of the trainings organised by the Center within their competence.

Serbia

(General Comment): In article 43 of the Law on Judicial Academy Continuous training is mandatory when required by the law or by the decision of the High Judicial Council and the State Prosecutorial Council in the event of a change in specialization, significant changes in regulations, the introduction of new methods of work and the elimination of shortcomings in the work of judges and deputy public prosecutor noted in evaluating their work. Currently, following laws require the mandatory trainings for judges dealing with specific kind of cases: Law on Determining the Origin of Property and the Special Tax, Law on Juvenile Offenders and Criminal Protection of Juveniles, Law on establishing facts about the status of new-born children suspected to have disappeared from maternity wards in the Republic of Serbia, Law on Prevention of Domestic Violence and Law on Organization and Jurisdiction of the State Bodies in Combating Organized Crime, Terrorism and Corruption.

In general, the continuous training of judges is performed based on the Continuous Training Program adopted by Managing Board of the Academy every year for the next year.

(2022): In principle, ongoing training for prosecutors is voluntary, however, during a calendar year, all prosecutors must participate in at least three (3) trainings. All trainings according to the order in the questionnaire can become mandatory if this is assessed by the Unit for review and evaluation of performance in the KPK and in cases where there are legislative changes, when the prosecutor is promoted in office as well as for professional ethics.

According to Regulation No. 01/2020 for training and professional development in the prosecutorial system, Ethics training is mandatory.

For each field according to the weight, the same description applies as for the judges.

Question 145

Albania

(2022): A training topic may be developed regularly or occasionally in different academic years. This is a different variable since the calendar of continuing education training activities itself is variable from one academic year to another. The components that influence the variability of this data are mainly the needs of the justice system for the development of training activities in a specific direction or field, as well as the selection of this topic by the main beneficiaries of continuing education, which are the in-service magistrates.

In other words, after we conduct the needs assessment process and collect the concrete needs of in-service magistrates, we organize the training activities. This is why we have checked the boxes “as needed” intending to say, “according to the needs of the system”. This means that we organize them regularly but according to the needs of the in-service magistrates.

(2019): The continuous training period is: a) Not less than five full days per year and not less than 30 full days during five years; b) Not more than 40 full days per year and 200 full days during five years. Hence, a judge has to undergo continuous training at least 5 days per year. The training should be relevant to his function.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Judges and prosecutors are offered general in-service training, as well as specialized training, every year.

(2019): Number of days per year for in-service training for all judicial office holders is from minimum 3 to maximum 10 days. The judicial office holders may choose between training topics, which are related to the issues they most frequently work on.

The newly appointed judicial office holders must complete specially designed training courses at the judicial training centre within 6 months of their appointment. In order to qualify for appointment to judicial or prosecutorial office, one must have passed a bar examination and have a certain number of years of practical experience after having passed the bar examination.

When it comes to training activities for the use of computers in courts, these training activities are conducted by the other authorities such as the Judicial Council and Human Resource Management Authority.

(2019): Around 97% of judges participate in in-service training activities organized by the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution at the annual level (around 80 activities per year). Judges and state prosecutors have the right and obligation to attend the training they apply for upon their own interest, at least two working days per year (Article 45 paragraph 2 of the Law on the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution (“Official Gazette of Montenegro” no. 58/2015)).

(General Comment): There are on-going trainings throughout the year.

(2022): Continuous trainings are offered annually and judges based on the legal framework according to experience must participate in trainings according to competence from 1 day of training per year to 7 days of training. This quota is often exceeded, especially by judges at the basic level.

Specialized trainings are offered every year and are for commercial issues, prevention of corruption, domestic violence, money laundering, etc. and the participation of judges in these trainings is indisputable.

In-service training for court leadership functions (e.g. court president) is provided annually, however, on an as-needed basis.

The training program of the AD every year has as part of the training curriculum the topics according to the description in the table and in each of these trainings judges who are competent and decide the relevant cases participate.

The Academy is regularly organizing professional counselling, tests of knowledge and other forms of additional professional advancements and continuous training of judges for juveniles, public prosecutors for juveniles, judges and public prosecutors proceeding in criminal cases for criminal offences upon Article 150 of the Law, police officers, professional employees within the institutions of social protection, institutes and institutions for penal sanctioning, lawyers and other professionals. The Judicial Academy is issuing adequate certificates for the completed tests of knowledge and professional advancement. In addition to that, Article 28 of the Law on Prevention of Domestic Violence stipulates that competent police officers and public prosecutors, deputy public prosecutors and judges implementing the Law are obliged to complete specialized training in accordance with the program adopted by the Judicial Academy. The specialized training is conducted by the Judicial Academy for public prosecutors, deputy public prosecutors and judges, in cooperation with other professional institutions and organizations, and the specialized training is conducted for police officers by the Criminal-police Academy. Upon completed specialized training, the Judicial Academy and the Criminal-police Academy are issuing certificates on the completed training to the participants. The issuing and the form of the certificates are closely regulated by an act of the Judicial Academy and the Criminal-police Academy.

Albania

(2021): Please note that more attention is being given to initial training, as the number of new students has substantially increased

(2020): Non-judge and non-prosecutor staff: 630 participants in in-person training courses and 337 participants in online training courses

Montenegro

(2022): In addition, as per the column one 121 other participants (representatives of state institutions, law enforcement officers, lawyers, etc) undergone through training.
Comment: The participants in the training activities also included other legal professionals, i.e. the representatives of the Ministry of Justice (and Human and Minority Rights), notary public offices, the Ministry of Finance and Social Welfare, LGBTQ organizations and Institution of the Protector of Human Rights and Freedoms of Montenegro (Ombudsman).

Note: (comment ref. column 3 - Total): The total of 108 participants in training activities includes: 31 judges, 6 prosecutors, 42 non-judge staff (3 candidates for judges + 27 advisors from courts + 12 trainees from courts), 7 non-prosecutor staff (4 candidates for state prosecutors + 3 advisors from state prosecution offices), 22 legal professionals from other public institutions (5 lawyers, 11 the Ministry of Justice (and Human and Minority Rights) + 1 notary public offices + 1 the Ministry of Finance and Social Welfare + 3 LGBTQ organizations + 1 Institution of the Protector of Human Rights and Freedoms of Montenegro (Ombudsman).

Note: (comment ref. column 3 - Non-judge staff): 3 candidates for judges + 27 advisors from courts + 12 trainees from courts.

Note: (comment ref. column 3 - Non-prosecutor staff): 4 candidates for state prosecutors + 3 advisors from state prosecution offices.

In non-prosecutor and non-judge staff we did not count trainees/interns in courts and state prosecution offices. The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution implements theoretical part of professional training of trainees/interns in courts and state prosecution offices, in accordance with the Law on Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices and Bar Examination ("Official Gazette of Montenegro", no. 55/2016 and 57/2016) and upon the Training Programme for Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices which was adopted in January 2018. In 2022, the CTJSP organized training for 108 interns, of which 88 are interns in courts and 20 in state prosecutor's offices. The trainees were divided into five groups, and a total of 23 trainings were conducted (2 live and 21 online), i.e. 55 days of training.

(2021): This change was caused by COVID-19 pandemic. Owing to the aforementioned change, the Centre now has more modalities of training, i.e. in-person, hybrid and online training activities, which in a sense can be considered as a systematic change, or more precisely – the broadening of modalities.

(2020): Note: Additional to above numbers in non-prosecutor and non-judge staff we did not count trainees/ interns in courts and state prosecution. The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution implements theoretical part of professional training of trainees/ interns in courts and state prosecution offices, in accordance with the Law on Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices and Bar Examination ("Official Gazette of Montenegro", no.55/2016 and 57/2016) and upon the Training Programme for Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices which was adopted in January 2018. In 2020, the Centre organised 24 training (of this number 15 online trainings - all together 57 days of training) activities for 141 trainees/interns, 107 in courts and 34 in state prosecution offices.

North Macedonia

(2022): 2348 participants is total number for non-judges and non-prosecutors for in live trainings, and 91 is total number for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff for e-learning training. The Academy's system can't provide separate number for this category.

(2021): The Academy usually organizes common trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. Some of those participants cannot be differentiated (between non-judge and non-prosecutor staff) and those categories are therefore answered as NA. 1229 is total number for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff that participated on the trainings. Total number of participants in online training courses (e-learning) is 3 and because of the same reason it is answered as NA.

In 2021 increased the number of organized trainings which also means increased number of participants.

(2020): The Academy usually organizes common trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. Some of those participants cannot be differentiated (between non-judge and non-prosecutor staff) and those categories are therefore answered as "NA". 370 non-differentiated non-judge and non-prosecutor staffs participated on trainings (208 with physical presence and 162 participated online). In 2020, only 2 separate trainings were realized for the non-judge and non-prosecutor staff with physical presence, whereby a total of 56 non-judge and non-prosecutor staff participated, out of which 27 for non-judge and 29 for non-prosecutor staff, which are included in the total number of 370.

Serbia

(2021): During 2020, many trainings were delayed or canceled, both online and in person, given the pandemic and measures prescribed by the state due to Covid 19. Double-checked by competent institution.

Albania

(2022): The total does not match as SoM does not organize trainings only for judges or only for prosecutors. In the table of training activities, trainings are defined which are addressed to a specific target group such as judges, prosecutors, judicial police officers, state lawyers, administrative staff of courts or prosecutions, chancellors, etc. but most of the training activities are open to all subjects whose law recognizes the right to be trained by the School of Magistrates. So, apart from the fact that there are trainings with a certain target group, the same trainings where judges have participated, prosecutors have also participated, especially when it comes to dealing with procedural law, where the confrontation of the prosecutor's perspective with the court is quite important. In this case, in 76 trainings for judges, there were trainings dedicated only to judges, but also trainings where there were judges, prosecutors and other subjects of the justice system.

(2021): Please note that more attention is being given to initial training, as the number of new students has substantially increased

(2020): The decrease in the number of in-person training course in days is due to Covid-19 related restrictions

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(2021): Number of in-service training courses in 2021 were provided by the institutions for the training of judges and prosecutors – please refer to the comment provided for Q142. Training courses are held in different formats: in-person, online and combined. Individual training courses last one or more days.

It should be taken into account that both judges and prosecutors took part in certain training courses (e.g. there were joint training courses aimed at enhancing the competences of criminal judges and prosecutors dealing with corruption cases, organized crime cases etc.). Non-judge staff and Non-prosecutor staff: The institutions for the training of judges and prosecutors could not provide precise data for the training courses that were at disposal to this category of participants.

Other professionals: The data in the table refers to the training courses that were available for the legal advisers working in prosecutors' offices and courts.

(2020): Number of delivered in-person training courses plummeted in 2020 as a result of the measures taken against the spread of coronavirus.

Number of on-line training courses increased considerably in 2020 as a result of the measures taken against the spread of coronavirus.

(2019): The number of on-line training courses was much lower in 2019 compared to 2018, because the judicial training centers did not deliver the planned on-line courses due to the lack of resources and other unforeseen circumstances.

Montenegro

(2022): - In cooperation with HELP Programme for the Western Balkans and Turkey, Council of Europe (The European Programme for Human Rights Education for Legal Professionals), the Centre organized 2 (two) HELP e-learning courses and participated in 1 (one) regional HELP online course:

- The first HELP online course – e-learning (21 February to 21 April 2022) - The total of 40 participants successfully completed this course (in effective duration of 12 hours) - 8 judges, 3 state prosecutors, 12 advisors from courts, 3 advisors from state prosecution offices, 3 trainees from courts, 2 candidates for judges, 4 candidates for state prosecutors, 2 lawyers and 3 representatives of the Ministry of Justice and Human and Minority Rights of Montenegro.

- The regional HELP online course (29 March – 29 May 2022) organized by the Council of Europe HELP Programme and the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) – the participants herein attended separate courses in relation to the country they come from, which were translated into all languages of the Western Balkan countries and adapted to respective national legislation. The total of 11 participants successfully completed this course – 2 judges, 3 advisors from courts, 2 trainees from courts, 2 representatives of the Ministry of Justice of Montenegro, 1 representative of the Notary Office in Cetinje and 1 representative of the Ministry of Finance and Social Welfare.

The Centre participates in the activities offered by the European Judicial Training Network (EJTN) despite its status of an observer. During 2022, owing to the Centre’s role of an intermediary and the invitation to participate in training activities, 19 representatives of the Montenegrin judiciary (14 judges, 2 state prosecutor, 2 trainees from courts and 1 advisor from a court) participated herein. These training activities encompassed 6 one-hour online seminars, 1 two-and-a-half-hour online seminar, 1 two-day online workshop, 2 two-day virtual study visits to the ECtHR and 1 in-person seminar.

- Finally, in 2022, owing to the role of the Centre as an intermediary and the invitation to participate in online training activities and face-to-face activities organised by foreign partners (at the regional and European level), the total of 108 representatives of Montenegrin judiciary participated in 38 training activities (51 judges, 15 special prosecutors, 18 state prosecutors, 13 candidates for a judge, 4 advisors from Special State Prosecution Office, 4 advisors from state prosecution offices, 1 advisor from a court and 2 trainees in courts). – PLEASE NOTE : This number DOES NOT include unique participants. Note: (comment ref. column 5) In total, 16,5 training days: (3 HELP courses: two 12-hour courses (4 training days) and one 18-hours course (3 training days) + EJTN two-day online workshop (2 training days), 2 EJTN two-day virtual study visits to the ECtHR (4 training days), 1 EJTN two-day in-person seminar (2 training days) + 6 one-hour online seminars and 1 two-and-a-half-hour online seminar (1 and a half training day))

(2021): - Yes, other legal professions are invited for certain trainings, the table above shows the number of trainings and days in which they were invited and participated together with judges and prosecutors.

- The Centre always organizes joint training activities for both judges and state prosecutors, with the exception of training activities in civil matters which are intended only for judges dealing with civil matters (as well as lawyers, bailiffs, notaries, ...). There were 18 training activities (5 face to face and 13 online) of this kind in 2021 and they lasted for 27 days.

- In 2021 the Centre organized 6 training activities (5 face to face and 1 online) only for prosecutors and they lasted for 12 days.

- Out of the 33 total trainings that were conducted in-person, 3 trainings were conducted in a hybrid training format.

Total - online training courses available (e learning) – 58 training days For judges - online training courses available (e learning) – 57 training days For prosecutors - online training courses available (e learning) – 38 training days For non-judge staff - online training courses available (e learning) – 28 training days For non-prosecutor staff - online training courses available (e learning) – 28 training days Training for other professionals - online training courses available (e learning) – 21 training days - Advisers from courts and state prosecution offices are allowed to participate in trainings intended for judges and state prosecutors in case that judges and state prosecutors are prevented from attending the trainings. Their participation hereof is listed in the table above. In the table above we did not include training activities organized within the Special training programme for advisers from courts and state prosecution offices (adopted on 23 December 2019). In 2021 the Centre organized 11 two-day training activities – 4 of which were conducted online (8 training days for 46 judicial advisers and 31 prosecutorial advisers), whereas 7 training activities were conducted face to face (14 training days for 85 judicial advisers and 27 prosecutorial advisers), which were attended by the total of 189 advisers from courts and state prosecution offices. In addition to the abovementioned programme, 30 advisers (23 judicial advisers and 7 prosecutorial advisers) attended another 2 training activities (4 training days) organized face to face in cooperation with the NGO “The Centre for Democracy and Human Rights” (CEDEM).

- In the table above related to online trainings, we did not include 2 HELP online courses (e-learning) due to the days of training (multi-month courses):

- The first HELP online course – e-learning (19 February – 10 May 2021) – The total of 49 participants successfully completed this course – 11 judges, 2 state prosecutors, 17 advisers from courts, 2 advisers from the Special State Prosecution Office, 7 trainees from courts, 1 trainee from a state prosecution office, 3 candidates for judges, 2 candidates for state prosecutors, 2 lawyers, 2 special pedagogues of the Professional Service of the High Courts.

- The second HELP online course – e-learning (22 September – 10 December 2021) – The total of 53 participants successfully completed this course – 16 judges, 6 advisers from courts, 4 trainees from courts, 3 trainees from state prosecution offices, 3 candidates for judges, 5 lawyers, 12 representatives of the Ministry of Justice and Human and Minority Rights of Montenegro and 4 representatives of the Office of the Protector of Human Rights and Freedoms of Montenegro.

- In non-prosecutor and non-judge staff we did not count trainees/interns in courts and state prosecution offices. The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution implements theoretical part of professional training of trainees/interns in courts and state prosecution offices, in accordance with the Law on Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices and Bar Examination (“Official Gazette of Montenegro”, no. 55/2016 and 57/2016) and upon the Training Programme for Trainees in Courts and State

(2020): Note: Total - online training courses available (e learning) - 40 training days

For judges - online training courses available (e learning) - 33 training days

For prosecutors - online training courses available (e learning) - 25 training days

For non judge staff - online training courses available (e learning) - 18 training days

For non-prosecutor staff - online training courses available (e learning) - 15 training days

Training for other professionals - online training courses available (e learning) - 15 training days

Note: The Centre always organises joint training activities for both judges and state prosecutors, with the exception of training activities in civil matters which are intended for judges dealing with civil matters (as well as bailiffs, notaries, ...). There were 10 training activities of this kind in 2020 and these lasted for 13 days.

Advisors from courts and State prosecution also have the right to participate in trainings intended for judges and state prosecutors (they are allowed to participate in continuous training in case that judges and state prosecutors are prevented to attend the trainings) From the number of 34 online only 2 training activities planned to be online (CE HELP program e-learning courses). The rest of the number are training that were planned to be in-person but due the situation which is caused by covid pandemic we organized it online. The training that were supposed to be in-person we adapted to the online format-shorter lecture time, encourage participants to use online platforms for training. In 2020, due to the situation caused by the corona virus, 11 trainings planned by the Program for Continuous Training of Judges and State Prosecutors were not implemented.

In non-prosecutor and non-judge staff we did not count trainees/interns in courts and State prosecution. The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution implements theoretical part of professional training of trainees/interns in courts and state prosecution offices, in accordance with the Law on Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices and Bar Examination ("Official Gazette of Montenegro", no.55/2016 and 57/2016) and upon the Training Programme for Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices which was adopted in January 2018. In 2020, the Centre organised 24 training (of this number 15 online trainings - all together 57 days of training) activities for 141 trainees/ interns, 107 in courts and 34 in state prosecution offices.

When it comes to the theoretical part of initial training, through which both candidates for judges and candidates for state prosecutors are jointly trained, the Centre organised in total 192 days of initial training activities.

(2019): NOTE: The data on the total number of training days for all the abovementioned categories (455) have been collected from the Annual Report of the Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution, which can be found on the website of the Centre: www.cosdt.me. The Centre always organises joint training activities for both judges and state prosecutors, with the exception of training activities in civil matters which are intended for judges dealing with civil matters (as well as bailiffs, notaries, ...). There were 19 training activities of this kind in 2019 and these lasted for 18 days in total. Advisors from courts and state prosecution offices also have the right to participate in trainings intended for judges and state prosecutors. When it comes to the theoretical part of initial training, through which both candidates for judges and candidates for state prosecutors are jointly trained, the Centre organised in total 203 days of initial training activities. The Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution implements theoretical part of professional training of trainees in courts and state prosecution offices, in accordance with the Law on Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices and Bar Examination ("Official Gazette of Montenegro", no.55/2016 and 57/2016) and upon the Training Programme for Trainees in Courts and State Prosecution Offices which was adopted in January 2018. In 2019, the Centre organised 56 days of training activities for trainees. In cooperation with the HELP Programme of the Council of Europe, the Centre organised 2 online courses, which were attended by 106 participants in total (42 judges, 21 state prosecutors, 7 lawyers, 20 advisors, 6 trainees in courts, 4 trainees in state prosecution offices and 6 representatives of the High Court Professional Service).

North Macedonia

(2021): In 2021, because of COVID 19 situation most of the trainings which were planned to be delivered in person, were delivered on-line. From a total of 235 delivered trainings, 69 were trainings for judges, 31 trainings for prosecutors, 94 trainings were common for judges and prosecutors, 17 for non-judge staff and 0 for non-prosecutor staff, 11 trainings were organized as common for non-judges and non-prosecutors and 16 for other categories).

Because we don't have separate row for common trainings, in the total number of 160 for judges are included 66 trainings organized only for judges + 94 common trainings for judges and public prosecutors. In total number of 125 trainings for public prosecutors are included 31 trainings organized only for public prosecutors plus 94 common trainings. In total number of 28 trainings for non-judges staff are included 17 trainings organized for non-judges staff plus 11 common trainings for non-judges staff and non-prosecutors staff.

In total number of 11 trainings for non-prosecutor staff are included 11 from common trainings, separate trainings only for non-prosecutors were not organized.

Trainings for judges reflected in days are total 188 days (69 +17 from common trainings) Trainings for prosecutors in days are total 187 (68 +119 from common trainings), for non-judge staff are 27 days (17+10 from common trainings) and for non-prosecutor staff are total 10 days.

According to the system on the Academy for judges and public prosecutors, the trainings are common for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff and the days of training are therefore reflected under both categories.

In the column on -line training courses available in 2021, by the Academy were organized a total of 10 common on line trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge staff and non prosecutor staff. From this 10 trainings, on 2 trainings participated judges, on 1 training participated public prosecutors, 7 trainings were organized as common for judges and prosecutors.

In 2021 the number of organized trainings increased in compared to 2020 when the number decreased because of the COVID 19 situation.

(2020): In 2020, because of COVID 19 situation most of the trainings which were planned to be delivered in person, were delivered on line. From a total of 121 delivered trainings, 79 were delivered online (74 trainings for judges, 49 trainings for prosecutors, 0 for non-judge staff and non prosecutor staff and 6 for other categories).

Because we don't have separate row for common trainings, in the total number of 211 available trainings in 2020, are included 79 which were planned to be common trainings for judges and public prosecutors. According to the system on the Academy for judges and public prosecutors, the trainings are common for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff and the days of training are therefore reflected under both categories. In the column on line training courses available in 2020, by the Academy were organized a total of 9 common on line trainings for judges, prosecutors, non-judge staff and non prosecutor staff. From this 9 trainings, on 8 trainings participate judges, on 7 trainings participate public prosecutors, on all 9 trainings participate non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. For the numbers of participants please see the answer on Q147-1.

The total number of trainings in 2020 in comparison with 2019 decreased because of the COVID 19 situation.

(2019): In other common training are included common trainings on which participate all judiciary professionals together: judges, public prosecutors, non-judge staff, non-prosecutor staff and other legal professionals (attorneys, bailiffs etc.). There was an increase in common trainings in 2019, due to the new multidisciplinary approach of the new management of the Academy.

Regarding online trainings, in 2019, three trainings were organized by the Academy in cooperation with KPMG in frame of the project for training on judges for implementation on the Law on tax in Albania, North Macedonia and Kosovo. Also, Academy on their website has online trainings for all steps of the criminal procedure. E-learning system has been developed in the frame of the project IPA 2008 „Further strengthening of the institutional capacities of the Academy for the training of judges and prosecutors“. On this system several different courses are developed (Initial training for the e-learning system, Interactive course for Outline EU Law e-Course pilot training; Interactive course for application on article 8 from the ECHR; Interactive course for application on article 10 from the ECHR; Interactive Course - Bribery through the Concept of an Official - Corruption; Interactive course - Confiscation of illegal property; Interactive Course - Juvenile Justice). Academy is currently working on improving and upgrading the existing E-learning platform, which in the future will allow following of more courses, with much more interactive contents, and users will have the opportunity to check their knowledge through tests that will bring them a certificate for the passed training. Also, currently this type of trainings are on voluntary basis and they are not mandatory for judges or public prosecutors. According to the new Law which is under preparation, when judge or public prosecutor will perform this type of training that will be calculate in the total numbers of trainings for that judge or public prosecutor, which is not a case in the moment.

Serbia

(2022): A large number of trainings includes few groups of stakeholders, such as police officers, lawyers, social workers, NGO representatives, tax administration officials and others, depending on the topic discussed of the specific training, and not only judges and prosecutors. Also, where possible and appropriate, Judicial Academy gathers judges, prosecutors, judicial and prosecutorial assistants and the users of the initial training of the Judicial Academy at the same trainings. This is the reason why total number of all participants is higher than the sum of the number of judges, prosecutors, non-judge and non-prosecutor staff who attended the trainings. For example, in 2022 Judicial Academy trained, together with judges and prosecutors, 1105 police officers and 643 lawyers.

(2021): During 2020, many trainings were delayed or canceled, both online and in person, given the pandemic and measures prescribed by the state due to Covid 19. Double-checked by competent institution.

(2019): Trainings are as a rule organised as common, which is why it is difficult to distinguish training for judges, prosecutors and staff. Currently, accurate statistics on the number of training courses delivered, expressed in days, do not exist. There were 358 training courses organised in 2019, with 8,934 participants 1,107 lecturers. No e-learning courses have been organised in 2019.

Kosovo*

(2022): -In the total number of trainings 209, there were also 114 joint trainings for judges and prosecutors, 145 continuous trainings programme, 10 trainings for free legal professions, 7 training of trainers. For non-judge staff and For non-prosecutor staff there were 33 joint trainings.

-Regarding the category Number of days of delivered live (in person, hybrid, video conference) trainings, the total number of 354 days includes 237 trainings jointly for judges and prosecutors, 35 days trainings only for judges, 10 days only for prosecutors, 36 days of trainings jointly for non-judge and non-prosecutor staff. Furthermore, there were 10 days training for free legal professions and 19 days for trainings for trainers.

(2020): With regard to online courses, because of the pandemic situation, during 2020 have been organized a higher number of online training courses for judges and prosecutors compared to the number of online training courses available: 68 training courses for Judges(111 days), 48 training courses for prosecutors (86 days). This number of training courses includes also in-person training courses, which, for the well-known reasons, could not be held in person.

Question 150

Albania

(General Comment): HPC: According to Article 182, of the Law “On the governance institutions of the justice system”, as amended, the Adviser of the Ethics at High Prosecutorial Council, is responsible, in cooperation with the School of Magistrates, for the initial and in-service training on ethics.

The obligation of magistrates is not for attending a specific topic, it is only for a specific number (5 training days a year). They have the freedom to choose the topics they want to be trained in, where their needs are directed in such a way that they exercise their function as effectively as possible.

(2022): No, judges/public prosecutors do not have to undergo compulsory in-service training solely dedicated to prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest. The obligation of magistrates is not for attending a specific topic, it is only for a specific number (5 training days a year). They have the freedom to choose the topics they want to be trained in, where their needs are directed in such a way that they exercise their function as effectively as possible.

(2019): According to Article 182, of the Law “On the governance institutions of the justice system”, as amended, the Adviser of the Ethics at High Prosecutorial Council, is responsible, in cooperation with the School of Magistrates, for the initial and in-service training on ethics issues

(General Comment): The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina decided in 2022 that in-service online training on ethics, the prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is compulsory for all judges and prosecutors. The acquired knowledge of judges and prosecutors is tested at the end of the training course.

(2019): In-service training on ethics, the prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is offered yearly by training institutions, however it is not obligatory. It cannot be confirmed that all the judges and prosecutors who have been reappointed during the major reform in 2003 have undergone the training on ethics. Attending training on ethics, the prevention of corruption and conflicts of interest is obligatory only for the newly appointed judicial office holders.

Montenegro

(General Comment): No, training activities are not compulsory in this field.

(2020): No, training activities are not compulsory.

(2019): Reply from Centre for Training in Judiciary and State Prosecution Office - No, training activities are not compulsory.

When it comes to prosecutors, additional information from the Prosecutorial Council - State prosecutors' trainings in the above mentioned areas are conducted by the Centre for Training in Judiciary and Prosecution as well as through ad hoc trainings conducted by the Commission for the Code of Ethics of State Prosecutors.

North Macedonia

(General Comment): Trainings on topics related to ethics, corruption prevention and conflict of interest are not obligatory.

Namely, within the days for obligatory trainings which have to be realized by judges and public prosecutors, they on voluntary base apply for trainings from the List on trainings in the Annual Catalog for obligatory trainings depending on their interest on the topic and the matter on what they are working as well as their working schedule (days when they do not have trial).

(2021): Trainings on topics related to ethics, corruption prevention and conflict of interest are not obligatory.

Namely, within the days for obligatory trainings which have to be realized by judges and public prosecutors, they on voluntary base apply for trainings from the List on trainings in the Annual Catalog for obligatory trainings depending on their interest on the topic and the matter on what they are working as well as their working schedule (days when they do not have trial).

Serbia

(2022): The training solely dedicated to prevention of corruption and conflict of interest is not compulsory but Judicial Academy devotes a lot of attention to this topic in its Annual program and every year a large number of judges and prosecutors attend trainings in this area organized by Judicial Academy. In 2022 Judicial Academy organized 23 trainings devoted to topics of ethics and integrity for judges and prosecutors. For example, Academy organized 4 trainings entitled Professional ethics for judges and prosecutors covering following subtopics:

- Competencies for recognizing and solving ethical dilemmas
- Prevention and resolution of risky situations for the emergence of corruption
- Corruption and anti-corruption tools
- Responsibility for ethical behavior

Furthermore, Judicial Academy organized 10 trainings "Protection against undue influence on judges" for the new elected judges of basic courts in the whole country. It covered the following subtopics:

- The notion of undue influence in the judiciary;
- Judicial independence and protection from undue influence on judges - international standards and national legal framework;
- Guide for judges - protection from unauthorized influence;
- Types of undue influence, mechanisms for protection against undue influence and examples from comparative and domestic practice.

Solely for prosecutors Academy organized 3 trainings for trainers coverings following topics:

- External illegal and inappropriate influence by public officials, politicians and other sources (economic, corruption, dissatisfied individuals, etc.)
- External illegal and inappropriate media influence.
- Internal illegal and inappropriate influence (within the prosecution).

(2019): Judges and prosecutors working in specialized departments for suppression of corruption have to undergo specialization on all relevant topics concerning fighting corruption, i.e. there are numerous courses covering this target group.

Kosovo*

(General Comment): At the moment, compulsory trainings are those dedicated to ethics while other trainings are not mandatory. With regard to prevention of corruption or conflict of interest, these trainings are not mandatory and the attendance of judges and prosecutors in these trainings is mainly based on their competencies and jurisdiction.

(2022): AJ has the obligation that the training program is adequate with the training needs and requirements that have resulted from the strategies at the national level and other integration reports. Therefore, there is a continuous program of training for the prevention of corruption and conflict of interest, and as a target there are judges and prosecutors who deal with the relevant cases and mainly from the special department, the department for serious crimes.

From the point of view of the AJ, these trainings should be mandatory, while the strategies and other monitoring reports of the justice system estimate that there is no significant progress and improvement is needed in the fight against these crimes.

In the comments above, it has been highlighted that the competent authority to specifically determine the mandatory trainings are KJC and KPC. Currently, the training regulations of the two councils have emphasized mandatory training according to performance evaluation, when there are legislative changes, according to experience and ethical issues.

(2019): At the moment, compulsory trainings are those dedicated to ethics while other trainings are not mandatory. With regard to prevention of corruption or conflict of interest, these trainings are not mandatory and the attendance of judges and prosecutors in these trainings is mainly based on their competencies and jurisdiction.

Kosovo*

(2022): To the trainings carried out on domestic violence and training against the sexual integrity of children.

(2019): Each Basic Prosecution Office has a prosecutor who is assigned to deal with domestic violence cases (regional coordinator for domestic violence). Each prosecutor is specially trained on this issue. At the same time, other prosecutors are regularly trained in these specific topics. Kosovo Prosecutorial Council prepares and approves on a yearly basis the Training Policies document which is sent to the Academy of Justice where it proposes training topics for prosecutors and domestic violence and sexual violence are part of the many topics included in this document.

(2020): To answer to the question on the decrease of number of judges and prosecutors:

The needs-based methodology of drafting the training calendar makes it mandatory for the School of Magistrates to plan and hold the training activities as requested by judges and prosecutors in service. Because last year a considerable part of judges and prosecutors in service participated in specific trainings on EU Law and because there have been a lot of changes in the domestic legislation, including basic laws (e.g. criminal code, criminal procedure code), the interest of in-service judges and prosecutors has been higher for trainings on changes of legislation rather than in EU training activities.

(2019): Training is organised by the School of Magistrates

(2021): The statistics provided for this question include the number of the training courses organized or financed by other stakeholders in the framework of co-operation programmes which are reported under the question Q 155.

The abovementioned number of training courses days in 2021, pertaining to the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights, was determined in the annual working plans of the training institutions. The training courses on the different topics with regards to the European Convention on Human Rights have been an integral part of the training institutions' curricula for many years now. Also, the training courses on the European Union Law have been included regularly in the annual working plans of the training institutions for the several years preceding to 2021.

(2020): The statistics provided for this question include the number of the training courses organised or financed by other stakeholders in the framework of co-operation programmes which are reported under the question Q 155.

The abovementioned number of training courses days in 2020, pertaining to the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights, was determined in the annual working plans of the training institutions. The training courses on the different topics with regards to the European Convention on Human Rights have been an integral part of the training institutions' curricula for many years now. Also, the training courses on the European Union Law have been included regularly in the annual working plans of the training institutions for the several years preceding to 2020. The training institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina delivered several new training courses on the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights that they had developed in cooperation with the relevant foreign organizations' experts. The involvement of judges and prosecutors in the new training courses increased the participation at the classes on European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights.

(2019): There are two training institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina which are responsible for judicial training in two different entities in the country. Each of these institutions is responsible for both judges and prosecutors. The names of the training institutions are as follows: The Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of Republika Srpska and the Judicial and Prosecutorial Training Centre of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The abovementioned number of training courses days in 2019, pertaining to the European Union Law and the European Convention on Human Rights, were determined in the annual working plans of the training institutions. The training courses on the different topics with regards to the European Convention on Human Rights have been an integral part of the training institutions' curricula for many years now. Also, the training courses on the European Union Law have been included regularly in the annual working plans of the training institutions for the several years preceding to 2019.

Montenegro

(2021): In reference to question 154, we included all trainings that the Center organized by itself and in cooperation with other partners.

(2020): Between 2019 and 2020 there has been a decrease of the number of trainings in EU Law due to the Covid-19 pandemic and to the end of the EUROL II project (from 2018 until May 2020 - through this project there were a large number of trainings pertaining to EU law and European standards).

(2019): NOTE: Total number of participants is actually much larger since advisors in courts and state prosecution offices, trainees, lawyers, police officers and representatives of other state bodies and institutions also participate in the training activities organised by the Centre.

Regarding trainings on EU Charter of Fundamental Rights/European Convention on Human Rights, there were many more training activities on the ECHR – two training activities were on the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights, whereas the rest of training activities were on the ECHR.

Albania

(2020): The reason is with the coming of the pandemic, the training activities we had planned with our international partners, due to suspension of international travel, were cancelled. This is why there were no activities financed by our international partners on the topic and therefore no participating judges or prosecutors.

(2019): Partner organisations of the School of Magistrates that have conducted these training are Euralius (2 days), Council of Europe (6 days), IRZ (4 days), European Center (4 days) = 16 days overall.

Q156 (General Comment): In the competence of courts, shall be included the adjudication of requests for due compensation to the person, who has suffered a pecuniary or non-pecuniary damage due to the unreasonable length of a case, as per the definition of Article 6/1 of the European Convention "On Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms".

Provisions define the evaluation of reasonable duration of a process, as well as the due compensation, when unreasonable delays have been determined in investigation procedures, trial of cases, as well as in the procedures of execution of decisions.

Just satisfaction for violation of reasonable time limits shall be deemed the recognition of violation, any measures taken to expedite the proceedings of investigation, trial of the case and execution of the decision, and/or compensation of the damage, according to the provisions of this Chapter.

Q156 (2022): The requests for excessive length of proceedings and non-execution of court decisions, have been introduced as a separate request to the court by national law in 2017. According to the Civil Procedural Code the procedure is divided in 2 different phases. The first phase is logged as a simple request to the court and is registered in the CMS system as non-litigious cases either civil or administrative depending on the court. They are registered without a specific identifying code. The second phase is logged as litigious case based on tort legal provisions. We cannot identify these specific cases within the category. We will tackle this issue while creating the new CMS system.

Regarding the requests for wrongful arrest / detention and wrongful conviction, these cases are registered as litigious administrative cases and do not have a specific identifying code in the CMS.

Q156 (2019): In the competence of courts, shall be included the adjudication of requests for due compensation to the person, who has suffered a pecuniary or non-pecuniary damage due to the unreasonable length of a case, as per the definition of Article 6/1 of the European Convention "On Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms". Provisions define the evaluation of reasonable duration of a process, as well as the due compensation, when unreasonable delays have been determined in investigation procedures, trial of cases, as well as in the procedures of execution of decisions.

Just satisfaction for violation of reasonable time limits shall be deemed the recognition of violation, any measures taken to expedite the proceedings of investigation, trial of the case and execution of the decision, and/or compensation of the damage, according to the provisions of this Chapter.

Q160 (General Comment): As provided by the Criminal Procedure Code, Parties may request the disqualification of a judge in cases of incompatibility on grounds of participating in proceedings; incompatibility on grounds of family, blood or in-laws relation, when the judge has the duty to abstain from the judgment, and if, in the exercise of his functions and prior to the issuance of the decision, he has expressed his opinion on the facts or circumstances object of the proceedings. Similar proceedings are provided by civil procedures and administrative procedures codes.

The judge is obliged to withdraw from a case when:

1. he has an interest in the case or in another dispute which is related to it in the trial.
2. he or his spouse has kin relations to the fourth degree or in-law to the second degree, or is related by obligations of child adoption, or lives together in a permanently with one of the parties or attorneys.
3. he or his spouse is in legal conflict or in enmity or in relations of credit or loan with one of the parties or one of the representatives.
4. he has given advise or has expressed opinion on the case in trial or has participated in the trial of the case in a different level of the process, has been questioned as a witness, as expert or representative of one or the other party.
5. he is guardian, employer of one of the parties, administrator or has another task in an entity, association, society or other institution which has interests in the case in trial.
6. in any other event when, according to concrete circumstances, serious reasons for partiality are verified. The request for resignation is presented to the chairman of the respective court who decides. The chairman of the Court of Appeal decides on the presentation of the resignation of the chairman of the district court, and the Chairman of the High Court decides on the request of the chairman of the Court of Appeal. The parties are notified on the content of the request

The judge who on his conscience assesses that there are reasonable causes not to take part in the revision of a case, requests the chairman of the court to be replaced. When Chairman of the court deems relevant the request orders his replacement with another judge through lot.

In cases where the resignation of a judge is mandatory, each of the parties may request the exempt of the judge.

The request, signed by the respective party or its representative, must be deposited with the court secretariat when the announcement of the judge or judges that shall examine the case is made public, or if not, immediately after the announcement of the judge or judges that shall try the case.

Later submission of the request is permitted only in the instance that the party has received information on the grounds of dismissal, or if the judge has inappropriately expressed biased opinion of the facts and circumstances pertaining to the trial during the execution of his duties, although no later than three days from receipt of information.

The request must contain the grounds of dismissal, documents and other available evidence.

The request for the dismissal of a judge is examined in consultation chamber in a session by another judge of the same court. The appeal against the decision to accept or reject the request for dismissal is allowed together with the final decision.

The request for dismissing a judge of the appeals court is decided by a panel of three judges of the same court, different from the panel to which the judge belongs. The decision is of a final form.

Q160 (2021): As provided by the Criminal Procedure Code, Parties may request the disqualification of a judge in cases of incompatibility on grounds of participating in proceedings; incompatibility on grounds of family, blood or in-laws relation, when the judge has the duty to abstain from the judgment, and if, in the exercise of his functions and prior to the issuance of the decision, he has expressed his opinion on the facts or circumstances object of the proceedings. Q173 (2019): Law no 115/2016, Article 290, repealed the Law no 77/2012, "On the Organization and Functioning of the National Judicial Conference" and consequently the "Ethics Committee, Mandate Verification and Continuous Professional Development" under the National Judicial Conference ceased to exist. The Constitution, art. 147 and further on Law no 115/2016, art. 83 "Judicial Ethics" establish the High Judicial Council as responsible for adopting standards of judicial ethics and rules of conduct of judges and monitoring their compliance. Furthermore, law 96/2016, designs the latter institution as the responsible body for the periodic evaluation of judges on the professional and ethical criteria. Additionally, the HJC, by Decision No. 13 of 18.01.2019, established the four standing committees of the HJC, among which the committee of Ethical and Professional Performance Evaluation. This committee has finalized a regulation that includes a scoring grid on judges' professional and ethical evaluation and will further develop all the relevant criteria mentioned on the law 96/2016, which will be used for both the periodic evaluation of judges and at the same time will serve as a solid baseline/platform for their promotion. In parallel, as previously reported, the observance of magistrates to the ethical rules is subject to evaluation by the re-evaluation bodies under Law no 84/2016 "on the transitional re-assessment of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", and further on, will be part of the professional evaluation of magistrates by the HJC, according to Chapter II "criteria, sources and evaluation levels" of Law no 96/2016, Article 75, which is dedicated to ethics and commitment to professional values. The HJC, by decision No. 208 dated 11.10.2019 appointed an ethics adviser.

Q173-1 (2022): Section 9/gj of the Code of ethics has provisions on relationship with press agencies other paragraphs regulate nondisclosure, it also regulates extrajudicial activities and the use of the term magistrate on those activities.

Q175 (General Comment): The updating of the Code of Ethics is realized when new circumstances are necessary to take in consideration prosecutor's ethic conduct or when changes are approved in law

Q175 (2021): The updating of the Code of Ethics is realised when new circumstances are necessary to take in consideration regarding prosecutor's ethic conduct or when changes are approved in law.

Q175 (2019): According the Article 149/a, par. 1/ç, the High Prosecutorial Council approves the rules on ethics and supervise their implementation. High Prosecutorial Council was constituted on 19 December 2018, and during 2019 advanced in the fulfilment of the staff and providing the necessary logistics for its functioning. The current code of ethics (as above mentioned) is approved by the order from the General Prosecutor until the moment the rules on ethics will be approved by the High Prosecutorial Council, in accordance with this provision Q175-1 (General Comment): The prosecutor's Code of Ethics contains the basic principles and rules of the prosecutor's conduct, during and outside the exercise of duty, involvement in activities outside the prosecution and the way of implementing these rules. Each of the principles and rules is reflected in separate articles of this code, where are given some concrete non-exhaustive examples for the way of implementation in order for the prosecutors to understand better the purpose of these rules.

Q177 (2022): According to art 83 of the law no 115/2016, The judge of ethics, (which is a single judge, appointed by HJC) gives opinions on ethic related aspects while the HJC is the responsible body that sets the code of ethics.

Q177 (2019): As previously mentioned, such a function belongs to the HJC, specifically to the committee of Ethical and Professional Performance Evaluation, as well as to the ethics adviser. While the HJC and the committee are formed by judges and other legal professionals, the ethics adviser is a judge.

Q178 (2019): There have been issued no such opinions, yet. It depends on the approval of the new code of ethics for judges.

Q179 (General Comment): According to the Law "On the governance institutions of the justice system", the Ethics Adviser at High Prosecutorial Council performs the following duties:

- a) give advice, at the request of any prosecutor, on the most appropriate conduct, inside and outside the prosecution or court, on controversial ethics matters;

- a) give advice, at the request of any prosecutor, on the most appropriate conduct, inside and outside the prosecution or court, on controversial ethics matters;
- b) may seek the opinion of the Council on certain matters concerning the conduct of prosecutors in a general manner, but not with regard to certain persons;
- c) develop, publish and update continuously an informative manual containing questions and answers on ethical dilemmas based on international standards and best and relevant Council decisions;
- ç) takes care, in cooperation with the School of Magistrates, for initial and continuous training on ethics issues;
- d) report in writing, not less than once a year, to the Council on its activities.

Q180 (2019): The High Prosecutorial Council appoints an Ethics Adviser among the prosecutors

Q181 (General Comment): According to the Law "On the governance institutions of the justice system", the Ethics Adviser which was appointed during the reference year from High Prosecutorial Council performs the following duties:

- a) give advice, at the request of any prosecutor, on the most appropriate conduct, inside and outside the prosecution or court, on controversial ethics matters;
- b) may seek the opinion of the Council on certain matters concerning the conduct of prosecutors in a general manner, but not with regard to certain persons;

Q181-1 (2022): The High Prosecutorial Council handled a request of a prosecutor in the general jurisdiction offices to engage as an expert in monitoring the activity of the Special Prosecutor's Office against Corruption and Organized Crime, within the framework of a project implemented by an NPO. According to the law, the prosecutor has the right to participate in off-duty activities related to legal issues, the legal system and the administration of justice.

However, the prosecutor's request was related to the monitoring of the work of the Special Prosecutor's Office for various issues, therefore, this request contradicted the criteria provided for in Article 9, point 1, letter "dh", of the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors", as amended, where it is stated that, the activities outside the function should not be incompatible with the exercise of the function of the magistrate.

In the "Standards with the Rules of Ethics and the Rules of Conduct of the Prosecutor" have been established some basic principles which aim to increase impartiality during and outside the exercise of the functions of the prosecutor, support the implementation of the highest standards of ethical and professional behaviour, preserve the image of the professional, as well as the appropriate behaviour in the office in court or outside these premises of the prosecutor. In article 5, letters "b" and "ç", of these Rules, related to the principle of impartiality, it is provided that the Prosecutor must: b) avoid any type of behaviour that may create the impression of partiality; ç) avoids situations that can reasonably be perceived as leading to a conflict of interest.

The High Prosecutorial Council assessed that the prosecutor's participation in off-duty activities to monitor the activity of the Special Prosecutor's Office against Corruption and Organized Crime was incompatible with the activity of the magistrate, violates the principles of independence and impartiality of the prosecutor, as well as the principle of avoidance of conflict of interest.

In the same time, the law has provide special bodies such as the High Prosecutorial Council and the Parliament which monitor the activity of the Special Prosecution against Corruption and Organized Crime, as this institution reports to them on its annual activity.

Q182 (General Comment): The law provides various mechanisms for reporting attempts on influence/corruption on prosecutors. According to Article 283, of the Criminal Procedural Code of the Republic of Albania, anyone who has become aware of a criminal offense related to the influence/corruption should report it. In cases determined by law, the report is mandatory. The report is filed orally or in writing before the prosecutor or a judicial police officer, in person or through a representative. A general mechanism is provided in Article 119, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania”, as amended, and is the right to report attempts to influence/corruption on prosecutors/judges through complaints filed by any person to the High Justice Inspectorate.

Also, in cases where there is credible evidence that a prosecutor/judge has committed a disciplinary offense, the complaint is submitted to the High Justice Inspector by the following entities:

- a) the Minister of Justice;
- b) a single member of the Council;
- c) the president of the court or prosecution office.

- a) the Minister of Justice;
- b) a single member of the Council;
- c) the president of the court or prosecution.

The complaint may contain evidence and data sources of alleged facts and circumstances and retain the right to confidentiality. The High Justice Inspector publishes the complaint form template on his official website, in order to facilitate the submission of complaints. The High Prosecutorial Council takes disciplinary action in accordance with the violation found and if there is evidence of influence/corruption, the prosecutor is subject to a criminal charge.

Also, a special mechanism is set out in Article 42, of Law no. 95/2016, "On the organization and functioning of institutions to combat corruption and organized crime", which provides that, in the National Bureau of Investigation which depends on the Special Prosecution, acts an officer in charge of surveillance. Each month, a ready Special Prosecutor directs, controls, and monitors the officer in charge of surveillance. The responsible officer reports any information that raises reasonable suspicions of corrupt or criminal activity to the Special Prosecutor. If there is a reasonable suspicion that the Special Prosecutor is involved in criminal activity, then the responsible officer reports to any of the Special Prosecutors in the Special Prosecution Office, who appears not to have been involved in the suspicious activity.

Q184 (General Comment): Every intervention made while distributing cases by electronic lot is logged in the system, this means a third party can audit in every moment the procedure of the lot, and see if it has been done according to the rules in place. Whenever the workload of a judge is considered disproportionate compared to the average, the judge in question is excluded from the random distribution of the cases, by an internal order issued by the president of the court.

Q190 (General Comment): Please note that the constitution provides that a judge can be an Albanian citizen appointed by the High Judicial Council after graduating the School of Magistrates and after the conduction of a preliminary process of verification of their assets and their background checks, in accordance with the law. Hence, an initial obligation to declare assets, prior to their appointment as judges is provided in the constitution. Further, this obligation is further elaborated in the law on status of judges of prosecutors that provides that judges and prosecutors undergo an assets and background check, prior to their admission to the School of Magistrates, prior to their appointment as judges and prosecutors and every time that they apply for a position at a higher level.

However, please note that the obligation to annually declare their (applicable to judges and prosecutors) assets is provided in a special law, namely law on the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials.

2. Candidates for the positions referred to in point 1 of this article, who are subject to the obligation to declare private interests in accordance with the provisions of Article 3 of this law, shall not perform a new declaration, but shall be subjected to full audit of assets. In the event during 180 days prior to the submission of the request, the candidate has already been audited by the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests and the audit didn’t prove to be disfavourable for them, then the audit shall be considered as already performed.

3. The High Inspectorate shall perform full audit on the verification of truthfulness and accuracy of the data contained in the declarations of persons referred to in point 1 of this article within 2 months from the submission of the declaration, unless otherwise stipulated by the law. At the end of verification, the General Inspector shall immediately send the relevant verification reports to the relevant institutions.”

Article 3/1 of the law no. 9049, dated 10.4.2003 “On the declaration and control of the assets, financial obligations of the elected and some public employees”, as amended, specifies the obligation to declare for the candidates for different positions in the justice system.

This article has been added with the amendments made to the law, by law no. 42/2017, dated 6.4.2017, “On some changes and additions to the law no. 9049, dated 10.4.2003 ‘On the declaration and control of the assets, financial obligations of the elected and some public employees’, as amended”.

Q193 (2019): The subjects are obliged to declare to the High Inspectorate of the Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests, by March 31st of each year, the situation of their private interests inside and outside the territory of Albania, the sources of their creation, and their financial obligations up to December 31st of the previous year, as follows:

- a) immovable properties and the real rights over them according to the Civil Code;
 - b) movable properties that can be registered in the public registers and the real rights over them according to the Civil Code;
 - c) Items with special value over 300 000 (three hundred thousand) ALL;
 - ç) The value of shares, securities and parts of capital owned;
 - d) The amount of liquidity, situation in cash outside the banking system, in current account, deposits, treasury bonds and loans, in ALL or foreign currency;
 - dh) Financial obligations to natural and legal persons, expressed in ALL or in foreign currency;

 - ë) Licenses and patents that bring income.
 - f) Gifts and preferential treatments, including the identity of the natural or legal person from whom come or are created the gifts or preferential treatments. The gifts or preferential treatments are not declared when their value is less than 10,000 (ten thousand) ALL, and when two or more gifts or preferential treatments given by the same person, together, do not exceed this value during the same period of declaration;
 - g) Engagements in private activities for profit or any kind of activity that generates income, including any kind of income created by this activity or this engagement;
 - gj) Private interests of the entity, corresponding, containing, based on or derived from family or cohabitation relations;
 - h) Any declarable expenses, worth over 300,000 (three hundred thousand) ALL, carried out during the declaration year;
- Private interests of other types, different from those specified in Article 4 of this Law, may be required to be declared periodically, if it is possible and appropriate for subcategories of interests within these types, determined by order of the Inspector General.

2. Subjects specified in Article 3/1 of this law, shall be obliged to declare – to the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests – their private interests, their sources, as well as their domestic and out-of-country financial obligations, in compliance with Article 5/1 of this law and in accordance to the timeframes stipulates by the effective legislation.

Q194 (General Comment): Article 7 of the law no. 9049, dated 10.4.2003 “On the declaration and control of the assets, financial obligations of the elected and some public employees”, as amended, sets out the provisions regarding the annual periodic declaration:

“Article 7

Annual Periodic Declaration

1. Periodic declarations shall only include the changes to the previously declared assets, financial obligations, and private interests, in accordance with Article 6 of this law, those appearing during the declaration year and any earned income and declarable expenditure carried out during the year being declared.
2. The declarations prior to the beginning of duty, according to Article 5/1 of this Law, and the declaration after leaving office, according to Article 7/1 of this Law, shall be specific instances of the periodic declaration.
3. All officials and other persons related, who have the obligation to declare, shall be obliged to present their declaration, by March 31 of each year, to the authority or responsible structure of the public institution contemplated in the legislation applicable to the prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions.
4. When the official transfers the rights of active ownership of shares or parts of the capital, according to the provisions of the legislation applicable to the prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions, in the periodic declaration, as long as this situation continues, they shall only declare the status of such rights before the transfer and the earning from property they effectively received during the year for which the declaration is made.
5. For the purpose of declaration before taking office, annual periodic declaration, or after leaving office, according to the above points of this article, the persons related to the officials who have the obligation to make a declaration shall include only the spouse, cohabitant, and their adult children.”

Article 9 of the law no. 9049, dated 10.4.2003 “On the declaration and control of the assets, financial obligations of the elected and some public employees”, as amended, sets out the provisions regarding the declaration on request:

“Article 9

Declaration on Request

1. The Inspector General shall have the duty to request the declaration of assets and private interests and the sources of their creation, according to the requirements of this Law, as well as to order the inspection of the accuracy of these declarations even for individuals, or natural and legal persons, when, from the verifications made, it turns out that the latter are persons related to entities that have the obligation to declare periodically.
2. The definition of a related person, pursuant to point 1 of this Article, shall also apply to a trustee, as defined in the legislation applicable to prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions, as well as to the cohabitants as defined by the Family Code.
3. The Inspector General, for the purpose of verifying the declaration of income, in accordance with the legislation applicable to income tax, shall send to the Minister of Finance and the General Director of Taxation information about the list of individuals who result as persons related with the declaring entities that have the obligation to declare, according to point 1 of this Article.”

Q195 (General Comment): In accordance with article 21 and 22 of the special law, the declaration of assets includes the assets of the subject and his family (husband / wife, cohabitant and adult children), the sources of creation and financial liabilities of the entity. The declaration shall also include the fact whether the declarant has or does not have any other related persons.

When the property of the members of the family is divided and registered as such in the bodies of the state or judicial administration, the declaration is submitted separately by each member of the family, with the property registered in his/her own name, and it is attached to the declaration of the subject who has the obligation to make the declaration. The member of the family and the person related to the declaring subject is legally liable for the authenticity and accuracy of the declared data. Spouses and adult children have an obligation to declare assets the same as the judge or prosecutor. On the special form, there is a separate section for the spouse and the adult children that is signed by them, and if there are any assets that have not been declared, they are administratively or criminally liable for the omission to declare. However, for underage children the obligation to declare their assets rests with the judge or the prosecutor since, in any case, if the children would have any assets under their name, they would be acting as legal representatives for that asset, and therefore such interests would have to be declared. However, this is a very rare situation, since, in the most cases, underage children are unable to enter into legal transactions.

Q195 (2019): In accordance with article 21 and 22 of the special law, the declaration of assets includes the assets of the subject and his family (husband / wife, cohabitant and adult children), the sources of creation and financial liabilities of the entity. The declaration shall also include the fact whether the declarant has or does not have any other related persons.

When the property of the members of the family is divided and registered as such in the bodies of the state or judicial administration, the declaration is submitted separately by each member of the family, with the property registered in his/her own name, and it is attached to the declaration of the subject who has the obligation to make the declaration. Q198 (General Comment): Article 25/1

Complete audit of the declaration of assets and private interests

1. The complete audit to verify the authenticity and accuracy of the data contained in the declaration of assets and private interests shall be carried out:

- a) every 2 years for the President of the Republic, members of Parliament, Prime Minister, Deputy Prime Minister, Minister, Deputy Minister, Constitutional Court judge, judge of the High Court, member of the High Judicial Council, members of the High Prosecutorial Council, General Prosecutor, Head of the Special Prosecutor's Office, Head of the National Bureau of Investigation, High Justice Inspector, and inspectors of the High Inspectorate of Justice, the Chairman of the High State Audit, Ombudsman, members of the Central Election Committee, members of the regulatory bodies and competition protection bodies, the Governor of the Bank of Albania, Deputy Governor and members of its Supervisory Board;
- b) every 3 years for prefects, mayors, and heads of regional councils, the civil servants of high-management level of public administration, officials of high management level of customs and tax administration, judges of appeal, prosecutors of the Special Prosecutor's Office, prosecutors of Appeal and General Prosecutor's Office, as well as judicial police officers of the National Investigation Bureau;
- c) Every 4 years for the heads of state institutions, central or local, and members of collegial bodies of these institutions not included in the above letters of this point.
- ç) Every 4 years for all judges of the court of first instance and prosecutors of the judicial district of the first instance;
- d) Every 5 years for other officials not included in the above letters.

Points 2 and 3 are abrogated

4. The complete audit or re-audit of the declaration shall be carried out by the Inspector General, when they have data from legitimate sources, questioning the authenticity and accuracy of the data contained in the declaration of an official, and when there is a discrepancy resulting from the arithmetic and logical audit, showing that the sources do not cover or do not justify the property rights of the declaring entity.

5. The complete audit and administrative investigation conducted by the High Inspector shall be completed within 6 months after its start, which may be prolonged in compliance with the requirements of the Administrative Procedure Code.

Q202 (2021): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the   Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. HIDAACI, for all the subjects involved in this process, took measures for the compilation of individual physical files, which included systematically and thoroughly the form of declaration of assets, the justifying documents and following all the correspondence related to the reevaluation process. All documentation administered in the file is reflected in each case in the file inventory. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets;

(d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. HIDAACI, for all the subjects involved in this process, took measures for the compilation of individual physical files, which included systematically and thoroughly the form of declaration of assets, the justifying documents and following all the correspondence related to the reevaluation process. All documentation administered in the file is reflected in each case in the file inventory. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets;

(d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2020; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, for 2020 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 32 judges, and 12 prosecutors.

Q202 (2019): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assesseees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assesseees or their related persons. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

(d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2019; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

Q207 (2019): Also, another declaration of prosecutors is the Periodic/Annual Private Interest Statement, who is declared during each year (annual/periodic) of exercising their function. Declaration Forms are approved from the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests.

Q208 (General Comment): In accordance with article 21 and 22 of the special law, the declaration of assets includes the assets of the subject and his family (husband / wife, cohabitant and adult children), the sources of creation and financial liabilities of the entity. The declaration shall also include the fact whether the declarant has or does not have any other related persons.

When the property of the members of the family is divided and registered as such in the bodies of the state or judicial administration, the declaration is submitted separately by each member of the family, with the property registered in his/her own name, and it is attached to the declaration of the subject who has the obligation to make the declaration. The member of the family and the person related to the declaring subject is legally liable for the authenticity and accuracy of the declared data. Spouses and adult children have an obligation to declare assets the same as the judge or prosecutor. On the special form, there is a separate section for the spouse and the adult children that is signed by them, and if there are any assets that have not been declared, they are administratively or criminally liable for the omission to declare. However, for underage children the obligation to declare their assets rests with the judge or the prosecutor since, in any case, if the children would have any assets under their name, they would be acting as legal representatives for that asset, and therefore such interests would have to be declared. However, this is a very rare situation, since, in the most cases, underage children are unable to enter into legal transactions.

Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets;

(d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2019; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2019; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

Q223 (General Comment): Please briefly describe the procedure: Please note that civil procedure code and criminal procedure code have been checked because they regulate the recusals of judges in civil or criminal proceedings and the procedure for doing so.

Please note that some of the procedure to sanction breaches of the rules on the conflict of interest for both judges and prosecutors are provided in the law on the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania. In question 223, this law under the "law on judges" tick. However, please be advised that this law in question 232 has been reported in the section "other, please specify" because, under the similar section includes "law on public prosecutors/public prosecution". In Albania these are two different law: law on the status of judges and prosecutors, which would correspond to a section titled "law on public prosecutors" and the law on the organisation and functioning of the prosecution offices in the Republic of Albania, which would correspond to a section titled "law on public prosecution".

Q224 (General Comment): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. HIDAACI, for all the subjects involved in this process, took measures for the compilation of individual physical files, which included systematically and thoroughly the form of declaration of assets, the justifying documents and following all the correspondence related to the reevaluation process. All documentation administered in the file is reflected in each case in the file inventory.

The High Inspectorate with the purpose of fulfilling the constitutional and legal obligations for the completion of the full audit of assets declarations regarding the legitimacy of the source of the creation of the property, the fulfillment of financial obligations, including private interests, started the establishment of the official communication with all public and private entities for verification purposes for more than 3,000 persons (subjects of re-evaluation and related persons).

Moreover, the High Inspectorate for the purposes of data accuracy, and reconciliation took measures to manually extract and process from the assets declaration forms submitted for the re-evaluation process, along with assets declaration forms submitted by subjects over the years, detailed data (fatherhood, motherhood, date of birth, identification number, civil status etc.) to more than 3,000 persons (re-evaluation subjects and related persons).

The correspondence was initially sent to about 26 public and private legal entities (Bank of Albania, second tier banks, investment companies, IPRO, NBC, Agency for Legalisation, Urbanisation and Integration of Informal Areas and Buildings, GDT, GDPML, General Maritime Directorate, Electricity Power Distribution Operator, etc.). During the audit process, depending on its progress, as well as the need to obtain additional information, HIDAACI proceeded with the further delivery of correspondence with public and private legal entities. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their

Q226 (General Comment): There is legislation in force which directly prohibits the conflict of interests of the prosecutors during the exercise of their public function:

1. Criminal Procedure Code (as above mentioned);
2. Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended;
3. Law no. 9367, dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended;
4. Order no. 141, dated 19.07.2014 “On adoption of rules on ethics and conduct of prosecutors”, of General Prosecution Office (as above mentioned).

In Articles 6-7, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, concerning incompatibilities with the function of magistrate, it is provided that the function of magistrate is incompatible with the ... conduct of any political activity, whether or not the activity is carried out in conjunction with any political party or not, which may affect the independence of the magistrate, create a conflict of interest or, in any event, create the impression that the magistrate is impartial and unaffected.

Also, the Magistrate is prohibited from actively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, or passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, if the company has profits or benefits from public contracts, in accordance with the prevention legislation of the conflict of interest in force as well as passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a company in which the activity of the magistrate is prohibited because it creates a conflict of interest.

According to Articles 32 and 35, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, High Prosecutorial Council verifies the integrity and assets before the candidates are accepted in the initial formation/training in the School of Magistrates, part of which is the evaluation of possible conflict of interests based on the reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests.

According to Article 90, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, part of the evaluation of the prosecutor's performance are:

- a) ... reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests;
- b) the number of cases in which prosecutors have been expelled due to a conflict of interest.

Also, according to Article 102, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, disciplinary violations in the exercise of office shall be the actions, omissions or behaviours of the magistrate, as follows: p) breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention, in accordance with the provisions of the legislation in force.

In Article 7 of Law no. 9367 dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended, is provided that:

1. Every official, in the exercise of his powers or in the performance of his public duties, on the basis of his recognition and in good faith, is obliged to make a preliminary, on a case-

1. A judge has the duty to quit the judgment of a particular case: a) when there is interest in the proceedings or when one of the private parties or a defence counsel is a debtor or creditor of his, his spouse or his children;

b) when he is the guardian, representative or employer of the defendant or one of the private parties, or when the guardian or representative of one of these parties is the close relative of his or her spouse;

c) when he has given advice or when he has expressed an opinion on the object of the proceedings;

ç) when there are disputes between him, his spouse or any of his relatives with the defendant or one of the private parties;

d) when any of his relatives or spouse has been harmed or damaged by the criminal offense;

dh) when a relative of his or her spouse performs or has performed the functions of a prosecutor in the same proceeding;

Q226 (2019): There is legislation in force which directly prohibits the conflict of interests of the prosecutors during the exercise of their public function:

1. Criminal Procedure Code (as above mentioned);
2. Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended;
3. Law no. 9367, dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended;
4. Order no. 141, dated 19.07.2014 “On adoption of rules on ethics and conduct of prosecutors”, of General Prosecution Office (as above mentioned).

In Articles 6-7, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, concerning incompatibilities with the function of magistrate, it is provided that the function of magistrate is incompatible with the ... conduct of any political activity, whether or not the activity is carried out in conjunction with any political party or not, which may affect the independence of the magistrate, create a conflict of interest or, in any event, create the impression that the magistrate is impartial and unaffected.

Also, the Magistrate is prohibited from actively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, or passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, if the company has profits or benefits from public contracts, in accordance with the prevention legislation of the conflict of interest in force as well as passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a company in which the activity of the magistrate is prohibited because it creates a conflict of interest.

According to Articles 32 and 35, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, High Prosecutorial Council verifies the integrity and assets before the candidates are accepted in the initial formation/training in the School of Magistrates, part of which is the evaluation of possible conflict of interests based on the reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests.

According to Article 90, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, part of the evaluation of the prosecutor's performance are:

- a) ... reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests;
- b) the number of cases in which prosecutors have been expelled due to a conflict of interest.

Also, according to Article 102, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, disciplinary violations in the exercise of office shall be the actions, omissions or behaviours of the magistrate, as follows: p) breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention, in accordance with the provisions of the legislation in force.

In Article 7 of Law no. 9367 dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended, is provided that:

1. Every official, in the exercise of his powers or in the performance of his public duties, on the basis of his recognition and in good faith, is obliged to make a preliminary, on a case-by-case basis, of the existence of his private interests, which may cause to arise a conflict of interest.
2. The case-by-case declaration of private interests shall be made at any time by the official when so requested by the superior or by the superior institution. The declaration, as a rule, must be sought and made in advance. Where this is not possible or where this has not happened, the declaration may be requested and made as soon as possible.
3. Self-declaration or declaration upon request shall be made as a rule in writing when the official is involved in a decision-making on an act. Written declaration is not necessary where the official's verbal statements are recordable and documented, according to procedures established by law and / or in the internal regulations of the public institution where the official exercises his or her functions.

Q227 (General Comment): According to Article 9, of the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", as amended, the magistrate is allowed to perform activities outside of his duties, only if these activities:

- a) are in accordance with the dignity of exercising the function;
- b) do not create perceptions of influence or bias during the exercise of the function;
- c) do not conflict with the essential interests of the function, not infringing the deadlines and the efficient exercise of the functions.
- ç) do not conflict with the purpose for which the workload has been reduced;
- d) in the event that the reward for non-functional activities includes any type and form of payment, financial reward or compensation, which do not exceed the usual market rules;
- dh) are not incompatible with the exercise of the function of the magistrate and are not prohibited according to this law.

The magistrate can write, publish, give lectures and teaching on legal issues and participate in activities related to legal issues, the legal system, the administration of justice and other related issues. Before starting to perform a paid activity out of office, the magistrate must notify the High Prosecutorial Council and submit the necessary documentation.

The magistrate receives the approval of the High Prosecutorial Council, before accepting the performance of paid activities outside the function. The Council decides within three weeks of receiving the request and complete documentation and gives approval if the activity and any remuneration for its performance are in accordance with the law.

Q231 (2022): Law no. 9367, dated 7.4.2005, "On the prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions", as amended, aims to ensure that the exercise of public duty is carried out without being influenced by the private interests of the official, directly or indirectly, which affect, may affect or appear to affect the improper performance of his public duties and responsibilities. This law defines the rules, tools, ways, procedures, responsibilities and powers for the identification, declaration, registration, treatment, resolution and punishment of cases of conflict of interest. The law is enforced by the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interest (HIDAACI). According to Article 44, of this law, any violation of the obligations defined in the law, when it does not constitute a criminal offense, constitutes an administrative misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine. The fines are higher, according to the evaluation of the measure of the violation and according to the level of increase in the official's position. In article 45, it is determined that any violation of the obligations defined in this law by officials constitutes a disciplinary violation, regardless of criminal or administrative liability. The measures and procedures defined by the Constitution and the relevant law (Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors", as amended) apply to officials who are members of constitutional bodies (such as prosecutor's offices). According to Article 26, of Criminal Procedural Code, the prosecutor has the duty to resign when there are reasons of one-sidedness in the cases provided by Article 17. On the declaration of relinquishment, according to their duties dhe decision is taken from the head of the prosecution at the court of first instance, of the prosecution at the court of appeal, the General Prosecutor and the head of the Special Prosecution. For the heads of prosecutions, the decision is taken from dhe heads of the higher prosecution offices. With the decision accepting the relinquishment declaration, the prosecutor who resigned is replaced by another prosecutor. In Decision no. 32, dated 24.2.2022, "On the approval of the standards of ethics and rules of conduct of the prosecutor" of High Prosecutorial Council is provided that, the head of the prosecution office oversees compliance with the rules of conduct and ethics of the prosecutor and reports every problem to the High Council of Prosecution. Violation of the standards of ethics and rules of conduct of the prosecutor when it does not constitute grounds for disciplinary responsibility is taken into consideration within the ethical and professional assessment of the prosecutor. According to the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", as amended, failure to file a request for waiver of proceedings or adjudication of the case, where is mandatory, by law, if the magistrate was aware or should have been aware of such circumstances is a disciplinary violation. Anyone can submit a complaint to the High Inspector of Justice against a prosecutor to investigate whether the latter has exercised the function under conditions of conflict of interest. If, after the disciplinary investigation, it is established that there has been a disciplinary violation from the magistrate, the High Inspector of Justice proposes to the High Prosecutorial Council, the approval of a disciplinary measure.

Q231 (2021): In the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, are the provided possible cases for breaches of rules on conflict of interest in respect of prosecutors, as follows:

Article 101

Disciplinary violations

1. The Magistrate commits a disciplinary offense, wilfully or negligently, when:

- a) commits acts or omissions which constitute a breach of duty, unprofessional or unethical conduct in the exercise of his or her office, which discredit the position and image of the magistrate, or impair public confidence in the judicial or prosecutorial system;
- b) in the exercise of his function does not refer to the law or to facts, intentionally or because of gross negligence, or where there is manifest professional disabilities."

Article 102

Disciplinary violations related to the exercise of function

1. Disciplinary violations in the exercise of office shall be, in particular, but not limited to, the actions, omissions or behaviours of the magistrate, as follows:

- a) failure to file a request for waiver of proceedings or adjudication of the case, where is mandatory, by law, if the Magistrate was aware or should have been aware of such circumstances;
- b) filing a request for waiver of the proceeding or adjudication of the case, if such action:
 - i. is not based on the reasons provided by law;
 - ii. done with the intent to create unjust benefits for the parties and third parties or aims at avoiding the legal obligation to examine the case or to enable the case to be examined by another magistrate;
 - iii. it is not carried out immediately after becoming aware of the cause;
 - dh) the action, inaction or conduct of the magistrate, which brings unfair benefits or damages to the parties in a judicial or investigative proceeding contrary to the law;
 - g) serious or repeated violation of the legal and sub-legal provisions regulating the organization and functioning of the courts or the prosecution;
 - i) to notify the Head and the Council, as well as the competent authorities, by law, of interference or other forms of influence by other Magistrates, lawyers, political functionaries, public officials or other entities;
 - p) breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention, in accordance with the provisions of the legislation in force.

Q232 (General Comment): Please briefly describe the procedure: In the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, is provided that, breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention is a disciplinary violation. Also, in the Law no. 9367 dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended, is provided that, any violation of the obligations set forth in this law, when it does not constitute a criminal offense, constitutes an administrative offense and is punishable by a fine.

Please note that some of the procedure to sanction breaches of the rules on the conflict of interest for both judges and prosecutors are provided in the law on the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania. In question 223, this law under the "law on judges" tick. However, please be advised that this law in question 232 has been reported in the section "other, please specify" because, under the similar section includes "law on public prosecutors/public prosecution". In Albania these are two different law: law on the status of judges and prosecutors, which would correspond to a section titled "law on public prosecutors" and the law on the organisation and functioning of the prosecution offices in the Republic of Albania, which would correspond to a section titled "law on public prosecution".

Q232 (2021): other: In the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors” is provided that, breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention is a disciplinary violation. Q233 (2021): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assesseees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assesseees or their related persons. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets; (d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2020; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, for 2020 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 32 judges, and 12 prosecutors.

To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

Q243 (2021): The High Justice Inspector shall be responsible for the verification of complaints, investigation of violations on its own initiative and the initiation of disciplinary proceedings against judges and prosecutors of all levels, members of the High Judicial Council, High Prosecutorial Council and the Prosecutor General, in accordance with the procedure defined by law.

Q243 (2019): The High Justice Inspector shall be responsible for the verification of complaints, investigation of violations on its own initiative and the initiation of disciplinary proceedings against judges and prosecutors of all levels, members of the High Judicial Council, High Prosecutorial Council and the Prosecutor General, in accordance with the procedure defined by law.

Please note that these institutional changes were a result of the justice reform in Albania.

Q244 (2022): High Prosecutorial Council

Q244 (2019): 1. The prosecutor shall be disciplinarily liable in accordance with the law.

2. The prosecutor shall be dismissed upon decision of the High Prosecutorial Council when:

a) Committing serious professional or ethical misconduct which discredit the position and the image of the prosecutor in the course of performing the duty;

b) Sentenced by a final court decision for commission of a crime.

3. Against the dismissal decision may be appealed to the Constitutional Court.

4. The prosecutor shall be suspended from duty upon decision of the High Prosecutorial Council when:

a) Upon him/her is imposed the personal security measure of “arrest in prison” or “house arrest” for commission of a criminal offence;

b) He/she obtains the capacity of the defendant for a serious offence committed intentionally;

c) Disciplinary proceedings being initiated under the law”.

Q245 (2019): 1. During the disciplinary proceeding, the magistrate or his representative has the right to know the documents of the file and to obtain copies thereof. Within five days of the submission of the request, the Council shall provide the magistrate with the conditions for obtaining access to the file, and make available copies of the documents.

1/1. The right of access to the file may be restricted only if it is indispensable, proportionate and when the disclosure of information causes an irreparable and serious damage to the following interests:

a) fundamental rights of another person, or

b) national security, as defined by the legislation on classified information, or

c) prevention, investigation and prosecution of criminal offences;

ç) equality of parties in a judicial process and progress of the judicial process

The right of access shall be limited as long as the above causes exist. In any case, the magistrate or his representative has access to the file before the Council takes the decision. 2.

dh) To be represented under the provisions of the Code of Administrative Procedures,

e) Recover his/her legal costs reasonably incurred in cases where no disciplinary measure is imposed.

3. The Council may request the magistrate to submit information, documents or any evidence and to attend hearings.

4. The parties have the right to be notified on any decision of the Council within 5 days upon being made.

Q246 (2019): In terms of Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, submitting a disciplinary complaint and the initiation of a disciplinary investigation by the Chief Justice Inspector are two different legal concepts. In the transitional provisions of this law is stipulated that, until the establishment of the Chief Justice Inspector (not yet established), the investigation of disciplinary violations for prosecutors shall be conducted by the General Prosecutor. While, disciplinary measure is taken by the High Prosecutorial Council. The General Prosecution, exercising the competencies of Chief Justice Inspector has 3 months to assess the admissibility of the complaint as well as 6 months to conduct a disciplinary investigation, with the option of delaying another 3 months. After these terms, Chief Justice Inspector starts a disciplinary proceeding submitting the report and the folder (documents) of investigation to the High Prosecutorial Council.

During 2019, only in 1 (one) case a prosecutor was dismissed from the High Prosecutorial Council, for committing the criminal offence (Article 300, of the Criminal Code).

Q248 (2022): In the case of the second disciplinary proceeding completed during 2022, the High Justice Inspector has proposed to the High Prosecutorial Council, the appointment of the disciplinary measure "Public notice" for the prosecutor and for the head of the prosecution office, for the disciplinary violations provided in Article 102/1, letters "ç", "dh", and "l", of the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", as amended. At the end of the disciplinary proceeding, with Decision no. 31, dated 24.02.2022, High Prosecutorial Council rejected the proposal of the High Justice Inspector to give the disciplinary measure "Public notice" to the two magistrates.

Q248 (2020): The proposal of Chief Justice Inspector for disciplinary measure “Public remark” for ta prosecutor was found not based in law from the majority of members of the Council and the proposal was rejected by the Decision no. 269, dated 17.12.2020, of High Prosecutorial Council.

Against the dismissal decision may be appealed to the Constitutional Court.

Q251 (2019): The magistrate shall have the right to appeal a decision imposing a disciplinary measure before the competent court.

Against the dismissal decision may be appealed to the Constitutional Court.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

Q156 (General Comment): Parties to court proceedings may lodge complaints about the work of courts to various institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina, as explained in the response below. If those institutions find that the complaints are well founded, they order that irregularities in the work of the court be corrected and in addition, in some cases, award compensation to the complainants. The information provided in the answer to the Question 156 relates to all complaints about the work of the courts submitted to the institutions listed below in 2022.

Excessive length of proceedings/Non execution of court decisions: A person whose right to a fair trial is violated by the excessive length of court proceedings or non-execution of the court decisions, can submit an appeal to the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Based on Article VI of the Constitution the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina inter alia has appellate jurisdiction over issues under the Constitution arising out of a judgment of any other court in the country. According to Article 16, paragraph 3 of its Rules, the Constitutional Court may examine, within its appellate jurisdiction, an appeal when there is no decision of a competent court if the appeal indicates a grave violation of the rights and fundamental freedoms safeguarded by the Constitution or by the international documents applied in Bosnia and Herzegovina. The Court admits appeals, based on the aforementioned provision of the Rules, alleging that a court of general jurisdiction has breached both Article II/3.e of the Constitution and Article 6, paragraph 1, of the European Convention on Human Rights by exceeding a reasonable time for determining a court case (i.e. any sort of a court case). If the violation is found, the Constitutional Court orders the court of general jurisdiction to finalize the case in question without any delay.

In a decision granting an appeal, the Constitutional Court may also award compensation for non-pecuniary damages. If the Constitutional Court considers that compensation is necessary, it shall award it on equitable basis, taking into account the standards set forth in the case-law of the Constitutional Court. The compensation is paid from budget of the government financing the court of general jurisdiction found to be responsible for the excessive length of proceedings.

In addition, a legislative framework that regulates the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time, according to which the courts act, has been established recently in several jurisdictions in Bosnia and Herzegovina. According to this legal framework, the party has two options: to file a motion for procedure expedition to the court processing the case for which expedition is requested or file a complaint with the highest court in respective jurisdictions to determine the violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time, which requires the determination of financial compensation. In the remaining jurisdictions in Bosnia and Herzegovina, a legislative procedure is underway for the adoption of a legal framework on the protection of the right to a trial within a reasonable time. Wrongful arrest/detention and wrongful conviction: Terms under which person is entitled to compensation of damages for wrongful arrest and wrongful conviction are provided in criminal procedure codes. These terms are provided as follows:

Wrongful arrest - a person is entitled to compensation of damages in the following cases: (i) a person who was in detention, but criminal proceedings were not instituted or proceedings were dismissed or a final verdict was pronounced acquitting the person of charges or charges were rejected; (ii) a person who was subjected to unlawful detention or retained in detention or a correctional institution due to a mistake; (iii) a person who was in detention longer than the sentence to which he was convicted; (iv) a person who served a sentence of imprisonment, and was pronounced a shorter imprisonment sentence in reopened criminal proceedings than the sentence he had served, or was pronounced a criminal sanction other than imprisonment or he was pronounced guilty but freed from sanction; (v) a person who was imprisoned without a legal ground is entitled to compensation of damages if no pretrial detention was ordered against him or the time for which he was imprisoned was not included in the sentence pronounced for a criminal

Q156 (2022): The Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported that the influx of cases at the Constitutional Court of BiH varies from year to year. Depending on the influx, other data on cases of the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina also vary. The Constitutional Court of BiH could not give an answer as to what factors influenced that figure. In previous years, the only thing that was evident was that cases involving the length of court procedures and the non-enforcement of court decisions had an effect on the total number of incoming cases. This was not the case in 2022, due to the fact that a certain number of these cases were processed by courts within the new legislative framework that regulates the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time. According to the Constitutional Court of BiH, most of their cases concern allegations regarding the violation of the right to a fair trial (Article 6 of the European Convention) and the right to property (Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 to the European Convention) as well as cases in which the Constitutional Court of BiH is petitioned to proceed as a court of the fourth instance.

A legislative framework that regulates the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time, according to which the courts act, has been established in one part of the jurisdiction in Bosnia and Herzegovina. According to this legal framework, the party has two options: to file a motion for procedure expedition to the court processing the case for which expedition is requested or file a complaint with the highest court in respective jurisdictions to determine the violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time, which requires the determination of financial compensation. In other parts of the jurisdiction of BiH, the establishment of this legislative framework is underway. When it comes to the number of motions to expedite case resolution, a total of 154 motions were filed to the courts in 2022. In 2022, the courts granted 39 and denied/dissmissed 76 motions of the parties. In addition, the courts received 15 claims for damages last year. In 7 cases, the courts decided to award compensation to the plaintiffs, while they rejected the lawsuit with a claim for damages in 5 cases.

The Institution of Human Rights Ombudsman of Bosnia and Herzegovina (the Ombudsman) handles complaints related to malfunctioning of public authorities or to human rights violations committed by any public institution in Bosnia and Herzegovina. In performing its competences the Ombudsman cannot decide on compensation for determined human rights violations. There is no strict deadline for handling complaints. In cases where violation of rights is established, the Ombudsman issues recommendation to competent public institutions to undertake measures to restore human rights violation or poor functioning of administration. The Institution also provides assistance to citizens how to use the most adequate legal remedies or advises them which institution to address. The Ombudsman received 347 complaints against courts in 2022; the structure of the complaints was as follows: 29 complaints alleging excessive length of proceedings, 22 complaints alleging ineffective enforcement of court decisions, 12 complaints against judges for violation of procedural laws, 2 complaints against the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina and 282 complaints related to the violation of other rights related to court procedure. In 2022 the Ombudsman issued 67 recommendations to the courts. These statistics are not included in the data prepared for Question 156, as the Ombudsman does not have the authority to determine compensation for damages caused to complainants of the work of courts and other institutions.

Q156 (2021): Number of requests shown in the table refers to the requests received in 2021 and number of the condemnations refers to the total number of condemnations issued in 2021, regardless of the year of request.

There were some significant variations between data for 2020 and 2021.

The Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported the increase of the number of condemnations for excessive length of proceedings and non-execution of court decisions in 2021. Namely, the Court concluded during the reporting year that the majority of the relevant legislative and other authorities in Bosnia and Herzegovina failed to meet the timeframe determined previously by that institution for taking legislative measures and other corrective activities to help reduce systematic violations of the right to trial within a reasonable time. Accordingly, the Court has intensified the processing of individual applications of the parties in court proceedings alleging infringement of the right to trial within a reasonable time or the right to have a court decision enforced. There were no particular reasons (e.g. change of policy or legislation) for the data variations between 2020 and 2021 for the following categories: wrongful arrest, wrongful conviction, and others. In this regard, the relevant authorities (e.g. ministries of justice, public defenders, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina) explained that the numbers of requests and condemnations and the amount of compensation were based on the circumstances of individual cases.

Q156 (2020): Specific comments for 2020: Number of requests shown in the table refers to the requests received in 2020 and number of the condemnations refers to the total number of condemnations in 2020, regardless of the year of request.

There were significant variations between data for 2020 and 2019.

In particular, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported that during 2020 it rejected all individual applications alleging the non-execution of court decisions against public sector debtors (e.g. government, state-owned companies, local self-government units etc.). Having concluded that the non-execution of court decisions against public sector debtors was a systematic problem, in relation to the Article 6 of the European Convention the Human Rights, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina introduced the previously mentioned policy. In addition, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina requested the relevant authorities to take comprehensive corrective activities. As for the increased number of condemnations regarding excessive length of court proceedings in 2020, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported that the higher number of condemnations corresponds with the relevant authorities' continued lack of success to take efficient legislative and other measures to reduce the length of proceedings at the courts in Bosnia and Herzegovina. There were no particular reasons (e.g. change of policy or legislation) for the data variations between 2020 and 2019 for the following categories: wrongful arrest, wrongful conviction, and others. In this regard, the relevant authorities (e.g. ministries of justice, public defenders) stated that the numbers of requests and condemnations and the amount of compensation depend on the circumstances of individual cases.

Q156 (2019): Specific comments for 2019: Number of requests shown in the table refers to the requests received in 2019 and number of the condemnations refers to the total number of condemnations in 2019, regardless of the date of submission of the request. There are significant variations between data for 2019 compared to 2018 when it comes to the number of requests, the number of condemnations, and the amount of awarded compensations for the Excessive length of proceedings and the Non - execution of court decisions. The reason for the variations is a current temporary policy change of the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina, regarding admissibility and handling of individual applications, pending its request to the legislative authorities and the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina to take systemic measures to ensure the reasonable length of proceedings at the courts in Bosnia and Herzegovina. There are no particular reasons (e.g. change of policy or legislation) for the data differences between 2019 and 2018 for Wrongful arrest, Wrongful conviction, and Others. The variations are explained by the relevant institutions (i. e. ministries of justice, public defenders) as the increase or decrease, registered specially in 2019, in terms of the number of requests, the number of condemnations, and the amount of awarded compensations (e.g. Courts of general jurisdiction awarded in some cases relatively higher amounts of damages to the plaintiffs due to the specific facts and circumstances of those cases).

Q160 (General Comment): A judge cannot adjudicate the case if circumstances exist that raise a reasonable suspicion as to his/her impartiality. The court president decides on the request for exemption of a judge in civil proceedings. The court in plenary session decides on the petition for exemption of a judge in criminal proceedings.

Q161 (2022): 87% of procedures initiated during 2022 were resolved in the reference year.

Out of the total number of initiated procedures in the reference year, the party's request for the recusal of the judge was accepted in 9% procedures.

Q161 (2021): 96% of procedures initiated during 2021 were resolved in the reference year.

Out of the total number of initiated procedures in the reference year, the party's request for the recusal of the judge was accepted in 16% procedures.

Q161 (2020): 99% challenges submitted by the parties in proceedings during 2020 were resolved in the same year.

Q161 (2019): 95% challenges submitted by the parties in proceedings during 2019 were resolved in the same year.

Q162 (General Comment): In December 2021, however, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted the guidelines requiring the chief prosecutors in the country to prescribe internal procedure for issuing specific instructions. The guidelines read as follows: The chief prosecutor gives mandatory individual instructions for taking procedural and substantive prosecutorial decisions in accordance with the law. The instructions must be issued in writing and entered in the case file. The prosecutor is obliged to act in accordance with the individual instructions given by the chief prosecutor unless following such instructions would mean a violation of the law. If the prosecutor disagrees with the individual instructions, he will submit his dissenting opinion to the chief prosecutor. The chief prosecutor, after obtaining the opinion of the collegiate of the prosecutor's office, makes an elaborate decision in relation to the prosecutor's dissenting opinion. The chief prosecutors issued specific instructions to public prosecutors to make a certain decision (i.e. to investigate or not, to prosecute or not) or take a certain action in a total of 80 cases in 2022, following the general guidelines that the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has adopted requiring the chief prosecutors to prescribe internal procedure for issuing specific instructions.

Q162 (2019): The Criminal Procedure Code pinpoints a series of core principles. Criminal proceedings may only be initiated and conducted upon the motion of the prosecutor. The latter shall initiate prosecution if there is evidence that a criminal offence has been committed. If during the course of an investigation, the prosecutor finds that there is enough evidence for grounded suspicion that the suspect has committed a criminal offence, he/she shall prepare and refer the indictment to the preliminary hearing judge. The main rights and duties of prosecutors are: as soon as he/she becomes aware that there are grounds for suspicion that a criminal offence has been committed, to take necessary steps to discover it and investigate it, to identify the suspect(s), guide and supervise the investigation, as well as direct the activities of authorized officials pertaining to the identification of suspect(s) and the gathering of information and evidence; to perform an investigation; to grant immunity; to request information from governmental bodies, companies and physical and legal persons in Bosnia and Herzegovina; to issue summonses and orders and to propose the issuance of summonses and orders as provided under this Code; to order authorized officials to execute an order issued by the Court as provided by this Code; to establish facts necessary for deciding on claims under property law and on the forfeiture of property gain obtained by the commission of a criminal offence; to propose the issuance of a warrant for pronouncement of the sentence pursuant to the Code; to issue and defend indictment before the Court; to file legal remedies; to perform other tasks as provided by law. Senior public prosecutor shall have the right and duty to give mandatory instructions to the junior public prosecutor regarding his/her work, and may, apart from that: take certain actions which are in the competence of junior public prosecutor; authorize a different junior public prosecutor to process individual cases that are within the competence of the junior public prosecutor; authorize a junior public prosecutor to perform individual activities that are within the competence of another junior public prosecutor.

Q162-0 (General Comment): The judicial system in Bosnia and Herzegovina is consisted of both courts and prosecutor's offices, as mutually independent institutions in performing their powers. The law establishes prosecutor's offices and courts as autonomous institutions. Judges and prosecutors are considered to be judicial office holders. The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina— an institution with mixed composition- appoints judges and prosecutors; it has identical competences over issues regarding both judges and prosecutors/courts and prosecutor's offices. The same legislation regulates salaries of public prosecutors and judges. Prosecutor's offices have their own respective budgets, adopted by parliaments in the procedure applicable to all other public institutions. Pursuant to the specific legislation regulating the legal status of prosecutors' offices in Bosnia and Herzegovina, they constitute independent authorities which prosecute perpetrators of criminal offenses and file legal expedients for the purpose of protecting legality and constitutionality. Public prosecution offices shall perform their functions on the basis of the constitution and the law. No one shall have the right to influence the public prosecutor's office in the execution of its constitutional and legal functions.

The basic right and the basic duty of the prosecutor is the detection and prosecution of perpetrators of criminal offenses. The prosecutor has have the following rights and duties: a) as soon as the prosecutor becomes aware that there are grounds for suspicion that a criminal offense has been committed, to take necessary steps to discover it and investigate it, to identify the suspect(s), guide and supervise the investigation, as well as direct the activities of authorized officials pertaining to the identification of suspect(s) and the gathering of information and evidence; b) to conduct an investigation in accordance with the law; c) to grant immunity in accordance with law; d) to request information from governmental bodies, companies and other physical and legal persons; e) to issue summonses and orders and to propose the issuance of summonses and orders in accordance with the law; f) to order authorized officials to execute an order issued by the court as provided by the law; g) to propose the issuance of a warrant for pronouncement of the sentence; h) to issue and defend indictment before the court; i) to file legal remedies; j) to perform other tasks as provided by the law.

The Chief Prosecutor shall have the right and duty to give mandatory instructions to the public prosecutor regarding his/her work, and may, apart from that: take certain actions which are in the competence of the public prosecutor; authorize a different public prosecutor to process individual cases that are within the competence of the public prosecutor; authorize a public prosecutor to perform individual activities that are within the competence of another public prosecutor. The Chief Prosecutor may perform criminal prosecution within the competence of a public prosecutor, and in doing so, s/he may: undertake necessary measures related to detection of crimes and identification of perpetrators with the purpose of directing preceding criminal proceedings; request investigation conduct; bring and represent indictment, i.e. indictment proposals and other proposals before competent court; file appeals against unlawful court decisions, i.e. withdraw already filed appeals.

The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has the following competencies: appointing Chief Prosecutors, Deputy Chief Prosecutors and prosecutors; receiving complaints against prosecutors, conducting disciplinary proceedings, determining disciplinary liability, and imposing disciplinary measures on prosecutors; deciding upon appeals in disciplinary proceedings; deciding upon suspensions of prosecutors; deciding upon issues of incompatibility of other functions performed by prosecutors; deciding upon the temporary assignment or transfer of prosecutors to another prosecutor's office; supervising the advanced professional training of prosecutors and advising the Centers for Judicial and Prosecutorial Training in their adoption of programmes of advanced professional training for prosecutors; determining the minimum amount of advanced professional training to be undertaken by every prosecutor each year; determining the induction training for candidates chosen for prosecutorial office and supervising the provision of such

Q164 (General Comment): The judicial functions in Bosnia and Herzegovina are carried out by courts at four levels of the system according to the respective laws on courts:

a. Bosnia and Herzegovina: The Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina,

b. The Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina: Supreme Court, cantonal courts (there are 10 cantons and each canton has its own cantonal court i.e. second instance courts), and municipal courts (first instance courts).

c. Republika Srpska: Supreme Court, district courts (there are 6 district courts i.e. second instance courts), Higher Commercial Court (second instance specialized court), basic courts (first instance courts of general jurisdiction), and district commercial courts (first instance specialized courts).

d. Brčko District of Bosnia and Herzegovina: Appellate Court and Basic Court.

According to the Law on The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina this institution has the following competencies with regards to the courts: appointing court presidents and judges, receiving complaints against judges, conducting disciplinary proceedings, determining disciplinary liability, and imposing disciplinary measures on judges; deciding upon appeals in disciplinary proceedings; deciding upon suspensions of judges; deciding upon issues of incompatibility of other functions performed by judges; deciding upon the temporary assignment or transfer of judges to another court; supervising the advanced professional training of judges and advising the Centers for Judicial and Prosecutorial Training in their adoption of programs of advanced professional training for judges; determining the minimum amount of advanced professional training to be undertaken by every judge each year; determining the induction training for candidates chosen for courts and supervising the provision of such training; determining the number of judges, after consultation with the relevant court president, relevant budgetary authority, and the relevant Ministry of Justice; setting criteria for the performance evaluations of judges and prosecutors; setting criteria for the courts, and initiating enquiries concerning administrative or financial conduct; issuing codes of ethics for judges.

Q171 (2022): ODC was informed about three investigations initiated against two judges and one prosecutor. ODC wasn't informed about end of the investigations.

One judge was sentenced to one-year prison sentence for corruptive criminal offence, in proceeding initiated last year.

Q171 (2020): In addition to one corruption-related case, there is also one case initiated because of family violence in 2020. There are also pending criminal cases against 2 judges and 4 public prosecutors from previous years.

In one case not related to corruption, the judge was sentenced to two years and ten months in prison.

Q171 (2019): In addition to one criminal case initiated against one judge in 2019, it should be noted that there are also pending criminal cases against 3 judges and 5 prosecutors that had been initiated in previous years.

Q172-0 (General Comment): The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted the Guidelines for the prevention of conflicts of interest in the judiciary (July 2016), covering a) incompatibilities; b) reporting on property, income, obligations and interests; c) gifts and other benefits; d) contacts with third persons and abuse of confidential information; e) nepotism; and f) education and awareness-raising. The Guidelines elaborate the existing legislation and code of ethics and go into further detail with practical “do’s and don’ts” in a variety of situations.

There is an automated case assignment system in place, where cases are randomly assigned to judges, according to predetermined criteria.

In a situation where the judge to whom a case is assigned must, as required by law, be disqualified or recused from further proceedings, the case will be reassigned to another judge by the Court President or his deputy.

Disqualification of judges is governed by the civil procedure codes in Bosnia and Herzegovina (Law on Civil Procedure before the Court of BiH and civil procedure codes of the BiH Federation, Republika Srpska and Brcko District of BiH), which stipulate that:

a) the judge may be disqualified if circumstances exist that cast doubt to his impartiality (disqualification); b) the motion for disqualification of a judge shall be decided by Court President, and the motion for disqualification of Court President shall be decided by the court in plenary session; c) the provisions on disqualification of judges shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to record keepers. The criminal procedure codes of BiH, BiH Federation, Republika Srpska and Brcko District of BiH stipulate that:

a) the provisions on disqualification of a judge shall accordingly be applied to prosecutors and persons authorised to represent the prosecutor in the proceedings, record keepers, court interpreters and other staff members; b) the prosecutor shall decide the disqualification of persons authorised to represent him in criminal proceedings, and the Collegium of the Prosecutor’s Office shall decide the disqualification of the prosecutor. c) the panel, presiding judge or judge shall decide the disqualification of record keepers, court interpreters and other staff member, and, until the indictment is filed, it shall be decided by the prosecutor. In a situation where the judge to whom a case is assigned must be disqualified or recused from the case, the case will be reassigned to another judge. The same rule applies to prosecutors.

Case reassignment is governed by the books of rules on the case management systems in courts and prosecutor's offices (the Book of Rules on CMS and the Book of Rules on TCMS).

The case is reassigned to another judge by the Court President or a person authorised by him, who must state the grounds for reassignment.

The case is reassigned to another prosecutor by the Chief Prosecutor, who must state the grounds for reassignment.

Q182 (General Comment): In accordance with Article 17, item 27 of the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Council provides its opinion on complaints submitted by a judge or prosecutor who considers that his/her rights established by this or another law, or his/her independence, are endangered. These opinions are issued in order to identify threats to the independence of judicial institutions, that is holders of judicial functions, and to publicize it, as well as to invite relevant participants to refrain from further activities that threaten the independence of the judiciary. The Law does not provide for sanctions that the Council may impose in these situations.

Additionally, all criminal codes adopted at different levels of government in Bosnia and Herzegovina contain chapters dedicated to the protection of judiciary. The object of the criminal protection of this group of crimes is the functioning of the judiciary. The main objective of the prescribed criminals is to ensure and protect the independence of the judiciary and the legitimate work of the judiciary and other bodies. Most of the offenses in this group relate to endangering the criminal proceedings, endangering the smooth conduct of criminal proceedings and executing the criminal sanctions, ie protecting the special categories of subjects in criminal proceedings.

The criminal codes contain provisions by which obstruction of the judiciary is criminalized (eg. Article 241 of the Criminal Code BiH, Article 339 of the Criminal Code RS, 358, 359, 359a of the Criminal Code FBiH, Articles 352, 353 of the Criminal Code BD BiH) in such a way that attacks, threats or intimidation of a judge or prosecutor in connection with the exercise of judicial or prosecutorial duties are prescribed as criminal offenses.

Q184 (General Comment): The system for distribution of cases in the courts of Bosnia and Herzegovina is organized as random and automatic allocation, in accordance with predefined parameters. Due to the parameters the system for distribution of cases is classified as "other type of allocation". These parameters are prescribed by the decision of the court president and they include specialization of judges and percentage of participation of every judge in the distribution of cases. After these parameters are set, system randomly distributes cases to judges of particular specialization and in accordance with the percentage of each judges' participation in the distribution, but also considering workload of individual judges. The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has adopted the Rulebook on internal court operations and the Rulebook on the Automated Case Management System in Courts. Priority cases (e.g. cases involving detention, cases involving minors etc.) are distributed urgently as prescribed by the law or by the decision of the court president. The law stipulates shorter deadlines for priority cases, so these cases have to be allocated to judges urgently and judges have to start working on them immediately. It is possible to exclude a judge from the allocation for various reasons. Judge can be temporarily excluded due to illness, vacation, longer absence, over load with cases etc.

Q185-1 (2022): The relevant legislation on court procedures in Bosnia and Herzegovina prescribes circumstances that call into question his/her impartiality in which a judge cannot adjudicate the case. These circumstances indicate that the judge has a conflict of interest in the individual case and therefore there is a legal base for initiating procedures to prevent or recuse him/her from dealing with the case.

As an example, the judge must not deal with the case if the party, legal representative or authorized agent is his/her blood relative in direct line to any degree or in the lateral line up to fourth degree, or if they are spouses or relatives up to second degree, regardless of whether the marriage has been terminated or not. In addition, as another example, the judge must be taken off the case if it turns out that he/she has participated in the same case in reaching the judgment of the inferior instance court. In conclusion, the legislation on court procedures defines the basis (i.e. aforementioned circumstances that pertain to the conflict of interest) and the procedure for the recusal of the judge. In this regard, the legislation does not refer specifically to the conflict of interest, i.e. the laws do not foresee it as a separate category. However, it is in the law that the recusal of the judges as a legal term comprises all matters related to the protection of the impartiality in the court procedures. Consequently, it is not possible in Bosnia and Herzegovina to differentiate data on the number of reassigned cases for the following category: Recusal of the judge or requested by the parties. In the context of data on the total number of reassigned court cases in 2022 (i.e. 475 394), it is important to take into account that these court cases were redistributed primarily because the judges in charge of these court cases have ceased to work in a particular court (i.e. appointment to another court, retirement, resignation etc.). In addition, courts had to reassign a significant number of cases owing to the longer absence of judges because of sick leave. Finally, harmonizing the burden of judges with court cases in a single court and regrouping judges within the court made it necessary to reassign noteworthy number of court cases.

Q186 (General Comment): When reassigning the case through the Case Management System it is necessary to select a valid reason for reassignment.

Users of system have to select an option from the list of the reasons for obligatory reassignment prescribed by the law, or the alternative option “Other reasons”. When the latter option is selected, a detailed explanation on reasons for reassignment of the case needs to be submitted pursuant to the Article 9 of the Rulebook on the Automated Case Management System in Courts.

Q187 (General Comment): Priority cases are allocated to judges and prosecutors through automatic allocation algorithm based on specific setup of predefined parameters used for priority cases. This basically means that in courts and prosecutor offices there is always at least one judge or prosecutor determined in advance, who is person on duty for certain period and to whom such cases will be assigned automatically by system. All other non-priority cases are also allocated to judges through automatic allocation algorithm but setup for this allocation is more complex and based on more than one information from new case, and usually with more judges available in pool to select from. Both algorithms (for priority and non-priority cases) are always based on court president decision, which is created once per year or more often if necessary.

Regarding reassignment of cases:

All reassignments of cases are processed through the computerized distribution of cases , whether new judge is selected by automatic allocation algorithm (in accordance to predefined parameters) or by court president decision. In every case, reason for reassignment has to be entered in the system by selecting from predefined list of reasons for reassignment and/or adding free text as description. Q190 (General Comment): After launching a legislative Initiative to amend the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina so as to include the provisions for declaring the assets and interests of judicial office holders, the HJPC in September 2018 adopted the Rulebook on the Submission, Verification and Processing of the Financial Statements of Judges and Prosecutors and a new Financial Statement Form (the Rulebook).

The Rulebook establishes the procedures and high standards of transparency for financial statements of judges and prosecutors in BiH, which primarily stipulates the obligations, the manner of and the deadline for filing the statements, information on sources and the manner of acquisition of financial assets, as well as information on their relatives employed in the judiciary. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basis for and the manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. The application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 for the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

After the administrative dispute initiated by the Association of Judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data in a manner prescribed by the Rulebook, the HJPC issued a decision postponing the application of the Rulebook until the completion of an administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC before the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in Bosnia and Herzegovina. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2018 using an earlier financial statement form. Considering that the HJPC's suit was rejected by the Court of BiH and the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH confirmed, the Rulebook was annulled in February 2020. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basics and manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. Application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 and referred to the submission of the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

Considering that in the administrative procedure initiated at the request of associations of judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data on a manner prescribed by the adopted Rulebook, the HJPC issued decision by which the application of the Rulebook was postponed indefinitely, that is until the completion of the administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC's suit before the Court of BiH against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH. Temporarily, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018 were submitted by previously used Financial Statement Form.

Q203 (General Comment): After launching a legislative Initiative to amend the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina so as to include the provisions for declaring the assets and interests of judicial office holders, the HJPC in September 2018 adopted the Rulebook on the Submission, Verification and Processing of the Financial Statements of Judges and Prosecutors and a new Financial Statement Form (the Rulebook).

The Rulebook establishes the procedures and high standards of transparency for financial statements of judges and prosecutors in BiH, which primarily stipulates the obligations, the manner of and the deadline for filing the statements, information on sources and the manner of acquisition of financial assets, as well as information on their relatives employed in the judiciary. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basis for and the manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. The application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 for the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

After the administrative dispute initiated by the Association of Judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data in a manner prescribed by the Rulebook, the HJPC issued a decision postponing the application of the Rulebook until the completion of an administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC before the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in Bosnia and Herzegovina. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2018 using an earlier financial statement form. Considering that the HJPC's suit was rejected by the Court of BiH and the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH confirmed, the Rulebook was annulled in February 2020. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2019 using an earlier financial statement form. Currently, the Law on the HJPC is subject to the legislative procedure aimed at amending the provisions on asset declaration.

Principles for Determining Measures

(1) Disciplinary measures imposed should be governed by the principle of proportionality. Before pronouncing the measures for a disciplinary offence, the following aspects shall be taken into consideration by the Disciplinary Panels:

- (a) The number and severity of the disciplinary offence committed and its consequences;
 - (b) The degree of responsibility;
 - (c) The circumstances under which the disciplinary offence was committed;
 - (d) The previous work and behaviour of the offender; and
 - (e) Any other circumstances that may affect the decision on the severity and type of disciplinary measure, including the degree of remorse and/or cooperation shown by the judge or prosecutor during the disciplinary proceedings.
- (2) The disciplinary measure of dismissal shall only be used in cases where a serious disciplinary offence is found and the severity of the offence makes it clear that the offender is unfit or unworthy to continue to hold his or her office.
- (3) The Council may take into account any prior suspension, imposed in the course of the proceedings in question, and may reduce the disciplinary measure accordingly, or may, at its discretion, determine that the prior suspension is itself a sufficient measure for the disciplinary violation or violations found.

Q226 (General Comment): Regulation/procedure on reporting a (potential) conflict of interest: THE LAW ON THE HIGH JUDICIAL AND PROSECUTORIAL COUNCIL OF BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA Article 85 (Opinions on Activities of a Judge or Prosecutor)

A judge or prosecutor may request the Council to provide an opinion on whether his or her activities are compatible with his or her function and the provisions of this Law. Such request shall contain details of the activities concerned. The Council shall respond in writing to such a request within a reasonable time from the receipt of such request. The response of the Council provided in accordance with this paragraph shall be binding.

Regulation/procedure for recusal/withdrawal from a case: THE CODE OF ETHICS FOR PROSECUTORS ADOPTED BY THE HIGH JUDICIAL AND PROSECUTORIAL COUNCIL OF BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA 2.1. A prosecutor shall ensure that his or her conduct, both in and out of prosecutor's office, maintains and enhances the confidence of the public and parties to the case in impartiality of the judge and judiciary as a whole. 2.2. A prosecutor shall conduct himself or herself in his/her personal or business affairs as to minimize the occasions on which it will be necessary for the prosecutor to be disqualified.

2.2.a. When assessing reasons for recusal, to avoid any perceived, potential or actual conflict of interest, a prosecutor shall pay particular attention to all duties and activities he/she performed prior to assuming judicial office.

2.2.b. A prosecutor who intends to leave judicial office, or who is aware that, in the forthcoming period, his/her term of office will cease by law or by a decision of the High Judicial or Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina, must not take advantage of the judicial office and resources at his/her disposal as a judge to promote his/her future activity, and to this end he/she will pay attention to the existence of potential reasons for his/her recusal from the cases he/she is involved in.

2.2.c. If a prosecutor is aware that a member of his/her family or another related person has a financial, political or other interest in a case in which he/she is involved as prosecutor, he/she shall request a recusal from such proceedings, which implies that a prosecutor should invest a reasonable effort to keep informed about financial, political and other interest of his/her family members.

Regulation on receiving gifts: THE CODE OF ETHICS FOR PROSECUTORS ADOPTED BY THE HIGH JUDICIAL AND PROSECUTORIAL COUNCIL OF BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA 4.11 A prosecutor and members of the prosecutor's family, shall neither ask for, nor accept, any gift, bequest, loan or favor in relation to anything done or to be done or omitted to be done by the prosecutor in connection with the performance of prosecutorial duties, nor shall a prosecutor knowingly allow such conduct by the prosecutorial staff and others under his supervision during and after performance of the prosecutorial office.

4.12 Subject to law and to any legal requirements of public disclosure, a prosecutor may receive a token gift, award or benefit as appropriate to the occasion on which it is made provided that such gift, award or benefit might not reasonably be perceived as intended to influence the prosecutor in the performance of prosecutorial duties or otherwise give rise to an appearance of partiality.

Q228 (General Comment): If a judicial office holder is not certain whether an activity is compatible with the judicial function and the relevant prerequisites from the law, he or she will obtain a binding opinion from the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina to clarify the issue.

A judicial office holder must make sure to comply with the prerequisite that the total amount of remuneration for other activities may not exceed 40% of his or her annual salary.

Q230 (General Comment): If a judicial office holder is not certain whether an activity is compatible with the judicial function and the relevant prerequisites from the law, he or she will obtain a binding opinion from the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina to clarify the issue. A judicial office holder must make sure to comply with the prerequisite that the total amount of remuneration for other activities may not exceed 40% of his or her annual salary.

Q231 (General Comment): According to the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 57) being engaged in activities that are incompatible with the prosecutorial function represents a disciplinary offence. Generally, according to the Law the following disciplinary measures may be pronounced for the legally prescribed disciplinary offences:

- (a) A written warning which shall not be made public;
- (b) Public reprimand;
- (c) Reduction in salary up to a maximum of 50% (fifty per cent) for a period of up to one (1) year;
- (d) Temporary or permanent reassignment to another court or prosecutor's office;
- (e) Demotion of a Court President to an ordinary judge or the Chief Prosecutor or Deputy Chief Prosecutor to an ordinary prosecutor; (f) Removal from office.

As a separate measure, instead of or in addition to any of the disciplinary measures set out above, the Council may, if appropriate, order that a judge or prosecutor participate in rehabilitation programme, counselling, or professional training.

The Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 59)

Principles for Determining Measures

- (1) Disciplinary measures imposed should be governed by the principle of proportionality. Before pronouncing the measures for a disciplinary offence, the following aspects shall be taken into consideration by the Disciplinary Panels:
 - (a) The number and severity of the disciplinary offence committed and its consequences;
 - (b) The degree of responsibility;
 - (c) The circumstances under which the disciplinary offence was committed;
 - (d) The previous work and behaviour of the offender; and
 - (e) Any other circumstances that may affect the decision on the severity and type of disciplinary measure, including the degree of remorse and/or cooperation shown by the judge or prosecutor during the disciplinary proceedings.
- (2) The disciplinary measure of dismissal shall only be used in cases where a serious disciplinary offence is found and the severity of the offence makes it clear that the offender is unfit or unworthy to continue to hold his or her office.
- (3) The Council may take into account any prior suspension, imposed in the course of the proceedings in question, and may reduce the disciplinary measure accordingly, or may, at its discretion, determine that the prior suspension is itself a sufficient measure for the disciplinary violation or violations found.

Q233 (General Comment): One of the chief prosecutors was held liable for disciplinary offences "behaviour inside or outside the court or office that demeans the dignity of the public prosecutor" and "any other behaviour that represents a serious breach of official duties or that compromises the public confidence in the impartiality or credibility of the public prosecutor", for leasing the flat for office to defence attorneys representing the clients prosecuted by his Prosecutor's Office.

Q234 (General Comment): Judges may be subject to disciplinary proceedings for violations stipulated by the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC). Disciplinary proceedings are initiated by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel of the HJPC.

The latter receives and reviews complaints concerning the conduct of judges or runs cases on its own initiative. After the Office of Disciplinary Counsel receives a complaint and reviews it, the complaint can be immediately discarded or other necessary actions can be carried out, including launching of an investigation. If the Office of Disciplinary Counsel establishes that there is reasonable ground to believe that a judge has made a disciplinary offence, it will launch an investigation of the facts and circumstances.

If the investigation shows that the complaint is not founded or the allegations of the complaint cannot be verified and proven, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will close the case and will not initiate disciplinary proceeding against a judge.

If the investigation shows that there is evidence to confirm allegations of misconduct of a judge, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will launch a disciplinary proceeding before the HJPC filing a disciplinary complaint. After filing the complaint, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel may offer the accused prosecutor a joint consent agreement for establishment of disciplinary liability for the committed disciplinary offences, which will be considered and approved by the competent panel of the HJPC.

Rights of Parties during Disciplinary Proceedings

Disciplinary procedures shall be governed by fairness and transparency. During the course of disciplinary proceedings, the judge or prosecutor concerned shall have the following rights that must be guaranteed in the Rules of Procedure for disciplinary proceedings adopted by the Council:

- (a) ~~the~~ the right to be duly notified of the allegations of the violation and the supporting evidence, along with the right to respond in writing or to have a verbal statement recorded in writing;
- (b) ~~the~~ the right to a fair and public hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial panel established by law. The press and public may be excluded from all or part of the hearing in the interests of morals, public order or national security in a democratic society, where the interests of juveniles or the protection of the private life of the parties so require, or to the extent strictly necessary in the opinion of the panel in special circumstances where publicity would prejudice the interests of justice;
- (c) ~~the~~ the right to assert the privilege against self-incrimination and to appear at any hearing and defend against the allegations with legal counsel of choice; (d) ~~the~~ the right that judgments shall be pronounced publicly and/or made public in some manner; and
- (e) ~~the~~ the right to appeal adverse decisions.

Q237 (General Comment): Some cases against judges were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

Q237 (2022): Some cases against judges were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

Q237 (2021): Some cases against judges were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

Q237 (2020): Some cases against judges were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

The following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. issuing decisions in patent violation of the law or persistent and unjustified violation of procedural rules;
3. unjustified delays in issuing decisions or any other act related to the exercise of judicial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the judicial function;
4. failure, for an unjustifiable reason, to comply with decisions, orders or requests of the Council;
5. failure to fulfil any mandatory training obligations or any other obligations imposed by law; 6. failure to comply with the decision on temporary transfer to another court.

Number of initiated cases is significantly lesser in 2020 than in the previous report (35). It should be noted that COVID-19 related issues had impact on work of disciplinary bodies, including lesser number of received complaints compared to prior year (15% for both judges and prosecutors).

Q237 (2019): Some proceedings against judges were initiated for both breach of professional ethics and professional inadequacy. According to your instruction, we tried to list the “main reasons” for initiating disciplinary proceedings, in our best estimate.

For purpose of the Questionnaire, the following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. issuing decisions in patent violation of the law or persistent and unjustified violation of procedural rules;
3. unjustified delays in issuing decisions or any other act related to the exercise of judicial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the judicial function;
4. failure, for an unjustifiable reason, to comply with decisions, orders or requests of the Council;
5. failure to fulfil any mandatory training obligations or any other obligations imposed by law; 6. failure to comply with the decision on temporary transfer to another court.

It should be noted that number of initiated proceedings is the highest since the establishment of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC), because of the high number of grounded complaints as well as an increase in number of the Office of Disciplinary Counsel staff.

Q239 (2022): A significant difference between the number of disciplinary proceedings initiated (35) and the total number of sanctions imposed (23) was caused by the following circumstances: the disciplinary action was rejected in (3) cases and disciplinary proceedings were suspended in (9) cases (4 judges retired, 3 judges resigned, 1 judge died, and 1 judge's term expired).

Q239 (2020): "Other" measure - written warning which shall not be made public - was imposed against 4 judges; this is a non-public measure.

Although there were no suspensions imposed in 2020 as a disciplinary sanction, it should be noted that 2 judges were temporarily suspended from office pending criminal proceedings and another judge was temporarily suspended from office until the completion of disciplinary proceedings initiated against him. In addition, 2 judges remain suspended as a result of criminal proceedings initiated before 2020.

Q239 (2019): As "other" measure, there is a written warning which shall not be made public imposed against 6 judges. This is a non-public measure.

Number of imposed sanctions (25) is lesser than the number of initiated proceedings (35). Usually, it takes up to six months (and sometimes more) for disciplinary bodies to complete disciplinary proceedings if they reach the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina as third instance. Therefore, some of the proceedings initiated in 2019 were not completed in 2019.

Although there were no suspensions imposed in 2019 as a disciplinary sanction, it should be noted that one judge was temporarily suspended from office pending criminal proceedings and another judge was temporarily suspended from office until the completion of disciplinary proceedings initiated against him. Also, 3 judges remain suspended as a result of criminal proceedings initiated before 2019.

Q241 (General Comment): Decisions of first-instance disciplinary panel can be appealed to a second-instance disciplinary panel. Decisions of second- instance disciplinary panel decisions can be appealed to the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council, but only regarding pronounced disciplinary sanction. In the event of removal from office, appeal is possible to the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Court of BiH). There is also a possibility of appeal to the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina, against final decision of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC)/Court of BiH, regarding possible breach of appellant's right prescribed by European Convention of Human Rights, in disciplinary proceedings. The Constitutional Court can revoke decisions of the HJPC.

Q241 (2019): Decisions of first-instance disciplinary panel can be appealed to a second-instance disciplinary panel. Decisions of second- instance disciplinary panel decisions can be appealed to the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council, but only regarding pronounced disciplinary sanction. In the event of removal from office, appeal is possible to the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The Constitutional Court can revoke decisions of the HJPC.

Q242 (2019): According to the Law on High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC), HJPC may impose as a disciplinary measure a temporary or permanent reassignment to another court. According to the Law on High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina, a judge may be assigned to perform judicial services in another court without his or her consent for a period of up to 3 months, in the event that such assignment is in order to participate in one particular case at the receiving court, or in the event that no other judge has consented to such an assignment. A judge may not be temporarily assigned to another court without his or her consent if he or she has been the subject of a temporary assignment in the preceding 12 months.

Q243 (General Comment): Prosecutors may be subject to disciplinary proceedings for violations stipulated by the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC). Disciplinary proceedings are initiated by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel of the HJPC.

The latter receives and reviews complaints concerning the conduct of prosecutors, or runs cases on its own initiative. After the Office of Disciplinary Counsel receives a complaint and reviews it, the complaint can be immediately discarded or other necessary actions can be carried out, including launching of an investigation. If the Office of Disciplinary Counsel establishes that there is reasonable ground to believe that a prosecutor has made a disciplinary offence, it will launch an investigation of the facts and circumstances. If the investigation shows that the complaint is not founded or the allegations of the complaint cannot be verified and proven, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will close the case and will not initiate disciplinary proceeding against a prosecutor.

If the investigation shows that there is evidence to confirm allegations of misconduct of a prosecutor, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will launch a disciplinary proceeding before the HJPC filing a disciplinary complaint. After filing the complaint, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel may offer the accused prosecutor a joint consent agreement for establishment of disciplinary liability for the committed disciplinary offences, which will be considered and approved by the competent panel of the HJPC.

During the disciplinary proceeding, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel may submit a request to remove the prosecutors temporarily from any duty, until the completion of the disciplinary proceeding on the basis of which there was a temporary removal from office. Temporary removal from office of a prosecutor can be requested until completion of an initiated dismissal procedure as well as until the termination of a criminal proceeding initiated against a prosecutor, while the temporary removal from office is mandatory in case when a prosecutor is in pre-trial detention, until pre-trial detention ends.

Q244 (2019): Prosecutors may be subject to disciplinary proceedings for violations stipulated by the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC), The Disciplinary Panels (first-and second instance) comprising of the members of the HJPC decide in disciplinary procedures initiated by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel against a prosecutor. During the disciplinary proceeding, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel may submit a request to remove the prosecutors temporarily from any duty, until the completion of the disciplinary proceeding on the basis of which there was a temporary removal from office. Temporary removal from office of a prosecutor can be requested until completion of an initiated dismissal procedure as well as until the termination of a criminal proceeding initiated against a prosecutor, while the temporary removal from office is mandatory in case when a prosecutor is in pre-trial detention, until pre-trial detention ends.

Q245 (General Comment): The Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina Article 68

Rights of Parties during Disciplinary Proceedings

Disciplinary procedures shall be governed by fairness and transparency. During the course of disciplinary proceedings, the judge or prosecutor concerned shall have the following rights that must be guaranteed in the Rules of Procedure for disciplinary proceedings adopted by the Council:

- (a) The right to be duly notified of the allegations of the violation and the supporting evidence, along with the right to respond in writing or to have a verbal statement recorded in writing;
- (b) The right to a fair and public hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial panel established by law. The press and public may be excluded from all or part of the hearing in the interests of morals, public order or national security in a democratic society, where the interests of juveniles or the protection of the private life of the parties so require, or to the extent strictly necessary in the opinion of the panel in special circumstances where publicity would prejudice the interests of justice;
- (c) The right to assert the privilege against self-incrimination and to appear at any hearing and defend against the allegations with legal counsel of choice; (d) The right that judgments shall be pronounced publicly and/or made public in some manner; and
- (e) The right to appeal adverse decisions.

Q246 (General Comment): Some cases against prosecutors were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

Q246 (2022): Some cases against prosecutors were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

Q246 (2021): Some cases against prosecutors were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

The number of disciplinary proceedings initiated against prosecutors increased considerably in 2021 compared to 2020. The most significant cause for this development was the increased number of complaints received in 2021 by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel at HJPC.

Q246 (2020): Some cases against prosecutors were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

For purpose of the Questionnaire, the following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. Neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. Unjustified delays in performing any acts related to the exercise of prosecutorial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the prosecutor;
3. Failing to carry out instructions of a superior prosecutor under whose authority they serve, unless the carrying out of such instruction would itself constitute a violation of law or this Article;
4. Failure, for an unjustified reason, to comply with the decisions, orders or requests of the Council;
5. Failure to fulfil any mandatory training obligations or any other obligations imposed by law;
6. Failure to comply with the decision on temporary transfer to another prosecutor's office.

Number of initiated cases is significantly lesser in 2020 than in the previous report (11). It should be noted that COVID-19 related issues had impact on work of disciplinary bodies, including lesser number of received complaints compared to prior year (15% for both judges and prosecutors).

Q246 (2019): Some proceedings against prosecutors were initiated for both breach of professional ethics and professional inadequacy. According to your instruction, we tried to list the “main reasons” for initiating proceedings, in our best estimate.

For purpose of the Questionnaire, the following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. Neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. Unjustified delays in performing any acts related to the exercise of prosecutorial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the prosecutor;
3. Failing to carry out instructions of a superior prosecutor under whose authority they serve, unless the carrying out of such instruction would itself constitute a violation of law or this Article;
4. Failure, for an unjustified reason, to comply with the decisions, orders or requests of the Council;
5. Failure to fulfil any mandatory training obligations or any other obligations imposed by law;
6. Failure to comply with the decision on temporary transfer to another prosecutor’s office.

It should be noted that number of initiated proceedings is the highest since the establishment of the HJPC, because of high number of grounded complaints as well as an increase in the number of the Office of Disciplinary Counsel staff.

Q247 (2020): Number of completed cases is significantly lesser in 2020 then in the previous report (13). It should be noted that COVID-19 related issues had impact on work of disciplinary bodies, including lesser number of received complaints compared to prior year (15% for both judges and prosecutors).

Q248 (2022): There was a difference between the number of disciplinary proceedings (13) and the number of penalties (10). This difference occurred because a disciplinary lawsuit was rejected in (3) cases.

Q248 (2020): Number of sanctions pronounced is significantly lesser in 2020 then in the previous report (12). It should be noted that COVID-19 related issues had impact on work of disciplinary bodies, including lesser number of received complaints compared to prior year (15% for both judges and prosecutors).

In 2020 only one sanction was pronounced against a prosecutor for the following reasons: out of 5 completed cases, 3 cases were dismissed and in one case a prosecutor died during the proceedings.

Although no suspension was imposed as disciplinary sanction in 2020, it should be noted that 4 prosecutors remain suspended as a result of criminal proceedings initiated against them before 2020.

Q248 (2019): As “other” measure, there is a written warning which shall not be made public, imposed against 4 prosecutors. This is a non-public measure.

The number of completed cases (13) is higher then the number of initiated proceedings (11). Usually, it takes up to six months (and sometimes more) for disciplinary bodies to complete disciplinary proceedings if they reach the Council as third instance. Therefore, some of the proceedings initiated in 2018 were completed in 2019.

Although no suspension was imposed as disciplinary sanction in 2019, it should be noted that there is ongoing suspension of 5 prosecutors, emanating form criminal proceedings initiated against them before 2019.

It should be noted that number of initiated proceedings and the number of sanctions pronounced against prosecutors is the highest since the establishment of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina, because of high number of grounded complaints as well as an increase in the number of the Office of Disciplinary Counsel staff.

Q251 (General Comment): Decisions of first-instance disciplinary panel can be appealed to a second-instance disciplinary panel. Decisions of second- instance disciplinary panel decisions can be appealed to the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council, but only regarding pronounced disciplinary sanction. In the event of removal from office, appeal is possible to the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Court of BiH). There is also a possibility of appeal to the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina, against final decision of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC)/Court of BiH, regarding possible breach of appellant’s right prescribed by European Convention of Human Rights, in disciplinary proceedings. The Constitutional Court can revoke decisions of the HJPC.

Q251 (2019): Decisions of first-instance disciplinary panel can be appealed to a second-instance disciplinary panel. Decisions of second- instance disciplinary panel decisions can be appealed to the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council, but only regarding pronounced disciplinary sanction. In the event of removal from office, appeal is possible to the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Court of BiH). There is also a possibility of appeal to the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina, against final decision of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC)/Court of BiH, regarding possible breach of appellant’s right prescribed by European Convention of Human Rights, in disciplinary proceedings. Montenegro

Q156 (2022): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 113 cases in work upon claims for just satisfaction. Based on the adopted claims for compensation of non- pecuniary damage, in 59 cases the Court found a violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and awarded the plaintiffs a total of 52 200 EUR. The Law on the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time prescribes that the compensation is determined in the amount range 300 - 5.000 EUR. The following criteria shall be taken into account when determining the amount of compensation: the complexity of the case in factual and legal terms, conduct of the applicant, conduct of courts and other state bodies, local self-government bodies, public services and other holders of public authority and the interest of the applicant. Wrongful arrest/detention: Data available from the Ministry of Justice. Data for settlements concluded in 2022.

Q156 (2021): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 149 cases in work upon claims for just satisfaction. Based on the adopted claims for compensation of non- pecuniary damage, in 64 cases the Court found a violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and awarded the plaintiffs a total of 40 000 EUR. The Law on the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time prescribes that the compensation is determined in the amount range 300 - 5.000 EUR. The following criteria shall be taken into account when determining the amount of compensation: the complexity of the case in factual and legal terms, conduct of the applicant, conduct of courts and other state bodies, local self-government bodies, public services and other holders of public authority and the interest of the applicant.

Q156 (2020): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 62 cases in work, upon claims for fair satisfaction. Based on the adopted claims for compensation of non-pecuniary damage, in 22 cases the Court found a violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and awarded the plaintiffs a total of 38 100 EUR.

In accordance with the article 498 of the Criminal Procedure Code, "(1) The right to compensation of damages for unjustifiable conviction shall be held by a person against whom a criminal sanction was imposed by a final decision or who was pronounced guilty but whose punishment was remitted, and subsequently, upon an extraordinary legal remedy, the new proceedings was finally discontinued or the convicted person was acquitted by a final decision or the charge was rejected, except in the following cases:

1) if the proceedings was discontinued or the charge was dismissed because in the new proceedings the subsidiary prosecutor or private prosecutor waived the prosecution, provided that the waiver occurred on the basis of an agreement with the accused person, 2) in the new proceedings the charge was dismissed by a ruling because the court lacked jurisdiction and the authorized prosecutor has initiated prosecution before the competent court.

(2) A convicted person i.e. an acquitted person, is not entitled to compensation of damages if he caused the criminal proceedings through a false confession in the investigatory procedure or otherwise, or caused his conviction through such statements during the proceedings, unless he was forced to do so.

(3) In the case of conviction for offences committed in concurrence, the right to compensation of damages may also relate to respective criminal offences in regard to which the conditions for approving compensation are met."

In accordance with art. 499 par. 2 of the Criminal Procedure Code, "Before bringing a compensation claim to the court, the injured party shall submit his/her request to the ministry competent for the affairs of the judiciary in order to reach a settlement on the existence of damage and the type and amount of compensation."

"Court concerned" is referred to as the Court before which the violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time has been questioned in the procedure prescribed by the Law on the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time (this could be any court in Montenegro).

Q156 (2019): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 78 cases in work, upon actions for fair redress. Based on the adopted actions for compensation of non-pecuniary damage, due to the violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time, a total of EUR 50.000 was awarded.

In 2019. the Ministry of Justice has, on the basis of 6 complete settlements on the existence of the damage, type and the amount of the compensation due to the unlawful deprivation of liberty, payed the amount of 5.238,00 €. Total number of filed requests was 50.

Ministry of Justice has several criteria on the basis of which the amount is being determined of the compensation for the damage due to the unlawful deprivation of liberty which is being offered for reaching the agreement - prior convictions, absolute statute of limitations on prosecution or the conviction is rejected due to the dismissal of the State prosecutor from further criminal prosecution, funds of the Ministry of Justice allocated by the Budget for this item, and especially, court practice is being monitored in the cases of this type, and in that terms the offer for reaching the agreement is being defined.

In accordance with the article 498 of the Criminal Procedure Code, “(1) The right to compensation of damages for unjustifiable conviction shall be held by a person against whom a criminal sanction was imposed by a final decision or who was pronounced guilty but whose punishment was remitted, and subsequently, upon an extraordinary legal remedy, the new proceedings was finally discontinued or the convicted person was acquitted by a final decision or the charge was rejected, except in the following cases:

The State Prosecution shall be a unique and independent state authority that performs the affairs of prosecution of the perpetrators of criminal offenses and other punishable acts who are prosecuted ex officio.

Q162-2 (General Comment): The Prosecution Service is, per se, a hierarchical organization and instructions are defined by the Law on State Prosecution Service. Instructions can be oral and written, and there is a procedure to be objected by the prosecutor if deemed unlawful or unfounded.

According to Article 132, § 1, of the Law on the State Prosecution Service: "Instructions for proceedings in an individual case shall be issued in written form and with the explanation. Exceptionally, when the circumstances do not allow for that, the instruction may be issued in an oral form, but it shall also be issued in written form within the appropriate time-frame".

According to the Law on State Prosecution Service, prosecutor has the right to indicate that the instruction is unlawful or unfounded and to request instruction to be repeated if it is given in written form or to be given in written form if it is oral. If the instruction is repeated and the prosecutor further deems that the instruction is unlawful or unfounded, the head of prosecutor's office may release him/her from the case upon written request and designate the case to another prosecutor. The subject prosecutor can not be responsible for the expressed opinion or filed request in this regard. Note: provisions of law not cited but rather correctly explained briefly.

Q171 (2019): In 2019, there were no criminal proceedings against state prosecutors. One criminal proceeding was initiated in 2018, when Prosecutorial council brought a decision of temporary removal from duty of the state prosecutor by the time of conclusion of the criminal proceeding.

Q172-0 (2022): Integrity plans;

Law on prevention of corruption regulates prevention of conflict of interest for holders of public functions, and thus applies also to judges and prosecutors.

Prevention of conflict of interest in the exercise of public functions

Article 7

A public official shall perform his/her function in such a manner that the public interest is not subordinated to private, and without causing a conflict of interest in the exercise of public function.

The conflict of interest in the exercise of public function exists when a private interest of a public official affects or may affect the impartiality of the public official in the exercise of public function.

The Agency shall establish the existence of a conflict of interest and implement measures for prevention of conflict of interest.

Opinions about the existence of conflict of interest in the exercise of public function and restrictions in the exercise of public functions and the decisions on the violation of the provisions of this Law relating to the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions, restrictions in the exercise of public functions, gifts, sponsorships and donations and reports on income and property by public officials, which are issued or adopted by the Agency in accordance with this Law, shall be binding for a public official.

It shall be deemed that a public official has violated the provisions of this Law if he fails to act in accordance with the opinion of the Agency referred to in paragraph 4 of this Article and with the obligations laid down in this Law or when he/she acts in a manner that violates the prohibitions and rules prescribed by this Law and other regulations regulating the conflict of interest in areas that are regulated by these regulations.

A public official whose function has terminated shall annually, over the next two years after termination of the function, submit the Report to the Agency, according to the state of play on the day of submitting the Report.

When moving to another public function, as well as in the case of election, appointment, or assignment to another public function, the public official shall, pursuant to Art. 12, para 2 and 4 of the present Law, notify the Agency thereon within 30 days of the change.

The obligation to submit Report and the procedure of verification of the data from the Report shall also apply to civil servants who are obliged to submit the Report in accordance with a special law.

Q208 (General Comment): Article 23 of the Law defines that the report shall include assets and income of married and common-law spouse and children, if they live in the same household

Q208 (2019): Article 23 of the Law defines that the report shall consist assets and income of married and common-law spouse and children, if they live in the same household.

Q211 (2019): During 2019, 8149 reports were submitted, submitted on various grounds. Q214 (General Comment): The Agency for Prevention of Corruption (APC) brings the decision about which it informs the public authority in which public official is working, for the purposes of initiating procedure of dismissal, suspension or imposition of a disciplinary measure. The public authority acting upon the decision of the APC may initiate administrative proceedings and impose sanctions such as disciplinary sanctions. The public authority informs the Agency for prevention of corruption about the results of this proceeding, in the deadline of 60 days.

Moreover, based on its findings, the Agency for prevention of corruption has the authority to initiate misdemeanor proceedings before misdemeanor courts. Other disciplinary sanction: sanctions are those that can be imposed for heavy disciplinary offence: fine in amount of 20-40 percent of monthly income for the period of 3 to 6 months or prohibition of promotion.

Q214 (2019): Agency for Prevention of Corruption brings the decision about which it informs the public authority in which public official is working, for the purposes of initiating procedure of dismissal, suspension or imposition of a disciplinary measure. The public authority informs the Agency for prevention of corruption about the results of this proceeding, in the deadline of 60 days.

Q215 (2022): Misdemeanour proceedings. In the reporting period, 2 misdemeanor proceedings were initiated against former prosecutors due to failure to submit asset declarations 30 days after termination of public office. 1 was completed, other is ongoing. The outcome of these proceedings was 1 fine in the amount of 300 euros

Administrative proceedings:

Also, in the reporting period, proceedings were initiated against 35 prosecutors related to the submission of reports with incorrect and incomplete data in 2021. Data on administrative proceedings initiated due to the submission of asset declarations with incorrect and incomplete data in 2022 will be known by the first quarter of 2022;

Authorities did not act in accordance with the Article 42 of the Law on Prevention of Corruption in none of the aforementioned decisions.

Q215 (2021): The number on proceedings related to prosecutors is not final, since the verification process for the last year is still ongoing until 31st March this year. The number of prosecutors is less than number of judges. The Annual Plan of Verification includes verification half the number of judges (166) and half the number of prosecutors (60). This information should help better understanding the results of the verification process of these two target groups.

Q215 (2020): Number of cases initiated

4 administrative procedures initiated and 2 misdemeanour proceedings initiated Number of cases completed

4 administrative procedures completed 2 misdemeanour proceedings completed Number of sanctions pronounced

In 1 administrative procedure the violation of the law has been established – the APC's Decision was forwarded to the Prosecutorial Council which initiated disciplinary procedure against the prosecutor, the procedure is still ongoing.

2 misdemeanour proceedings against prosecutors ended in 1 reprimand and 1 fine

The variety of sanctions the Agency applies to the public officials, in this case: judges and prosecutors. The administrative case that we mentioned is finalized within the remits of the Agency. The disciplinary measure imposed by the body responsible for appointing the prosecutors is something the Agency can't influence.

Q177 (2021): Consultative Body for judicial ethics as a part of Association of Judges

For consistent application of the principles of the Code of Ethics, the Association of the Judges of North Macedonia establishes an advisory committee, which upon request by a judge, lay-judge, president of a court, session of a court or the Association of Judges of Republic of North Macedonia (its branches) issues advisory opinions and advices concerning one or more questions regarding ethical conduct of a judge/lay-judge or regarding appropriate performance of judicial duties and avoidance of a conflict of interest between the judges' and lay-judges' private life and performance of their judicial duties. The opinions and advices of the Advisory Committee have preventive and advisory character. They indicate the conducts that represent a violation to the principles of the judicial Code of Ethics. The Advisory Committee works under the auspices of the Association of Judges of Republic of North Macedonia and is consisted of a president and 6 members. The members of the Advisory Committee are elected by the Steering Board of the Association of judges, from among the lines of the judges and lay-judges of Republic of North Macedonia, upon proposal of the branches of the Association of judges, with a mandate of two years. The members of the Advisory body are elected as follows: one judge of the Supreme Court, one judge of the Administrative or High Administrative Court, one judge from each appellate jurisdiction, who enjoy confidence of the judges on bases of his/her personal integrity and dignity in the execution of the judicial function, and one lay-judge. The president of the Advisory Committee is elected from among the members of the Committee. The members of the Advisory Committee enjoy immunity and may not be held responsible or be subject of a disciplinary procedure for the reason of given opinion or action as a member of the Advisory Committee.

The members of the Committee shall work without any compensation.

The Advisory Committee for Judicial Ethics submits Annual report for its activities to the Steering Board of the Association of the Judges and the General session of the Supreme Court. A request for an advisory opinion from a judge, lay-judge, president of a court or Association of judges of Republic of North Macedonia (its branches) should be submitted in writing, to which the Committee responds in writing no later than 15 days from the day of receiving the request, based on concrete facts and circumstances. If any of the facts or circumstances in the request are not detailed enough to allow the Committee to issue an appropriate opinion, additional information can be requested from the submitter of the request for opinion. The Committee shall not issue an opinion if the requested additional information is not enough or is not submitted. The Advisory Committee publishes its advisory opinions on the web-sites of the Association of the Judges and the Supreme Court of Republic of North Macedonia, as well as the facts and circumstances they are based on, after an appropriate anonymizing of the persons, places and data that may lead to identification. The sessions of the Advisory Committee are confidential. Publication of the edited (anonymized) opinions of the Advisory Committee is available to all judges, with aim to provide directions to other judges that face similar issues. Publication of the legal opinions and advices on certain issues related to the exercise of judicial office, prevention of conflicts of interest of judges/lay-judges, the manner of disposal with protocol gifts received during official visits, receptions and celebrations as well as prohibition for giving/receiving gifts by a judge and a lay judge are submitted in person, electronically or by post to the applicant for advice.

According to the Law on courts, president of a court shall be dismissed from the office of a president, if in a procedure, the Judicial Council of the Republic of Macedonia establishes the following bases:

failure to apply the provisions regarding the case management and distribution,

- violation of the provisions regarding the adoption and amendment of the Annual schedule for Judges.

Q188 (2019): All court cases should be assigned electronically according to the provisions on the Law on case flow management in the courts.

According to the provisions of the Court Rules of procedure, please see the rules for redistribution of cases

3. Automatic Redistribution of Cases

Article 177

The cases allocated to the judge may be reallocated to another judge, after the decision of the president of the court registered in the SU register has been passed, and the reason for the redistribution of case can be: a request for a judge to be exempted (submitted by the parties, the judge, by a decision of a higher instance court, etc.), the judge no longer works on a certain type of case, new judge for a certain type of case has been assigned, absence of a judge for an urgent matter that does not endure postponement of the procedure.

Article 178

After the request for exemption of a judge to whom the case is allocated, the president of the court, after the decision on exemption of the judge, shall adopt a decision for automatic redistribution of the case (in this case, the judges who were excluded in this case do not participate in the automatic distribution).

Upon a request for exemption or sudden absence of a judge, a member of council, the president of the court, by a decision on exemption of that judge, recorded in the register for exemption, shall appoint a judge who will replace the judge who is exempted.

In cases when the judge no longer works with a certain type of cases (dismissed, assigned to another department, assigned to another type of cases, longer absence), the court president shall adopt amendments and supplements to the Annual work schedule of the court.

The reallocation of cases in the case under paragraph 1 of this Article may be conducted by awarding all cases to a particular judge (usually a newly elected or rotated judge in that department, a type of case) or if a judge is not appointed, it shall be performed through automatic redistribution of all cases from the judge to all judges in the department who work with this type of cases.

Cases recorded in a register for which only one judge is in charge of shall be allocated to the judge with the recording itself.

According to the Law on courts, president of a court shall be dismissed from the office of a president, if in a procedure, the Judicial Council of the Republic of Macedonia establishes the following bases:

failure to apply the provisions regarding the case management and distribution,

- violation of the provisions regarding the adoption and amendment of the Annual schedule for Judges.

Q237 (General Comment): Unprofessional and unethical performance of the judicial function according to the Law on courts implies unsatisfactory expertise or unconscientiousness of the judge that affects the quality and promptness of the work, as follows:

- 1) If in two consecutive assessments the judge does not fulfill the criteria for successful work, by his fault without justifying reasons, for which he has received two negative grades, in procedure established by the Law on Judicial Council in of the Republic of Macedonia;
- 2) If he was convicted by a final court verdict, with punishment lower than that determined in the Art. 73, paragraph(1) point 5 from the Law on courts which is a direct result of acting in the performance of the judicial office, deliberately or with conscious negligence; (art. 73, p.1, point 5-Conviction for a crime by a legally valid court verdict to an unconditional imprisonment sentence of minimum six months).
- 3) If publishing unauthorized classified information, i.e. provided information and data on court cases that violates the obligation to protect the secrecy of the procedure established by law and when the public is excluded in accordance with the law;
- 4) If without justified reasons, does not schedule the hearings in the cases assigned to him or otherwise delay the procedure;
- 5) If does not take the matter into consideration because of which expiration of a criminal prosecution or statute of limitations on the execution of a criminal sanction for a crime occur;
- 6) If takes on a case that has not been allocated to him through the automatic computer system for conducting of court cases in the courts; ;
- 7) If intentionally and inexcusably makes gross professional mistake, while differences in interpretation of law and facts cannot be taken as ground for determination of judges' responsibility. After submission on a request for determination of the responsibility of the judge or president of the court is received, the Council shall establish a Commission of Rapporteurs from the members with a right to vote by lot, which is composed of three members, two of which are from among the members elected by the judges, and one is from among the members elected by the Assembly of the Republic of North Macedonia. The president of the Commission is elected by lot from among the members of the Commission. If a submitter of the request is a member of the Council, he/she cannot be a member of this Commission.

The Commission will reject the request for determining responsibility of the judge or president of the court if the request:

- is not timely,
- is not complete, or
- clearly unmeritorious, i.e. it revokes on facts that were already a case for examination by a higher court in a procedure after a legal remedy or could have been a case for examination by a higher court but have not been commenced with a legal remedy.

In this cases, the procedure for determining responsibility of the judge or president of the court finishes with the decision of the Commission. If the Commission does not reject the request for determining the responsibility of a judge or president of a court, it shall notify the Council of the established factual situation, which is obliged to decide within seven days from the day of the notification of stopping or continuation of the procedure.

If the Council decides to continue the procedure, the Commission shall be obliged to collect all necessary information and to prepare a report within a period of three months from Q237 (2019): The number of initiated proceedings is higher in 2019, because of changes in the Law on Judicial Council from 2018 and 2019. Namely, according to the new provisions a request for initiation of a procedure for determination of liability of a judge or a president of a court can be filled also and from the court users, which was not a case according to the provisions of the previous law. Q238 (2022): The total number of completed cases in 2022 includes cases that were initiated in 2020, 2021 and 2022.

Q238 (2020): The Commission of the JC (see comment on Q237, explanation about the Commission), rejected 71 requests.

In 2020 JC stopped 9 disciplinary procedures. For one judge the request was withdrawn. 4 judges were dismissed in 2020 and in 1 case there was liability on a judge, who at that time met the conditions for retirement, so the JC determined the termination of the function on that basis. From this 4 decisions for dismissal, two decisions are final. The other two are in appeal procedure in front of the Supreme court.

For one judge the sanction was reprimand.

Q238 (2019): From a total of 107 disciplinary proceedings initiated in 2019, the Commission (see comment on Q237, explanation about the Commission), rejected 58 requests.

In 2019 by the Council are rejected 9 requests for disciplinary proceedings initiated in 2019.

4 cases are stopped.

Judicial Council in 2019 dismissed 2 judges from the procedures initiated in 2019. In total by the JC in 2019 were dismissed six (6) judges (4 judges for proceedings initiated in 2017 and above mention 2 judges for proceedings initiated in 2019), but this decisions are not final. They are in appeal procedure in front of the Supreme court.

34 procedures are ongoing.

Q239 (2020): In 2020 five judges were dismissed with a final decision and for one judge JC issued a reprimand.

Q239 (2019): In 2019 one judge has been dismissed with a final decision.

Q156 (General Comment): THE LAW ON THE PROTECTION OF THE RIGHT TO A TRIAL WITHIN A REASONABLE TIME: Article 3

The legal means that protect the right to a trial within a reasonable time are:

- 1) objection to speed up the procedure (hereinafter: objection);
- 2) appeal;
- 3) request for just satisfaction.

The party does not pay the court fee in proceedings in which the right to a trial within a reasonable time is protected. They are urgent and have priority in decision-making.

Article 7: The party submits an objection to the court conducting the proceedings or to the court before which the proceedings are conducted if he believes that the public prosecutor has violated his right.

The procedure for the objection is led by the president of the court, who decides on the objection. With the annual schedule of work, he can designate one judge or more judges to lead the proceedings alongside him and decide on objections.

An oral hearing is not held, and the law governing non-litigation proceedings is applied accordingly to other issues.

The president of the court is obliged to decide on the objection within two months from the day of receipt of the objection.

Article 14

The party has the right to appeal if his objection is rejected or if the president of the court does not decide on it within two months from the day of receipt of the objection.

An appeal can also be filed if the objection was accepted, but the immediately superior public prosecutor did not issue a mandatory instruction within eight days from the date of receipt of the court president's decision, then if the court president or the immediately superior public prosecutor did not instruct the judge or the public prosecutor to take procedural actions that effectively speed up the procedure, or if the judge or public prosecutor has not taken the ordered procedural actions within the deadline set for him. Among other things, the complaint contains the same mandatory elements as the complaint.

Article 23:

The types of just satisfaction are:

- 1) the right to payment of monetary compensation for non-property damage caused to the party by violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time (hereinafter: monetary compensation);
- 2) the right to publish the written statement of the State Attorney's Office (hereinafter: Attorney's Office) establishing that the party's right to a trial within a reasonable time was violated;
- 3) the right to publish a judgment establishing that the party's right to a trial within a reasonable time was violated.

The responsibility of the Republic of Serbia for non-property damage caused by the violation of the right to trial within a reasonable time is objective.

When deciding on just satisfaction, the Office of the Attorney General and the courts are bound by the decisions of the president of the courts, which established a violation of the Q156 (2022): Based on the decisions of the presidents of the courts, which accepted objections for speeding up the proceedings and found a violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time before the basic and higher courts in the Republic of Serbia, out of the total number of cases received (13,060). The largest number of these cases refer to the enforcement of legally binding court decisions. However, the exact number of Non-execution of court decisions cases is N/A.

Q156 (2020): Concerning the system for compensating users in cases of excessive length of proceedings (and the same goes for non-execution of court decisions), there is a possibility to request a compensation because of excessive length of proceedings in accordance with the provisions of the Law on Protection of Right to Trial within a Reasonable Time (“RS Official Gazette”, No. 40/2015). The right to trial within a reasonable time is granted to every party in court proceedings, including enforcement proceedings, to every party in non-litigious proceedings and to the injured party in criminal proceedings, the private prosecutor and the injured party only if they have submitted a claim for damages. The public prosecutor as a party to criminal proceedings is not entitled to a trial within a reasonable time. Legal remedies according to this Law are: 1) complaint to speed up the procedure; 2) appeal;

3) request for just satisfaction. Request for just satisfaction includes the right to payment of monetary compensation for non-pecuniary damages or pecuniary damages caused to a party by violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time (monetary compensation). A party may file a lawsuit against the Republic of Serbia for monetary compensation within one year from the day when it acquired the right to fair satisfaction (Articles 26-33 of this Law). The amount of compensation for non pecuniary damages is limited to EUR 300 - 3,000 and regarding pecuniary damages it is to be determined by court in accordance with the principle of causality and provisions of the Law on Contracts and Torts. The statistics concerning these lawsuits are presented regarding questions 32 and 36 referring to “other than criminal law cases.

Q156 (2019): Excessive length of proceedings: Pursuant to the Law on Protection of Right to Trial within a Reasonable Time (2015) which entered into force on 1 January 2016, the State Attorney established the Commission to make decisions on settlement proposals for just satisfaction when a violation was determined for a trial within reasonable time. Reliable data on these statistics and other relevant compensation is not available at this time.

In the table above, the requests, condemnations and amounts are given which are related to the execution of judgments of the ECtHR and the work of three MoJ commissions. There is no specific legislation governing the execution of judgments of the ECtHR in Serbia. In practice, The State Attorney's Office (hereinafter: the Agent) has the coordinating role in the process of execution of judgments and decisions of the ECtHR. In that regard the Agent, inter alia: - informs all the relevant domestic authorities that judgment/decision was brought; - informs the responsible domestic authorities that certain amounts should be paid to the applicants in execution of the judgment/decision of the ECtHR; - informs the Department of execution of judgments of the ECtHR on the state of execution and submits evidence on payments. The domestic authorities adopted the following practise: - non-pecuniary damages are being paid mostly from the accounts of High Court's Council; - pecuniary damages (which represent sums awarded by non-enforced domestic judgments) are being paid from the accounts of State Attorney's Office.

In total: During 2019, the State Attorney's Office enforced 35 decisions (15 judgments and 20 decisions on friendly settlement) of the ECtHR issued against Serbia. The said decisions concerned 174 applicants. During the said period, Serbia made payments in total of EUR 369.712,49 both for pecuniary and non-pecuniary damages.

Violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time: In 30 decisions issued during the year 2019, violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time was established and consequently the applicants were awarded non-pecuniary damages. All 145 applicants received payments on account of non-pecuniary damages, which amounted to EUR 330.610,86, in total.

Non-enforcement of domestic decisions: In 4 decisions issued during the year 2019, a violation of Article 6 was established on account of failure to enforce final domestic decisions, concerning 28 applicants. In execution of the said decisions an amount of EUR 12.101,63 was paid.

Wrongful arrest and wrongful conviction: Statistics of the two of the MoJ commissions cannot be differentiated, which is why these two categories are NA. The procedure for exercising the rights of a person unfoundedly deprived of liberty or an unfoundedly convicted person is regulated by the Criminal Procedure Code. The Code stipulates that prior to submitting a claim for compensation of damages to the court, the aggrieved party is obliged to file a claim for compensation of damage to the MoJ in order to reach an agreement. The Commission for determining the damage and the type and amount of compensation for persons unfoundedly convicted and unfoundedly deprived of liberty, established by the decision of the Minister of Justice, considers claims for compensation of damages and makes appropriate decisions. If the compensation claim is not adopted or the Commission does not decide on the request within three months from the date of its submission, the aggrieved party may bring an action for damages before the competent court.

In 2018, a total of 798 claims for compensation for non-pecuniary damage due to unfounded conviction and unfounded deprivation of liberty were submitted to the MoJ Commission. The Commission decided on a total of 257 filed claims and proposed the amount of 445,380 EUR for unfounded convictions and unfounded deprivations of liberty. The total amount accepted and paid for the unfounded convictions and unfounded deprivations of liberty is 122,386 EUR.

Q160 (2020): In accordance with the Law on Judges judges have a duty to maintain confidence in their independence and impartiality. The judge is obliged to conduct the procedure impartially according to his conscience, in accordance with his own assessment of facts and interpretation of law, while ensuring a fair trial and respect for the procedural rights of the parties guaranteed by the Constitution, law and international acts. (Art. 3, paras 1 and 2)

The procedural laws enable the possibility for parties in the proceedings to challenge the judge (Article 69 of the Law on Civil Procedure, Article 39 of the Law on Criminal Procedure etc).

Q161 (General Comment): Civil Procedure Code: Article 66

The judge is obliged to refrain from judging if there are reasons that cast doubt on his impartiality.

Article 67

A judge cannot perform his duties as a judge if:

- 1) is the party himself, the legal representative or attorney of the party, if he is with the party in the relationship of co-authorizer, co-obligor or recourse obligee or if he is heard as a witness or expert in the same case;
- 2) is, as a shareholder, the owner of more than 3% of the shares in the total capital of a legal entity, a member of a company or a member of a cooperative if one of the parties is his creditor or debtor;
- 3) the party or the party's legal representative or attorney is related by blood in the direct line, and in the collateral line up to the fourth degree, or his spouse, i.e. common-law partner, is a relative by in-laws up to the second degree, regardless of whether the marriage has ended or not;
- 4) is the guardian, adopter or adoptee of the party, its legal representative or attorney or if there is a joint household between him and the party, its legal representative or attorney;
- 5) some other litigation is ongoing between the judge and the party;
- 6) in the same case, he participated in the mediation procedure or in the conclusion of a court settlement that is disputed in the litigation, or he made a decision that is disputed, or he represented the party as a lawyer;
- 7) in the bankruptcy proceedings, as a bankruptcy judge or a member of the bankruptcy panel, he made a decision that led to a dispute.

A judge can be exempted if there are circumstances that cast doubt on his impartiality .

Criminal Procedure Code, Article 37:

A judge or lay judge shall be exempted from judicial duty in a specific case:

- 1) if he was damaged by a criminal act;
- 2) if the defendant, his counsel, prosecutor, injured party, their legal representative or attorney, spouse or person with whom he lives in an extramarital or other permanent union of life, or a blood relative in the direct line to any degree, in the collateral line up to fourth degree, and by in-laws up to the second degree;
- 3) if he is with the defendant, his defense counsel, the prosecutor or the injured party in the relationship of guardian, ward, adopter, adoptee, foster parent or foster parent;
- 4) if in the same case he acted as a judge for preliminary proceedings or decided on the confirmation of the indictment or participated in making a decision on the merits of the charge that is disputed by an appeal or an extraordinary legal remedy or participated in the proceedings as a prosecutor, defense attorney, legal representative or attorney the injured party, i.e. the plaintiff, is either heard as a witness or as an expert, if this Code does not prescribe otherwise.

A judge or lay judge may be exempted from judicial duty in a particular case if there are circumstances that raise doubts about his impartiality.

Q161 (2022): The president of the court decides on the request for exemption from Article 39 of Criminal Procedure Code/ Article 66 of Civil Procedure Code. An appeal is not allowed against the decision rejecting or accepting the request for exemption. Court rules of procedure does not prescribe special register of these cases.

However, according to the Law on Public Prosecution, the directly higher public prosecutor can issue a mandatory instruction to a lower public prosecutor for handling certain cases when there is doubt about the efficiency and legality of his action, the public prosecutor can issue mandatory instructions to his/her deputy and the Republic Public Prosecutor (General Prosecutor) to every public prosecutor.

Instructions of the General Prosecutor are issued in order to achieve legality, effectiveness and uniformity in the actions of public prosecution offices in cases regarding certain area of criminality or certain criminal acts, but also in order to enhance the level of protection of certain vulnerable group.

Q162 (2019): Article 51 of the Law on the Public Prosecutor's Office ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 116/2008, 104/2009, 101/2010, 78/2011 - other Laws, 101/2011, 38/2012 - decision of the Constitutional Court, 121/2012, 101/2013, 111/2014 - decision of the Constitutional Court, 117/2014, 106/2015 i 63/2016 - decision of the Constitutional Court) stipulates that the Public Prosecutor and the Deputy Public Prosecutor may not be held accountable for expressing their opinion in the exercise of the prosecutorial function, unless it is a criminal offense of violation of the law by the Public Prosecutor or Deputy Public Prosecutor.

The Public Prosecutor or Deputy Public Prosecutor may not be deprived of their liberty in proceedings instituted for a criminal offense committed in the exercise of their prosecutorial function or service without the approval of the competent committee of the National Assembly.

Q162-0 (General Comment): Position

*Official Gazette of the RS, No. 115/2021 (Amendment XVII)

Article 155.

The Public Prosecutor's Office is a unique and independent state body that prosecutes perpetrators of criminal and other punishable acts and performs other responsibilities that protect the public interest determined by law.

The Public Prosecutor's Office exercises its powers on the basis of the Constitution, confirmed international treaties, laws, generally accepted rules of international law and other general acts adopted in accordance with the law.

No one outside the Public Prosecutor's Office can influence the Public Prosecutor's Office and the holders of the Public Prosecutor's office in handling and deciding on a particular case.

The establishment, termination, organization and jurisdiction of the public prosecutor's office are regulated by law.

The highest public prosecution in the Republic of Serbia is the Supreme Public Prosecutor's Office, which is headed by the Supreme Public Prosecutor.

The function of public prosecution is performed by the Supreme Public Prosecutor, Chief Public Prosecutors and Public Prosecutors.

The supreme public prosecutor and the chief public prosecutor in the management of public prosecutions have hierarchical powers in relation to the actions of lower chief public prosecutors and public prosecutors in a specific case.

Hierarchical powers and legal remedies against them are more closely regulated by law.

Responsibility

The Board of Ethics promotes ethical principles stipulated by the Code of Ethics for Judges and the Code of Ethics for the Members of the High Judicial Council and monitors their implementation to raise the awareness of the judges, the presidents of the courts and the members of the Council about the importance of ethical principles and rules of conduct in the performance of their duties, public engagement and private lives in order to raise the reputation of the judiciary and strengthen the citizen's trust in the work of judges and courts.

The Rulebook of the High Judicial Council's Board of Ethics stipulates that the Board of Ethics issued general opinions on whether the judge's conduct is in accordance with the Judges' Code of Ethics, i.e. whether the behavior of a member of the Council is in accordance with the Code of Ethics of the members of the High Judicial Council. The Board of Ethics adopts decisions at its sessions. The sessions are convened when needed, but at least four times per year. In 2022 five sessions of the Board of Ethics were held.

During 2022, the Board of Ethics issued 12 general opinions that were published on the website of the High Judicial Council and are available to all judges.

The Confidential counsellor is a member of the Board of Ethics appointed by the Board of Ethics from among its members, with whom the judges may consult when they have doubts regarding the implementation of the Code of Ethics in specific situations in which they find themselves.

His contact phone number and email address are published on the Council's website and are available to judges.

During 2022, sixteen requests were submitted and acted upon by the confidential advisor.

When providing an opinion, the confidential counsellor is guided by the Code of Ethics, the adopted positions of the Board of Ethics, while preserving the identity of the initiator of confidential counselling.

New provisions that shall become fully applicable as of 1st of September 2020 pursuant to the new Law on the Corruption Prevention (Official Gazette of the RS, No. 35/2019 and 88/2019):

In accordance to Article 68 a public official is obligated to submit to the Agency the report on his/her property and income and the property and income of the spouse or common-law partner, as well as of the minors if living in the same household. Note-According to the Article 76 of the new Law on the Corruption Prevention the Agency may request from the associated persons to directly submit data on their properties and incomes, if in the procedure of verification of property status of the certain officials it is suspected that they conceals the real value of their property. According to the current law, the Agency could request only from the officials to submit data on the assets of associated persons.

Moreover, one of the significant novelties of the Law on Corruption Prevention is the legal extension of the circle of associated persons, i.e. associated person shall be a family member of the public official, blood relative of the public official, i.e. lateral blood relative to the second degree of kinship, as well as natural person or legal entity who may, on other bases and circumstances, be reasonably assumed to be associated in interest with the public official (please see the definition of 'associated person' as prescribed by art. 2 (1) (6) of the Law).

Q198 (General Comment): According to the Law on the Corruption Prevention:

In accordance with Article 75 the Agency shall verify the accuracy and completeness of data contained in the Report, as well as the timeliness of submission of the Report, according to the annual plan of verification, issued by the Director. The Annual Verification Plan shall be rendered based on the previous analysis of the Agency, whereby particular attention shall be paid to the category of public officials, the amount of their earnings and the amount of the financial funds from the budget that bodies of public authority have available, in which public officials are holding public office. The Agency shall extraordinarily verify the accuracy and the completeness of data from the Report, if doubting that accurate and complete data were reported in the Report.

In accordance to Article 76 in the course of procedure of verification of property status, the Agency shall assess whether there lies a discrepancy in-between the data from the Report and the actual state of affairs or discrepancy in-between the increase value of the property and the reported incomes. In case of discrepancy, the Agency shall summon a public official or a person from Article 68, paragraph 1 of this Law, to state on the reasons for discrepancy, within 15 days. If, during verification of the Report, there is doubt that a public official is concealing the actual value of his/her property or income, the Agency may request from the associated persons to directly file data on their property and incomes, within 30 days from the date of reception of the request. In case a discrepancy is determined, the Agency shall notify the competent body, for the purpose of undertaking measures within its purview. The body from paragraph 4 hereof, shall be bound, within three months from the date of reception of the notification, to familiarize the Agency with the undertaken measures.

*Annual Verification Plan: According to the new Law on the Corruption Prevention, the Agency, when drafting the Annual Verification Plan, will take into account the category of public officials, the amount of their receipts and the amount of funds from the budget of the authority in which they perform the function, thus defining criteria that will be applied in the preparation of the Annual Verification Plan. This will contribute to higher level of transparency in the selection of officials whose reports will be subject to verification procedure. In addition, in 2022 the Agency adopted Guidelines for Drafting Annual Verification Plan.

Q198 (2022): financial discrepancies (unusual change in assets, liabilities, income, etc.) *Note: Only for declarations of assets in Annual plan for checking reports on assets and incomes of officials and for declarations of assets in Extraordinary check.

In accordance with Article 48 the Agency checks due filing of Report and accuracy and completeness of information. The Agency checks as mandatory the accuracy of information in the Report pursuant to the Annual Verification Plan schedule for a certain number and category of officials. To carry out the checks specified in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article, the Agency may request from competent authorities to obtain data from financial organizations, business companies and other persons.

In accordance to Article 49 if discrepancy revealed in the oversight procedure of the property of the official between the data presented in the Report and actual status or a discrepancy between the increased value of the property of the official and his/her lawful and reported income, the Agency shall establish the cause of such discrepancy and notify the body wherein the official holds office, i.e. other competent bodies. The Agency may request the official to submit information on property and income of other associated persons within 30 days if there is reasonable doubt that the official is concealing the real value of his/her property. In the case referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article, the Agency shall summon the official or an associated person in order to obtain information on the real value of the property of the official. The bodies specified in paragraph 1 of this Article shall, within three months of receiving the notice, notify the Agency of the measures taken.

VII. PROPERTY DISCLOSURE REPORT

Regular property disclosure report

Article 68

A public official shall, within 30 days from the date of election, appointment or nomination, submit to the Agency the report on his/her property and income (hereinafter referred to as: the Report), the property and income of the spouse or common-law partner, as well as of the minors if living in the same household, according to the state on the date of election, appointment or nomination.

A public official, who, upon termination of public office is immediately re-elected, reappointed or renominated, shall not file the Report again, if there are no changes to the data provided in the previous Report, but shall be bound to inform the Agency thereof, within 30 days from the date of re-election, reappointment or renomination.

The Report shall also be filed by a person whose public office terminated, within 30 days from the date of termination of public office, according to the state on the date of termination of public office.

Extraordinary property disclosure report

Article 69

If the property or income of a public official significantly change in the previous year, the public official shall file the Report to the Agency according to the state on 31 December, of the previous year, and prior to the expiry of deadline for the filing of the annual tax return for determining taxes to citizens' income.

Significant change shall exist if property or income were increased or decreased, according to the prior Report, or if exceeding the average annual salary without taxes and contributions in the Republic of Serbia or if the structure of such property has changed.

The person whose public office has terminated shall be bound, two years after the termination of public office, file the Report according to the state on 31 December of the previous year, and prior to the expiry of the deadline for filing the annual tax return, at the latest, for determining the citizen's income tax, under the condition that such property and income have change significantly, compared to the previous year.

Q210 (General Comment): The Agency for Prevention of Corruption of the Republic of Serbia. The Agency is an autonomous and independent state authority, operational since 2010, with preventive, control and supervisory competencies. The bodies of the Agency are the Director and the Council of the Agency. Following a public competition announced by the Ministry in charge of judicial affairs, the Director shall be elected by the National Assembly, by a majority vote of all deputies. A member of the Council of the Agency shall be also elected by the National Assembly, by a majority vote of all deputies, following a public competition announced by the Ministry in charge of judicial affairs.

Q211 (General Comment): According to the Law on the Corruption Prevention:

In accordance with Article 75 the Agency shall verify the accuracy and completeness of data contained in the Report, as well as the timeliness of submission of the Report, according to the annual plan of verification, issued by the Director. The Annual Verification Plan shall be rendered based on the previous analysis of the Agency, whereby particular attention shall be paid to the category of public officials, the amount of their earnings and the amount of the financial funds from the budget that bodies of public authority have available, in which public officials are holding public office. The Agency shall extraordinarily verify the accuracy and the completeness of data from the Report, if doubting that accurate and complete data were reported in the Report.

In accordance with Article 76 in the course of procedure of verification of property status, the Agency shall assess whether there lies a discrepancy in-between the data from the Report and the actual state of affairs or discrepancy in-between the increase value of the property and the reported incomes. In case of discrepancy, the Agency shall summon a public official or a person from Article 68, paragraph 1 of this Law, to state on the reasons for discrepancy, within 15 days. If, in the course of verification of the Report, there is doubt that a public official is concealing the actual value of his/her property or income, the Agency may request from the associated persons to directly file data on their property and incomes, within 30 days from the date of reception of the request. In case a discrepancy is determined, the Agency shall notify the competent body, for the purpose of undertaking measures within its purview. The body from paragraph 4 hereof, shall be bound, within three months from the date of reception of the notification, to familiarize the Agency with the undertaken measures.

* Annual Verification Plan: According to the new Law on the Corruption Prevention, the Agency, when drafting the Annual Verification Plan, will take into account the category of public officials, the amount of their receipts and the amount of funds from the budget of the authority in which they perform the function, thus defining criteria that will be applied in the preparation of the Annual Verification Plan. This will contribute to the higher level of transparency in the selection of officials whose reports will be subject to verification procedure.

Q211 (2021): unexplained financial discrepancies (unusual change in assets, liabilities, income, etc.) - Only for declarations of assets in Annual plan for checking reports on assets and incomes of officials and for declarations of assets in Extraordinary check.

In accordance with Article 48 the Agency checks due filing of Report and accuracy and completeness of information. The Agency checks as mandatory the accuracy of information in the Report pursuant to the Annual Verification Plan schedule for a certain number and category of officials. To carry out the checks specified in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article, the Agency may request from competent authorities to obtain data from financial organizations, business companies and other persons.

In accordance with Article 49 if discrepancy revealed in the oversight procedure of the property of the official between the data presented in the Report and actual status or a discrepancy between the increased value of the property of the official and his/her lawful and reported income, the Agency shall establish the cause of such discrepancy and notify the body wherein the official holds office, i.e. other competent bodies. The Agency may request the official to submit information on property and income of other associated persons within 30 days if there is reasonable doubt that the official is concealing the real value of his/her property. In the case referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article, the Agency shall summon the official or an associated person in order to obtain information on the real value of the property of the official. The bodies specified in paragraph 1 of this Article shall, within three months of receiving the notice, notify the Agency of the measures taken.

Q214 (General Comment): Types of Measures Article 82

A public official may be pronounced a measure of reprimand or measure of public announcement of recommendation of dismissal from public office. Notwithstanding paragraph 1 of this Article, a public official elected directly by citizens, as well as a person whose public office has terminated, may be pronounced a measure of reprimand or a measure of public announcement of the decision on violation of this Law.

When pronouncing measures, all circumstances of the case shall be considered, and in particular the weight and the consequences of violation of this Law as well as the possibility of eliminating the violations, as well as whether the public official has acted upon the previously imposed measure of reprimand until the expiry of the time limit that was set in the decision.

Requirements for Pronouncing Measures

Article 83

Measure of reprimand shall be pronounced in case a public official committed a minor violation of this Law. A minor violation of this Law shall be the kind of violation that did not affect the impartial discharge of public office. The measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal from public office and the measure of public announcement of the decision on violation of this Law, shall be pronounced due to severe violation of this Law. A severe violation of this Law shall be the violation that affected the impartial discharge of public office, as well as the reputation and the trust of citizens shown to the public official and the public office, he/she is discharging.

According to the Law on the Corruption Prevention:

According to article 103 paragraph 17 – a public official shall be fined from 100,000 to 150,000 RSD for the failure to report assets and income or submit a notification within the prescribed time limit, i.e. submits an incorrect or incomplete report on assets and income (articles 68 and 69).

According to the Law on the Corruption Prevention:

According to article 101 a public official who, contrary to the provisions of this Law, fails to report assets and income to the Agency, or provides false information on assets and income in order to conceal information on assets and income, shall be punished by a prison term of six months to five years.

The High Judicial Council shall inform the president of the court and the judge of the incompatibility of service or work with the judicial function. The President of the Court shall file a disciplinary complaint as soon as he/she learns that the judge performs a service or business or makes procedures that could be incompatible with his function.

Under the Art 33 of the Law on Mediation in Dispute Resolution (“Official Gazette of RS” No. 55/2014), which is applicable since 1 January 2015, Serbian judges may mediate outside of working hours of the court but may not be paid for their services as mediators. Instead, pursuant to the amendments and supplements to the Rulebook on the Criteria, Standards, Procedures and Authorities for Evaluating the Work of Judges and Court Presidents (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 81/2014, 142/2014, 41/2015 and 7/2016) which are applicable from 15 July 2015, new criteria in evaluating judges’ quantity of work have been introduced: two cases which are concluded with an agreement on resolving the dispute through mediation are counted as one case solved on the merits.

Q222 (2019): Law on the Anti-Corruption Agency (New Law on the Corruption Prevention). Article 90 of the Law on Judges prescribes that accepting gifts contrary to the regulations governing conflict of interest is a disciplinary offence. Disciplinary proceedings are conducted against the judge, in accordance with the provisions of the Law.

Q223 (General Comment): In accordance with articles 40-56 of the Law on the Corruption Prevention, the Agency aims to eliminate causes of corruption through procedures for resolving conflict of interest, decumulation of public officers, and decision on other legal violations. In accordance with articles 78, 80 and 82-85 of this Law, should it be determined, after the procedure, that a violation of the Law has taken place, measures stipulated by the law shall be issued. The aim of these measures is to eliminate such violations as far as this is possible. Thus, the cases which have led or may lead to corruption are eliminated. The measures and decisions of the Agency are measures of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal from a public office and decisions which impose the termination of second public office by force of law.

VI. PROCEDURE AND DECISION MAKING IN CASE OF VIOLATION OF THE LAW

Article 50

The procedure to establish whether there is a violation of this Law and order measures pursuant to this Law shall be initiated and conducted by the Agency ex officio.

The procedure referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article is also initiated upon the request of an official, his/her direct superior officer, and may also be initiated on the basis of the report of a legal entity or a natural person. The Agency shall notify the official specified in paragraph 1 of this Article of the initiation of the procedure. The Agency may summon the official, an associated person or the person who filed the report initiating the procedure in order to collect information, as well as request that they submit the necessary data, with an aim to establish whether a violation of this Law occurred.

The official must have an opportunity to give a statement in the procedure before the Agency.

The procedure before the Agency is closed to the public.

Measures

Article 51

Measures which may be pronounced against an official due to a violation of this Law are caution and public announcement of recommendation for dismissal. The measure of caution and the measure of public announcement of the decision on the violation of this Law may be pronounced against an official who has been directly elected by the citizens, an official whose public office has terminated or an associated person.

If the person referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article fails to comply with the measure of caution within the time period specified in the decision, the measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal or public announcement of the decision on the violation of this Law shall be pronounced against him/her.

In case of pronouncing the measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal against the official, the Agency shall file an initiative for dismissal to the body which elected, appointed or nominated the official. The competent body shall notify the Agency of the measures it has taken in view of the pronounced measure of public announcement

Provisions of paragraph 1 and 6 hereof do not exclude the application of provisions on exclusion prescribed by other laws.

With regard to Regulation on receiving gifts:

Currently in force provisions of the Law on the Anti-Corruption Agency ("Official Gazette of RS", No. 97/08, 53/10, 66/11 – decision of the CC, 67/13 – decision of the CC, 112/13 – authentic opinion and 8/15 – decision of the CC and 88/2019):

In accordance with Article 39 of the Law on Anti-Corruption Agency an official may not accept gifts in connection to the discharge of public office, except for protocol or other appropriate gifts which may not be in money or securities.

An official is required to hand over the protocol gift to the body competent to manage property in public ownership, unless the value of the gift does not exceed 5% of the value of the average monthly net salary in the Republic of Serbia.

Q227 (General Comment): About this question, an official (public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) may conduct scientific study, teaching, cultural, artistic, humanitarian and sports activities, in compliance with the provisions of Article 46 of the Law on the Prevention of Corruption, without the consent of the Agency, unless it jeopardizes the impartial performance and prestige of the public office and if it is forbidden by laws and other regulations that regulate his/her work. Revenues from this work, i.e., activities, shall be submitted to the Agency by the official. An official (public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 49 in conjunction with Article 45 paragraph 1 if it is a function within a body of cultural and other associations (except professional). In connection with research, publications, an official (judge, public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 46, paragraph 4. In the case of payments, when deciding on an application for the permission of officials to carry out other work or operations, the Agency does not consider whether it is with or without compensation.

Q227 (2021): Scientific activity and cultural activities with and without remuneration

About this question, an official (public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) may conduct scientific study, teaching, cultural, artistic, humanitarian and sports activities, in compliance with the provisions of Article 46 of the Law on the Prevention of Corruption, without the consent of the Agency, unless it jeopardizes the impartial performance and prestige of the public office and if it is forbidden by laws and other regulations that regulate his/her work. Revenues from this work, i.e., activities, shall be submitted to the Agency by the official. An official (public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 49 in conjunction with Article 45 paragraph 1 if it is a function within a body of cultural and other associations (except professional). In connection with research, publications, i.e., mediation, an official (judge, public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 46, paragraph 4. In the case of payments, when deciding on an application for the permission of officials to carry out other work or operations, the Agency does not consider whether it is with or without compensation.

Q227 (2020): Scientific activity and cultural activities with and without remuneration

With regard to this question, an official (public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) may conduct scientific study, teaching, cultural, artistic, humanitarian and sports activities, in compliance with the provisions of Article 46 of the Law on the Prevention of Corruption, without the consent of the Agency, unless it jeopardizes the impartial performance and prestige of the public office and if it is forbidden by laws and other regulations that regulate his/her work. Revenues from these work, i.e. activities, shall be submitted to the Agency by the official. An official (public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 49 in conjunction with Article 45 paragraph 1 if it is a function within a body of cultural and other associations (except professional). In connection with research, publications, ie mediation, an official (judge, public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 46, paragraph 4. In the case of payments, when deciding on an application for the permission of officials to carry out other work or operations, the Agency does not take into account whether it is with or without compensation.

Q227 (2019): A public prosecutor or deputy public prosecutor may be a member of the governing body of the institution responsible for judicial training, in accordance with a decision of the State prosecutors Council.

A public prosecutor or deputy public prosecutor may engage in cultural, humanitarian and sports activities without Agency approval if by doing so he/she does not compromise the impartial discharge and dignity of public office. An official is required to report incomes from these activities to the Anti-Corruption Agency.

The activities specified as that they could be performed must be in line with the Constitution, Article 65 of the Law on Public Prosecution Office and the Code of Ethics of Public Prosecution Office. Article 65 of the Law on Public Prosecution Office stipulates that public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors cannot hold a position in legislative authorities and executive authorities, public services and authorities of provincial autonomy and units of local self-government, cannot be members of political parties, to engage in publicly or privately paid businesses, and provide legal services or legal advice for remuneration. Exceptionally from paragraph 1 of the Article, a public prosecutor, i.e. a deputy public prosecutor, can be member of an authority managing an institution competent for education in judiciary, based on a decision of the State Prosecutorial Council, in line with a special law. Other positions, affairs or private interests contradicting dignity and independence of public prosecution office or harming his/her reputation are also incompatible with prosecutorial position. The State Prosecutorial Council is determining other positions and affairs contradicting dignity, i.e. harming independence or damaging reputation of public prosecution office. After working hours, a public prosecutor and a deputy public prosecutor can engage in educational and scientific activities for remuneration, without special approval. In situations defined by the law, within his/her working hours, a public prosecutor and a deputy public prosecutor may perform educational and scientific activities. They can take part in activities with civil, religious or humanitarian character if those activities do not interfere with performing of the position or if it could negatively reflect to their impartiality. Public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors are obliged to restrain themselves from participation at political activities and campaigns. Public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors may be members and may participate at work of professional or other organizations dealing with protection of their professional interests and undertaking of measures for preservation of independence in work, in line with the law. Public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors are obliged to restrain themselves from giving statements in public or privately that could cause doubt into their impartiality, and especially they cannot give comments on cases where they are proceeding or where they could proceed.

A public prosecutor and a deputy public prosecutor can be sent to a study visit, i.e. other professional trip abroad, based on the State Prosecutorial Council decision, with the obtained opinion form the directly superior public prosecutor, i.e. a public prosecutor, where performance grades from the personal file of the public prosecutor, i.e. the deputy public prosecutor, and knowledge of a foreign language are especially taken into consideration. Pursuant to the Law on Mediation, judges can be mediators, not public prosecutors.

Q229 (2020): It depends on the nature of activity and time it will consume. For example, if teaching should be performed during working hours, authorization of the head of the ppo is necessary, but not for a cultural activity, in one's own leisurely time. Generally, p's can perform scientific, teaching, cultural, arts, humanitarian and sports activities, without prior approval of the Agency for Anti-Corruption if it doesn't endanger the impartial carrying of their work.

Against the decision of the Disciplinary Commission, the Disciplinary prosecutor, the judge and his representative/ the president of the court and his representative, may file an appeal with the Council within eight days from the date of delivery of the decision.

The decision can be contested:

- 1) due to violations of procedural rules that could have an impact on the adoption of a legal and proper decision,
- 2) due to wrongly or incompletely established factual situation,
- 3) due to incorrect application of substantive law,
- 4) due to the decision on the imposed disciplinary sanction.

The complaint contains:

- 1) designation of the decision against which the appeal is filed,
- 2) a statement that the decision is disputed in its entirety or in a certain part,
- 3) reasons for appeal,
- 4) signature of the person making the complaint.

In the appeal, new facts can be presented and new evidence can be proposed only if the appellant makes it probable that he could not present them, that is, propose them during the first instance disciplinary procedure, through no fault of his own.

The complaint with attachments is submitted to the other party in the proceedings, who can submit an answer to the complaint within three days from the date of submission of the complaint. An untimely response to the appeal will not be taken into consideration.

The Disciplinary Commission immediately upon receipt of the response to the appeal or the expiration of the deadline for providing the response to the appeal submits the case files to the Council.

Q241 (2022): Article 36 of the Rulebook on determining the disciplinary responsibility of judges and presidents of courts

Q242 (General Comment): Irremovability of judges is one of the basic principles proclaimed by the Law on Judges. Article 19 Paragraph 1 of the Law on Judges provides that a judge may be transferred or assigned from one court to another, or to another state authority, institution, or international judicial organisation only with his/her consent. The transfer may be done with consent of the judge, to another court of the same type and instance, should there be a need for an urgent filling up of a judge vacancy, which cannot be resolved by election or referral of a judge, with the obtained consent of presidents of both courts. Such consent shall be given in writing and must precede the decision on transfer or assignment. Exceptionally, a judge may be transferred without his/her consent to another court in case of the abolishing of a court, abolishing of the prevalent part of the jurisdiction of the court to which he/she is elected, leading to a reduction of the number of cases, on the basis of the decision of the High Judicial Council.

7. Failure by a Court President or the Chief Prosecutor to review and decide on the complaint or to inform the person who has submitted a complaint of the reasons for the dismissal of the complaint as required in paragraph 6 shall be considered a disciplinary offense.

Link on the law: <https://gzk.rks-gov.net/ActDetail.aspx?ActID=18336> Article 6 of the Law on Disciplinary Liability to Judges and Prosecutors provides for violations by prosecutors involving influence and corruption.

Q182 (2021): Article 6 of the Law on Disciplinary Liability to Judges and Prosecutors provides for violations by prosecutors involving influence and corruption.

Pursuant to this law, natural and legal persons may file a complaint against a prosecutor regarding any allegation of a disciplinary violation to the following authorities.

- The Chief State Prosecutor regarding the alleged violations of any Chief Prosecutor
- Chief Prosecutors of the Prosecution regarding the alleged violations of any prosecutor of that Prosecution
- The Prosecutorial Council regarding the alleged violations of the Chief State Prosecutor

Natural and legal persons can also file complaints against prosecutors with the People's Advocate.

In cases when the complaint is grounded and contains elements of a criminal offense, the competent authority must forward the case to the prosecutor's office and notify the Council and the People's Advocate.

Within 15 working days from the receipt of the request for initiation of disciplinary investigations, the Council must establish the investigative panels. Investigative panels are tasked with securing the facts and gathering evidence regarding the alleged disciplinary violation. After this procedure (it is explained in more detail in the Law) the panel sends the report to the Council, where the latter holds a hearing and decides whether the alleged disciplinary violation has been committed or not. If it is decided that there is a disciplinary violation, a disciplinary measure is imposed on that prosecutor according to this Law.

Q182 (2019): There is no permanent mechanism which reports attempts on corruption on judges or prosecutors. Rather, if there is a complain against a prosecutor or judge concerning an allegation of influence or corruption, respective councils establish a panel which then is responsible to handle the case.

 - 2.4. the overall performance and behaviour of the judge or prosecutor;
 - 2.5. the behaviour and level of cooperation of the judge or prosecutor during the disciplinary proceedings.
3. A decision on the disciplinary liability of a judge or prosecutor shall be issued also in cases when a judge or prosecutor has after the initiation of disciplinary procedures resigned from duty or whose function as a judge or prosecutor was terminated in any other manner.
4. With the exception of the non-public reprimand, all final decisions on disciplinary sanctions shall be published without delay, but not later than fifteen (15) days, by the respective Councils on their web-site.
5. The Council shall maintain a disciplinary evidence record which shall register all disciplinary Q248 (2022): During 2022 KPC received 9 requests for initiating disciplinary procedures against prosecutors. Based on these, KPC established 8 investigative panels, and dismissed 1 request for initiation disciplinary procedures.

9 cases were transferred from 2021 and as such in total KPC took 15 disciplinary decisions and 2 other cases are still ongoing.

Q248 (2021): The one reprimand case was (non public written reprimand) and the 3 withdrawn from cases no disciplinary offence were founded. From 14 requests for initiating disciplinary procedures, for 13 KPC established the investigative panels. Out of these, for 5 cases there were final decisions made regarding disciplinary liability. 1 cases was suspended due to criminal procedures.

For 2 other cases the decision will be made in one of KPC meetings in 2022.

5 other cases are ongoing.

Q248 (2019): At the 'other' category, we put 2 cases where the report of the Office of the Disciplinary Counsel was refused (before entry into force of the new Law)

Question 156

Albania

(General Comment): In the competence of courts, shall be included the adjudication of requests for due compensation to the person, who has suffered a pecuniary or non-pecuniary damage due to the unreasonable length of a case, as per the definition of Article 6/1 of the European Convention "On Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms".

Provisions define the evaluation of reasonable duration of a process, as well as the due compensation, when unreasonable delays have been determined in investigation procedures, trial of cases, as well as in the procedures of execution of decisions.

Just satisfaction for violation of reasonable time limits shall be deemed the recognition of violation, any measures taken to expedite the proceedings of investigation, trial of the case and execution of the decision, and/or compensation of the damage, according to the provisions of this Chapter.

(2022): The requests for excessive length of proceedings and non-execution of court decisions, have been introduced as a separate request to the court by national law in 2017. According to the Civil Procedural Code the procedure is divided in 2 different phases. The first phase is logged as a simple request to the court and is registered in the CMS system as non-litigious cases either civil or administrative depending on the court. They are registered without a specific identifying code. The second phase is logged as litigious case based on tort legal provisions. We cannot identify these specific cases within the category. We will tackle this issue while creating the new CMS system.

Regarding the requests for wrongful arrest / detention and wrongful conviction, these cases are registered as litigious administrative cases and do not have a specific identifying code in the CMS.

(2019): In the competence of courts, shall be included the adjudication of requests for due compensation to the person, who has suffered a pecuniary or non-pecuniary damage due to the unreasonable length of a case, as per the definition of Article 6/1 of the European Convention "On Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms".

Provisions define the evaluation of reasonable duration of a process, as well as the due compensation, when unreasonable delays have been determined in investigation procedures, trial of cases, as well as in the procedures of execution of decisions.

Just satisfaction for violation of reasonable time limits shall be deemed the recognition of violation, any measures taken to expedite the proceedings of investigation, trial of the case and execution of the decision, and/or compensation of the damage, according to the provisions of this Chapter.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Parties to court proceedings may lodge complaints about the work of courts to various institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina, as explained in the response below. If those institutions find that the complaints are well founded, they order that irregularities in the work of the court be corrected and in addition, in some cases, award compensation to the complainants. The information provided in the answer to the Question 156 relates to all complaints about the work of the courts submitted to the institutions listed below in 2022.

Excessive length of proceedings/Non execution of court decisions: A person whose right to a fair trial is violated by the excessive length of court proceedings or non-execution of the court decisions, can submit an appeal to the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Based on Article VI of the Constitution the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina inter alia has appellate jurisdiction over issues under the Constitution arising out of a judgment of any other court in the country. According to Article 16, paragraph 3 of its Rules, the Constitutional Court may examine, within its appellate jurisdiction, an appeal when there is no decision of a competent court if the appeal indicates a grave violation of the rights and fundamental freedoms safeguarded by the Constitution or by the international documents applied in Bosnia and Herzegovina. The Court admits appeals, based on the aforementioned provision of the Rules, alleging that a court of general jurisdiction has breached both Article II/3.e of the Constitution and Article 6, paragraph 1, of the European Convention on Human Rights by exceeding a reasonable time for determining a court case (i.e. any sort of a court case). If the violation is found, the Constitutional Court orders the court of general jurisdiction to finalize the case in question without any delay.

In a decision granting an appeal, the Constitutional Court may also award compensation for non-pecuniary damages. If the Constitutional Court considers that compensation is necessary, it shall award it on equitable basis, taking into account the standards set forth in the case-law of the Constitutional Court. The compensation is paid from budget of the government financing the court of general jurisdiction found to be responsible for the excessive length of proceedings.

In addition, a legislative framework that regulates the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time, according to which the courts act, has been established recently in several jurisdictions in Bosnia and Herzegovina. According to this legal framework, the party has two options: to file a motion for procedure expedition to the court processing the case for which expedition is requested or file a complaint with the highest court in respective jurisdictions to determine the violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time, which requires the determination of financial compensation. In the remaining jurisdictions in Bosnia and Herzegovina, a legislative procedure is underway for the adoption of a legal framework on the protection of the right to a trial within a reasonable time. Wrongful arrest/detention and wrongful conviction: Terms under which person is entitled to compensation of damages for wrongful arrest and wrongful conviction are provided in criminal procedure codes. These terms are provided as follows:

Wrongful arrest - a person is entitled to compensation of damages in the following cases: (i) a person who was in detention, but criminal proceedings were not instituted or proceedings were dismissed or a final verdict was pronounced acquitting the person of charges or charges were rejected; (ii) a person who was subjected to unlawful detention or retained in detention or a correctional institution due to a mistake; (iii) a person who was in detention longer than the sentence to which he was convicted; (iv) a person who served a sentence of imprisonment, and was pronounced a shorter imprisonment sentence in reopened criminal proceedings than the sentence he had served, or was pronounced a criminal sanction other than imprisonment or he was pronounced guilty but freed from sanction; (v) a person who was imprisoned without a legal ground is entitled to compensation of damages if no pretrial detention was ordered against him or the time for which he was imprisoned was not included in the sentence pronounced for a criminal (2022): The Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported that the influx of cases at the Constitutional Court of BiH varies from year to year. Depending on the influx, other data on cases of the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina also vary. The Constitutional Court of BiH could not give an answer as to what factors influenced that figure. In previous years, the only thing that was evident was that cases involving the length of court procedures and the non-enforcement of court decisions had an effect on the total number of incoming cases. This was not the case in 2022, due to the fact that a certain number of these cases were processed by courts within the new legislative framework that regulates the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time. According to the Constitutional Court of BiH, most of their cases concern allegations regarding the violation of the right to a fair trial (Article 6 of the European Convention) and the right to property (Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 to the European Convention) as well as cases in which the Constitutional Court of BiH is petitioned to proceed as a court of the fourth instance.

A legislative framework that regulates the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time, according to which the courts act, has been established in one part of the jurisdiction in Bosnia and Herzegovina. According to this legal framework, the party has two options: to file a motion for procedure expedition to the court processing the case for which expedition is requested or file a complaint with the highest court in respective jurisdictions to determine the violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time, which requires the determination of financial compensation. In other parts of the jurisdiction of BiH, the establishment of this legislative framework is underway. When it comes to the number of motions to expedite case resolution, a total of 154 motions were filed to the courts in 2022. In 2022, the courts granted 39 and denied/dissmissed 76 motions of the parties. In addition, the courts received 15 claims for damages last year. In 7 cases, the courts decided to award compensation to the plaintiffs, while they rejected the lawsuit with a claim for damages in 5 cases.

The Institution of Human Rights Ombudsman of Bosnia and Herzegovina (the Ombudsman) handles complaints related to malfunctioning of public authorities or to human rights violations committed by any public institution in Bosnia and Herzegovina. In performing its competences the Ombudsman cannot decide on compensation for determined human rights violations. There is no strict deadline for handling complaints. In cases where violation of rights is established, the Ombudsman issues recommendation to competent public institutions to undertake measures to restore human rights violation or poor functioning of administration. The Institution also provides assistance to citizens how to use the most adequate legal remedies or advises them which institution to address. The Ombudsman received 347 complaints against courts in 2022; the structure of the complaints was as follows: 29 complaints alleging excessive length of proceedings, 22 complaints alleging ineffective enforcement of court decisions, 12 complaints against judges for violation of procedural laws, 2 complaints against the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina and 282 complaints related to the violation of other rights related to court procedure. In 2022 the Ombudsman issued 67 recommendations to the courts. These statistics are not included in the data prepared for Question 156, as the Ombudsman does not have the authority to determine compensation for damages caused to complainants of the work of courts and other institutions.

(2021): Number of requests shown in the table refers to the requests received in 2021 and number of the condemnations refers to the total number of condemnations issued in 2021, regardless of the year of request.

There were some significant variations between data for 2020 and 2021.

The Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported the increase of the number of condemnations for excessive length of proceedings and non-execution of court decisions in 2021. Namely, the Court concluded during the reporting year that the majority of the relevant legislative and other authorities in Bosnia and Herzegovina failed to meet the timeframe determined previously by that institution for taking legislative measures and other corrective activities to help reduce systematic violations of the right to trial within a reasonable time. Accordingly, the Court has intensified the processing of individual applications of the parties in court proceedings alleging infringement of the right to trial within a reasonable time or the right to have a court decision enforced. There were no particular reasons (e.g. change of policy or legislation) for the data variations between 2020 and 2021 for the following categories: wrongful arrest, wrongful conviction, and others. In this regard, the relevant authorities (e.g. ministries of justice, public defenders, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina) explained that the numbers of requests and condemnations and the amount of compensation were based on the circumstances of individual cases.

(2020): Specific comments for 2020: Number of requests shown in the table refers to the requests received in 2020 and number of the condemnations refers to the total number of condemnations in 2020, regardless of the year of request.

There were significant variations between data for 2020 and 2019.

In particular, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported that during 2020 it rejected all individual applications alleging the non-execution of court decisions against public sector debtors (e.g. government, state-owned companies, local self-government units etc.). Having concluded that the non-execution of court decisions against public sector debtors was a systematic problem, in relation to the Article 6 of the European Convention the Human Rights, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina introduced the previously mentioned policy. In addition, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina requested the relevant authorities to take comprehensive corrective activities. As for the increased number of condemnations regarding excessive length of court proceedings in 2020, the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina reported that the higher number of condemnations corresponds with the relevant authorities' continued lack of success to take efficient legislative and other measures to reduce the length of proceedings at the courts in Bosnia and Herzegovina. There were no particular reasons (e.g. change of policy or legislation) for the data variations between 2020 and 2019 for the following categories: wrongful arrest, wrongful conviction, and others. In this regard, the relevant authorities (e.g. ministries of justice, public defenders) stated that the numbers of requests and condemnations and the amount of compensation depend on the circumstances of individual cases.

(2019): Specific comments for 2019: Number of requests shown in the table refers to the requests received in 2019 and number of the condemnations refers to the total number of condemnations in 2019, regardless of the date of submission of the request. There are significant variations between data for 2019 compared to 2018 when it comes to the number of requests, the number of condemnations, and the amount of awarded compensations for the Excessive length of proceedings and the Non - execution of court decisions. The reason for the variations is a current temporary policy change of the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina, regarding admissibility and handling of individual applications, pending its request to the legislative authorities and the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina to take systemic measures to ensure the reasonable length of proceedings at the courts in Bosnia and Herzegovina. There are no particular reasons (e.g. change of policy or legislation) for the data differences between 2019 and 2018 for Wrongful arrest, Wrongful conviction, and Others. The variations are explained by the relevant institutions (i. e. ministries of justice, public defenders) as the increase or decrease, registered specially in 2019, in terms of the number of requests, the number of condemnations, and the amount of awarded compensations (e.g. Courts of general jurisdiction awarded in some cases relatively higher amounts of damages to the plaintiffs due to the specific facts and circumstances of those cases).

Montenegro

(2022): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 113 cases in work upon claims for just satisfaction. Based on the adopted claims for compensation of non- pecuniary damage, in 59 cases the Court found a violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and awarded the plaintiffs a total of 52 200 EUR. The Law on the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time prescribes that the compensation is determined in the amount range 300 - 5.000 EUR. The following criteria shall be taken into account when determining the amount of compensation: the complexity of the case in factual and legal terms, conduct of the applicant, conduct of courts and other state bodies, local self-government bodies, public services and other holders of public authority and the interest of the applicant. Wrongful arrest/detention: Data available from the Ministry of Justice. Data for settlements concluded in 2022.

(2021): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 149 cases in work upon claims for just satisfaction. Based on the adopted claims for compensation of non- pecuniary damage, in 64 cases the Court found a violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and awarded the plaintiffs a total of 40 000 EUR. The Law on the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time prescribes that the compensation is determined in the amount range 300 - 5.000 EUR. The following criteria shall be taken into account when determining the amount of compensation: the complexity of the case in factual and legal terms, conduct of the applicant, conduct of courts and other state bodies, local self-government bodies, public services and other holders of public authority and the interest of the applicant.

(2020): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 62 cases in work, upon claims for fair satisfaction. Based on the adopted claims for compensation of non-pecuniary damage, in 22 cases the Court found a violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and awarded the plaintiffs a total of 38 100 EUR.

In accordance with the article 498 of the Criminal Procedure Code, "(1) The right to compensation of damages for unjustifiable conviction shall be held by a person against whom a criminal sanction was imposed by a final decision or who was pronounced guilty but whose punishment was remitted, and subsequently, upon an extraordinary legal remedy, the new proceedings was finally discontinued or the convicted person was acquitted by a final decision or the charge was rejected, except in the following cases:

1) if the proceedings was discontinued or the charge was dismissed because in the new proceedings the subsidiary prosecutor or private prosecutor waived the prosecution, provided that the waiver occurred on the basis of an agreement with the accused person, 2) in the new proceedings the charge was dismissed by a ruling because the court lacked jurisdiction and the authorized prosecutor has initiated prosecution before the competent court.

(2) A convicted person i.e. an acquitted person, is not entitled to compensation of damages if he caused the criminal proceedings through a false confession in the investigatory procedure or otherwise, or caused his conviction through such statements during the proceedings, unless he was forced to do so.

(3) In the case of conviction for offences committed in concurrence, the right to compensation of damages may also relate to respective criminal offences in regard to which the conditions for approving compensation are met."

In accordance with art. 499 par. 2 of the Criminal Procedure Code, "Before bringing a compensation claim to the court, the injured party shall submit his/her request to the ministry competent for the affairs of the judiciary in order to reach a settlement on the existence of damage and the type and amount of compensation."

"Court concerned" is referred to as the Court before which the violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time has been questioned in the procedure prescribed by the Law on the protection of the right to a trial within reasonable time (this could be any court in Montenegro).

(2019): With regard to the length of the proceeding, the Supreme Court of Montenegro had a total of 78 cases in work, upon actions for fair redress. Based on the adopted actions for compensation of non-pecuniary damage, due to the violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time, a total of EUR 50.000 was awarded.

In 2019. the Ministry of Justice has, on the basis of 6 complete settlements on the existence of the damage, type and the amount of the compensation due to the unlawful deprivation of liberty, payed the amount of 5.238,00 €. Total number of filed requests was 50.

Ministry of Justice has several criteria on the basis of which the amount is being determined of the compensation for the damage due to the unlawful deprivation of liberty which is being offered for reaching the agreement - prior convictions, absolute statute of limitations on prosecution or the conviction is rejected due to the dismissal of the State prosecutor from further criminal prosecution, funds of the Ministry of Justice allocated by the Budget for this item, and especially, court practice is being monitored in the cases of this type, and in that terms the offer for reaching the agreement is being defined.

In accordance with the article 498 of the Criminal Procedure Code, "(1) The right to compensation of damages for unjustifiable conviction shall be held by a person against whom a criminal sanction was imposed by a final decision or who was pronounced guilty but whose punishment was remitted, and subsequently, upon an extraordinary legal remedy, the new proceedings was finally discontinued or the convicted person was acquitted by a final decision or the charge was rejected, except in the following cases:

1) if the proceedings was discontinued or the charge was dismissed because in the new proceedings the subsidiary prosecutor or private prosecutor waived the prosecution, provided that the waiver occurred on the basis of an agreement with the accused person, 2) in the new proceedings the charge was dismissed by a ruling because the court lacked jurisdiction and the authorized prosecutor has initiated prosecution before the competent court.

(2) A convicted person i.e. an acquitted person, is not entitled to compensation of damages if he caused the criminal proceedings through a false confession in the investigatory procedure or otherwise, or caused his conviction through such statements during the proceedings, unless he was forced to do so.

(3) In the case of conviction for offences committed in concurrence, the right to compensation of damages may also relate to respective criminal offences in regard to which the conditions for approving compensation are met."

In accordance with art. 499 par. 2 of the Criminal Procedure Code, "Before bringing a compensation claim to the court, the injured party shall submit his/her request to the ministry competent for the affairs of the judiciary in order to reach a settlement on the existence of damage and the type and amount of compensation."

North Macedonia

(General Comment): 1. In line with the responsibilities for implementation of the standards for the right of trial in a reasonable time frame, according to the European Convention on Human Rights, and the priority to decrease of the number of applications from RM on the basis of article 6, before the ECHR, the Law on courts from 2006 and the Amendments to the Law on courts provide sole jurisdiction to trial on claims for protection of the right to a trial in a reasonable time frame for the Supreme Court of RM. Hence, in April 2009 the Department for Processing of Cases within Reasonable Time was established, in line with the Working Schedule of the Supreme Court of RM. Additionally, Law on enforcement of ECHR decisions and Law for legal representation of RM before ECHR were adopted in order to establish efficient system for enforcement of the ECHR decisions.

2. The Law on Criminal procedure defines the procedure for damage compensation, rehabilitation and for realisation of other rights of persons who are convicted and arrested on unjustified grounds or unlawfully.

The procedure for compensation of damage is acting by the court and the amounts depends from case to case. The amounts are related with the case and the taken actions in that case (days in wrongful arrest, wrongful conviction, lost profit, costs, rate of interest etc.)

(General Comment): THE LAW ON THE PROTECTION OF THE RIGHT TO A TRIAL WITHIN A REASONABLE TIME: Article 3

The legal means that protect the right to a trial within a reasonable time are:

- 1) objection to speed up the procedure (hereinafter: objection);
- 2) appeal;
- 3) request for just satisfaction.

The party does not pay the court fee in proceedings in which the right to a trial within a reasonable time is protected. They are urgent and have priority in decision-making.

Article 7: The party submits an objection to the court conducting the proceedings or to the court before which the proceedings are conducted if he believes that the public prosecutor has violated his right.

The procedure for the objection is led by the president of the court, who decides on the objection. With the annual schedule of work, he can designate one judge or more judges to lead the proceedings alongside him and decide on objections.

An oral hearing is not held, and the law governing non-litigation proceedings is applied accordingly to other issues.

The president of the court is obliged to decide on the objection within two months from the day of receipt of the objection.

Article 14

The party has the right to appeal if his objection is rejected or if the president of the court does not decide on it within two months from the day of receipt of the objection.

An appeal can also be filed if the objection was accepted, but the immediately superior public prosecutor did not issue a mandatory instruction within eight days from the date of receipt of the court president's decision, then if the court president or the immediately superior public prosecutor did not instruct the judge or the public prosecutor to take procedural actions that effectively speed up the procedure, or if the judge or public prosecutor has not taken the ordered procedural actions within the deadline set for him. Among other things, the complaint contains the same mandatory elements as the complaint.

Article 23:

The types of just satisfaction are:

- 1) the right to payment of monetary compensation for non-property damage caused to the party by violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time (hereinafter: monetary compensation);
- 2) the right to publish the written statement of the State Attorney's Office (hereinafter: Attorney's Office) establishing that the party's right to a trial within a reasonable time was violated;
- 3) the right to publish a judgment establishing that the party's right to a trial within a reasonable time was violated.

The responsibility of the Republic of Serbia for non-property damage caused by the violation of the right to trial within a reasonable time is objective.

When deciding on just satisfaction, the Office of the Attorney General and the courts are bound by the decisions of the president of the courts, which established a violation of the (2022): Based on the decisions of the presidents of the courts, which accepted objections for speeding up the proceedings and found a violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time before the basic and higher courts in the Republic of Serbia, out of the total number of cases received (13,060). The largest number of these cases refer to the enforcement of legally binding court decisions. However, the exact number of Non-execution of court decisions cases is N/A.

(2020): Concerning the system for compensating users in cases of excessive length of proceedings (and the same goes for non-execution of court decisions), there is a possibility to request a compensation because of excessive length of proceedings in accordance with the provisions of the Law on Protection of Right to Trial within a Reasonable Time (“RS Official Gazette”, No. 40/2015). The right to trial within a reasonable time is granted to every party in court proceedings, including enforcement proceedings, to every party in non-litigious proceedings and to the injured party in criminal proceedings, the private prosecutor and the injured party only if they have submitted a claim for damages. The public prosecutor as a party to criminal proceedings is not entitled to a trial within a reasonable time. Legal remedies according to this Law are: 1) complaint to speed up the procedure; 2) appeal;

3) request for just satisfaction. Request for just satisfaction includes the right to payment of monetary compensation for non-pecuniary damages or pecuniary damages caused to a party by violation of the right to a trial within a reasonable time (monetary compensation). A party may file a lawsuit against the Republic of Serbia for monetary compensation within one year from the day when it acquired the right to fair satisfaction (Articles 26-33 of this Law). The amount of compensation for non pecuniary damages is limited to EUR 300 - 3,000 and regarding pecuniary damages it is to be determined by court in accordance with the principle of causality and provisions of the Law on Contracts and Torts. The statistics concerning these lawsuits are presented regarding questions 32 and 36 referring to “other than criminal law cases.

(2019): Excessive length of proceedings: Pursuant to the Law on Protection of Right to Trial within a Reasonable Time (2015) which entered into force on 1 January 2016, the State Attorney established the Commission to make decisions on settlement proposals for just satisfaction when a violation was determined for a trial within reasonable time. Reliable data on these statistics and other relevant compensation is not available at this time.

In the table above, the requests, condemnations and amounts are given which are related to the execution of judgments of the ECtHR and the work of three MoJ commissions. There is no specific legislation governing the execution of judgments of the ECtHR in Serbia. In practice, The State Attorney's Office (hereinafter: the Agent) has the coordinating role in the process of execution of judgments and decisions of the ECtHR. In that regard the Agent, inter alia: - informs all the relevant domestic authorities that judgment/decision was brought; - informs the responsible domestic authorities that certain amounts should be paid to the applicants in execution of the judgment/decision of the ECtHR; - informs the Department of execution of judgments of the ECtHR on the state of execution and submits evidence on payments. The domestic authorities adopted the following practise: - non-pecuniary damages are being paid mostly from the accounts of High Court's Council; - pecuniary damages (which represent sums awarded by non-enforced domestic judgments) are being paid from the accounts of State Attorney's Office.

In total: During 2019, the State Attorney's Office enforced 35 decisions (15 judgments and 20 decisions on friendly settlement) of the ECtHR issued against Serbia. The said decisions concerned 174 applicants. During the said period, Serbia made payments in total of EUR 369.712,49 both for pecuniary and non-pecuniary damages.

Violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time: In 30 decisions issued during the year 2019, violation of the right to a trial within reasonable time was established and consequently the applicants were awarded non-pecuniary damages. All 145 applicants received payments on account of non-pecuniary damages, which amounted to EUR 330.610,86, in total.

Non-enforcement of domestic decisions: In 4 decisions issued during the year 2019, a violation of Article 6 was established on account of failure to enforce final domestic decisions, concerning 28 applicants. In execution of the said decisions an amount of EUR 12.101,63 was paid.

Wrongful arrest and wrongful conviction: Statistics of the two of the MoJ commissions cannot be differentiated, which is why these two categories are NA. The procedure for exercising the rights of a person unfoundedly deprived of liberty or an unfoundedly convicted person is regulated by the Criminal Procedure Code. The Code stipulates that prior to submitting a claim for compensation of damages to the court, the aggrieved party is obliged to file a claim for compensation of damage to the MoJ in order to reach an agreement. The Commission for determining the damage and the type and amount of compensation for persons unfoundedly convicted and unfoundedly deprived of liberty, established by the decision of the Minister of Justice, considers claims for compensation of damages and makes appropriate decisions. If the compensation claim is not adopted or the Commission does not decide on the request within three months from the date of its submission, the aggrieved party may bring an action for damages before the competent court.

In 2018, a total of 798 claims for compensation for non-pecuniary damage due to unfounded conviction and unfounded deprivation of liberty were submitted to the MoJ Commission. The Commission decided on a total of 257 filed claims and proposed the amount of 445,380 EUR for unfounded convictions and unfounded deprivations of liberty. The total amount accepted and paid for the unfounded convictions and unfounded deprivations of liberty is 122,386 EUR.

Albania

(General Comment): As provided by the Criminal Procedure Code, Parties may request the disqualification of a judge in cases of incompatibility on grounds of participating in proceedings; incompatibility on grounds of family, blood or in-laws relation, when the judge has the duty to abstain from the judgment, and if, in the exercise of his functions and prior to the issuance of the decision, he has expressed his opinion on the facts or circumstances object of the proceedings. Similar proceedings are provided by civil procedures and administrative procedures codes.

The judge is obliged to withdraw from a case when:

1. he has an interest in the case or in another dispute which is related to it in the trial.
2. he or his spouse has kin relations to the fourth degree or in-law to the second degree, or is related by obligations of child adoption, or lives together in a permanently with one of the parties or attorneys.
3. he or his spouse is in legal conflict or in enmity or in relations of credit or loan with one of the parties or one of the representatives.
4. he has given advise or has expressed opinion on the case in trial or has participated in the trial of the case in a different level of the process, has been questioned as a witness, as expert or representative of one or the other party.
5. he is guardian, employer of one of the parties, administrator or has another task in an entity, association, society or other institution which has interests in the case in trial.
6. in any other event when, according to concrete circumstances, serious reasons for partiality are verified. The request for resignation is presented to the chairman of the respective court who decides. The chairman of the Court of Appeal decides on the presentation of the resignation of the chairman of the district court, and the Chairman of the High Court decides on the request of the chairman of the Court of Appeal. The parties are notified on the content of the request

The judge who on his conscience assesses that there are reasonable causes not to take part in the revision of a case, requests the chairman of the court to be replaced. When Chairman of the court deems relevant the request orders his replacement with another judge through lot.

In cases where the resignation of a judge is mandatory, each of the parties may request the exempt of the judge.

The request, signed by the respective party or its representative, must be deposited with the court secretariat when the announcement of the judge or judges that shall examine the case is made public, or if not, immediately after the announcement of the judge or judges that shall try the case.

Later submission of the request is permitted only in the instance that the party has received information on the grounds of dismissal, or if the judge has inappropriately expressed biased opinion of the facts and circumstances pertaining to the trial during the execution of his duties, although no later than three days from receipt of information.

The request must contain the grounds of dismissal, documents and other available evidence.

The request for the dismissal of a judge is examined in consultation chamber in a session by another judge of the same court. The appeal against the decision to accept or reject the request for dismissal is allowed together with the final decision.

The request for dismissing a judge of the appeals court is decided by a panel of three judges of the same court, different from the panel to which the judge belongs. The decision is of a final form.

(2021): As provided by the Criminal Procedure Code, Parties may request the disqualification of a judge in cases of incompatibility on grounds of participating in proceedings; incompatibility on grounds of family, blood or in-laws relation, when the judge has the duty to abstain from the judgment, and if, in the exercise of his functions and prior to the issuance of the decision, he has expressed his opinion on the facts or circumstances object of the proceedings. Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): In December 2021, however, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted the guidelines requiring the chief prosecutors in the country to prescribe internal procedure for issuing specific instructions. The guidelines read as follows: The chief prosecutor gives mandatory individual instructions for taking procedural and substantive prosecutorial decisions in accordance with the law. The instructions must be issued in writing and entered in the case file. The prosecutor is obliged to act in accordance with the individual instructions given by the chief prosecutor unless following such instructions would mean a violation of the law. If the prosecutor disagrees with the individual instructions, he will submit his dissenting opinion to the chief prosecutor. The chief prosecutor, after obtaining the opinion of the collegiate of the prosecutor's office, makes an elaborate decision in relation to the prosecutor's dissenting opinion. The chief prosecutors issued specific instructions to public prosecutors to make a certain decision (i.e. to investigate or not, to prosecute or not) or take a certain action in a total of 80 cases in 2022, following the general guidelines that the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has adopted requiring the chief prosecutors to prescribe internal procedure for issuing specific instructions.

(2019): The Criminal Procedure Code pinpoints a series of core principles. Criminal proceedings may only be initiated and conducted upon the motion of the prosecutor. The latter shall initiate prosecution if there is evidence that a criminal offence has been committed. If during the course of an investigation, the prosecutor finds that there is enough evidence for grounded suspicion that the suspect has committed a criminal offence, he/she shall prepare and refer the indictment to the preliminary hearing judge. The main rights and duties of prosecutors are: as soon as he/she becomes aware that there are grounds for suspicion that a criminal offence has been committed, to take necessary steps to discover it and investigate it, to identify the suspect(s), guide and supervise the investigation, as well as direct the activities of authorized officials pertaining to the identification of suspect(s) and the gathering of information and evidence; to perform an investigation; to grant immunity; to request information from governmental bodies, companies and physical and legal persons in Bosnia and Herzegovina; to issue summonses and orders and to propose the issuance of summonses and orders as provided under this Code; to order authorized officials to execute an order issued by the Court as provided by this Code; to establish facts necessary for deciding on claims under property law and on the forfeiture of property gain obtained by the commission of a criminal offence; to propose the issuance of a warrant for pronouncement of the sentence pursuant to the Code; to issue and defend indictment before the Court; to file legal remedies; to perform other tasks as provided by law. Senior public prosecutor shall have the right and duty to give mandatory instructions to the junior public prosecutor regarding his/her work, and may, apart from that: take certain actions which are in the competence of junior public prosecutor; authorize a different junior public prosecutor to process individual cases that are within the competence of the junior public prosecutor; authorize a junior public prosecutor to perform individual activities that are within the competence of another junior public prosecutor.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): The judicial system in Bosnia and Herzegovina is consisted of both courts and prosecutor's offices, as mutually independent institutions in performing their powers. The law establishes prosecutor's offices and courts as autonomous institutions. Judges and prosecutors are considered to be judicial office holders. The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina— an institution with mixed composition- appoints judges and prosecutors; it has identical competences over issues regarding both judges and prosecutors/courts and prosecutor's offices. The same legislation regulates salaries of public prosecutors and judges. Prosecutor's offices have their own respective budgets, adopted by parliaments in the procedure applicable to all other public institutions. Pursuant to the specific legislation regulating the legal status of prosecutors' offices in Bosnia and Herzegovina, they constitute independent authorities which prosecute perpetrators of criminal offenses and file legal expedients for the purpose of protecting legality and constitutionality. Public prosecution offices shall perform their functions on the basis of the constitution and the law. No one shall have the right to influence the public prosecutor's office in the execution of its constitutional and legal functions.

The basic right and the basic duty of the prosecutor is the detection and prosecution of perpetrators of criminal offenses. The prosecutor has have the following rights and duties: a) as soon as the prosecutor becomes aware that there are grounds for suspicion that a criminal offense has been committed, to take necessary steps to discover it and investigate it, to identify the suspect(s), guide and supervise the investigation, as well as direct the activities of authorized officials pertaining to the identification of suspect(s) and the gathering of information and evidence; b) to conduct an investigation in accordance with the law; c) to grant immunity in accordance with law; d) to request information from governmental bodies, companies and other physical and legal persons; e) to issue summonses and orders and to propose the issuance of summonses and orders in accordance with the law; f) to order authorized officials to execute an order issued by the court as provided by the law; g) to propose the issuance of a warrant for pronouncement of the sentence; h) to issue and defend indictment before the court; i) to file legal remedies; j) to perform other tasks as provided by the law.

The Chief Prosecutor shall have the right and duty to give mandatory instructions to the public prosecutor regarding his/her work, and may, apart from that: take certain actions which are in the competence of the public prosecutor; authorize a different public prosecutor to process individual cases that are within the competence of the public prosecutor; authorize a public prosecutor to perform individual activities that are within the competence of another public prosecutor. The Chief Prosecutor may perform criminal prosecution within the competence of a public prosecutor, and in doing so, s/he may: undertake necessary measures related to detection of crimes and identification of perpetrators with the purpose of directing preceding criminal proceedings; request investigation conduct; bring and represent indictment, i.e. indictment proposals and other proposals before competent court; file appeals against unlawful court decisions, i.e. withdraw already filed appeals.

The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has the following competencies: appointing Chief Prosecutors, Deputy Chief Prosecutors and prosecutors; receiving complaints against prosecutors, conducting disciplinary proceedings, determining disciplinary liability, and imposing disciplinary measures on prosecutors; deciding upon appeals in disciplinary proceedings; deciding upon suspensions of prosecutors; deciding upon issues of incompatibility of other functions performed by prosecutors; deciding upon the temporary assignment or transfer of prosecutors to another prosecutor's office; supervising the advanced professional training of prosecutors and advising the Centers for Judicial and Prosecutorial Training in their adoption of programmes of advanced professional training for prosecutors; determining the minimum amount of advanced professional training to be undertaken by every prosecutor each year; determining the induction training for candidates chosen for prosecutorial office and supervising the provision of such (2019): Constitution provides for the major principles on the independence of the judiciary and judges whereas the law on the status of judges and prosecutors, the law on the organisation and functioning of the judicial power, the law on the governance institutions of the justice system and the law on the organisation and functioning of the prosecution office provides the relevant provisions enacting the principle of independence of judges and prosecutors.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Pursuant to the specific legislation regulating the legal status of prosecutors' offices in Bosnia and Herzegovina, they constitute independent authorities which prosecute perpetrators of criminal offenses and file legal expedients for the purpose of protecting legality and constitutionality. Public prosecution offices shall perform their functions on the basis of the constitution and the law. No one shall have the right to influence the public prosecutor's office in the execution of its constitutional and legal functions. The Chief Prosecutor shall have the right and duty to give mandatory instructions to the public prosecutor regarding his/her work, and may, apart from that: take certain actions which are in the competence of the public prosecutor; authorize a different public prosecutor to process individual cases that are within the competence of the public prosecutor; authorize a public prosecutor to perform individual activities that are within the competence of another public prosecutor. The Chief Prosecutor may perform criminal prosecution within the competence of a public prosecutor, and in doing so, s/he may: undertake necessary measures related to detection of crimes and identification of perpetrators with the purpose of directing preceding criminal proceedings; request investigation conduct; bring and represent indictment, i.e. indictment proposals and other proposals before competent court; file appeals against unlawful court decisions, i.e. withdraw already filed appeals.

The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has the following competencies: appointing Chief Prosecutors, Deputy Chief Prosecutors and prosecutors; receiving complaints against prosecutors, conducting disciplinary proceedings, determining disciplinary liability, and imposing disciplinary measures on prosecutors; deciding upon appeals in disciplinary proceedings; deciding upon suspensions of prosecutors; deciding upon issues of incompatibility of other functions performed by prosecutors; deciding upon the temporary assignment or transfer of prosecutors to another prosecutor's office; supervising the advanced professional training of prosecutors and advising the Centers for Judicial and Prosecutorial Training in their adoption of programs of advanced professional training for prosecutors; determining the minimum amount of advanced professional training to be undertaken by every prosecutor each year; determining the induction training for candidates chosen for prosecutorial office and supervising the provision of such training; determining the number of prosecutors and/or Deputy Chief Prosecutors, after consultation with the relevant Chief Prosecutor, relevant budgetary authority, and the relevant Ministry of Justice; setting criteria for the performance evaluations of judges and prosecutors; setting criteria for the performance prosecutors' offices, and initiating enquiries concerning administrative or financial conduct; issuing codes of ethics for prosecutors.

Albania

(2021): In accordance with Article 148/d, point 4, of the Constitution and Article 151, of Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", as a result of the initiation of criminal proceedings for criminal offenses such as "Abuse of duty" or "Passive corruption of judges, prosecutors and other officials of the judiciary", during 2021, the High Prosecution Council has imposed the measure of suspension from duty for 3 (three) prosecutors.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(2022): ODC was informed about three investigations initiated against two judges and one prosecutor. ODC wasn't informed about end of the investigations.

One judge was sentenced to one-year prison sentence for corruptive criminal offence, in proceeding initiated last year.

(2020): In addition to one corruption-related case, there is also one case initiated because of family violence in 2020. There are also pending criminal cases against 2 judges and 4 public prosecutors from previous years.

In one case not related to corruption, the judge was sentenced to two years and ten months in prison.

(2019): In addition to one criminal case initiated against one judge in 2019, it should be noted that there are also pending criminal cases against 3 judges and 5 prosecutors that had been initiated in previous years.

Montenegro

(2019): In 2019, there were no criminal proceedings against state prosecutors. One criminal proceeding was initiated in 2018, when Prosecutorial council brought a decision of temporary removal from duty of the state prosecutor by the time of conclusion of the criminal proceeding.

North Macedonia

(2019): In 2019, criminal cases were initiated against 15 judges and 4 public prosecutors. From this for 1 judge was submitted indictment and the criminal procedure for this judge is ongoing. For 5 judges a decision for decline of submitted criminal charge has been brought by the Public Prosecution office and they are closed. For the others the procedure is ongoing in the prosecution office and there is still not a decision for them.

From the prosecutors, for one prosecutor indictment was submitted and the procedure in front of the court is ongoing. For the other 3 cases, the procedure is ongoing in the prosecution office and there is still not a decision for them.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted the Guidelines for the prevention of conflicts of interest in the judiciary (July 2016), covering a) incompatibilities; b) reporting on property, income, obligations and interests; c) gifts and other benefits; d) contacts with third persons and abuse of confidential information; e) nepotism; and f) education and awareness-raising. The Guidelines elaborate the existing legislation and code of ethics and go into further detail with practical “do’s and don’ts” in a variety of situations.

There is an automated case assignment system in place, where cases are randomly assigned to judges, according to predetermined criteria.

In a situation where the judge to whom a case is assigned must, as required by law, be disqualified or recused from further proceedings, the case will be reassigned to another judge by the Court President or his deputy.

Disqualification of judges is governed by the civil procedure codes in Bosnia and Herzegovina (Law on Civil Procedure before the Court of BiH and civil procedure codes of the BiH Federation, Republika Srpska and Brcko District of BiH), which stipulate that:

a) the judge may be disqualified if circumstances exist that cast doubt to his impartiality (disqualification); b) the motion for disqualification of a judge shall be decided by Court President, and the motion for disqualification of Court President shall be decided by the court in plenary session; c) the provisions on disqualification of judges shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to record keepers. The criminal procedure codes of BiH, BiH Federation, Republika Srpska and Brcko District of BiH stipulate that:

a) the provisions on disqualification of a judge shall accordingly be applied to prosecutors and persons authorised to represent the prosecutor in the proceedings, record keepers, court interpreters and other staff members; b) the prosecutor shall decide the disqualification of persons authorised to represent him in criminal proceedings, and the Collegium of the Prosecutor’s Office shall decide the disqualification of the prosecutor. c) the panel, presiding judge or judge shall decide the disqualification of record keepers, court interpreters and other staff member, and, until the indictment is filed, it shall be decided by the prosecutor. In a situation where the judge to whom a case is assigned must be disqualified or recused from the case, the case will be reassigned to another judge. The same rule applies to prosecutors.

Case reassignment is governed by the books of rules on the case management systems in courts and prosecutor's offices (the Book of Rules on CMS and the Book of Rules on TCMS).

The case is reassigned to another judge by the Court President or a person authorised by him, who must state the grounds for reassignment.

The case is reassigned to another prosecutor by the Chief Prosecutor, who must state the grounds for reassignment.

Law on prevention of corruption regulates prevention of conflict of interest for holders of public functions, and thus applies also to judges and prosecutors.

Prevention of conflict of interest in the exercise of public functions

Article 7

A public official shall perform his/her function in such a manner that the public interest is not subordinated to private, and without causing a conflict of interest in the exercise of public function.

The conflict of interest in the exercise of public function exists when a private interest of a public official affects or may affect the impartiality of the public official in the exercise of public function.

The Agency shall establish the existence of a conflict of interest and implement measures for prevention of conflict of interest.

Opinions about the existence of conflict of interest in the exercise of public function and restrictions in the exercise of public functions and the decisions on the violation of the provisions of this Law relating to the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions, restrictions in the exercise of public functions, gifts, sponsorships and donations and reports on income and property by public officials, which are issued or adopted by the Agency in accordance with this Law, shall be binding for a public official.

It shall be deemed that a public official has violated the provisions of this Law if he fails to act in accordance with the opinion of the Agency referred to in paragraph 4 of this Article and with the obligations laid down in this Law or when he/she acts in a manner that violates the prohibitions and rules prescribed by this Law and other regulations regulating the conflict of interest in areas that are regulated by these regulations.

Albania

(2019): Law no 115/2016, Article 290, repealed the Law no 77/2012, "On the Organization and Functioning of the National Judicial Conference" and consequently the "Ethics Committee, Mandate Verification and Continuous Professional Development" under the National Judicial Conference ceased to exist. The Constitution, art. 147 and further on Law no 115/2016, art. 83 "Judicial Ethics" establish the High Judicial Council as responsible for adopting standards of judicial ethics and rules of conduct of judges and monitoring their compliance. Furthermore, law 96/2016, designs the latter institution as the responsible body for the periodic evaluation of judges on the professional and ethical criteria. Additionally, the HJC, by Decision No. 13 of 18.01.2019, established the four standing committees of the HJC, among which the committee of Ethical and Professional Performance Evaluation. This committee has finalized a regulation that includes a scoring grid on judges' professional and ethical evaluation and will further develop all the relevant criteria mentioned on the law 96/2016, which will be used for both the periodic evaluation of judges and at the same time will serve as a solid baseline/platform for their promotion. In parallel, as previously reported, the observance of magistrates to the ethical rules is subject to evaluation by the re-evaluation bodies under Law no 84/2016 "on the transitional re-assessment of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", and further on, will be part of the professional evaluation of magistrates by the HJC, according to Chapter II "criteria, sources and evaluation levels" of Law no 96/2016, Article 75, which is dedicated to ethics and commitment to professional values. The HJC, by decision No. 208 dated 11.10.2019 appointed an ethics adviser.

(2021): Consultative Body for judicial ethics as a part of Association of Judges

For consistent application of the principles of the Code of Ethics, the Association of the Judges of North Macedonia establishes an advisory committee, which upon request by a judge, lay-judge, president of a court, session of a court or the Association of Judges of Republic of North Macedonia (its branches) issues advisory opinions and advices concerning one or more questions regarding ethical conduct of a judge/lay-judge or regarding appropriate performance of judicial duties and avoidance of a conflict of interest between the judges' and lay-judges' private life and performance of their judicial duties. The opinions and advices of the Advisory Committee have preventive and advisory character. They indicate the conducts that represent a violation to the principles of the judicial Code of Ethics. The Advisory Committee works under the auspices of the Association of Judges of Republic of North Macedonia and is consisted of a president and 6 members. The members of the Advisory Committee are elected by the Steering Board of the Association of judges, from among the lines of the judges and lay-judges of Republic of North Macedonia, upon proposal of the branches of the Association of judges, with a mandate of two years. The members of the Advisory body are elected as follows: one judge of the Supreme Court, one judge of the Administrative or High Administrative Court, one judge from each appellate jurisdiction, who enjoy confidence of the judges on bases of his/her personal integrity and dignity in the execution of the judicial function, and one lay-judge. The president of the Advisory Committee is elected from among the members of the Committee. The members of the Advisory Committee enjoy immunity and may not be held responsible or be subject of a disciplinary procedure for the reason of given opinion or action as a member of the Advisory Committee.

The members of the Committee shall work without any compensation.

The Advisory Committee for Judicial Ethics submits Annual report for its activities to the Steering Board of the Association of the Judges and the General session of the Supreme Court. A request for an advisory opinion from a judge, lay-judge, president of a court or Association of judges of Republic of North Macedonia (its branches) should be submitted in writing, to which the Committee responds in writing no later than 15 days from the day of receiving the request, based on concrete facts and circumstances. If any of the facts or circumstances in the request are not detailed enough to allow the Committee to issue an appropriate opinion, additional information can be requested from the submitter of the request for opinion. The Committee shall not issue an opinion if the requested additional information is not enough or is not submitted. The Advisory Committee publishes its advisory opinions on the web-sites of the Association of the Judges and the Supreme Court of Republic of North Macedonia, as well as the facts and circumstances they are based on, after an appropriate anonymizing of the persons, places and data that may lead to identification. The sessions of the Advisory Committee are confidential. Publication of the edited (anonymized) opinions of the Advisory Committee is available to all judges, with aim to provide directions to other judges that face similar issues. Publication of the legal opinions and advices on certain issues related to the exercise of judicial office, prevention of conflicts of interest of judges/lay-judges, the manner of disposal with protocol gifts received during official visits, receptions and celebrations as well as prohibition for giving/receiving gifts by a judge and a lay judge are submitted in person, electronically or by post to the applicant for advice.

(2022): The Board of Ethics is a permanent working body of the High Judicial Council.

The Board of Ethics promotes ethical principles stipulated by the Code of Ethics for Judges and the Code of Ethics for the Members of the High Judicial Council and monitors their implementation to raise the awareness of the judges, the presidents of the courts and the members of the Council about the importance of ethical principles and rules of conduct in the performance of their duties, public engagement and private lives in order to raise the reputation of the judiciary and strengthen the citizen's trust in the work of judges and courts.

The Rulebook of the High Judicial Council's Board of Ethics stipulates that the Board of Ethics issued general opinions on whether the judge's conduct is in accordance with the Judges' Code of Ethics, i.e. whether the behavior of a member of the Council is in accordance with the Code of Ethics of the members of the High Judicial Council. The Board of Ethics adopts decisions at its sessions. The sessions are convened when needed, but at least four times per year. In 2022 five sessions of the Board of Ethics were held.

During 2022, the Board of Ethics issued 12 general opinions that were published on the website of the High Judicial Council and are available to all judges.

The Confidential counsellor is a member of the Board of Ethics appointed by the Board of Ethics from among its members, with whom the judges may consult when they have doubts regarding the implementation of the Code of Ethics in specific situations in which they find themselves.

His contact phone number and email address are published on the Council's website and are available to judges.

During 2022, sixteen requests were submitted and acted upon by the confidential advisor.

When providing an opinion, the confidential counsellor is guided by the Code of Ethics, the adopted positions of the Board of Ethics, while preserving the identity of the initiator of confidential counselling.

Question 181-1

Albania

(2022): The High Prosecutorial Council handled a request of a prosecutor in the general jurisdiction offices to engage as an expert in monitoring the activity of the Special Prosecutor's Office against Corruption and Organized Crime, within the framework of a project implemented by an NPO. According to the law, the prosecutor has the right to participate in off-duty activities related to legal issues, the legal system and the administration of justice.

However, the prosecutor's request was related to the monitoring of the work of the Special Prosecutor's Office for various issues, therefore, this request contradicted the criteria provided for in Article 9, point 1, letter "dh", of the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors", as amended, where it is stated that, the activities outside the function should not be incompatible with the exercise of the function of the magistrate.

In the "Standards with the Rules of Ethics and the Rules of Conduct of the Prosecutor" have been established some basic principles which aim to increase impartiality during and outside the exercise of the functions of the prosecutor, support the implementation of the highest standards of ethical and professional behaviour, preserve the image of the professional, as well as the appropriate behaviour in the office in court or outside these premises of the prosecutor. In article 5, letters "b" and "ç", of these Rules, related to the principle of impartiality, it is provided that the Prosecutor must: b) avoid any type of behaviour that may create the impression of partiality; ç) avoids situations that can reasonably be perceived as leading to a conflict of interest.

The High Prosecutorial Council assessed that the prosecutor's participation in off-duty activities to monitor the activity of the Special Prosecutor's Office against Corruption and Organized Crime was incompatible with the activity of the magistrate, violates the principles of independence and impartiality of the prosecutor, as well as the principle of avoidance of conflict of interest.

In the same time, the law has provide special bodies such as the High Prosecutorial Council and the Parliament which monitor the activity of the Special Prosecution against Corruption and Organized Crime, as this institution reports to them on its annual activity.

The complaint may contain evidence and data sources of alleged facts and circumstances and retain the right to confidentiality. The High Justice Inspector publishes the complaint form template on his official website, in order to facilitate the submission of complaints. The High Prosecutorial Council takes disciplinary action in accordance with the violation found and if there is evidence of influence/corruption, the prosecutor is subject to a criminal charge.

Also, a special mechanism is set out in Article 42, of Law no. 95/2016, "On the organization and functioning of institutions to combat corruption and organized crime", which provides that, in the National Bureau of Investigation which depends on the Special Prosecution, acts an officer in charge of surveillance. Each month, a ready Special Prosecutor directs, controls, and monitors the officer in charge of surveillance. The responsible officer reports any information that raises reasonable suspicions of corrupt or criminal activity to the Special Prosecutor. If there is a reasonable suspicion that the Special Prosecutor is involved in criminal activity, then the responsible officer reports to any of the Special Prosecutors in the Special Prosecution Office, who appears not to have been involved in the suspicious activity.

IX ACTING UPON COMPLAINTS

Term of complaints

Article 87

The complaint shall be the written address of natural person or a legal entity to the Agency, in which facts causing doubt over corruption are presented.

In case the Agency is not competent to act upon a complaint, it shall forward the petition to the competent body and notify the applicant thereof.

The Agency shall protect the identity of the applicant, by not providing his/her data to anyone but the court, for the purpose of reaching the decision as to whether the identity of the applicant can be disclosed for the purpose of preserving public interest or protecting the third-party rights.

Complaint Regularity

Article 88

The complaint shall contain the facts causing doubt over corruption, the name of the body of public authority, name and surname of the person against whom it is lodged, i.e. the data based on which the identity of such person can be determined, the time, place and description of the corruptive action or corruptive conduct, as well as the signature and data on the applicant, unless the complaint is anonymous.

The complaint shall be deemed irregular if containing faults that prevent the Agency from acting upon it, if unclear and incomplete. In case the petition is irregular, the Agency shall notify the application as to how to revise the petition within 15 days from the date of reception of notification.

In case the complaint is not revised within a deadline, it shall be deemed that the applicant has withdrawn from the complaint.

The Agency's actions upon complaint shall be more closely defined by the act of the Director.

(2021): Article 6 of the Law on Disciplinary Liability to Judges and Prosecutors provides for violations by prosecutors involving influence and corruption.

Pursuant to this law, natural and legal persons may file a complaint against a prosecutor regarding any allegation of a disciplinary violation to the following authorities.

- The Chief State Prosecutor regarding the alleged violations of any Chief Prosecutor
- Chief Prosecutors of the Prosecution regarding the alleged violations of any prosecutor of that Prosecution
- The Prosecutorial Council regarding the alleged violations of the Chief State Prosecutor

Natural and legal persons can also file complaints against prosecutors with the People's Advocate.

In cases when the complaint is grounded and contains elements of a criminal offense, the competent authority must forward the case to the prosecutor's office and notify the Council and the People's Advocate.

Within 15 working days from the receipt of the request for initiation of disciplinary investigations, the Council must establish the investigative panels. Investigative panels are tasked with securing the facts and gathering evidence regarding the alleged disciplinary violation. After this procedure (it is explained in more detail in the Law) the panel sends the report to the Council, where the latter holds a hearing and decides whether the alleged disciplinary violation has been committed or not. If it is decided that there is a disciplinary violation, a disciplinary measure is imposed on that prosecutor according to this Law.

(2019): There is no permanent mechanism which reports attempts on corruption on judges or prosecutors. Rather, if there is a complain against a prosecutor or judge concerning an allegation of influence or corruption, respective councils establish a panel which then is responsible to handle the case.

Albania

(General Comment): Every intervention made while distributing cases by electronic lot is logged in the system, this means a third party can audit in every moment the procedure of the lot, and see if it has been done according to the rules in place. Whenever the workload of a judge is considered disproportionate compared to the average, the judge in question is excluded from the random distribution of the cases, by an internal order issued by the president of the court.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): The system for distribution of cases in the courts of Bosnia and Herzegovina is organized as random and automatic allocation, in accordance with predefined parameters. Due to the parameters the system for distribution of cases is classified as "other type of allocation". These parameters are prescribed by the decision of the court president and they include specialization of judges and percentage of participation of every judge in the distribution of cases. After these parameters are set, system randomly distributes cases to judges of particular specialization and in accordance with the percentage of each judges' participation in the distribution, but also considering workload of individual judges. The High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina has adopted the Rulebook on internal court operations and the Rulebook on the Automated Case Management System in Courts. Priority cases (e.g. cases involving detention, cases involving minors etc.) are distributed urgently as prescribed by the law or by the decision of the court president. The law stipulates shorter deadlines for priority cases, so these cases have to be allocated to judges urgently and judges have to start working on them immediately. It is possible to exclude a judge from the allocation for various reasons. Judge can be temporarily excluded due to illness, vacation, longer absence, over load with cases etc.

Automatic Redistribution of Cases

Article 177

The cases allocated to the judge may be reallocated to another judge, after the decision of the president of the court registered in the SU register has been passed, and the reason for the redistribution of case can be: a request for a judge to be exempted (submitted by the parties, the judge, by a decision of a higher instance court, etc.), the judge no longer works on a certain type of case, new judge for a certain type of case has been assigned, absence of a judge for an urgent matter that does not endure postponement of the procedure.

Article 178

After the request for exemption of a judge to whom the case is allocated, the president of the court, after the decision on exemption of the judge, shall adopt a decision for automatic redistribution of the case (in this case, the judges who were excluded in this case do not participate in the automatic distribution).

Upon a request for exemption or sudden absence of a judge, a member of council, the president of the court, by a decision on exemption of that judge, recorded in the register for exemption, shall appoint a judge who will replace the judge who is exempted.

Question 185-1

Albania

(2022): The HJC is yet to collect statistical datas regarding the reported year

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(2022): The relevant legislation on court procedures in Bosnia and Herzegovina prescribes circumstances that call into question his/her impartiality in which a judge cannot adjudicate the case. These circumstances indicate that the judge has a conflict of interest in the individual case and therefore there is a legal base for initiating procedures to prevent or recuse him/her from dealing with the case.

As an example, the judge must not deal with the case if the party, legal representative or authorized agent is his/her blood relative in direct line to any degree or in the lateral line up to fourth degree, or if they are spouses or relatives up to second degree, regardless of whether the marriage has been terminated or not. In addition, as another example, the judge must be taken off the case if it turns out that he/she has participated in the same case in reaching the judgment of the inferior instance court. In conclusion, the legislation on court procedures defines the basis (i.e. aforementioned circumstances that pertain to the conflict of interest) and the procedure for the recusal of the judge. In this regard, the legislation does not refer specifically to the conflict of interest, i.e. the laws do not foresee it as a separate category. However, it is in the law that the recusal of the judges as a legal term comprises all matters related to the protection of the impartiality in the court procedures. Consequently, it is not possible in Bosnia and Herzegovina to differentiate data on the number of reassigned cases for the following category: Recusal of the judge or requested by the parties. In the context of data on the total number of reassigned court cases in 2022 (i.e. 475 394), it is important to take into account that these court cases were redistributed primarily because the judges in charge of these court cases have ceased to work in a particular court (i.e. appointment to another court, retirement, resignation etc.). In addition, courts had to reassign a significant number of cases owing to the longer absence of judges because of sick leave. Finally, harmonizing the burden of judges with court cases in a single court and regrouping judges within the court made it necessary to reassign noteworthy number of court cases.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): When reassigning the case through the Case Management System it is necessary to select a valid reason for reassignment.

Users of system have to select an option from the list of the reasons for obligatory reassignment prescribed by the law, or the alternative option “Other reasons”. When the latter option is selected, a detailed explanation on reasons for reassignment of the case needs to be submitted pursuant to the Article 9 of the Rulebook on the Automated Case Management System in Courts.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Priority cases are allocated to judges and prosecutors through automatic allocation algorithm based on specific setup of predefined parameters used for priority cases. This basically means that in courts and prosecutor offices there is always at least one judge or prosecutor determined in advance, who is person on duty for certain period and to whom such cases will be assigned automatically by system. All other non-priority cases are also allocated to judges through automatic allocation algorithm but setup for this allocation is more complex and based on more than one information from new case, and usually with more judges available in pool to select from. Both algorithms (for priority and non-priority cases) are always based on court president decision, which is created once per year or more often if necessary.

Regarding reassignment of cases:

All reassignments of cases are processed through the computerized distribution of cases , whether new judge is selected by automatic allocation algorithm (in accordance to predefined parameters) or by court president decision. In every case, reason for reassignment has to be entered in the system by selecting from predefined list of reasons for reassignment and/or adding free text as description. This is why „Yes“ is more appropriate as answer for Q187, with two options selected as explanatory answer in Q188 (2nd and 3rd). Reassignments of cases can be processed as random and automatic where system will choose from the judges of same specialization, or it can be processed in a way that court president makes a decision and chooses the judge to whom the case will be reassigned.

Regarding reassignment of cases:

All reassignments of cases are processed through the computerized distribution of cases , whether new judge is selected by automatic allocation algorithm (in accordance to predefined parameters) or by court president decision. In every case, reason for reassignment has to be entered in the system by selecting from predefined list of reasons for reassignment and/or adding free text as description. Reassignments of cases can be processed as random and automatic where system will choose from the judges of same specialization, or it can be processed in a way that court president makes a decision and chooses the judge to whom the case will be reassigned.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Priority cases are allocated to judges and prosecutors through automatic allocation algorithm based on specific setup of predefined parameters used for priority cases. This basically means that in courts and prosecutor offices there is always at least one judge or prosecutor determined in advance, who is person on duty for certain period and to whom such cases will be assigned automatically by system. All other non-priority cases are also allocated to judges through automatic allocation algorithm but setup for this allocation is more complex and based on more than one information from new case, and usually with more judges available in pool to select from.

Both algorithms (for priority and non-priority cases) are always based on court president decision, which is created once per year or more often if necessary.

Regarding reassignment of cases:

All reassignments of cases are processed through the computerized distribution of cases , whether new judge is selected by automatic allocation algorithm (in accordance to predefined parameters) or by court president decision. In every case, reason for reassignment has to be entered in the system by selecting from predefined list of reasons for reassignment and/or adding free text as description. This is why „Yes“ is more appropriate as answer for Q187, with two options selected as explanatory answer in Q188 (2nd and 3rd).

Reassignments of cases can be processed as random and automatic where system will choose from the judges of same specialization, or it can be processed in a way that court president makes a decision and chooses the judge to whom the case will be reassigned.

Question 190

Albania

(General Comment): Please note that the constitution provides that a judge can be an Albanian citizen appointed by the High Judicial Council after graduating the School of Magistrates and after the conduction of a preliminary process of verification of their assets and their background checks, in accordance with the law. Hence, an initial obligation to declare assets, prior to their appointment as judges is provided in the constitution. Further, this obligation is further elaborated in the law on status of judges of prosecutors that provides that judges and prosecutors undergo an assets and background check, prior to their admission to the School of Magistrates, prior to their appointment as judges and prosecutors and every time that they apply for a position at a higher level. However, please note that the obligation to annually declare their (applicable to judges and prosecutors) assets is provided in a special law, namely law on the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): After launching a legislative Initiative to amend the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina so as to include the provisions for declaring the assets and interests of judicial office holders, the HJPC in September 2018 adopted the Rulebook on the Submission, Verification and Processing of the Financial Statements of Judges and Prosecutors and a new Financial Statement Form (the Rulebook).

The Rulebook establishes the procedures and high standards of transparency for financial statements of judges and prosecutors in BiH, which primarily stipulates the obligations, the manner of and the deadline for filing the statements, information on sources and the manner of acquisition of financial assets, as well as information on their relatives employed in the judiciary. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basis for and the manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. The application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 for the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

After the administrative dispute initiated by the Association of Judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data in a manner prescribed by the Rulebook, the HJPC issued a decision postponing the application of the Rulebook until the completion of an administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC before the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in Bosnia and Herzegovina. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2018 using an earlier financial statement form. Considering that the HJPC's suit was rejected by the Court of BiH and the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH confirmed, the Rulebook was annulled in February 2020. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2019 using an earlier financial statement form.

Currently, the Law on the HJPC is subject to the legislative procedure aimed at amending the provisions on asset declaration.

(2021): After launching a legislative Initiative to amend the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina so as to include the provisions for declaring the assets and interests of judicial office holders, the HJPC in September 2018 adopted the Rulebook on the Submission, Verification and Processing of the Financial Statements of Judges and Prosecutors and a new Financial Statement Form (the Rulebook).

The Rulebook establishes the procedures and high standards of transparency for financial statements of judges and prosecutors in BiH, which primarily stipulates the obligations, the manner of and the deadline for filing the statements, information on sources and the manner of acquisition of financial assets, as well as information on their relatives employed in the judiciary. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basis for and the manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. The application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 for the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

After the administrative dispute initiated by the Association of Judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data in a manner prescribed by the Rulebook, the HJPC issued a decision postponing the application of the Rulebook until the completion of an administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC before the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in Bosnia and Herzegovina. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2018 using an earlier financial statement form. Considering that the HJPC's suit was rejected by the Court of BiH and the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH confirmed, the Rulebook was annulled in February 2020. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2019 using an earlier financial statement form.

Currently, the Law on the HJPC is subject to the legislative procedure aimed at amending the provisions on asset declaration.

(2020): After launching a legislative Initiative to amend the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina so as to include the provisions for declaring the assets and interests of judicial office holders, the HJPC in September 2018 adopted the Rulebook on the Submission, Verification and Processing of the Financial Statements of Judges and Prosecutors and a new Financial Statement Form (the Rulebook).

The Rulebook establishes the procedures and high standards of transparency for financial statements of judges and prosecutors in BiH, which primarily stipulates the obligations, the manner of and the deadline for filing the statements, information on sources and the manner of acquisition of financial assets, as well as information on their relatives employed in the judiciary. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basis for and the manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. The application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 for the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

After the administrative dispute initiated by the Association of Judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data in a manner prescribed by the Rulebook, the HJPC issued a decision postponing the application of the Rulebook until the completion of an administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC before the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in Bosnia and Herzegovina. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2018 using an earlier financial statement form. Considering that the HJPC's suit was rejected by the Court of BiH and the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH confirmed, the Rulebook was annulled in February 2020. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2019 using an earlier financial statement form.

(2019): After launching a legislative Initiative to amend the HJPC Law including proposals of provisions for reporting on the assets and interests of judicial office holders, the HJPC in September 2018 adopted the Rulebook on the Submission, Verification and Processing of the Financial Statements of Judges and Prosecutors and a new Financial Statement Form (the Rulebook).

The Rulebook establishes procedures and high standards of transparency for the financial reporting of judges and prosecutors in BiH, which includes primarily the obligations, manner and timing of reporting, information on sources and the manner of acquisition of financial assets, as well as information on their relatives employed in the judiciary. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basics and manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. Application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 and referred to the submission of the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

Considering that in the administrative procedure initiated at the request of associations of judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data on a manner prescribed by the adopted Rulebook, the HJPC issued decision by which the application of the Rulebook was postponed indefinitely, that is until the completion of the administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC's suit before the Court of BiH against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH. Temporarily, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018 were submitted by previously used Financial Statement Form.

Albania

(General Comment): Article 7 of the law no. 9049, dated 10.4.2003 “On the declaration and control of the assets, financial obligations of the elected and some public employees”, as amended, sets out the provisions regarding the annual periodic declaration:

“Article 7

Annual Periodic Declaration

1. Periodic declarations shall only include the changes to the previously declared assets, financial obligations, and private interests, in accordance with Article 6 of this law, those appearing during the declaration year and any earned income and declarable expenditure carried out during the year being declared.
2. The declarations prior to the beginning of duty, according to Article 5/1 of this Law, and the declaration after leaving office, according to Article 7/1 of this Law, shall be specific instances of the periodic declaration.
3. All officials and other persons related, who have the obligation to declare, shall be obliged to present their declaration, by March 31 of each year, to the authority or responsible structure of the public institution contemplated in the legislation applicable to the prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions.
4. When the official transfers the rights of active ownership of shares or parts of the capital, according to the provisions of the legislation applicable to the prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions, in the periodic declaration, as long as this situation continues, they shall only declare the status of such rights before the transfer and the earning from property they effectively received during the year for which the declaration is made.
5. For the purpose of declaration before taking office, annual periodic declaration, or after leaving office, according to the above points of this article, the persons related to the officials who have the obligation to make a declaration shall include only the spouse, cohabitant, and their adult children.”

Article 9 of the law no. 9049, dated 10.4.2003 “On the declaration and control of the assets, financial obligations of the elected and some public employees”, as amended, sets out the provisions regarding the declaration on request:

“Article 9

Declaration on Request

1. The Inspector General shall have the duty to request the declaration of assets and private interests and the sources of their creation, according to the requirements of this Law, as well as to order the inspection of the accuracy of these declarations even for individuals, or natural and legal persons, when, from the verifications made, it turns out that the latter are persons related to entities that have the obligation to declare periodically.
2. The definition of a related person, pursuant to point 1 of this Article, shall also apply to a trustee, as defined in the legislation applicable to prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions, as well as to the cohabitants as defined by the Family Code.
3. The Inspector General, for the purpose of verifying the declaration of income, in accordance with the legislation applicable to income tax, shall send to the Minister of Finance and the General Director of Taxation information about the list of individuals who result as persons related with the declaring entities that have the obligation to declare, according to point 1 of this Article.”

Question 195

Albania

(General Comment): In accordance with article 21 and 22 of the special law, the declaration of assets includes the assets of the subject and his family (husband / wife, cohabitant and adult children), the sources of creation and financial liabilities of the entity. The declaration shall also include the fact whether the declarant has or does not have any other related persons.

When the property of the members of the family is divided and registered as such in the bodies of the state or judicial administration, the declaration is submitted separately by each member of the family, with the property registered in his/her own name, and it is attached to the declaration of the subject who has the obligation to make the declaration. The member of the family and the person related to the declaring subject is legally liable for the authenticity and accuracy of the declared data. Spouses and adult children have an obligation to declare assets the same as the judge or prosecutor. On the special form, there is a separate section for the spouse and the adult children that is signed by them, and if there are any assets that have not been declared, they are administratively or criminally liable for the omission to declare. However, for underage children the obligation to declare their assets rests with the judge or the prosecutor since, in any case, if the children would have any assets under their name, they would be acting as legal representatives for that asset, and therefore such interests would have to be declared. However, this is a very rare situation, since, in the most cases, underage children are unable to enter into legal transactions.

(General Comment): According to the Law on the Corruption Prevention:

In accordance with Article 75 the Agency shall verify the accuracy and completeness of data contained in the Report, as well as the timeliness of submission of the Report, according to the annual plan of verification, issued by the Director. The Annual Verification Plan shall be rendered based on the previous analysis of the Agency, whereby particular attention shall be paid to the category of public officials, the amount of their earnings and the amount of the financial funds from the budget that bodies of public authority have available, in which public officials are holding public office. The Agency shall extraordinarily verify the accuracy and the completeness of data from the Report, if doubting that accurate and complete data were reported in the Report.

In accordance to Article 76 in the course of procedure of verification of property status, the Agency shall assess whether there lies a discrepancy in-between the data from the Report and the actual state of affairs or discrepancy in-between the increase value of the property and the reported incomes. In case of discrepancy, the Agency shall summon a public official or a person from Article 68, paragraph 1 of this Law, to state on the reasons for discrepancy, within 15 days. If, during verification of the Report, there is doubt that a public official is concealing the actual value of his/her property or income, the Agency may request from the associated persons to directly file data on their property and incomes, within 30 days from the date of reception of the request. In case a discrepancy is determined, the Agency shall notify the competent body, for the purpose of undertaking measures within its purview. The body from paragraph 4 hereof, shall be bound, within three months from the date of reception of the notification, to familiarize the Agency with the undertaken measures.

*Annual Verification Plan: According to the new Law on the Corruption Prevention, the Agency, when drafting the Annual Verification Plan, will take into account the category of public officials, the amount of their receipts and the amount of funds from the budget of the authority in which they perform the function, thus defining criteria that will be applied in the preparation of the Annual Verification Plan. This will contribute to higher level of transparency in the selection of officials whose reports will be subject to verification procedure. In addition, in 2022 the Agency adopted Guidelines for Drafting Annual Verification Plan.

Measures which may be pronounced against an official due to a violation of this Law are caution and public announcement of recommendation for dismissal. The measure of caution and the measure of public announcement of the decision on the violation of this Law may be pronounced against an official who has been directly elected by the citizens, an official whose public office has terminated or an associated person.

If the person referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article fails to comply with the measure of caution within the time period specified in the decision, the measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal or public announcement of the decision on the violation of this Law shall be pronounced against him/her.

In case of pronouncing the measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal against the official, the Agency shall file an initiative for dismissal to the body which elected, appointed or nominated the official. The competent body shall notify the Agency of the measures it has taken in view of the pronounced measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal, i.e. initiative, within 60 days of pronouncing the measure.

New provisions that shall become fully applicable as of 1st of September 2020 pursuant to the new Law on the Corruption Prevention (Official Gazette of the RS, No. 35/2019 and 88/2019):

Types of Measures Article 82

A public official may be pronounced a measure of caution or measure of public announcement of recommendation of dismissal from public office. Notwithstanding paragraph 1 of this Article, a public official elected directly by citizens, as well as a person whose public office has terminated, may be pronounced a measure of caution or a measure of public announcement of the decision on violation of this Law.

When pronouncing measures, all circumstances of the case shall be considered, and in particular the weight and the consequences of violation of this Law as well as the possibility of eliminating the violations. Requirements for Pronouncing Measures

Measure of caution shall be pronounced in case a public official committed a minor violation of this Law. A minor violation of this Law shall be the kind of violation that did not affect the impartial discharge of public office.

The measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal from public office and the measure of public announcement of the decision on violation of this Law, shall be pronounced due to severe violation of this Law. A severe violation of this Law shall be the violation that affected the impartial discharge of public office, as well as the reputation and the trust of citizens shown to the public official and the public office, he/she is discharging.

Question 202

Albania

(2021): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the   Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. HIDAACI, for all the subjects involved in this process, took measures for the compilation of individual physical files, which included systematically and thoroughly the form of declaration of assets, the justifying documents and following all the correspondence related to the reevaluation process. All documentation administered in the file is reflected in each case in the file inventory. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets;

(d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

(2020): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. 4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets;

(d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2020; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, for 2020 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 32 judges, and 12 prosecutors.

(2019): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

Question 203Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): After launching a legislative Initiative to amend the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina so as to include the provisions for declaring the assets and interests of judicial office holders, the HJPC in September 2018 adopted the Rulebook on the Submission, Verification and Processing of the Financial Statements of Judges and Prosecutors and a new Financial Statement Form (the Rulebook).

The Rulebook establishes the procedures and high standards of transparency for financial statements of judges and prosecutors in BiH, which primarily stipulates the obligations, the manner of and the deadline for filing the statements, information on sources and the manner of acquisition of financial assets, as well as information on their relatives employed in the judiciary. These rules provide for an active role of the HJPC in ensuring the electronic submission, monitoring, processing and verification of personal financial statement data, including the basis for and the manner of cooperation with competent authorities, as well as their publication on the HJPC website in accordance with the applicable legal framework in BiH regulating access to public information and ensuring privacy and protection of personal data. The application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 for the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

After the administrative dispute initiated by the Association of Judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data in a manner prescribed by the Rulebook, the HJPC issued a decision postponing the application of the Rulebook until the completion of an administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC before the Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in Bosnia and Herzegovina. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2018 using an earlier financial statement form. Considering that the HJPC's suit was rejected by the Court of BiH and the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH confirmed, the Rulebook was annulled in February 2020. As an interim solution, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the judges and prosecutors filed their financial statements for 2019 using an earlier financial statement form. Currently, the Law on the HJPC is subject to the legislative procedure aimed at amending the provisions on asset declaration.

Application of the Rulebook was foreseen as of 1st January 2019 and referred to the submission of the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018.

Considering that in the administrative procedure initiated at the request of associations of judges in BiH, the Agency for Personal Data Protection in BiH prohibited the HJPC from processing personal data on a manner prescribed by the adopted Rulebook, the HJPC issued decision by which the application of the Rulebook was postponed indefinitely, that is until the completion of the administrative dispute initiated by the HJPC's suit before the Court of BiH against the decision of the Agency for Protection of Personal Data in BiH. Temporarily, in order to comply with the Article 86 of the Law on the HJPC, the financial statements of judges and prosecutors for 2018 were submitted by previously used Financial Statement Form.

(General Comment): In accordance with article 21 and 22 of the special law, the declaration of assets includes the assets of the subject and his family (husband / wife, cohabitant and adult children), the sources of creation and financial liabilities of the entity. The declaration shall also include the fact whether the declarant has or does not have any other related persons.

When the property of the members of the family is divided and registered as such in the bodies of the state or judicial administration, the declaration is submitted separately by each member of the family, with the property registered in his/her own name, and it is attached to the declaration of the subject who has the obligation to make the declaration. The member of the family and the person related to the declaring subject is legally liable for the authenticity and accuracy of the declared data. Spouses and adult children have an obligation to declare assets the same as the judge or prosecutor. On the special form, there is a separate section for the spouse and the adult children that is signed by them, and if there are any assets that have not been declared, they are administratively or criminally liable for the omission to declare. However, for underage children the obligation to declare their assets rests with the judge or the prosecutor since, in any case, if the children would have any assets under their name, they would be acting as legal representatives for that asset, and therefore such interests would have to be declared. However, this is a very rare situation, since, in the most cases, underage children are unable to enter into legal transactions.

(General Comment): According to the Law on the Corruption Prevention:

In accordance with Article 75 the Agency shall verify the accuracy and completeness of data contained in the Report, as well as the timeliness of submission of the Report, according to the annual plan of verification, issued by the Director. The Annual Verification Plan shall be rendered based on the previous analysis of the Agency, whereby particular attention shall be paid to the category of public officials, the amount of their earnings and the amount of the financial funds from the budget that bodies of public authority have available, in which public officials are holding public office. The Agency shall extraordinarily verify the accuracy and the completeness of data from the Report, if doubting that accurate and complete data were reported in the Report.

In accordance with Article 76 in the course of procedure of verification of property status, the Agency shall assess whether there lies a discrepancy in-between the data from the Report and the actual state of affairs or discrepancy in-between the increase value of the property and the reported incomes. In case of discrepancy, the Agency shall summon a public official or a person from Article 68, paragraph 1 of this Law, to state on the reasons for discrepancy, within 15 days. If, in the course of verification of the Report, there is doubt that a public official is concealing the actual value of his/her property or income, the Agency may request from the associated persons to directly file data on their property and incomes, within 30 days from the date of reception of the request. In case a discrepancy is determined, the Agency shall notify the competent body, for the purpose of undertaking measures within its purview. The body from paragraph 4 hereof, shall be bound, within three months from the date of reception of the notification, to familiarize the Agency with the undertaken measures.

* Annual Verification Plan: According to the new Law on the Corruption Prevention, the Agency, when drafting the Annual Verification Plan, will take into account the category of public officials, the amount of their receipts and the amount of funds from the budget of the authority in which they perform the function, thus defining criteria that will be applied in the preparation of the Annual Verification Plan. This will contribute to the higher level of transparency in the selection of officials whose reports will be subject to verification procedure.

Currently in force provisions of the Law on the Anti-Corruption Agency ("Official Gazette of RS", No. 97/08, 53/10, 66/11 – decision of the CC, 67/13 – decision of the CC, 112/13 – authentic opinion and 8/15 – decision of the CC and 88/2019):

In accordance with Article 48 the Agency checks due filing of Report and accuracy and completeness of information. The Agency checks as mandatory the accuracy of information in the Report pursuant to the Annual Verification Plan schedule for a certain number and category of officials. To carry out the checks specified in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article, the Agency may request from competent authorities to obtain data from financial organizations, business companies and other persons.

In accordance with Article 49 if discrepancy revealed in the oversight procedure of the property of the official between the data presented in the Report and actual status or a discrepancy between the increased value of the property of the official and his/her lawful and reported income, the Agency shall establish the cause of such discrepancy and notify the body wherein the official holds office, i.e. other competent bodies. The Agency may request the official to submit information on property and income of other associated persons within 30 days if there is reasonable doubt that the official is concealing the real value of his/her property. In the case referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article, the Agency shall summon the official or an associated person in order to obtain information on the real value of the property of the official. The bodies specified in paragraph 1 of this Article shall, within three months of receiving the notice, notify the Agency of the measures taken.

Albania

(2022): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assesseees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assesseees or their related persons. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets;

(d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2019; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

(2021): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. HIDAACI, for all the subjects involved in this process, took measures for the compilation of individual physical files, which included systematically and thoroughly the form of declaration of assets, the justifying documents and following all the correspondence related to the reevaluation process. All documentation administered in the file is reflected in each case in the file inventory.

The High Inspectorate with the purpose of fulfilling the constitutional and legal obligations for the completion of the full audit of assets declarations regarding the legitimacy of the source of the creation of the property, the fulfillment of financial obligations, including private interests, started the establishment of the official communication with all public and private entities for verification purposes for more than 3,000 persons (subjects of re-evaluation and related persons).

Moreover, the High Inspectorate for the purposes of data accuracy, and reconciliation took measures to manually extract and process from the assets declaration forms submitted for the re-evaluation process, along with assets declaration forms submitted by subjects over the years, detailed data (fatherhood, motherhood, date of birth, identification number, civil status etc.) to more than 3,000 persons (re-evaluation subjects and related persons).

The correspondence was initially sent to about 26 public and private legal entities (Bank of Albania, second tier banks, investment companies, IPRO, NBC, Agency for Legalisation, Urbanisation and Integration of Informal Areas and Buildings, GDT, GDPML, General Maritime Directorate, Electricity Power Distribution Operator, etc.). During the audit process, depending on its progress, as well as the need to obtain additional information, HIDAACI proceeded with the further delivery of correspondence with public and private legal entities. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their

(2020): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2019; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(2019): There were no proceedings against prosecutors according to the information provided by the Office of Disciplinary Council of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Montenegro

(2022): Misdemeanour proceedings. In the reporting period, 2 misdemeanor proceedings were initiated against former prosecutors due to failure to submit asset declarations 30 days after termination of public office. 1 was completed, other is ongoing. The outcome of these proceedings was 1 fine in the amount of 300 euros

Administrative proceedings:

Also, in the reporting period, proceedings were initiated against 35 prosecutors related to the submission of reports with incorrect and incomplete data in 2021. Data on administrative proceedings initiated due to the submission of asset declarations with incorrect and incomplete data in 2022 will be known by the first quarter of 2022; Authorities did not act in accordance with the Article 42 of the Law on Prevention of Corruption in none of the aforementioned decisions.

(2021): The number on proceedings related to prosecutors is not final, since the verification process for the last year is still ongoing until 31st March this year. The number of prosecutors is less than number of judges. The Annual Plan of Verification includes verification half the number of judges (166) and half the number of prosecutors (60). This information should help better understanding the results of the verification process of these two target groups.

(2020): Number of cases initiated

4 administrative procedures initiated and 2 misdemeanour proceedings initiated Number of cases completed

4 administrative procedures completed 2 misdemeanour proceedings completed Number of sanctions pronounced

In 1 administrative procedure the violation of the law has been established – the APC's Decision was forwarded to the Prosecutorial Council which initiated disciplinary procedure against the prosecutor, the procedure is still ongoing.

2 misdemeanour proceedings against prosecutors ended in 1 reprimand and 1 fine

The variety of sanctions the Agency applies to the public officials, in this case: judges and prosecutors. The administrative case that we mentioned is finalized within the remits of the Agency. The disciplinary measure imposed by the body responsible for appointing the prosecutors is something the Agency can't influence.

An appropriate gift shall be gift received on occasions when gifts are traditionally exchanged.

Received appropriate or protocol gifts shall become public property, in line with the law governing public property.

A public official shall be bound, within eight days from the date of reception of an appropriate or protocol gift, i.e. from the date of return to the country, to handover the gift to the body of public authority in which he/she is holding public office, and the body of public authority shall forward the gift to the body competent for handling items in public property.

(2019): With regard to Regulation/procedure on reporting a (potential) conflict of interest:

Currently in force provisions of the Law on the Anti-Corruption Agency ("Official Gazette of RS", No. 97/08, 53/10, 66/11 – decision of the CC, 67/13 – decision of the CC, 112/13 – authentic opinion and 8/15 – decision of the CC and 88/2019):

In accordance with Article 32 of the Law on Anti-Corruption Agency when assuming office and during the discharge of public office, the official shall notify his/her direct superior and the Agency, in writing and within eight days, of any doubts over a conflict of interest concerning himself/herself or an associated person.

The Agency may summon the official and request that he/she submits the necessary data for the purpose of obtaining information on the conflict of interest specified in paragraph 1 of this Article.

If the Agency establishes a conflict of interest as specified in paragraph 1 of this Article, it shall accordingly notify the official and the body wherein such official holds public office and propose measures for eliminating the conflict of interest.

New provisions that shall become fully applicable as of 1st of September 2020 pursuant to the new Law on the Corruption Prevention:

In accordance with Article 42 a public official shall be bound to, when assuming duty or in the course of discharging the public office, without delay and within five days, notify in written form, both the direct superior and the Agency, in case of doubt over a conflict of interest or a conflict of interest that he/she or an associated person therewith, might have.

A public official shall be bound to terminate action in a case in which there is doubt over a conflict of interest, unless threat of delay exists.

The Agency shall give its opinion as to whether there is a conflict of interest, within 15 days from the date of reception of notification for the public official.

Should the public official seek opinion on the existence of conflict of interest in the course of public procurement, the Agency shall provide opinion thereof, within eight days.

The Agency may summon a public official and request from him/her to deliver the required data, for the purpose of obtaining information on the existence of conflict of interest from paragraph 1 and 4 of this Article.

Should the Agency determine that there is a conflict of interest as set forth in paragraph 1 and 4 of this Article, it shall notify the official and body in which he/she is discharging the public office and shall propose measures for the removal of conflict of interest.

Provisions of paragraph 1 and 6 hereof do not exclude the application of provisions on exclusion prescribed by other laws.

With regard to Regulation on receiving gifts:

Currently in force provisions of the Law on the Anti-Corruption Agency:

In accordance with Article 39 of the Law on Anti-Corruption Agency an official may not accept gifts in connection to the discharge of public office, except for protocol or other appropriate gifts which may not be in money or securities.

An official is required to hand over the protocol gift to the body competent to manage property in public ownership, unless the value of the gift does not exceed 5% of the value of the average monthly net salary in the Republic of Serbia.

An official may not retain an appropriate gift the value of which exceeds 5% of the average monthly net salary in the Republic of Serbia, i.e. appropriate gifts received during a

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): According to the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 57) being engaged in activities that are incompatible with the prosecutorial function represents a disciplinary offence. Generally, according to the Law the following disciplinary measures may be pronounced for the legally prescribed disciplinary offences:

- (a) A written warning which shall not be made public;
- (b) Public reprimand;
- (c) Reduction in salary up to a maximum of 50% (fifty per cent) for a period of up to one (1) year;
- (d) Temporary or permanent reassignment to another court or prosecutor’s office;
- (e) Demotion of a Court President to an ordinary judge or the Chief Prosecutor or Deputy Chief Prosecutor to an ordinary prosecutor; (f) Removal from office.

As a separate measure, instead of or in addition to any of the disciplinary measures set out above, the Council may, if appropriate, order that a judge or prosecutor participate in rehabilitation programme, counselling, or professional training.

The Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 59)

Principles for Determining Measures

(1) Disciplinary measures imposed should be governed by the principle of proportionality. Before pronouncing the measures for a disciplinary offence, the following aspects shall be taken into consideration by the Disciplinary Panels:

- (a) The number and severity of the disciplinary offence committed and its consequences;
 - (b) The degree of responsibility;
 - (c) The circumstances under which the disciplinary offence was committed;
 - (d) The previous work and behaviour of the offender; and
 - (e) Any other circumstances that may affect the decision on the severity and type of disciplinary measure, including the degree of remorse and/or cooperation shown by the judge or prosecutor during the disciplinary proceedings.
- (2) The disciplinary measure of dismissal shall only be used in cases where a serious disciplinary offence is found and the severity of the offence makes it clear that the offender is unfit or unworthy to continue to hold his or her office.
- (3) The Council may take into account any prior suspension, imposed in the course of the proceedings in question, and may reduce the disciplinary measure accordingly, or may, at its discretion, determine that the prior suspension is itself a sufficient measure for the disciplinary violation or violations found.

(General Comment): Please briefly describe the procedure: Please note that civil procedure code and criminal procedure code have been checked because they regulate the recusals of judges in civil or criminal proceedings and the procedure for doing so.

Please note that some of the procedure to sanction breaches of the rules on the conflict of interest for both judges and prosecutors are provided in the law on the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania. In question 223, this law under the "law on judges" tick. However, please be advised that this law in question 232 has been reported in the section "other, please specify" because, under the similar section includes "law on public prosecutors/public prosecution". In Albania these are two different law: law on the status of judges and prosecutors, which would correspond to a section titled "law on public prosecutors" and the law on the organisation and functioning of the prosecution offices in the Republic of Albania, which would correspond to a section titled "law on public prosecution".

(General Comment): According to the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 56.) being engaged in activities that are incompatible with the judicial function represents disciplinary offence. Generally, according to the Law the following disciplinary measures may be pronounced for the legally prescribed disciplinary offences:

- (a) A written warning which shall not be made public;
- (b) Public reprimand;
- (c) Reduction in salary up to a maximum of 50% (fifty per cent) for a period of up to one (1) year;
- (d) Temporary or permanent reassignment to another court or prosecutor's office;
- (e) Demotion of a Court President to an ordinary judge or the Chief Prosecutor or Deputy Chief Prosecutor to an ordinary prosecutor; (f) Removal from office.

As a separate measure, instead of or in addition to any of the disciplinary measures set out above, the Council may, if appropriate, order that a judge or prosecutor participate in rehabilitation programme, counselling, or professional training.

The Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 59)

Principles for Determining Measures

(1) Disciplinary measures imposed should be governed by the principle of proportionality. Before pronouncing the measures for a disciplinary offence, the following aspects shall be taken into consideration by the Disciplinary Panels:

- (a) The number and severity of the disciplinary offence committed and its consequences;
 - (b) The degree of responsibility;
 - (c) The circumstances under which the disciplinary offence was committed;
 - (d) The previous work and behaviour of the offender; and
 - (e) Any other circumstances that may affect the decision on the severity and type of disciplinary measure, including the degree of remorse and/or cooperation shown by the judge or prosecutor during the disciplinary proceedings.
- (2) The disciplinary measure of dismissal shall only be used in cases where a serious disciplinary offence is found and the severity of the offence makes it clear that the offender is unfit or unworthy to continue to hold his or her office.
- (3) The Council may take into account any prior suspension, imposed in the course of the proceedings in question, and may reduce the disciplinary measure accordingly, or may, at its discretion, determine that the prior suspension is itself a sufficient measure for the disciplinary violation or violations found.

VI. PROCEDURE AND DECISION MAKING IN CASE OF VIOLATION OF THE LAW

Article 50

The procedure to establish whether there is a violation of this Law and order measures pursuant to this Law shall be initiated and conducted by the Agency ex officio.

The procedure referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article is also initiated upon the request of an official, his/her direct superior officer, and may also be initiated on the basis of the report of a legal entity or a natural person. The Agency shall notify the official specified in paragraph 1 of this Article of the initiation of the procedure. The Agency may summon the official, an associated person or the person who filed the report initiating the procedure in order to collect information, as well as request that they submit the necessary data, with an aim to establish whether a violation of this Law occurred.

The official must have an opportunity to give a statement in the procedure before the Agency.

The procedure before the Agency is closed to the public.

Measures

Article 51

Measures which may be pronounced against an official due to a violation of this Law are caution and public announcement of recommendation for dismissal. The measure of caution and the measure of public announcement of the decision on the violation of this Law may be pronounced against an official who has been directly elected by the citizens, an official whose public office has terminated or an associated person.

If the person referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article fails to comply with the measure of caution within the time period specified in the decision, the measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal or public announcement of the decision on the violation of this Law shall be pronounced against him/her.

In case of pronouncing the measure of public announcement of recommendation for dismissal against the official, the Agency shall file an initiative for dismissal to the body which elected, appointed or nominated the official. The competent body shall notify the Agency of the measures it has taken in view of the pronounced measure of public announcement

Albania

(General Comment): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assessees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assessees or their related persons. HIDAACI, for all the subjects involved in this process, took measures for the compilation of individual physical files, which included systematically and thoroughly the form of declaration of assets, the justifying documents and following all the correspondence related to the reevaluation process. All documentation administered in the file is reflected in each case in the file inventory.

The High Inspectorate with the purpose of fulfilling the constitutional and legal obligations for the completion of the full audit of assets declarations regarding the legitimacy of the source of the creation of the property, the fulfillment of financial obligations, including private interests, started the establishment of the official communication with all public and private entities for verification purposes for more than 3,000 persons (subjects of re-evaluation and related persons).

Moreover, the High Inspectorate for the purposes of data accuracy, and reconciliation took measures to manually extract and process from the assets declaration forms submitted for the re-evaluation process, along with assets declaration forms submitted by subjects over the years, detailed data (fatherhood, motherhood, date of birth, identification number, civil status etc.) to more than 3,000 persons (re-evaluation subjects and related persons).

The correspondence was initially sent to about 26 public and private legal entities (Bank of Albania, second tier banks, investment companies, IPRO, NBC, Agency for Legalisation, Urbanisation and Integration of Informal Areas and Buildings, GDT, GDPML, General Maritime Directorate, Electricity Power Distribution Operator, etc.). During the audit process, depending on its progress, as well as the need to obtain additional information, HIDAACI proceeded with the further delivery of correspondence with public and private legal entities. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2019; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Judges were held liable for disciplinary offence “not disqualifying himself or herself from hearing a case when a conflict of interest exists”. In one case because of a failure to disqualify when related to the party in the proceeding, and in another for a failure to disqualify when deciding upon employment of relatives.

(2019): The numbers included in the table refer to disciplinary procedures initiated against judges in the reference year.

Montenegro

(2022): During 2022, 37 disciplinary proceedings were conducted based on proposals for determining the disciplinary responsibility of judges.

In 35 proceedings, proposals for determining disciplinary responsibility were rejected as unfounded, bearing in mind that the proceedings were initiated due to failure to provide data on assets and income in accordance with the regulations governing the prevention of conflicts of interest.

In the remaining two cases, the procedure is ongoing.

(2020): The difference in figures between 2019 and 2020 (increase of number of procedures initiated) is due to the fact that in 2020 the State Audit Institution (SAI) submitted a request (which refers to 28 persons) referred to the representatives of the judiciary regarding the negative opinion in the analysis of the work of the Judicial Council for 2019, which was published by the State Audit Institution. By implementing the legal competencies prescribed by the provisions of the LPC, the Agency performed a comparative analysis of the data, i.e. detailed verification of data and incomes for 28 persons for whom the SAI indicated that their actions could violate the provisions of the law in terms of obtaining compensation for work in commissions and councils formed by the Judicial Council. The Agency acted on the request and made decisions as stated.

(2019): During 2019, the Anti-Corruption Agency initiated and reviewed 11 conflict of interest cases for judges. In all these cases the conflict of interest was avoided and no further proceedings were necessary.

Question 226

Albania

(General Comment): There is legislation in force which directly prohibits the conflict of interests of the prosecutors during the exercise of their public function:

1. Criminal Procedure Code (as above mentioned);
2. Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended;
3. Law no. 9367, dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended;
4. Order no. 141, dated 19.07.2014 “On adoption of rules on ethics and conduct of prosecutors”, of General Prosecution Office (as above mentioned).

In Articles 6-7, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, concerning incompatibilities with the function of magistrate, it is provided that the function of magistrate is incompatible with the ... conduct of any political activity, whether or not the activity is carried out in conjunction with any political party or not, which may affect the independence of the magistrate, create a conflict of interest or, in any event, create the impression that the magistrate is impartial and unaffected.

Also, the Magistrate is prohibited from actively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, or passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, if the company has profits or benefits from public contracts, in accordance with the prevention legislation of the conflict of interest in force as well as passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a company in which the activity of the magistrate is prohibited because it creates a conflict of interest.

According to Articles 32 and 35, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, High Prosecutorial Council verifies the integrity and assets before the candidates are accepted in the initial formation/training in the School of Magistrates, part of which is the evaluation of possible conflict of interests based on the reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests.

According to Article 90, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, part of the evaluation of the prosecutor's performance are:

- a) ... reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests;
- b) the number of cases in which prosecutors have been expelled due to a conflict of interest.

Also, according to Article 102, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, disciplinary violations in the exercise of office shall be the actions, omissions or behaviours of the magistrate, as follows: p) breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention, in accordance with the provisions of the legislation in force.

In Article 7 of Law no. 9367 dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended, is provided that:

1. Every official, in the exercise of his powers or in the performance of his public duties, on the basis of his recognition and in good faith, is obliged to make a preliminary, on a case-

6. Decision no. 32, dated 24.2.2022, "On the approval of the standards of ethics and rules of conduct of the prosecutor", of High Prosecutorial Council
7. Decision no. 407, dated 17.12.2021, "On the approval of the Regulation" On the organization and internal functioning of the High Council of the Prosecution ", of High Prosecutorial Council

Article 148/d, of the Constitution provides that:

1. The prosecutor bears disciplinary responsibility under the law; 2. A prosecutor shall be dismissed by the High Prosecutorial Council when:
 - a) commits serious professional or ethical violations that discredit the position and image of the prosecutor in the exercise of his or her duties;

Article 149/a

1. High Prosecutorial Council exercises these responsibilities:

.....

- c) approves the rules on ethics and supervise their respecting.

In Article 26, point 1, of the Criminal Procedure Code is provided that:

“1. Prosecutor is obliged to give up when there exist reasons for bias on the cases provided in Article 17.”

In Article 17, of the Criminal Procedure Code is provided that:

1. A judge has the duty to quit the judgment of a particular case:
 - a) when there is interest in the proceedings or when one of the private parties or a defence counsel is a debtor or creditor of his, his spouse or his children;
 - b) when he is the guardian, representative or employer of the defendant or one of the private parties, or when the guardian or representative of one of these parties is the close relative of his or her spouse;
 - c) when he has given advice or when he has expressed an opinion on the object of the proceedings;
 - c) when there are disputes between him, his spouse or any of his relatives with the defendant or one of the private parties;
 - d) when any of his relatives or spouse has been harmed or damaged by the criminal offense;
 - dh) when a relative of his or her spouse performs or has performed the functions of a prosecutor in the same proceeding;

(2021): The following laws are related with the prevention of conflict of interest of prosecutors:

1. Constitution of the Republic of Albania.
2. Criminal Procedure Code.
3. Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania”
4. Law no. 9367 dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”
5. Decision nr. 26, dated 22.02.2019, “On the activities out of function of the prosecutors”, of the High Prosecutorial Council.
6. Decision no. 32, dated 24.2.2022, "On the approval of the standards of ethics and rules of conduct of the prosecutor", High Council of the Prosecution.
7. Decision no. 407, dated 17.12.2021, "On the approval of the Regulation" On the organization and internal functioning of the High Council of the Prosecution ", of the High Council of the Prosecution.

Article 148/d, of the Constitution provides that:

1. The prosecutor bears disciplinary responsibility under the law; 2. A prosecutor shall be dismissed by the High Prosecutorial Council when:
 - a) commits serious professional or ethical violations that discredit the position and image of the prosecutor in the exercise of his or her duties;

Article 149/a

1. High Prosecutorial Council exercises these responsibilities:

.....

- ç) approves the rules on ethics and supervise their respecting.

In Article 26, point 1, of the Criminal Procedure Code is provided that:

“1. Prosecutor is obliged to give up when there exist reasons for bias on the cases provided in Article 17.”

In Article 17, of the Criminal Procedure Code is provided that:

1. A judge has the duty to quit the judgment of a particular case:
 - a) when there is interest in the proceedings or when one of the private parties or a defence counsel is a debtor or creditor of his, his spouse or his children;
 - b) when he is the guardian, representative or employer of the defendant or one of the private parties, or when the guardian or representative of one of these parties is the close relative of his or her spouse;
 - c) when he has given advice or when he has expressed an opinion on the object of the proceedings;
 - ç) when there are disputes between him, his spouse or any of his relatives with the defendant or one of the private parties;
 - d) when any of his relatives or spouse has been harmed or damaged by the criminal offense;
 - dh) when a relative of his or her spouse performs or has performed the functions of a prosecutor in the same proceeding;

(2019): There is legislation in force which directly prohibits the conflict of interests of the prosecutors during the exercise of their public function:

1. Criminal Procedure Code (as above mentioned);
2. Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended;
3. Law no. 9367, dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended;
4. Order no. 141, dated 19.07.2014 “On adoption of rules on ethics and conduct of prosecutors”, of General Prosecution Office (as above mentioned).

In Articles 6-7, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, concerning incompatibilities with the function of magistrate, it is provided that the function of magistrate is incompatible with the ... conduct of any political activity, whether or not the activity is carried out in conjunction with any political party or not, which may affect the independence of the magistrate, create a conflict of interest or, in any event, create the impression that the magistrate is impartial and unaffected.

Also, the Magistrate is prohibited from actively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, or passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a business organization, if the company has profits or benefits from public contracts, in accordance with the prevention legislation of the conflict of interest in force as well as passively owning shares or portions of the capital of a company in which the activity of the magistrate is prohibited because it creates a conflict of interest.

According to Articles 32 and 35, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, High Prosecutorial Council verifies the integrity and assets before the candidates are accepted in the initial formation/training in the School of Magistrates, part of which is the evaluation of possible conflict of interests based on the reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests.

According to Article 90, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, part of the evaluation of the prosecutor's performance are:

- a) ... reports of the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interests;
- b) the number of cases in which prosecutors have been expelled due to a conflict of interest.

Also, according to Article 102, of the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, disciplinary violations in the exercise of office shall be the actions, omissions or behaviours of the magistrate, as follows: p) breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention, in accordance with the provisions of the legislation in force.

In Article 7 of Law no. 9367 dated 7.4.2005, “On the prevention of conflicts of interest in the exercise of public functions”, as amended, is provided that:

1. Every official, in the exercise of his powers or in the performance of his public duties, on the basis of his recognition and in good faith, is obliged to make a preliminary, on a case-by-case basis, of the existence of his private interests, which may cause to arise a conflict of interest.
2. The case-by-case declaration of private interests shall be made at any time by the official when so requested by the superior or by the superior institution. The declaration, as a rule, must be sought and made in advance. Where this is not possible or where this has not happened, the declaration may be requested and made as soon as possible.
3. Self-declaration or declaration upon request shall be made as a rule in writing when the official is involved in a decision-making on an act. Written declaration is not necessary where the official's verbal statements are recordable and documented, according to procedures established by law and / or in the internal regulations of the public institution where the official exercises his or her functions.

Albania

(General Comment): According to Article 9, of the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", as amended, the magistrate is allowed to perform activities outside of his duties, only if these activities:

- a) are in accordance with the dignity of exercising the function;
- b) do not create perceptions of influence or bias during the exercise of the function;
- c) do not conflict with the essential interests of the function, not infringing the deadlines and the efficient exercise of the functions.
- ç) do not conflict with the purpose for which the workload has been reduced;
- d) in the event that the reward for non-functional activities includes any type and form of payment, financial reward or compensation, which do not exceed the usual market rules;
- dh) are not incompatible with the exercise of the function of the magistrate and are not prohibited according to this law.

The magistrate can write, publish, give lectures and teaching on legal issues and participate in activities related to legal issues, the legal system, the administration of justice and other related issues. Before starting to perform a paid activity out of office, the magistrate must notify the High Prosecutorial Council and submit the necessary documentation. The magistrate receives the approval of the High Prosecutorial Council, before accepting the performance of paid activities outside the function. The Council decides within three weeks of receiving the request and complete documentation and gives approval if the activity and any remuneration for its performance are in accordance with the law.

An official (public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 49 in conjunction with Article 45 paragraph 1 if it is a function within a body of cultural and other associations (except professional). In connection with research, publications, ie mediation, an official (judge, public prosecutor, deputy prosecutor) is obliged to submit a request for consent in accordance with the provisions of Article 46, paragraph 4. In the case of payments, when deciding on an application for the permission of officials to carry out other work or operations, the Agency does not take into account whether it is with or without compensation.

(2019): A public prosecutor or deputy public prosecutor may be a member of the governing body of the institution responsible for judicial training, in accordance with a decision of the State prosecutors Council.

A public prosecutor or deputy public prosecutor may engage in cultural, humanitarian and sports activities without Agency approval if by doing so he/she does not compromise the impartial discharge and dignity of public office. An official is required to report incomes from these activities to the Anti-Corruption Agency.

The activities specified as that they could be performed must be in line with the Constitution, Article 65 of the Law on Public Prosecution Office and the Code of Ethics of Public Prosecution Office. Article 65 of the Law on Public Prosecution Office stipulates that public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors cannot hold a position in legislative authorities and executive authorities, public services and authorities of provincial autonomy and units of local self-government, cannot be members of political parties, to engage in publicly or privately paid businesses, and provide legal services or legal advice for remuneration. Exceptionally from paragraph 1 of the Article, a public prosecutor, i.e. a deputy public prosecutor, can be member of an authority managing an institution competent for education in judiciary, based on a decision of the State Prosecutorial Council, in line with a special law. Other positions, affairs or private interests contradicting dignity and independence of public prosecution office or harming his/her reputation are also incompatible with prosecutorial position. The State Prosecutorial Council is determining other positions and affairs contradicting dignity, i.e. harming independence or damaging reputation of public prosecution office. After working hours, a public prosecutor and a deputy public prosecutor can engage in educational and scientific activities for remuneration, without special approval. In situations defined by the law, within his/her working hours, a public prosecutor and a deputy public prosecutor may perform educational and scientific activities. They can take part in activities with civil, religious or humanitarian character if those activities do not interfere with performing of the position or if it could negatively reflect to their impartiality. Public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors are obliged to restrain themselves from participation at political activities and campaigns. Public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors may be members and may participate at work of professional or other organizations dealing with protection of their professional interests and undertaking of measures for preservation of independence in work, in line with the law. Public prosecutors and deputy public prosecutors are obliged to restrain themselves from giving statements in public or privately that could cause doubt into their impartiality, and especially they cannot give comments on cases where they are proceeding or where they could proceed.

A public prosecutor and a deputy public prosecutor can be sent to a study visit, i.e. other professional trip abroad, based on the State Prosecutorial Council decision, with the obtained opinion form the directly superior public prosecutor, i.e. a public prosecutor, where performance grades from the personal file of the public prosecutor, i.e. the deputy public prosecutor, and knowledge of a foreign language are especially taken into consideration. Pursuant to the Law on Mediation, judges can be mediators, not public prosecutors.

Albania

(2022): Law no. 9367, dated 7.4.2005, "On the prevention of conflict of interests in the exercise of public functions", as amended, aims to ensure that the exercise of public duty is carried out without being influenced by the private interests of the official, directly or indirectly, which affect, may affect or appear to affect the improper performance of his public duties and responsibilities. This law defines the rules, tools, ways, procedures, responsibilities and powers for the identification, declaration, registration, treatment, resolution and punishment of cases of conflict of interest. The law is enforced by the High Inspectorate of Declaration and Audit of Assets and Conflict of Interest (HIDAACI). According to Article 44, of this law, any violation of the obligations defined in the law, when it does not constitute a criminal offense, constitutes an administrative misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine. The fines are higher, according to the evaluation of the measure of the violation and according to the level of increase in the official's position. In article 45, it is determined that any violation of the obligations defined in this law by officials constitutes a disciplinary violation, regardless of criminal or administrative liability. The measures and procedures defined by the Constitution and the relevant law (Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors", as amended) apply to officials who are members of constitutional bodies (such as prosecutor's offices). According to Article 26, of Criminal Procedural Code, the prosecutor has the duty to resign when there are reasons of one-sidedness in the cases provided by Article 17. On the declaration of relinquishment, according to their duties dhe decision is taken from the head of the prosecution at the court of first instance, of the prosecution at the court of appeal, the General Prosecutor and the head of the Special Prosecution. For the heads of prosecutions, the decision is taken from dhe heads of the higher prosecution offices. With the decision accepting the relinquishment declaration, the prosecutor who resigned is replaced by another prosecutor. In Decision no. 32, dated 24.2.2022, "On the approval of the standards of ethics and rules of conduct of the prosecutor" of High Prosecutorial Council is provided that, the head of the prosecution office oversees compliance with the rules of conduct and ethics of the prosecutor and reports every problem to the High Council of Prosecution. Violation of the standards of ethics and rules of conduct of the prosecutor when it does not constitute grounds for disciplinary responsibility is taken into consideration within the ethical and professional assessment of the prosecutor. According to the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", as amended, failure to file a request for waiver of proceedings or adjudication of the case, where is mandatory, by law, if the magistrate was aware or should have been aware of such circumstances is a disciplinary violation. Anyone can submit a complaint to the High Inspector of Justice against a prosecutor to investigate whether the latter has exercised the function under conditions of conflict of interest. If, after the disciplinary investigation, it is established that there has been a disciplinary violation from the magistrate, the High Inspector of Justice proposes to the High Prosecutorial Council, the approval of a disciplinary measure.

(2021): In the Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, are the provided possible cases for breaches of rules on conflict of interest in respect of prosecutors, as follows:

Article 101

Disciplinary violations

1. The Magistrate commits a disciplinary offense, wilfully or negligently, when:

- a) commits acts or omissions which constitute a breach of duty, unprofessional or unethical conduct in the exercise of his or her office, which discredit the position and image of the magistrate, or impair public confidence in the judicial or prosecutorial system;
- b) in the exercise of his function does not refer to the law or to facts, intentionally or because of gross negligence, or where there is manifest professional disabilities."

Article 102

Disciplinary violations related to the exercise of function

1. Disciplinary violations in the exercise of office shall be, in particular, but not limited to, the actions, omissions or behaviours of the magistrate, as follows:

- a) failure to file a request for waiver of proceedings or adjudication of the case, where is mandatory, by law, if the Magistrate was aware or should have been aware of such circumstances;
- b) filing a request for waiver of the proceeding or adjudication of the case, if such action:
 - i. is not based on the reasons provided by law;
 - ii. done with the intent to create unjust benefits for the parties and third parties or aims at avoiding the legal obligation to examine the case or to enable the case to be examined by another magistrate;
 - iii. it is not carried out immediately after becoming aware of the cause;
 - dh) the action, inaction or conduct of the magistrate, which brings unfair benefits or damages to the parties in a judicial or investigative proceeding contrary to the law;
 - g) serious or repeated violation of the legal and sub-legal provisions regulating the organization and functioning of the courts or the prosecution;
 - i) to notify the Head and the Council, as well as the competent authorities, by law, of interference or other forms of influence by other Magistrates, lawyers, political functionaries, public officials or other entities;
 - p) breach of the rules of incompatibility or conflict of interest prevention, in accordance with the provisions of the legislation in force.

Principles for Determining Measures

(1) Disciplinary measures imposed should be governed by the principle of proportionality. Before pronouncing the measures for a disciplinary offence, the following aspects shall be taken into consideration by the Disciplinary Panels:

- (a) The number and severity of the disciplinary offence committed and its consequences;
 - (b) The degree of responsibility;
 - (c) The circumstances under which the disciplinary offence was committed;
 - (d) The previous work and behaviour of the offender; and
 - (e) Any other circumstances that may affect the decision on the severity and type of disciplinary measure, including the degree of remorse and/or cooperation shown by the judge or prosecutor during the disciplinary proceedings.
- (2) The disciplinary measure of dismissal shall only be used in cases where a serious disciplinary offence is found and the severity of the offence makes it clear that the offender is unfit or unworthy to continue to hold his or her office.
- (3) The Council may take into account any prior suspension, imposed in the course of the proceedings in question, and may reduce the disciplinary measure accordingly, or may, at its discretion, determine that the prior suspension is itself a sufficient measure for the disciplinary violation or violations found.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): According to the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 57) being engaged in activities that are incompatible with the prosecutorial function represents a disciplinary offence. Generally, according to the Law the following disciplinary measures may be pronounced for the legally prescribed disciplinary offences:

- (a) A written warning which shall not be made public;
- (b) Public reprimand;
- (c) Reduction in salary up to a maximum of 50% (fifty per cent) for a period of up to one (1) year;
- (d) Temporary or permanent reassignment to another court or prosecutor's office;
- (e) Demotion of a Court President to an ordinary judge or the Chief Prosecutor or Deputy Chief Prosecutor to an ordinary prosecutor; (f) Removal from office.

As a separate measure, instead of or in addition to any of the disciplinary measures set out above, the Council may, if appropriate, order that a judge or prosecutor participate in rehabilitation programme, counselling, or professional training.

The Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (Article 59)

Principles for Determining Measures

(1) Disciplinary measures imposed should be governed by the principle of proportionality. Before pronouncing the measures for a disciplinary offence, the following aspects shall be taken into consideration by the Disciplinary Panels:

- (a) The number and severity of the disciplinary offence committed and its consequences;
 - (b) The degree of responsibility;
 - (c) The circumstances under which the disciplinary offence was committed;
 - (d) The previous work and behaviour of the offender; and
 - (e) Any other circumstances that may affect the decision on the severity and type of disciplinary measure, including the degree of remorse and/or cooperation shown by the judge or prosecutor during the disciplinary proceedings.
- (2) The disciplinary measure of dismissal shall only be used in cases where a serious disciplinary offence is found and the severity of the offence makes it clear that the offender is unfit or unworthy to continue to hold his or her office.
- (3) The Council may take into account any prior suspension, imposed in the course of the proceedings in question, and may reduce the disciplinary measure accordingly, or may, at its discretion, determine that the prior suspension is itself a sufficient measure for the disciplinary violation or violations found.

Question 233

Albania

(2021): Please note that under the new constitutional amendments, judges and prosecutors are undergoing a vetting process. As part of this temporary process, judges and prosecutors are re-evaluation based on three criteria:

(a) Asset assessment, (b) Background assessment, and (c) Proficiency assessment. Under the asset declaration process, HIDAACI plays a key role: HIDAACI based on declarations of assets shall conduct a full audit procedure in compliance with this law, the Law “On the declaration and audit of assets, financial obligations of elected persons and certain public officials, the Law “On prevention of conflict of interest in exercising public functions” and the “Code of Administrative Procedures”.

The General Inspector of HIDAACI, for the purpose of this assessment, can request through the General Directorate of Prevention of Money Laundering or Ministry of Justice records of assets owned by assesseees or their related persons, or any financial transactions in Albania or abroad according to Law “On prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism” or documents used abroad by assesseees or their related persons. Such documents or information can be used as evidence before the Commission or Appeal Chamber.

3. HIDAACI provides full access to international observers, upon their request, to seek information, consult, copy or investigate declaration of assets submitted by the assessee or his or her related persons and their accompanying documents.

4. HIDAACI shall conduct a full audit procedure as soon as possible but no longer than 180 days as of the day of asset declaration submission.

5. Upon completion of the audit, the General Inspector of HIDAACI shall prepare a reasoned detailed report and, as appropriate, shall find out that: (a) Accurate declaration /disclosure in compliance with the law, with legitimate financial sources and not found in situation of conflicts of interest; (b) Lack of legitimate financial sources to justify their assets; (c) Hiding wealth/ assets; (d) False declaration; (e) Assessee found in situation of conflicts of interests.

For these reasons, HIDAACI has not in itself, referred for further proceedings against judges and prosecutors to criminal investigation or fined, as an administrative measure, any judge or prosecutor during 2020; however, due to the work of HIDAACI, a considerable number of judges and prosecutors have been dismissed from the vetting bodies based on the reports filed by HIDAACI. To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, for 2020 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 32 judges, and 12 prosecutors.

To illustrate the work of HIDAACI under the vetting process, from 8 February 2018 to 31 December 2019 the IQC (the first vetting body) has dismissed from duty 50 judges, 31 prosecutors and 2 legal advisors. The findings of the assessment process done from HIDAACI for 178 subjects that were under evaluation, 119 subjects resulted without any problems, and 59 subjects were reported by HIDAACI with problems with their asset declarations. Further to these reports, IQC undertakes a more in-depth investigation. These in-depth investigations resulted in the following data: 80 subjects were reported without violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets and 98 subjects were reported with violations/discrepancies in their declaration of assets. Most of these subjects were dismissed due to these discrepancies.

(General Comment): Judges may be subject to disciplinary proceedings for violations stipulated by the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC). Disciplinary proceedings are initiated by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel of the HJPC.

The latter receives and reviews complaints concerning the conduct of judges or runs cases on its own initiative. After the Office of Disciplinary Counsel receives a complaint and reviews it, the complaint can be immediately discarded or other necessary actions can be carried out, including launching of an investigation. If the Office of Disciplinary Counsel establishes that there is reasonable ground to believe that a judge has made a disciplinary offence, it will launch an investigation of the facts and circumstances.

If the investigation shows that the complaint is not founded or the allegations of the complaint cannot be verified and proven, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will close the case and will not initiate disciplinary proceeding against a judge.

If the investigation shows that there is evidence to confirm allegations of misconduct of a judge, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will launch a disciplinary proceeding before the HJPC filing a disciplinary complaint. After filing the complaint, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel may offer the accused prosecutor a joint consent agreement for establishment of disciplinary liability for the committed disciplinary offences, which will be considered and approved by the competent panel of the HJPC.

(General Comment): RULE BOOK on the procedure for determining the disciplinary responsibility of judges and presidents of courts, Article 23:

The disciplinary prosecutor may invite the judge/the president of the court against whom the disciplinary report was filed, to testify about the allegations in the disciplinary report.

The judge/ the president of the court, is not obliged to respond to the invitation of the Disciplinary Prosecutor.

The disciplinary prosecutor is obliged to inform the judge/ the president of the court who responds to the call, that everything he declares can be used as evidence in the disciplinary proceedings.

Article 32: The President of the Disciplinary Commission presides over the disciplinary hearing.

The chairman of the Disciplinary Commission will warn the judge/ the chairman of the court against whom disciplinary proceedings are being conducted, that he has the right not to say anything, withhold an answer to a particular question, freely state his allegations, admit or not admit responsibility for a disciplinary offense, to make a statement himself or through representative, and especially the right to present facts and propose evidence in support of his allegations, ask questions of other participants in the proceedings, make remarks and give explanations in connection with the presented evidence.

The position of the judge in the disciplinary procedure

Article 96 of the Law on Judges "Status of a judge in disciplinary proceedings":

The judge has the right to be immediately informed of the Disciplinary Prosecutor's proposal, to familiarize himself with the case and accompanying documentation, and to provide explanations and evidence for his allegations either himself or through a representative.

The judge has the right to present his allegations orally before the Disciplinary Commission.

Albania

(2019): Please note that under the new amendments of the constitution, which entered into force in 2016, The High Justice Inspector is responsible for the verification of complaints, investigation of violations on its own initiative and the initiation of disciplinary proceedings against judges and prosecutors of all levels, members of the High Judicial Council, High Prosecutorial Council and the Prosecutor General, in accordance with the procedure defined by law. Based on the transitory provisions the High Justice Inspector was to be appointed within 6 months after the entry into force of this law. The manner of functioning of the existing inspectorates during the transition period shall be regulated by law. However, due to the process of appointing the high justice inspector and the constitutional condition that the Assembly elects the Inspector among 5 candidates, the High Justice Inspector was elected by the Assembly on January 2020. Therefore, during 2019 no investigations or disciplinary proceedings were conducted against judges and prosecutors. However, please note that irrespective of this fact, during this time the vetting process is undergoing.

(2020): Some cases against judges were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

The following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. issuing decisions in patent violation of the law or persistent and unjustified violation of procedural rules;
3. unjustified delays in issuing decisions or any other act related to the exercise of judicial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the judicial function;
4. failure, for an unjustifiable reason, to comply with decisions, orders or requests of the Council;
5. failure to fulfil any mandatory training obligations or any other obligations imposed by law; 6. failure to comply with the decision on temporary transfer to another court.

Number of initiated cases is significantly lesser in 2020 than in the previous report (35). It should be noted that COVID-19 related issues had impact on work of disciplinary bodies, including lesser number of received complaints compared to prior year (15% for both judges and prosecutors).

(2019): Some proceedings against judges were initiated for both breach of professional ethics and professional inadequacy. According to your instruction, we tried to list the “main reasons” for initiating disciplinary proceedings, in our best estimate.

For purpose of the Questionnaire, the following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. issuing decisions in patent violation of the law or persistent and unjustified violation of procedural rules;
3. unjustified delays in issuing decisions or any other act related to the exercise of judicial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the judicial function;
4. failure, for an unjustifiable reason, to comply with decisions, orders or requests of the Council;
5. failure to fulfil any mandatory training obligations or any other obligations imposed by law; 6. failure to comply with the decision on temporary transfer to another court.

It should be noted that number of initiated proceedings is the highest since the establishment of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC), because of the high number of grounded complaints as well as an increase in number of the Office of Disciplinary Counsel staff.

(2020): The Commission of the JC (see comment on Q237, explanation about the Commission), rejected 71 requests.

In 2020 JC stopped 9 disciplinary procedures. For one judge the request was withdrawn. 4 judges were dismissed in 2020 and in 1 case there was liability on a judge, who at that time met the conditions for retirement, so the JC determined the termination of the function on that basis. From this 4 decisions for dismissal, two decisions are final. The other two are in appeal procedure in front of the Supreme court.

For one judge the sanction was reprimand.

(2019): From a total of 107 disciplinary proceedings initiated in 2019, the Commission (see comment on Q237, explanation about the Commission), rejected 58 requests.

In 2019 by the Council are rejected 9 requests for disciplinary proceedings initiated in 2019.

4 cases are stopped.

Judicial Council in 2019 dismissed 2 judges from the procedures initiated in 2019. In total by the JC in 2019 were dismissed six (6) judges (4 judges for proceedings initiated in 2017 and above mention 2 judges for proceedings initiated in 2019), but this decisions are not final. They are in appeal procedure in front of the Supreme court.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(2022): A significant difference between the number of disciplinary proceedings initiated (35) and the total number of sanctions imposed (23) was caused by the following circumstances: the disciplinary action was rejected in (3) cases and disciplinary proceedings were suspended in (9) cases (4 judges retired, 3 judges resigned, 1 judge died, and 1 judge's term expired).

(2020): “Other” measure - written warning which shall not be made public - was imposed against 4 judges; this is a non-public measure.

Although there were no suspensions imposed in 2020 as a disciplinary sanction, it should be noted that 2 judges were temporarily suspended from office pending criminal proceedings and another judge was temporarily suspended from office until the completion of disciplinary proceedings initiated against him. In addition, 2 judges remain suspended as a result of criminal proceedings initiated before 2020.

(2019): As “other” measure, there is a written warning which shall not be made public imposed against 6 judges. This is a non-public measure.

Number of imposed sanctions (25) is lesser than the number of initiated proceedings (35). Usually, it takes up to six months (and sometimes more) for disciplinary bodies to complete disciplinary proceedings if they reach the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina as third instance. Therefore, some of the proceedings initiated in 2019 were not completed in 2019.

Although there were no suspensions imposed in 2019 as a disciplinary sanction, it should be noted that one judge was temporarily suspended from office pending criminal proceedings and another judge was temporarily suspended from office until the completion of disciplinary proceedings initiated against him. Also, 3 judges remain suspended as a result of criminal proceedings initiated before 2019.

(General Comment): Article 36 of the Rulebook for determining the disciplinary responsibility of judges and presidents of courts

Against the decision of the Disciplinary Commission, the Disciplinary prosecutor, the judge and his representative/ the president of the court and his representative, may file an appeal with the Council within eight days from the date of delivery of the decision.

The decision can be contested:

- 1) due to violations of procedural rules that could have an impact on the adoption of a legal and proper decision,
- 2) due to wrongly or incompletely established factual situation,
- 3) due to incorrect application of substantive law,
- 4) due to the decision on the imposed disciplinary sanction.

The complaint contains:

- 1) designation of the decision against which the appeal is filed,
- 2) a statement that the decision is disputed in its entirety or in a certain part,
- 3) reasons for appeal,
- 4) signature of the person making the complaint.

In the appeal, new facts can be presented and new evidence can be proposed only if the appellant makes it probable that he could not present them, that is, propose them during the first instance disciplinary procedure, through no fault of his own.

The complaint with attachments is submitted to the other party in the proceedings, who can submit an answer to the complaint within three days from the date of submission of the complaint. An untimely response to the appeal will not be taken into consideration.

The Disciplinary Commission immediately upon receipt of the response to the appeal or the expiration of the deadline for providing the response to the appeal submits the case files to the Council.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Prosecutors may be subject to disciplinary proceedings for violations stipulated by the Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (HJPC). Disciplinary proceedings are initiated by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel of the HJPC. The latter receives and reviews complaints concerning the conduct of prosecutors, or runs cases on its own initiative. After the Office of Disciplinary Counsel receives a complaint and reviews it, the complaint can be immediately discarded or other necessary actions can be carried out, including launching of an investigation. If the Office of Disciplinary Counsel establishes that there is reasonable ground to believe that a prosecutor has made a disciplinary offence, it will launch an investigation of the facts and circumstances. If the investigation shows that the complaint is not founded or the allegations of the complaint cannot be verified and proven, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will close the case and will not initiate disciplinary proceeding against a prosecutor. If the investigation shows that there is evidence to confirm allegations of misconduct of a prosecutor, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel will launch a disciplinary proceeding before the HJPC filing a disciplinary complaint. After filing the complaint, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel may offer the accused prosecutor a joint consent agreement for establishment of disciplinary liability for the committed disciplinary offences, which will be considered and approved by the competent panel of the HJPC.

Question 245

Albania

(2019): 1. During the disciplinary proceeding, the magistrate or his representative has the right to know the documents of the file and to obtain copies thereof. Within five days of the submission of the request, the Council shall provide the magistrate with the conditions for obtaining access to the file, and make available copies of the documents.

1/1. The right of access to the file may be restricted only if it is indispensable, proportionate and when the disclosure of information causes an irreparable and serious damage to the following interests:

- a) fundamental rights of another person, or
- b) national security, as defined by the legislation on classified information, or
- c) prevention, investigation and prosecution of criminal offences;
- ç) equality of parties in a judicial process and progress of the judicial process

The right of access shall be limited as long as the above causes exist. In any case, the magistrate or his representative has access to the file before the Council takes the decision. 2.

A magistrate who is informed that a disciplinary proceeding has been instituted against him, he/she must at the same time be informed of the rights:

- a) To submit a written defence within a specified time;
- b) To attend the hearing;
- c) To call witnesses who may provide information of significance to the case;
- ç) To present documents;
- d) To take other measures for the purpose of providing evidence in support of his or her defence;
- dh) To be represented under the provisions of the Code of Administrative Procedures,
- e) Recover his/her legal costs reasonably incurred in cases where no disciplinary measure is imposed.

3. The Council may request the magistrate to submit information, documents or any evidence and to attend hearings.

Question 246

Albania

(2019): In terms of Law “On the status of judges and prosecutors”, as amended, submitting a disciplinary complaint and the initiation of a disciplinary investigation by the Chief Justice Inspector are two different legal concepts. In the transitional provisions of this law is stipulated that, until the establishment of the Chief Justice Inspector (not yet established), the investigation of disciplinary violations for prosecutors shall be conducted by the General Prosecutor. While, disciplinary measure is taken by the High Prosecutorial Council. The General Prosecution, exercising the competencies of Chief Justice Inspector has 3 months to assess the admissibility of the complaint as well as 6 months to conduct a disciplinary investigation, with the option of delaying another 3 months. After these terms, Chief Justice Inspector starts a disciplinary proceeding submitting the report and the folder (documents) of investigation to the High Prosecutorial Council.

During 2019, only in 1 (one) case a prosecutor was dismissed from the High Prosecutorial Council, for committing the criminal offence (Article 300, of the Criminal Code).

(2021): Some cases against prosecutors were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

The number of disciplinary proceedings initiated against prosecutors increased considerably in 2021 compared to 2020. The most significant cause for this development was the increased number of complaints received in 2021 by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel at HJPC.

(2020): Some cases against prosecutors were initiated for two or more disciplinary mistakes. Such cases were counted only once in accordance with the Explanatory note. The main mistake for those disciplinary cases was determined in our best estimate.

For purpose of the Questionnaire, the following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. Neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. Unjustified delays in performing any acts related to the exercise of prosecutorial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the prosecutor;
3. Failing to carry out instructions of a superior prosecutor under whose authority they serve, unless the carrying out of such instruction would itself constitute a violation of law or this Article;
4. Failure, for an unjustified reason, to comply with the decisions, orders or requests of the Council;
5. Failure to fulfil any mandatory training obligations or any other obligations imposed by law;
6. Failure to comply with the decision on temporary transfer to another prosecutor's office.

Number of initiated cases is significantly lesser in 2020 than in the previous report (11). It should be noted that COVID-19 related issues had impact on work of disciplinary bodies, including lesser number of received complaints compared to prior year (15% for both judges and prosecutors).

(2019): Some proceedings against prosecutors were initiated for both breach of professional ethics and professional inadequacy. According to your instruction, we tried to list the “main reasons” for initiating proceedings, in our best estimate.

For purpose of the Questionnaire, the following disciplinary offences are listed as the professional inadequacies:

1. Neglect or careless exercise of official duties;
2. Unjustified delays in performing any acts related to the exercise of prosecutorial functions, or any other repeated disregard of the duties of the prosecutor;

DISCIPLINARY INFRINGEMENT

Article 90

Disciplinary infringements committed by public prosecutor shall be:

- Serious disciplinary infringement and
- Mild disciplinary infringement.

Article 91

Serious disciplinary infringement shall be:

- serious violation of the public order and peace and other more serious forms of inappropriate behavior, thus undermining the repute of the public prosecutors and public prosecution offices, - if he/she fails to submit declaration of assets and interests in accordance with the law, or if the data contained in the declaration are mostly untrue,
- Obvious violation of rules for exemption is situations where the public prosecutor knew or should have known that grounds for exemption existed, as set by law, - if he or she has been convicted for a crime with an effective verdict and sentenced to imprisonment less than six months or other criminal sanction for a crime resulting directly from the execution of the prosecutorial function, intentionally or due to gross negligence, or
- if they disclose classified information, that is, disclose information and data on court cases, thus violating the obligation to keep the secrecy of the procedure as set by law and when public is excluded under the law,
- if they deliberately and unjustifiably commit gross professional mistake, however, the different interpretation of the law and facts may not be considered grounds for determination of liability of public prosecutor,
- Precluding the senior public prosecutor from exercising an oversight of the work of public prosecutors, - if they fail to deal with the cases in the prescribed legal deadlines, without justifiable reasons, which leads to significant delay of the procedure or, the criminal prosecution falls within statute of limitation,
- if they do not start working on cases under the successive order as received through the Case Management Information System in the public prosecution, without any justifiable reason, - if they were assessed negatively twice consecutively, in accordance with the procedure prescribed by law, or - if they do not act upon the obligatory general written instructions of the senior public prosecutor, at the time of their issuance, as stipulated by this Law.

Mild disciplinary infringement shall be:

- Minor violation of the public order and peace and other more serious forms of inappropriate behaviour, thus undermining the repute of the public prosecutors and public prosecution offices,
- Non-fulfilment of mentor-like obligations, - violation of rights related to absence from work, - if they do not show up or are unjustifiable late for the scheduled hearings or court

Serbia

(General Comment): “Professional inadequacy” means if the Public Prosecutor or Deputy Public Prosecutor commits a disciplinary offense if:

Question 248

Albania

(2022): In the case of the second disciplinary proceeding completed during 2022, the High Justice Inspector has proposed to the High Prosecutorial Council, the appointment of the disciplinary measure "Public notice" for the prosecutor and for the head of the prosecution office, for the disciplinary violations provided in Article 102/1, letters "ç", "dh", and "l", of the Law "On the status of judges and prosecutors in the Republic of Albania", as amended. At the end of the disciplinary proceeding, with Decision no. 31, dated 24.02.2022, High Prosecutorial Council rejected the proposal of the High Justice Inspector to give the disciplinary measure "Public notice" to the two magistrates.

(2020): The proposal of Chief Justice Inspector for disciplinary measure "Public remark" for a prosecutor was found not based in law from the majority of members of the Council and the proposal was rejected by the Decision no. 269, dated 17.12.2020, of High Prosecutorial Council.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(2022): There was a difference between the number of disciplinary proceedings (13) and the number of penalties (10). This difference occurred because a disciplinary lawsuit was rejected in (3) cases.

(2020): Number of sanctions pronounced is significantly lesser in 2020 than in the previous report (12). It should be noted that COVID-19 related issues had impact on work of disciplinary bodies, including lesser number of received complaints compared to prior year (15% for both judges and prosecutors).

In 2020 only one sanction was pronounced against a prosecutor for the following reasons: out of 5 completed cases, 3 cases were dismissed and in one case a prosecutor died during the proceedings.

Although no suspension was imposed as disciplinary sanction in 2020, it should be noted that 4 prosecutors remain suspended as a result of criminal proceedings initiated against them before 2020.

(2019): As “other” measure, there is a written warning which shall not be made public, imposed against 4 prosecutors. This is a non-public measure.

The number of completed cases (13) is higher than the number of initiated proceedings (11). Usually, it takes up to six months (and sometimes more) for disciplinary bodies to complete disciplinary proceedings if they reach the Council as third instance. Therefore, some of the proceedings initiated in 2018 were completed in 2019.

Although no suspension was imposed as disciplinary sanction in 2019, it should be noted that there is ongoing suspension of 5 prosecutors, emanating from criminal proceedings initiated against them before 2019.

It should be noted that number of initiated proceedings and the number of sanctions pronounced against prosecutors is the highest since the establishment of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina, because of high number of grounded complaints as well as an increase in the number of the Office of Disciplinary Counsel staff.

Q253 (General Comment): If there is mandatory mediation, please specify which fields are concerned: The civil procedure code was amended in 2017, and it provides that:

The judge makes every effort to settle the dispute amicably during the preparatory stage, when the nature of the case allows that. At each stage of the trial, the court shall inform the parties about the possibility of settlement of the dispute through mediation and, if they give their consent, it transfers the case to mediation. When reconciliation is reached without starting the hearing, a record is held, which is signed by the parties. The judge approves the reconciliation by way of decision.

In case of submission of the act-agreement for reconciliation or resolution of the dispute through mediation, the court decides to approve it, if the latter is not inconsistent with the law.

Where the reconciliation is reached in the hearing, the terms of the agreement shall be reflected in the court record. The court shall give its approval decision, but in any case it should not be against the law.

Against the decision to resolve the dispute by reconciliation or mediation, or the rejection of the reconciliation, can be appealed separately.

Hence, there is no mandatory mediation that provides for a mandatory first mediation meeting, or mandatory informative session with mediator, or mandatory full mediation are conducted beforehand in order to be able to go to court.

Q255 (General Comment): Law on mediation was adopted in 2011 and it was also amended as part of the justice reform in 2017. Mediation regulated as an extrajudicial whereby the parties seek resolution of a dispute with the assistance of a third neutral party (mediator) in order to reach an acceptable agreement on the resolution of the dispute, which is not contrary to the law.

Mediation applies for the resolution of all the disputes in civil law, commercial, labour and family law, intellectual property, consumer rights, as well as disputes between public administration organs and private subjects. Mediation in criminal matters applies to disputes examined by the court at the request of the accusing victim, or upon complaint of the injured party, and also to any other cases allowed by special law. For mediation in criminal cases involving children provisions of the criminal code for minors are applicable.

Q252 (General Comment): The civil and criminal procedure codes foresee court-related mediation procedures.

Civil proceedings:

At the preparatory hearing at the latest, the court conducting the civil proceedings may, if it finds it appropriate with regard to the nature of the dispute and the circumstances, propose to the parties the resolution of the dispute through mediation proceedings, as prescribed by a separate law. The parties may jointly put forward such proposal until the conclusion of the main hearing.

Criminal proceedings:

The court may propose mediation through the mediator to the injured party and the accused or to the defense attorney in accordance with law, if the court considers that the claim under property law is such that it would be purposeful to refer it to the mediation. Injured party, accused and the defense attorney may propose referral to the mediation until the closing of the main trial. In less complex juvenile cases involving issuing educational recommendations (i. e. an apology to the injured party or compensation of damages to the injured party) a prosecutor or a judge may suggest the mediation between the offender and the injured party.

Q256 (General Comment): The legislation on free legal aid regulates that free legal assistance is available for poor litigants within procedures for peaceful settlement of disputes, including the mediation procedures.

Q257 (General Comment): The Law on mediation procedure governs the mediation procedure on the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The mediation tasks are by a separate law transferred to the association of mediators by the procedure set forth in that law. Parties to an individual procedure jointly select a mediator from the list of mediators established by the association of mediators.

The Law on mediation procedure determines the requirements for conducting the mediation as follows.

The mediator may be a person meeting general requirements for employment.

In addition, the mediator must meet the following requirements:

- a) a university degree,
- b) completed training in mediation according to the program of the association or according to another training programs recognized by the association,
- c) entry into the registry of mediators held by the association.

The mediator will submit proof of payment of the registration fee to the Association of Mediators. The person who is successful in completing the training program for mediators shall be issued an appropriate certificate serving as a basis for entry into the registry of mediators in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Q258 (2022): The Association of Mediators of Bosnia and Herzegovina produced the statistics on mediations. Historically, the number of mediations is small in Bosnia and Herzegovina. The already small number of mediations was further reduced in 2022 compared to 2021. Although this difference is large in terms of percentage, in reality it was not a significant change in terms of the scope of use of mediation procedures in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Q253 (2019): In the divorce disputes upon the lawsuit of one of the spouses, mediation procedure is carried out in accordance with the Law on Mediation and Family Law, except in cases where there are circumstances that point to the existence of any form of domestic violence.

Upon receipt of the lawsuit, the court will schedule a hearing and ask the spouses to immediately state which mediator they want to address in order to attempt to reconcile or reach an agreement on regulating legal consequences of the divorce. If spouses do not reach an agreement on the mediator, they will be appointed by the court. If the spouses are reconciled, the lawsuit is deemed to be withdrawn.

The mediator is obliged to inform the court to which the lawsuit is filed about the success of the mediation and to provide him with the minutes of the conciliation and a record containing the agreement of spouses on exercising the parental right and on the division of the joint property or the statements of the spouses that the agreement has not been reached.

Also, in Article 27a of the Law on Mediation it is stipulated in which cases the court is obliged to refer the parties to a meeting with the mediator:

1. when provided for by a special law
2. when he or she determines that it is in the best interest of the child whose rights and interests it decides
3. when litigation in property law litigation is initiated requiring fulfillment of the obligation to perform, in:
 - the disputes in which Montenegro is liable
 - small claims
 - Economic disputes
 - disputes involving more than five parties on one side
 - disputes concerning the division of property of spouses

Q257 (General Comment): Licensing of mediators is prescribed by the Law on ADR in articles 39 and 41. In order to receive a licence to be a mediators, a person has to hold Montenegrin nationality or nationality of a Member State of the European Union; VII1 level of educational qualification; general health capacity; minimum five years of work experience in the jobs where the VII1 level of education qualification is required; completed a basic training programme for mediators. In addition to these requirements the license should be granted to the person who has not been convicted of any offence which makes him unworthy of conducting mediation; has not been imposed security measure which involved prohibition to take up occupation, perform activity or duty; against whom no criminal proceedings are conducted for the criminal offence for which prosecution is initiated ex officio The person who meets above mentioned requirements shall be granted operating licence for mediator, which is issued by the Ministry for a five-year period and it may be extended by the same period in accordance with the Law on ADR.

Q257 (2022): new mediators accredited in the meantime

Q257 (2021): Number of mediators was not changed in 2021 in relation to 2020, but in 2021 32 candidates for mediators went through the basic training for mediators and they were accredited by the Ministry of Justice, Human and Minority Rights in the beginning of 2022.

Q257 (2020): Adoption of the new Law on ADR, in August 2020, led to the significant increase of a number of cases referred to the Center for mediation procedure, by courts and citizens and thus to the need for training of new mediators. In addition, according to the analysis done by the Centre, there is a need for additional increase of a number of mediators in some municipalities.

When it comes to the numbers of male and female mediators, we have to say that there are still more female than male mediators.

Q258 (2022): Report on the work of the ADR Centre;

Also, the total number of received requests for mediation in 2022 is 10773. At the end of 2022 there were 2625 cases are pending.

Q258 (2021): Regarding the increase in the number of mediations civil and commercial cases we have to say that this was mainly caused by the new solutions foreseen in the Law on ADR and the Law on Civil Procedure. When it comes to the labour cases, decrease happened due to the fact that in 2020 there was a great number of cases, on the same basis, related to the same Responding party. In general, statistics does not depend only on the interests of the parties and legal solutions, but also on the fact that some types of disputes appear and are characteristic for a reporting year, and do not appear in the next year.

Q258 (2020): ADR Centre annual report for 2020 <https://centarzaars.me/izvjestaji/>

Number of cases resolved in the mediation procedure in 2020 has been increased mainly due to the adoption of new Law on ADR and raising of the public awareness on alternative dispute resolution methods, but this still is not on satisfactory level.

Q258 (2019): There has been a significant increase since 2018 in the number of civil and commercial and labor cases for which parties agreed to start mediation, and therefore an increase of mediations in which an agreement has been reached for those categories of cases.

This is notably due to the promotion of mediation. First, in the last year the Center for Mediation implemented a large number of activities aimed at promoting and raising the level of information of citizens (broadcasting video, mobile application, billboards, mediation week, etc.). Also, the increase of mediation in any type of disputes leads to increased information of citizens and thus the decision of citizens to try to resolve their dispute before the Center. In general, the judges themselves in some courts who referred cases to the Center have a very positive experience with mediation, which increase the number of parties that they refer to mediation. As far as lawyers are concerned, there is still issue with accepting dispute resolution in mediation, although the situation is slowly changing and an increasing number of lawyers are accepting mediation.

Furthermore, regarding labor cases, the change of the Law on Mediation in March 2019, as well as the change of the Law on Civil Servants and State Employees in the same year, led to the fact that civil servants and state employees are obliged to try to resolve their labor dispute, before filing a lawsuit, before the Center for Mediation also, which was not the situation before.

Q259 (2022): Early Neutral Assessment of a dispute is the procedure where, on the basis of the parties' agreement, a dispute evaluator gives his assessment of the facts and law elements of their dispute.

Arbitration is regulated by the Law on Arbitration.

There is also peaceful resolution of conflicts in the area of labour etc.

Q259 (2020): Early neutral evaluation of dispute, introduced with the new Law on ADR, adopted in July 2020.☐

Q259 (2019): Parties in labor disputes - both individual and collective, may, in accordance with the Law on Peaceful Settlement of Disputes, voluntarily decide to entrust the settlement of the dispute to the facilitator or arbitrator.

Facilitator is a person who provides assistance to parties in a collective dispute and gives a recommendation with the aim of concluding a dispute settlement agreement, and arbitrator is the person who leads the dispute and decides on the subject of an individual dispute.

For the purpose of conducting professional tasks related to the peaceful settlement of labor disputes, the Agency for Peaceful Settlement of Labor Disputes was founded.

Q258 (2022): Register for recording on mediation procedures that is under authority of the Ministry of justice.

Q258 (2021): From 2020 the Ministry of Justice maintains a Register of mediation proceedings, in which the mediators are obliged to record the mediations. The number of court related mediations (in 2021) is from the Register (on March 3, 2022). Still, there is possibility this data to be changed as the mediators fulfill the Register.

According to our Law on mediation, mediation is allowed in property and legal disputes, family disputes, workplace disputes, trade disputes, consumer disputes, insurance disputes, disputes in the field of education, environmental protection, disputes regarding discrimination and other disputed relations where mediation is appropriate to the nature of the disputed relations and can help to resolve them. Mediation is allowed in criminal cases if its application is not excluded by a special law.

The electronic register in which the mediators themselves enter the data is one of the key factors that led to the stimulation of the mediators to record all the procedures that were given to them to act. As of December 31, 2021, they were given the opportunity to import all old cases from 2016 to 2021 in order to gain a realistic picture of the number of mediations they had at work. At the same time, the determination of the Government determined by the Conclusion of 2019 and the Memorandum of Cooperation with the Chamber of Mediators to try to resolve its disputes through mediation gave a great impetus. Serbia

Q252 (General Comment): Article 11 of the Law on Civil Procedure (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 72/2011, 49/2013 - Decision of Constitutional Court, 74/2013 - Decision of the CC and 55/2014) provides that the court shall direct the parties to mediation or to an informative hearing for mediation, or to instruct the parties of the option of pre-trial settlement of dispute by mediation or through another amicable manner while Art. 305 Para. 3 provides that the court shall inform the parties of their right that the procedure can be conducted by means of mediation. Article 340 of the Law on Civil Procedure provides that the court shall stay the proceedings and refer the parties to mediation procedure when provided for by a special law, or when parties propose that the dispute be resolved through mediation. The mediation procedure is to be implemented in accordance with a special law. If the parties do not resolve the dispute through mediation, the court will schedule a hearing for the trial upon the expiry of 30 days from the day when a party informs the court that it has withdrawn from the mediation (Article 341). In accordance with Article 9 Paragraph 2 of the Law on Mediation in Dispute Resolution (“Official Gazette of RS” no. 55/2014), the court is obliged to provide all necessary information to the parties in the dispute about the possibilities of mediation, which can also be done by referring the parties to the mediator. Having in mind the existing legal framework as well as the applicable best practice for the development of court-annexed / court-connected mediation, the Supreme Court of Cassation, the High Judicial Council and the Ministry of Justice jointly issued the Guidelines for the Improvement of Mediation in the Republic of Serbia on 28 June 2017, <https://www.mpravde.gov.rs/tekst/16729/uputstvo-za-unapredjenje-medijacije-u-republici-srbiji-po-zakonu-o-posredovanju-u-resavanju-sporova.php>. The Guidelines provide that the courts should, in the early phases of proceedings, resolve disputes by referring the parties to mediation or by encouraging them to reach a court settlement, to alleviate the burden on the court and allow for more efficient procedure in other cases where amicable resolution is not possible. They provide that Info-Services should be established for the Support of Alternative Dispute Resolution Methods within all basic, higher and commercial courts as well as mediation Info-Desks and active cooperation with external partners of the court, i.e. providers of mediation services should be encouraged based on signed protocols of cooperation. Likewise, in order to promote court-related mediation, it is provided that Mediation Weeks should be organised around the 25 October, i.e. marking the European Day of Justice.

The basic procedural framework for court-related mediation also encompasses the Criminal Procedure Code (“Official Gazette of RS”, no 72/2011 and 101/2011), and the Law on Civil Procedure (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 72/2011, 49/2013 - Decision of Constitutional Court, 74/2013 - Decision of the CC and 55/2014). Other laws, such as the Law on Juvenile Crime Offenders and Criminal Protection of Juveniles (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 85/2005), Law on Prohibition of Discrimination (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 22/2009), Law on Bankruptcy Procedure (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 104/2009, 99/2011 – other law, 71/2012 – Decision of CC and 83/2014), Law on Prevention of Harassment at Work (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 36/2010), Law on the Protection of Whistle Blowers (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 128/2014), etc. also contain specific provisions on mediation.

Judges can only perform mediation outside of working hours and free of charge.

A judge who acts in the case concerning the disputed relationship cannot be a mediator. However, such a judge can assist the parties to reach an amicable solution in civil procedure through judicial settlement.

Q252 (2019): Please see general comments.

Q253 (General Comment): The Law on Prevention of Harassment at Work ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 36/2010) provides that an employee who considers to be subjected to harassment at work („mobbed“) by a person other than the employer themselves, director or other responsible person within the company can submit directly to the director/employer a reasoned application for initiation of proceedings for protection from harassment. The employer is then obliged under the law to propose to the parties in the dispute within three days upon receipt of the application mediation as a resolution of the dispute. Mediation proceedings in these cases are urgent. The mediation proceeding is considered terminated within eight working days after the date of the determination or choice of the mediator: 1) By signing of a written agreement between the disputed parties; 2) By a decision of the mediator, after consultation with the parties, to terminate the proceedings because further proceedings are not justified; 3) By a withdrawal statement of a disputed party from further proceedings. Due to justified reasons, the deadline for the completion of the mediation process can be extended to a maximum of 30 days from the date of determination or choice of the mediator. Also, a mandatory attempt at peaceful dispute resolution before initiating civil proceedings is prescribed in some Serbian laws (but not mediation per se). The Law on Compulsory Traffic Insurance ("Official Gazette RS", no. 51/2009, 78/2011, 101/2011, 93/2012 and 7/2013 – CC decision) provides that a person entitled to a claim under third party motor liability insurance must file the claim directly to the insurance company - if the contract provides for this possibility and if this is in accordance with the business policy of the insurance company. In case the insurance company fails to submit a reasoned offer of compensation for damages within 90 days from the date of claim receipt, or in case the insurance company fails to pay the small claim within the deadline, the claimant may file a lawsuit against the company and notify the National Bank of Serbia of such proceedings. Therefore, in this specific situation, the lawsuit is considered to be filed prematurely, unless the claimant previously addresses the insurance company in an attempt at out-of-court settlement.

Further, under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code a person who intends to file a lawsuit for compensation for unlawful deprivation of liberty, or wrongful conviction, before the filing of the complaint, shall submit a request to the Ministry of Justice in order to agree on the existence of damage, the type and amount of compensation (Article 588, Paragraph 1 of the CPC). A Commission shall decide on the request, whose composition and method of work is regulated by the Minister of Justice (Article 588, Paragraph 2 of the CPC). A member of the Commission is also a Deputy SA. If the request is not granted or the Commission does not decide on the request within three months, a lawsuit may be filed against the Republic of Serbia (Article 589, Paragraph 1 of the CPC). If agreement is reached partially, related to the claim, the lawsuit may request the remaining part (Article 589, paragraph 2 of the CPC). During the duration of the procedure for reaching agreement, the statute of limitation is not running for the right to compensation under Article 591 (Article 589, paragraph 3 of the CPA). The work and results of these commissions show that the way settlement procedure is devised should be fundamentally revised.

Q253 (2021): Exceptions when mediation is mandatory - Please see the general comments section:

If the responsible person in the legal entity is not charged with abuse, ie the employer with the status of a natural person, the employee who considers that he is exposed to abuse submits a reasoned request to initiate proceedings for protection against abuse directly to that person. There is a certain obligation in consumer disputes. There is an obligation for the trader in consumer disputes if the consumer initiates an out-of-court dispute resolution procedure which is by its nature mediation (Article 151 of the Law on Consumer Protection). Initiation and conduct of out-of-court settlement of consumer disputes does not exclude or affect the right to judicial protection, in accordance with the law.- Article 168

Q254 (General Comment): Most simply put, in Serbia judges are required to inform the parties of a possibility of mediation, but cannot order it (there are no mandatory mediation provisions). Article 11 of the Law on Civil Procedure provides that the court shall direct the parties to mediation or to informative hearing for mediation, in accordance with the law, or to instruct the parties of the option of pre-trial settlement of dispute by mediation or through another amicable manner while Art. 305 Para. 3 provides that the court shall inform the parties of their right that the procedure can be performed through mediation.

Q255 (General Comment): Family law provides that upon being served the action for annulment or divorce of marriage, the court shall schedule a hearing for conciliation/settlement, which is held only before a sole judge. The judge is under the obligation to recommend the spouses to undergo psycho-social counselling and will at the proposal of the spouses or with their consent entrust mediation to the competent guardianship authority, marriage or family counselling service, or other institution specialised in mediation in family relations (Article 232). The Law on Social Protection ("Official Gazette of the Republic of Serbia" No.24/2011) also provides mediation as a community based social service falling in the counselling-therapeutic and social-educational group of services, also irrespective of court proceedings (in Centers for Social Work of local municipalities). The procedural legal framework has been adopted in order to allow for certain elements of mediation in penal matters. Namely, pursuant to Article 505 of the Criminal Procedure Code ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 72/2011, 101/2011, 121/2012, 32/2013, 45/2013 i 55/2014), before scheduling a trial in connection with criminal offences which are prosecutable by private prosecution, the judge shall summon the private prosecutor and the defendant to the court on a certain date to be informed about the possibility of being referred to a mediation procedure. The Criminal Code ("Official Gazette of RS", Nos. 85/2005, 88/2005, 107/2005, 72/2009, 111/2009, 121/2012, 104/2013, 108/2014 i 94/2016)) also provides a possibility of settlement between the offender and the victim (Article 59). Namely, the court may remit from punishment the perpetrator of a criminal offence punishable by up to three years' imprisonment or a fine if the offender has fulfilled all his/her obligations from an agreement reached with the victim. Therefore, according to previously mentioned provisions, in these matters the only eligible public authority is the court)which can be explained by the very nature of the proceedings). The Law on Consumer Protection ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 62/2014, 6/2016 and 44/2018) provides two manners of out-court settlement of consumer disputes: mediation (in accordance with the law that regulates mediation in Serbia) and arbitration. Parties in the consumer dispute may assign the resolution of the consumer dispute to one or more mediators chosen from the list of mediators, in accordance with the Law on Mediation.

Q256 (General Comment): In order to promote mediation, mediators have since 2016 provided mediation services in courts pro bono. Likewise, a judge cannot charge fees for conducting mediation.

The Law on Mediation in Dispute Resolution provides for certain monetary incentives in case of reaching an agreement to resolve the dispute through mediation after the judicial or other proceedings have been initiated and before the conclusion of the first hearing for the main trial, such as that the parties may be exempt from court or administrative fees, in accordance with the law which regulates court and administrative fees (Article 31). The Parliament has enacted the Law on Amendments and Supplements to the Law on Court Fees ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 95/2018), which further encourages parties to resolve their disputes by amicable means, through mediation, negotiated settlement, court settlement or any other amicable way. These amendments, which are applicable from 1 January 2019, postpone the collection of court fees in order to leave the parties the opportunity to once again consider the amicable resolution of the dispute, once the court proceedings have been initiated. Through these provisions, the state offers financial incentives to the parties to consider other viable dispute resolution options early in the court proceedings by exempting them from paying all relevant court fees if they achieve a settlement by the time of the first hearing. Regarding general exemption from court fees please see comment to Q17.

Q257 (2020): The number of mediators in the Republic of Serbia is significantly large due to the increased interest of citizens in performing the work of mediators, which is probably due to the documents adopted by the Republic of Serbia to improve the application of mediation in Serbia.

Q257 (2019): The Register of Mediators has been improved to include the gender criterion in January 2020, after which the relevant data has been manually inserted. The given data is therefore from the status of the Register on 10 February 2020.

The constant rise in the number of registered mediators is the result of the various promotional activities of the Ministry of Justice, continuous training of mediators, pursuant to the Action Plan for Chapter 23, and the anticipation that more mediations will be demanded in the future. Mediators are registered in the MoJ Register of Mediators, <https://www.mpravde.gov.rs/intermediaries.php>, for all types of mediation (not only court-related mediation). Pursuant to the Annual Reports of Mediators, filed to the Ministry of Justice in January 2020 for 2019, 124 mediators stated that they mediated in 2019, 34 of which mediated in cooperation with a co-mediator. Comparatively, 149 mediators stated that they mediated in 2018, 48 of which mediated in cooperation with a co-mediator.

Q257-1 (General Comment): The conditions stipulated by the law for the performance of mediation activities are: legal capacity, citizenship of the Republic of Serbia, completed basic training, higher education, that the person has not been sentenced to an unconditional prison sentence for a criminal offense that makes him unfit to perform mediation activities, possession of a mediation license and enrollment in the Register of Mediators. The request is submitted to the Ministry of Justice, which issues licenses for mediation to persons who meet the conditions and registers them in the Registry of Mediators.

Q258 (2020): 498-these 6 categories are not all categories in which mediation proceedings were conducted, and therefore the total number of cases in which the parties agreed to initiate mediation proceedings is slightly higher 498 including other types of disputes that are not included in these 6 listed in the report.

Q258 (2019): Please note that the statistics of the Statistical Office of the Republic of Serbia on cases of diversionary measures for juvenile offenders - settlement with victims (criminal, court-related mediation) is currently not available due to COVID19 disruptions and is not displayed in the table, causing a variation with 2018 data.

Based on Annual Reports of Mediators, filed to the Ministry of Justice in January 2020 for 2019, during 2019, 569 mediation agreements were concluded (agreements to enter into mediation), while 403 cases successfully finished with the conclusion of a settlement agreement. Pursuant to the reports of mediators, in 266 proceedings the case was referred to mediation by the court.

Upon filing of additional, in-depth statistics by the mediators who conducted court-related mediations, it was determined that some of these cases were initiated in the previous year, while the number of cases for which the parties agreed to start mediation in 2019 was 239.

Comparatively, during 2018, 638 mediation agreements were concluded (agreements to enter into mediation), while 374 cases successfully finished with the conclusion of a settlement agreement. According to the reports of mediators, in 244 proceedings the case was referred to mediation by the court. However, this data based on mediators' reports submitted to the MoJ is not completely reliable, which is why we are devising a new methodology for collecting court-related statistics.

Both the current method of collecting court mediation statistics and extrajudicial mediation statistics must be significantly improved to increase accuracy and Q259 (General Comment): Various alternative dispute resolution methods stand at parties' disposal within the legal framework of Serbia, including mediation (judicial and non-judicial), conciliation and arbitration. To date, however, they are all underutilized. Nonetheless, in the last two years, a steady increase of mediation proceedings has been noted, followed by a strong support of mediation by the Ministry of Justice and Supreme Court of Cassation, and positive activities are noted in the field of arbitration, with the establishment of a new independent arbitration centre. Still, coordinated, joint, continued multi-annual efforts must be made to establish a viable and sustainable alternative dispute resolution system.

Having the above in mind, a strategic approach to improving the use of mediation has been initiated in August 2018, whereby the Ministry of Justice, recognising that increasing and improving mediation culture and mechanisms is not a task to be dealt with only by the judiciary and its respective Ministry, is addressing other line ministries and institutions, such as the National Bank of Serbia, Ministry of Trade and Ministry of Labour, so as to seek to together find best ways to improve the use and quality of mediation in the fields of their respective competences, and in that way, jointly to successfully answer to the benchmark given in that respect within Chapter 23.

Q259 (2020): The Minister of Justice has established a Working Group for drafting of amendments to the Law on Mediation in Dispute Resolution on 19 December 2018 with the task of drafting A new legal framework which should strike a balance between the need to regulate, on the one hand, and the need to preserve a sufficient level of party autonomy and procedural flexibility, on the other. The working group has in 2019 worked on the further improvement of all relevant provisions of the law, especially taking care that changes to the legal framework encompass: 1) Transparency and clarity of the content of the mediation law in relation to how mediation is started, the mediation procedure itself, standards and qualifications for mediators, mediation centers and mediation training providers, as well as rights and obligations of participants in the mediation process; 2) Specifying the position of judges in the mediation procedure; 3) Enforceability of clauses on settling disputes through mediation;

- 4) The principle of confidentiality;
- 5) The enforceability of agreements reached in mediation and agreements reached in international mediation; and 6) The impact of mediation on the course of a lawsuit, including the possibility of prescribing the first obligatory meeting as a procedural precondition for initiating litigation in certain types of cases, as well as other ways in which the objective of Directive 2008/52/EC may be achieved.

The working group is guided by mediation standards provided in relevant acts of the United Nations, the European Union and the Council of Europe, as well as by the need for adapting standards and best practices to local possibilities and needs.

Article 9

Mandatory mediation

1. When parties submit a statement of claim before the court, regarding disputes deriving from family relations such as alimony, custody, visits, child support and division of marital property, the judge in the preliminary hearing, after the preliminary review of the indictment, must inform and oblige the parties to mediation procedure.
2. When parties file a statement of claim before a court regarding ownership contests related to rights and obligations deriving from the rights of servitudes and compensation of expropriated properties, the judge in the preliminary hearing, after the preliminary review, is obliged to inform and direct parties to mediation procedure.
3. Under such circumstances, the parties shall meet with a mediator, and will have thirty (30) days to try the commencement of mediation, starting from the day when the judge obliges the parties to try mediation.
4. Parties may chose not to continue with the mediation procedure and they can return to judicial proceedings, not longer than thirty (30) days.
5. Prior to returning the case in judicial proceedings, parties must provide a written evidence, signed by the parties and the mediator, proving that parties have tried mediation procedure.
6. Mandatory mediation does not deprive parties of their right to appear before the court, or employ arbitration procedure, and if no agreement is reached in the mediation procedure, the case shall be sent again to court or arbitration.
7. Parties are not obliged to reach an agreement through mediation against their free will.
8. Additional time limits for mediation are in accordance with Article 16 of this Law.

(General Comment): The civil and criminal procedure codes foresee court-related mediation procedures.

Civil proceedings:

At the preparatory hearing at the latest, the court conducting the civil proceedings may, if it finds it appropriate with regard to the nature of the dispute and the circumstances, propose to the parties the resolution of the dispute through mediation proceedings, as prescribed by a separate law. The parties may jointly put forward such proposal until the conclusion of the main hearing.

Criminal proceedings:

The court may propose mediation through the mediator to the injured party and the accused or to the defense attorney in accordance with law, if the court considers that the claim under property law is such that it would be purposeful to refer it to the mediation. Injured party, accused and the defense attorney may propose referral to the mediation until the closing of the main trial. In less complex juvenile cases involving issuing educational recommendations (i. e. an apology to the injured party or compensation of damages to the injured party) a prosecutor or a judge may suggest the mediation between the offender and the injured party.

(General Comment): Article 11 of the Law on Civil Procedure (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 72/2011, 49/2013 - Decision of Constitutional Court, 74/2013 - Decision of the CC and 55/2014) provides that the court shall direct the parties to mediation or to an informative hearing for mediation, or to instruct the parties of the option of pre-trial settlement of dispute by mediation or through another amicable manner while Art. 305 Para. 3 provides that the court shall inform the parties of their right that the procedure can be conducted by means of mediation. Article 340 of the Law on Civil Procedure provides that the court shall stay the proceedings and refer the parties to mediation procedure when provided for by a special law, or when parties propose that the dispute be resolved through mediation. The mediation procedure is to be implemented in accordance with a special law. If the parties do not resolve the dispute through mediation, the court will schedule a hearing for the trial upon the expiry of 30 days from the day when a party informs the court that it has withdrawn from the mediation (Article 341). In accordance with Article 9 Paragraph 2 of the Law on Mediation in Dispute Resolution (“Official Gazette of RS” no. 55/2014), the court is obliged to provide all necessary information to the parties in the dispute about the possibilities of mediation, which can also be done by referring the parties to the mediator.

Having in mind the existing legal framework as well as the applicable best practice for the development of court-annexed / court-connected mediation, the Supreme Court of Cassation, the High Judicial Council and the Ministry of Justice jointly issued the Guidelines for the Improvement of Mediation in the Republic of Serbia on 28 June 2017, <https://www.mpravde.gov.rs/tekst/16729/uputstvo-za-unapredjenje-medijacije-u-republici-srbiji-po-zakonu-o-posredovanju-u-resavanju-sporova.php>. The Guidelines provide that the courts should, in the early phases of proceedings, resolve disputes by referring the parties to mediation or by encouraging them to reach a court settlement, to alleviate the burden on the court and allow for more efficient procedure in other cases where amicable resolution is not possible. They provide that Info-Services should be established for the Support of Alternative Dispute Resolution Methods within all basic, higher and commercial courts as well as mediation Info-Desks and active cooperation with external partners of the court, i.e. providers of mediation services should be encouraged based on signed protocols of cooperation. Likewise, in order to promote court-related mediation, it is provided that Mediation Weeks should be organised around the 25 October, i.e. marking the European Day of Justice.

The basic procedural framework for court-related mediation also encompasses the Criminal Procedure Code (“Official Gazette of RS”, no 72/2011 and 101/2011), and the Law on Civil Procedure (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 72/2011, 49/2013 - Decision of Constitutional Court, 74/2013 - Decision of the CC and 55/2014). Other laws, such as the Law on Juvenile Crime Offenders and Criminal Protection of Juveniles (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 85/2005), Law on Prohibition of Discrimination (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 22/2009), Law on Bankruptcy Procedure (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 104/2009, 99/2011 – other law, 71/2012 – Decision of CC and 83/2014), Law on Prevention of Harassment at Work (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 36/2010), Law on the Protection of Whistle Blowers (“Official Gazette of RS”, no. 128/2014), etc. also contain specific provisions on mediation.

Judges can only perform mediation outside of working hours and free of charge.

A judge who acts in the case concerning the disputed relationship cannot be a mediator. However, such a judge can assist the parties to reach an amicable solution in civil procedure through judicial settlement.

(General Comment): If there is mandatory mediation, please specify which fields are concerned: The civil procedure code was amended in 2017, and it provides that:

The judge makes every effort to settle the dispute amicably during the preparatory stage, when the nature of the case allows that. At each stage of the trial, the court shall inform the parties about the possibility of settlement of the dispute through mediation and, if they give their consent, it transfers the case to mediation. When reconciliation is reached without starting the hearing, a record is held, which is signed by the parties. The judge approves the reconciliation by way of decision.

In case of submission of the act-agreement for reconciliation or resolution of the dispute through mediation, the court decides to approve it, if the latter is not inconsistent with the law.

Where the reconciliation is reached in the hearing, the terms of the agreement shall be reflected in the court record. The court shall give its approval decision, but in any case it should not be against the law.

Against the decision to resolve the dispute by reconciliation or mediation, or the rejection of the reconciliation, can be appealed separately.

Hence, there is no mandatory mediation that provides for a mandatory first mediation meeting, or mandatory informative session with mediator, or mandatory full mediation are conducted beforehand in order to be able to go to court.

(2019): In the divorce disputes upon the lawsuit of one of the spouses, mediation procedure is carried out in accordance with the Law on Mediation and Family Law, except in cases where there are circumstances that point to the existence of any form of domestic violence.

Upon receipt of the lawsuit, the court will schedule a hearing and ask the spouses to immediately state which mediator they want to address in order to attempt to reconcile or reach an agreement on regulating legal consequences of the divorce. If spouses do not reach an agreement on the mediator, they will be appointed by the court. If the spouses are reconciled, the lawsuit is deemed to be withdrawn.

The mediator is obliged to inform the court to which the lawsuit is filed about the success of the mediation and to provide him with the minutes of the conciliation and a record containing the agreement of spouses on exercising the parental right and on the division of the joint property or the statements of the spouses that the agreement has not been reached.

Also, in Article 27a of the Law on Mediation it is stipulated in which cases the court is obliged to refer the parties to a meeting with the mediator:

1. when provided for by a special law
2. when he or she determines that it is in the best interest of the child whose rights and interests it decides
3. when litigation in property law litigation is initiated requiring fulfillment of the obligation to perform, in:
 - the disputes in which Montenegro is liable
 - small claims
 - Economic disputes
 - disputes involving more than five parties on one side
 - disputes concerning the division of property of spouses

(General Comment): The Law on Prevention of Harassment at Work ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 36/2010) provides that an employee who considers to be subjected to harassment at work („mobbed“) by a person other than the employer themselves, director or other responsible person within the company can submit directly to the director/employer a reasoned application for initiation of proceedings for protection from harassment. The employer is then obliged under the law to propose to the parties in the dispute within three days upon receipt of the application mediation as a resolution of the dispute. Mediation proceedings in these cases are urgent. The mediation proceeding is considered terminated within eight working days after the date of the determination or choice of the mediator: 1) By signing of a written agreement between the disputed parties; 2) By a decision of the mediator, after consultation with the parties, to terminate the proceedings because further proceedings are not justified; 3) By a withdrawal statement of a disputed party from further proceedings. Due to justified reasons, the deadline for the completion of the mediation process can be extended to a maximum of 30 days from the date of determination or choice of the mediator. Also, a mandatory attempt at peaceful dispute resolution before initiating civil proceedings is prescribed in some Serbian laws (but not mediation per se). The Law on Compulsory Traffic Insurance ("Official Gazette RS", no. 51/2009, 78/2011, 101/2011, 93/2012 and 7/2013 – CC decision) provides that a person entitled to a claim under third party motor liability insurance must file the claim directly to the insurance company - if the contract provides for this possibility and if this is in accordance with the business policy of the insurance company. In case the insurance company fails to submit a reasoned offer of compensation for damages within 90 days from the date of claim receipt, or in case the insurance company fails to pay the small claim within the deadline, the claimant may file a lawsuit against the company and notify the National Bank of Serbia of such proceedings. Therefore, in this specific situation, the lawsuit is considered to be filed prematurely, unless the claimant previously addresses the insurance company in an attempt at out-of-court settlement.

Further, under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code a person who intends to file a lawsuit for compensation for unlawful deprivation of liberty, or wrongful conviction, before the filing of the complaint, shall submit a request to the Ministry of Justice in order to agree on the existence of damage, the type and amount of compensation (Article 588, Paragraph 1 of the CPC). A Commission shall decide on the request, whose composition and method of work is regulated by the Minister of Justice (Article 588, Paragraph 2 of the CPC). A member of the Commission is also a Deputy SA. If the request is not granted or the Commission does not decide on the request within three months, a lawsuit may be filed against the Republic of Serbia (Article 589, Paragraph 1 of the CPC). If agreement is reached partially, related to the claim, the lawsuit may request the remaining part (Article 589, paragraph 2 of the CPC). During the duration of the procedure for reaching agreement, the statute of limitation is not running for the right to compensation under Article 591 (Article 589, paragraph 3 of the CPA). The work and results of these commissions show that the way settlement procedure is devised should be fundamentally revised.

If the responsible person in the legal entity is not charged with abuse, ie the employer with the status of a natural person, the employee who considers that he is exposed to abuse submits a reasoned request to initiate proceedings for protection against abuse directly to that person. There is a certain obligation in consumer disputes. There is an obligation for the trader in consumer disputes if the consumer initiates an out-of-court dispute resolution procedure which is by its nature mediation (Article 151 of the Law on Consumer Protection). Initiation and conduct of out-of-court settlement of consumer disputes does not exclude or affect the right to judicial protection, in accordance with the law.- Article 168

(2022): Law on Mediation:

Mandatory mediation

1. When parties submit a statement of claim before the court, regarding disputes deriving from family relations such as alimony, custody, visits, child support and division of marital property, the judge in the preliminary hearing, after the preliminary review of the indictment, must inform and oblige the parties to mediation procedure.
2. When parties file a statement of claim before a court regarding ownership contests related to rights and obligations deriving from the rights of servitudes and compensation of expropriated properties, the judge in the preliminary hearing, after the preliminary review, is obliged to inform and direct parties to mediation procedure.
3. Under such circumstances, the parties shall meet with a mediator, and will have thirty (30) days to try the commencement of mediation, starting from the day when the judge obliges the parties to try mediation.
4. Parties may chose not to continue with the mediation procedure and they can return to judicial proceedings, not longer than thirty (30) days.
5. Prior to returning the case in judicial proceedings, parties must provide a written evidence, signed by the parties and the mediator, proving that parties have tried mediation procedure.
6. Mandatory mediation does not deprive parties of their right to appear before the court, or employ arbitration procedure, and if no agreement is reached in the mediation procedure, the case shall be sent again to court or arbitration.
7. Parties are not obliged to reach an agreement through mediation against their free will.
8. Additional time limits for mediation are in accordance with Article 16 of this Law.

(General Comment): Law on mediation was adopted in 2011 and it was also amended as part of the justice reform in 2017. Mediation regulated as an extrajudicial whereby the parties seek resolution of a dispute with the assistance of a third neutral party (mediator) in order to reach an acceptable agreement on the resolution of the dispute, which is not contrary to the law.

Mediation applies for the resolution of all the disputes in civil law, commercial, labour and family law, intellectual property, consumer rights, as well as disputes between public administration organs and private subjects. Mediation in criminal matters applies to disputes examined by the court at the request of the accusing victim, or upon complaint of the injured party, and also to any other cases allowed by special law. For mediation in criminal cases involving children provisions of the criminal code for minors are applicable.

(General Comment): Family law provides that upon being served the action for annulment or divorce of marriage, the court shall schedule a hearing for conciliation/settlement, which is held only before a sole judge. The judge is under the obligation to recommend the spouses to undergo psycho-social counselling and will at the proposal of the spouses or with their consent entrust mediation to the competent guardianship authority, marriage or family counselling service, or other institution specialised in mediation in family relations (Article 232). The Law on Social Protection ("Official Gazette of the Republic of Serbia" No.24/2011) also provides mediation as a community based social service falling in the counselling-therapeutic and social-educational group of services, also irrespective of court proceedings (in Centers for Social Work of local municipalities). The procedural legal framework has been adopted in order to allow for certain elements of mediation in penal matters. Namely, pursuant to Article 505 of the Criminal Procedure Code ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 72/2011, 101/2011, 121/2012, 32/2013, 45/2013 i 55/2014), before scheduling a trial in connection with criminal offences which are prosecutable by private prosecution, the judge shall summon the private prosecutor and the defendant to the court on a certain date to be informed about the possibility of being referred to a mediation procedure. The Criminal Code ("Official Gazette of RS", Nos. 85/2005, 88/2005, 107/2005, 72/2009, 111/2009, 121/2012, 104/2013, 108/2014 i 94/2016)) also provides a possibility of settlement between the offender and the victim (Article 59). Namely, the court may remit from punishment the perpetrator of a criminal offence punishable by up to three years' imprisonment or a fine if the offender has fulfilled all his/her obligations from an agreement reached with the victim. Therefore, according to previously mentioned provisions, in these matters the only eligible public authority is the court (which can be explained by the very nature of the proceedings). The Law on Consumer Protection ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 62/2014, 6/2016 and 44/2018) provides two manners of out-court settlement of consumer disputes: mediation (in accordance with the law that regulates mediation in Serbia) and arbitration. Parties in the consumer dispute may assign the resolution of the consumer dispute to one or more mediators chosen from the list of mediators, in accordance with the Law on Mediation.

(General Comment): In order to promote mediation, mediators have since 2016 provided mediation services in courts pro bono. Likewise, a judge cannot charge fees for conducting mediation.

The Law on Mediation in Dispute Resolution provides for certain monetary incentives in case of reaching an agreement to resolve the dispute through mediation after the judicial or other proceedings have been initiated and before the conclusion of the first hearing for the main trial, such as that the parties may be exempt from court or administrative fees, in accordance with the law which regulates court and administrative fees (Article 31). The Parliament has enacted the Law on Amendments and Supplements to the Law on Court Fees ("Official Gazette of RS", no. 95/2018), which further encourages parties to resolve their disputes by amicable means, through mediation, negotiated settlement, court settlement or any other amicable way. These amendments, which are applicable from 1 January 2019, postpone the collection of court fees in order to leave the parties the opportunity to once again consider the amicable resolution of the dispute, once the court proceedings have been initiated. Through these provisions, the state offers financial incentives to the parties to consider other viable dispute resolution options early in the court proceedings by exempting them from paying all relevant court fees if they achieve a settlement by the time of the first hearing. Regarding general exemption from court fees please see comment to Q17.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): The Law on mediation procedure governs the mediation procedure on the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The mediation tasks are by a separate law transferred to the association of mediators by the procedure set forth in that law. Parties to an individual procedure jointly select a mediator from the list of mediators established by the association of mediators.

The Law on mediation procedure determines the requirements for conducting the mediation as follows.

The mediator may be a person meeting general requirements for employment.

In addition, the mediator must meet the following requirements:

- a) a university degree,
- b) completed training in mediation according to the program of the association or according to another training programs recognized by the association,
- c) entry into the registry of mediators held by the association.

The mediator will submit proof of payment of the registration fee to the Association of Mediators. The person who is successful in completing the training program for mediators shall be issued an appropriate certificate serving as a basis for entry into the registry of mediators in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Montenegro

(General Comment): Licensing of mediators is prescribed by the Law on ADR in articles 39 and 41. In order to receive a licence to be a mediators, a person has to hold Montenegrin nationality or nationality of a Member State of the European Union; VII1 level of educational qualification; general health capacity; minimum five years of work experience in the jobs where the VII1 level of education qualification is required; completed a basic training programme for mediators. In addition to these requirements the license should be granted to the person who has not been convicted of any offence which makes him unworthy of conducting mediation; has not been imposed security measure which involved prohibition to take up occupation, perform activity or duty; against whom no criminal proceedings are conducted for the criminal offence for which prosecution is initiated ex officio The person who meets above mentioned requirements shall be granted operating licence for mediator, which is issued by the Ministry for a five-year period and it may be extended by the same period in accordance with the Law on ADR.

(2021): Number of mediators was not changed in 2021 in relation to 2020, but in 2021 32 candidates for mediators went through the basic training for mediators and they were accredited by the Ministry of Justice, Human and Minority Rights in the beginning of 2022.

(2020): Adoption of the new Law on ADR, in August 2020, led to the significant increase of a number of cases referred to the Center for mediation procedure, by courts and citizens and thus to the need for training of new mediators. In addition, according to the analysis done by the Centre, there is a need for additional increase of a number of mediators in some municipalities.

When it comes to the numbers of male and female mediators, we have to say that there are still more female than male mediators.

(General Comment): A licensed mediator can become a person with faculty education and 3 years of work experience after graduation, with passed psychological test and integrity test, who attended 70 hours of accredited training, passed the exam before the Mediation Board, and obtained a license from the Mediation Board.

VII. MEDIATOR Conditions for mediator and mediation Article 46 (1) A mediator may be a legally capable natural person who has a license to perform mediation activities (hereinafter: license for mediator). (2) A license for mediator shall be issued to the person who will pass the exam for checking the theoretical knowledge and practical skills of mediation (hereinafter: exam for mediators) before the Board for ensuring, monitoring and evaluating the quality of mediation activities (hereinafter: the Board) will present a concluded contract for liability insurance in accordance with Article 24 paragraph (4) of this Law. (3) The issued license is valid for five years and it can be extended or revoked depending on the results of the evaluation of the quality of the mediator. (4) The evaluation of the quality of the work of the mediators shall be performed by the Board at least once in five years in accordance with the methodology and the procedure for performing monitoring and evaluation of the quality of the work of the mediators. (5) The form and the content of the license for mediator shall be prescribed by the Minister of Justice.

Exam for mediators Article 47 (1) The exam for mediator can be taken by the persons who have submitted an application for taking the exam to the Board together with a proof for: a) completed Faculty education VII / I or 300 credits according to the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) in the Republic of North Macedonia or a decision for recognition of an appropriate higher education qualification acquired abroad issued by the Ministry of Education and Science; b) completed training according to an accredited training program for mediators of at least 70 hours in the Republic of North Macedonia, i.e abroad, or a decision for recognition of appropriate training completed abroad adopted by the Board; c) at least three years of work experience after graduation; d) followed by at least four mediation procedures conducted by a mediator for which a certificate was issued by a mediator supported together with an excerpt from the Register of Mediation Procedures for the respective procedures; e) conducted psychological test and integrity test issued by a licensed professional; f) certificate of citizenship of the Republic of North Macedonia and g) at least five recommendations from persons who know the applicant professionally.

(2020): There are no changes in the number of registered mediators between 2019 and 2020.

Serbia

(2020): The number of mediators in the Republic of Serbia is significantly large due to the increased interest of citizens in performing the work of mediators, which is probably due to the documents adopted by the Republic of Serbia to improve the application of mediation in Serbia.

(2019): The Register of Mediators has been improved to include the gender criterion in January 2020, after which the relevant data has been manually inserted. The given data is therefore from the status of the Register on 10 February 2020.

The constant rise in the number of registered mediators is the result of the various promotional activities of the Ministry of Justice, continuous training of mediators, pursuant to the Action Plan for Chapter 23, and the anticipation that more mediations will be demanded in the future. Mediators are registered in the MoJ Register of Mediators, <https://www.mpravde.gov.rs/intermediaries.php>, for all types of mediation (not only court-related mediation). Pursuant to the Annual Reports of Mediators, filed to the Ministry of Justice in January 2020 for 2019, 124 mediators stated that they mediated in 2019, 34 of which mediated in cooperation with a co-mediator. Comparatively, 149 mediators stated that they mediated in 2018, 48 of which mediated in cooperation with a co-mediator.

Albania

(2019): Statistics are not available at this time.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(2022): The Association of Mediators of Bosnia and Herzegovina produced the statistics on mediations. Historically, the number of mediations is small in Bosnia and Herzegovina. The already small number of mediations was further reduced in 2022 compared to 2021. Although this difference is large in terms of percentage, in reality it was not a significant change in terms of the scope of use of mediation procedures in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

(2021): The Association of Mediators of Bosnia and Herzegovina produced the statistics on mediations.

(2020): The Association of Mediators of Bosnia and Herzegovina produced the statistics on mediations. According to the Association the number of mediations has decreased over the recent years due to the lack of cases put forward for the mediation procedures by the relevant creditors (e.g. the state-owned enterprises providing utility services), which have recorded the decrease in terms of the number of incoming cases deemed eligible for the mediation procedures.

Montenegro

(2022): Report on the work of the ADR Centre;

Also, the total number of received requests for mediation in 2022 is 10773. At the end of 2022 there were 2625 cases are pending.

(2021): Regarding the increase in the number of mediations civil and commercial cases we have to say that this was mainly caused by the new solutions foreseen in the Law on ADR and the Law on Civil Procedure. When it comes to the labour cases, decrease happened due to the fact that in 2020 there was a great number of cases, on the same basis, related to the same Responding party. In general, statistics does not depend only on the interests of the parties and legal solutions, but also on the fact that some types of disputes appear and are characteristic for a reporting year, and do not appear in the next year.

(2020): ADR Centre annual report for 2020 <https://centarzaars.me/izvjestaji/>

Number of cases resolved in the mediation procedure in 2020 has been increased mainly due to the adoption of new Law on ADR and raising of the public awareness on alternative dispute resolution methods, but this still is not on satisfactory level.

(2019): There has been a significant increase since 2018 in the number of civil and commercial and labor cases for which parties agreed to start mediation, and therefore an increase of mediations in which an agreement has been reached for those categories of cases.

This is notably due to the promotion of mediation. First, in the last year the Center for Mediation implemented a large number of activities aimed at promoting and raising the level of information of citizens (broadcasting video, mobile application, billboards, mediation week, etc.). Also, the increase of mediation in any type of disputes leads to increased information of citizens and thus the decision of citizens to try to resolve their dispute before the Center. In general, the judges themselves in some courts who referred cases to the Center have a very positive experience with mediation, which increase the number of parties that they refer to mediation. As far as lawyers are concerned, there is still issue with accepting dispute resolution in mediation, although the situation is slowly changing and an increasing number of lawyers are accepting mediation.

Furthermore, regarding labor cases, the change of the Law on Mediation in March 2019, as well as the change of the Law on Civil Servants and State Employees in the same year, led to the fact that civil servants and state employees are obliged to try to resolve their labor dispute, before filing a lawsuit, before the Center for Mediation also, which was not the situation before.

(General Comment): Source is the Register for recording on mediation procedures that is under authority of the Ministry of justice.

According to our Law, mediation is allowed in property and legal disputes, family disputes, labour disputes, trade disputes, consumer disputes, insurance disputes, disputes in the field of education, environmental protection, disputes regarding discrimination and other disputed relations where mediation is appropriate to the nature of the disputed relations and can help to resolve them. Mediation is allowed in criminal cases if its application is not excluded by a special law.

(2022): Register for recording on mediation procedures that is under authority of the Ministry of justice.

(2021): From 2020 the Ministry of Justice maintains a Register of mediation proceedings, in which the mediators are obliged to record the mediations. The number of court related mediations (in 2021) is from the Register (on March 3, 2022). Still, there is possibility this data to be changed as the mediators fulfill the Register. According to our Law on mediation, mediation is allowed in property and legal disputes, family disputes, workplace disputes, trade disputes, consumer disputes, insurance disputes, disputes in the field of education, environmental protection, disputes regarding discrimination and other disputed relations where mediation is appropriate to the nature of the disputed relations and can help to resolve them. Mediation is allowed in criminal cases if its application is not excluded by a special law.

The electronic register in which the mediators themselves enter the data is one of the key factors that led to the stimulation of the mediators to record all the procedures that were given to them to act. As of December 31, 2021, they were given the opportunity to import all old cases from 2016 to 2021 in order to gain a realistic picture of the number of mediations they had at work. At the same time, the determination of the Government determined by the Conclusion of 2019 and the Memorandum of Cooperation with the Chamber of Mediators to try to resolve its disputes through mediation gave a great impetus. Procedures for mediation in labor disputes with ministries, public enterprises and other institutions are widespread.

(2020): Between 2019 and 2020, there was an increase of court related mediations for labour cases. Most of these procedures are mediations between administrative servants and the state institutions related to the employment rights.

(2021): Annual report submitted by mediators to the Ministry of Justice

(2020): 498-these 6 categories are not all categories in which mediation proceedings were conducted, and therefore the total number of cases in which the parties agreed to initiate mediation proceedings is slightly higher 498 including other types of disputes that are not included in these 6 listed in the report.

(2019): Please note that the statistics of the Statistical Office of the Republic of Serbia on cases of diversionary measures for juvenile offenders - settlement with victims (criminal, court-related mediation) is currently not available due to COVID19 disruptions and is not displayed in the table, causing a variation with 2018 data. Based on Annual Reports of Mediators, filed to the Ministry of Justice in January 2020 for 2019, during 2019, 569 mediation agreements were concluded (agreements to enter into mediation), while 403 cases successfully finished with the conclusion of a settlement agreement. Pursuant to the reports of mediators, in 266 proceedings the case was referred to mediation by the court.

Upon filing of additional, in-depth statistics by the mediators who conducted court-related mediations, it was determined that some of these cases were initiated in the previous year, while the number of cases for which the parties agreed to start mediation in 2019 was 239.

Comparatively, during 2018, 638 mediation agreements were concluded (agreements to enter into mediation), while 374 cases successfully finished with the conclusion of a settlement agreement. According to the reports of mediators, in 244 proceedings the case was referred to mediation by the court. However, this data based on mediators' reports submitted to the MoJ is not completely reliable, which is why we are devising a new methodology for collecting court-related statistics. Both the current method of collecting court mediation statistics and extrajudicial mediation statistics must be significantly improved to increase accuracy and preciseness as well as to remove inconsistency.

Albania

(General Comment): The current legal framework in Albania provides for dispute resolution through mediation and arbitration. "Mediation", as provided by the Albanian legislation is the procedure of out-of-court dispute resolution, whereby two or more parties to a dispute, on a voluntary basis, attempt by themselves to settle their dispute with the assistance of a mediator.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): The members (i. e. mediators) of the Association of the Mediators of Bosnia and Herzegovina are in charge of conducting court-related mediation and other than court-related mediation.

Conciliation is foreseen by the law in different legal fields (e. g. the conciliation is obligatory as a prerequisite for the divorce proceedings, the conciliation is carried out by the social welfare institution).

As for the arbitration, the civil procedure legislation regulate that the parties may agree to entrust the resolution of the disputes on to the arbitration. An arbitration agreement may be concluded with an existing dispute or on future possible disputes that could stem from certain legal relation.

Montenegro

(2022): Early Neutral Assessment of a dispute is the procedure where, on the basis of the parties' agreement, a dispute evaluator gives his assessment of the facts and law elements of their dispute.

Arbitration is regulated by the Law on Arbitration.

There is also peaceful resolution of conflicts in the area of labour etc.

(2020): Early neutral evaluation of dispute, introduced with the new Law on ADR, adopted in July 2020.☐

(2019): Parties in labor disputes - both individual and collective, may, in accordance with the Law on Peaceful Settlement of Disputes, voluntarily decide to entrust the settlement of the dispute to the facilitator or arbitrator.

Facilitator is a person who provides assistance to parties in a collective dispute and gives a recommendation with the aim of concluding a dispute settlement agreement, and arbitrator is the person who leads the dispute and decides on the subject of an individual dispute.

For the purpose of conducting professional tasks related to the peaceful settlement of labor disputes, the Agency for Peaceful Settlement of Labor Disputes was founded.

(General Comment): Arbitration

The arbitration is also available in the legal provisions, as an alternative measure of judicial procedures in the field of commercial law. As part of the Economic Chamber, the Permanent Court of Arbitration is established, where business partners may settle mutual business relations disputes, who in their contracts have foreseen that possibility. The Arbitration in North Macedonia exists since 1993, The value of disputes resolved through arbitration varies from a few thousand to several million Euros. - Conciliation

There are a significant number of legal grounds that allow friendly settlement of disputes, both before and out-of-court proceedings.

The court settlement

The court settlement is provided in the Law on Litigation Procedure whereby the parties during the course of the whole procedure can settle upon the subject of the dispute. This is one type of judicial mediation. The settlement is concluded on minutes (no court decision) and the parties sign the minutes voluntarily. Although there is no formal court decision, the concluded court settlement is considered res judicata and the parties do not have the possibility to file a dispute again before the court for the same thing. Each party shall bear their own costs when the procedure is completed with a court settlement, if in the settlement is not otherwise agreed.

- According to the Law on Criminal Procedure for offences subject to private prosecution, the judge may summon only the private prosecutor and the defendant to a conciliation hearing if he considers it expedient for the prompt termination of proceedings. On the conciliation hearing the judge may propose the private prosecutor and the defendant to be sent to mediation, if it is agreed by both parties, whilst the settlement reached in front of a mediator shall be submitted to the court, who

(General Comment): Various alternative dispute resolution methods stand at parties' disposal within the legal framework of Serbia, including mediation (judicial and non-judicial), conciliation and arbitration. To date, however, they are all underutilized. Nonetheless, in the last two years, a steady increase of mediation proceedings has been noted, followed by a strong support of mediation by the Ministry of Justice and Supreme Court of Cassation, and positive activities are noted in the field of arbitration, with the establishment of a new independent arbitration centre. Still, coordinated, joint, continued multi-annual efforts must be made to establish a viable and sustainable alternative dispute resolution system.

Having the above in mind, a strategic approach to improving the use of mediation has been initiated in August 2018, whereby the Ministry of Justice, recognising that increasing and improving mediation culture and mechanisms is not a task to be dealt with only by the judiciary and its respective Ministry, is addressing other line ministries and institutions, such as the National Bank of Serbia, Ministry of Trade and Ministry of Labour, so as to seek to together find best ways to improve the use and quality of mediation in the fields of their respective competences, and in that way, jointly to successfully answer to the benchmark given in that respect within Chapter 23.

(2020): The Minister of Justice has established a Working Group for drafting of amendments to the Law on Mediation in Dispute Resolution on 19 December 2018 with the task of drafting A new legal framework which should strike a balance between the need to regulate, on the one hand, and the need to preserve a sufficient level of party autonomy and procedural flexibility, on the other. The working group has in 2019 worked on the further improvement of all relevant provisions of the law, especially taking care that changes to the legal framework encompass: 1) Transparency and clarity of the content of the mediation law in relation to how mediation is started, the mediation procedure itself, standards and qualifications for mediators, mediation centers and mediation training providers, as well as rights and obligations of participants in the mediation process; 2) Specifying the position of judges in the mediation procedure; 3) Enforceability of clauses on settling disputes through mediation; 4) The principle of confidentiality; 5) The enforceability of agreements reached in mediation and agreements reached in international mediation; and 6) The impact of mediation on the course of a lawsuit, including the possibility of prescribing the first obligatory meeting as a procedural precondition for initiating litigation in certain types of cases, as well as other ways in which the objective of Directive 2008/52/EC may be achieved.

The working group is guided by mediation standards provided in relevant acts of the United Nations, the European Union and the Council of Europe, as well as by the need for adapting standards and best practices to local possibilities and needs.

Question 260. Is there in your country a monitoring system for violations related to Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights?

Question 261. Is there in your country a possibility to review a case after a finding of a violation of the European Convention on Human Rights by the European Court of Human Rights?

Albania

Q260 (General Comment): "For civil procedures (non-enforcement) The code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/3 has created a monitoring system as a remedy in case of violation of article 6 specifically: "Just satisfaction" 1. Just satisfaction for violation of reasonable time limits shall be deemed the recognition of violation, any measures taken to expedite the proceedings of investigation, trial of the case and execution of the decision, and/or compensation of the damage, according to the provisions of this Chapter. 2.

Anyone who is involved in a legal process, as a party in the process, has the right to just satisfaction as determined by Article 399/3 of this Code. For civil procedures (timeframe) The timeframe of Civil procedures are prescribed at the code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/2/b "Reasonable timing" –"b) The completion of a process in a civil trial at first instance within two years, in a civil trial on appeal within two years; and in a civil trial at the High Court within two years." For criminal procedures (timeframe) The timeframe of criminal procedures are prescribed at the Code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/2/d "Reasonable timing" – "d) In criminal trials at first instance, the time limit for adjudication of crimes shall be 2 years and for misdemeanors 1 year, the time limit of completion of a trial on appeal shall be 1 year for crimes and 6 months for misdemeanors, and the time limit of completion of a trial at the High Court shall be 1 year for crimes and 6 months for misdemeanors."

The final judgments of the European Court of Human Rights (herein after ECHR), in every case where Albania is a party are binding and are enforced following the procedures provided by Law No. 10018 "On the State Advocature", Chapter V/I "On the execution of Judgments and Decisions of the European Court of Human Rights".

The State Advocature, in the quality of the representative and defender of the interests of the state at the ECHR, is the competent institution for the initiation of the procedures for the execution of the ECHR judgments and decisions.

Upon receiving notice on the final judgment, the State Advocature, within 10 working days, forwards the judgment for translation and certification to the Ministry of Justice. A copy of the original judgment and a translated and certified copy by the Ministry of Justice are sent to the Constitutional Court, Supreme Court and other institutions, for the effect of a unified application of the judicial practice. By informing the aforementioned institutions, the ECHR's decision/judgment, reasoning and found violations become known with a view to unifying practices and preventing similar cases in the future.

The State Advocature is responsible for the coordination of the execution process, drafting of action plans (individual and general measures) and reports, representation in front of the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe, and the monitoring of the execution of the ECHR decisions/judgments by the national authorities. Also, the State Advocature has the right to suggest general preventive measures with regard to the necessary changes in legislation or practices that may cause a financial damage to the state as a result of the violation of the European Convention on Human Rights.

The State Advocate General, in the quality of the government agent, reports at least once a year to the Standing Committee on Legal Affairs, Public Administration and Human Rights of the Assembly of the Republic of Albania on the execution of the European Court of Human Rights' judgments and the measures undertaken in this regard. Law amendments in function of domestic effective remedy:

-Referring to Article 6 of the European Convention, we would like to emphasize the amendments to the Civil Procedure Code in 2017, where it is added Chapter X by Law no. 38/2017, dated 30.03.2017 "Judgments on requests for ascertaining violations of reasonable time, expedition of proceedings and compensation for damage", in order to prevent the violation of reasonable timeframe.

The State Advocature is responsible for the coordination of the execution process, drafting of action plans (individual and general measures) and reports, representation in front of the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe, and the monitoring of the execution of the ECtHR judgments by the national authorities. Also, the State Advocate has the right to suggest general preventive measures with regard to the necessary changes in legislation or practices that may cause a financial damage to the state as a result of the violation of the European Convention on Human Rights.

The State Advocate General, in the quality of the government agent, reports at least once a year to the Standing Committee on Legal Affairs, Public Administration and Human Rights of the Assembly of the Republic of Albania on the execution of the European Court of Human Rights judgments and the measures undertaken in this regard. Law amendments in function of domestic effective remedy

-Referring to Article 6 of the European Convention, it is worth to mention the amendments to the Civil Procedure Code in 2017, added Chapter X by Law no. 38/2017, dated 30.03.2017 "Judgments on requests for ascertaining violations of reasonable time, expedition of proceedings and compensation for damage", in order to prevent the violation of reasonable time.

-Regarding to decisions subject to review, Criminal Procedure Code is also amended by Law no. 35/2017, dated 30.03.2017, Article 450 “Revision cases...d) if the ground for the revision of the final decision results from a European Court of Human Rights judgment making the re-adjudication of the case indispensable. The request shall be filed within 6 months from the notification of that decision...”

Q261 (General Comment): Yes it is possible to review a case after a decision on violation of human rights by the European Court of Human Rights. This is provided by the legal basis as follows:

- Article 450 of Criminal Procedure Code “Revision cases...d) if the ground for the revision of the final decision results from a European Court of Human Rights judgment making the re-adjudication of the case indispensable. The request shall be filed within 6 months from the notification of that decision...” and

-Article 494 of Civil Procedure Code “Request for reconsideration and cases of reconsideration.... e) where the European Court of Human Rights finds a violation of European convention “On protection of fundamental human rights and freedoms” and its protocols, ratified by the Republic of Albania”.

Q261 (2019): Legal basis:

-Criminal Procedure Code - Article 450 “Revision cases...d) if the ground for the revision of the final decision results from a European Court of Human Rights judgment making the re-adjudication of the case indispensable. The request shall be filed within 6 months from the notification of that decision...”

-Civil Procedure Code – Article 494 “Request for reconsideration and cases of reconsideration.... e) where the European Court of Human Rights finds a violation of European convention “On protection of fundamental human rights and freedoms” and its protocols, ratified by the Republic of Albania”

Q260 (General Comment): Bosnia and Herzegovina is represented before the European Court of Human Rights by its Agent (Agent of the Council of Ministers before the European Court of Human Rights). It is also within the scope of work of the Agent to coordinate and monitor implementation of the ECHR's decisions regarding BiH and to report on this issue to the Council of Ministers of BiH and the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. If violation of the Convention is established by the final decision of the ECHR, the Agent will take all actions necessary to ensure its implementation, from translating and distributing such decision to responsible domestic authorities, to conducting intensive and continuous cooperation with them, as well as with the Department for the Execution of Judgments of the ECHR. Furthermore, if Agent finds that domestic law, applicable in the case submitted to the ECHR, is not in line with European Convention, Agent will initiate, through competent authorities, procedure to amend and harmonize respective regulation. Agent has a deputy and an office (Office of the Agent of the Council of Ministers before the European Court of Human Rights). Office of the Agent is tasked to follow domestic and international regulation relevant for the protection of the human rights, and to follow and analyze the practice of the ECHR. Specific institutional safe-guard for the rights and freedoms protected by the Constitution of BiH and European Convention (including rights provided in article 6), derives from appellate jurisdiction of the Constitutional Court of BiH. Based on Article VI of the Constitution, Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina inter alia has appellate jurisdiction over issues under the Constitution arising out of a judgment of any other court in the country. Under terms provided by its Rules, the Constitutional Court may decide on the appeal even when there is no decision of a competent court if the appeal indicates a grave violation of the rights and fundamental freedoms safeguarded by the Constitution or by the international documents applied in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Appellants, who believe that the judgment or other decision of any court is in violation of their rights, shall have the right to file an appeal after all legal remedies have been exhausted while the Court shall also consider the effectiveness of possible legal remedies. If the Constitutional Court finds an appeal well-founded, it may decide on the merits or it may quash the challenged decision and refer the case back to the court that adopted the judgment for renewed proceedings. The court whose decision has been quashed is obligated to take another decision in expedient proceedings and, in doing so, it shall be bound by the legal opinion of the Constitutional Court concerning the violation of the appellant's rights and the fundamental freedoms guaranteed under the Constitution. If the Constitutional Court finds that violation of human rights is caused by systematic flaws in functioning or organization of the public authorities or by inadequate regulations, it may, in a decision granting an appeal, instruct competent institutions to implement measures aiming to eliminate causes that led to such violation.

Q261 (General Comment): If the verdict of the European Court establishes a violation of the right to a fair trial that is of a nature that can only be resolved by reopening the criminal proceedings, the national court that violated such right in criminal proceedings, as stipulated with the Convention, shall reopen the criminal proceedings. The criminal procedure codes in Bosnia and Herzegovina explicitly prescribe that criminal proceedings may be reopened in favour of the accused if the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina or the European Court of Human Rights establish that human rights and fundamental freedoms were violated during the proceedings or that the verdict was based on these violations. The Rules of the Constitutional Court, prescribe that, exceptionally, if the European Court of Human Rights finds that human rights concerning access to a court have been violated in proceedings before the Constitutional Court and if the decision of the Constitutional Court is based on such a violation, the Constitutional Court shall renew proceedings not later than three months from the finality of the judgment of the European Court of Human Rights. Based on the verdict of the European Court of Human Rights in the case Avdic and Others vs Bosnia and Herzegovina, ap. no. 28357/11, which established a violation to Mr Avdic’s right to a fair trial in proceedings before the Constitutional Court of BiH, proceedings were reopened before the same court in order to address the violation of the applicants rights, as identified. At the same time, a Decision was also rendered on amendments to the Rules of the Constitutional Court in order to avoid future human rights violations on such grounds as in the Avdic case. Based on the verdict of the European Court in the case Maktouf & Damjanovic vs Bosnia and Herzegovina, ap. no. 2312/08 & 3478/09, that established a violation of the rights from Article 7 of the Convention of the applicants in criminal proceedings against them before the Court of BiH, proceedings were reopened before the said court both, in their favour, as well as in favour of all persons convicted with finality and who were in the same/similar situation. Subsequent to the verdict of the European Court in the case Muslija Adnan vs Bosnia and Herzegovina, app. no. 32042/14, establishing a violation of the rights of the applicant pursuant to Article 4 of Protocol no. 7 to the Convention, criminal proceedings were reopened in favour of the convicted person – applicant Mr Muslija. Also, the civil procedure codes in Bosnia and Herzegovina have been amended enabling the parties to civil proceedings to request from the first instance court to reopen their case, if the European Court of Human Rights makes a decision that the court in Bosnia and Herzegovina in its judgment had made an infringement of one’s human rights, or basic freedoms. The party to the civil proceeding may request from the first instance court to reopen the proceeding within 90 days from the day of the final judgment of the European Court of Human Rights.

Q261 (General Comment): The Law on Civil Procedure defines that when the European Court of Human Rights establishes violation of human rights and fundamental freedoms guaranteed by the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, the party may, within three months from the final judgment of the European Court of Human Rights, submit request to the court which judged in the first instance in the case where a decision that violates human rights and fundamental freedom was made, to change the decision by which that right or fundamental freedom has been violated, if committed violation cannot be removed in any other way except by reopening of procedure. In the reopening of procedure, the court is bound by the legal views expressed in the final judgment of the European Court of Human Rights by which is established violation of basic human right or freedom. Also, the Criminal Procedure Code defines the possibility that the criminal procedure finalized by a final verdict is repeated in favour of the accused person, if by the decision of the European Court of Human Rights or another court established by a ratified international treaty it was found that human rights and fundamental freedoms have been violated in the course of the criminal proceeding and that the judgment is based on such violation, provided that the reopening of the proceedings can remedy such violation.

Also, the Law on Administrative Dispute defines as one of the reasons for the repeating the proceeding finalized by final decision – contrast of the verdict of the Administrative court from the verdict of the European Court of Human Rights in the same matter. Proceeding is repeated upon the request of the party.

Q260 (General Comment): The Inter-Departmental Commission for Execution of Judgments and Decisions of the European Court of Human Rights (hereinafter: the Inter-Departmental Commission) , which was set up pursuant to the provisions of the Law on Execution of Judgments and Decisions of the European Court of Human Rights of 2009, as amended in 2014, presents an institutional monitoring mechanism. It is composed of representatives of the Ministry of Justice, the Ministry of the Interior, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Finance; the President of the State Judicial Council; the President of the Supreme Court; the President of the Constitutional Court; the Presidents of the Appeal Courts in Skopje, Bitola, Gostivar and Štip; the President of the Higher Administrative Court; the Council of Public Prosecutors; the State Public Prosecutor and the Government Agent before the European Court of Human Rights. Its representatives held at least four sessions per year in order to analyse and discuss the comprehensive information gathered from all respective institutions, with a view to ensuring effective monitoring of the process of execution of the Court’s judgments handed down in respect of the State. The Inter-Departmental Commission constitutes an inter-institutional group of experts in charge of examining specific issues raised by the judgments of the Court given in respect of the State, identifying possible execution measures and monitoring their implementation. Additionally, the Inter-Departmental Commission may perform tasks which are tantamount to implementation of internal statutory and institutional systems to remedy the established violations of the European Convention on Human Rights, in particular as regards the violations found in respect of the right to a fair trial (Article 6 ECHR), as well as implementation of internal systems to prevent other similar violations in future. In this connection, Section 11 paragraph 6 of the Law provides that the Inter-Departmental Commission is competent to monitor the implementation of the existing system for execution of judgments of the European Court of Human Rights and it is also tasked with recommending measures for its improvement. With respect to the violations of the right to hearing within reasonable time in civil and criminal procedures and the non-enforcement of final judgments rendered by the Court in civil procedures, the Inter-Departmental Commission is also in charge of monitoring the implementation of the length remedy which was introduced as an effective remedy which should be exhausted by the applicants before the Supreme Court in order to address the existing violations of the right to hearing within reasonable time and award an adequate remedy to the injured party for the damage sustained (compensatory remedy), but also to prevent further prolongation of the impugned procedures by setting a time-limit within which the ongoing procedures should be terminated (accelerator remedy).

Serbia

Q260 (General Comment): Office of the Agent of the Republic of Serbia before the European Court of Human Rights (hereinafter: the Court), performs monitoring of violations of the Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights (hereinafter: the Convention) in capacity of authority competent to take care of the execution of judgments and decisions rendered by the Court. Following the delivery of judgments establishing violation of Article 6 of the Convention, the Agents office translate the judgment concerned and publishes it in Official Journal, as well as informs domestic courts or other domestic authorities , which acts or omissions led to the violation of the right about the Court's findings. Having in mind that the Agent's office deals with the process of the execution of the Court's judgments and decision's , it cooperates with domestic authorities in order to prepare and enforce appropriate measures to prevent similar violations in future. Moreover, on the request of the Agent's office, all domestic authorities are expected to provide necessary data in order to be presented before the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe in the form of action plans or action reports. Presented monitoring system is operated by the Agent's office and it is at the State level. There is no separate mechanism in the Republic of Serbia dedicated only to the monitoring of the violations related to Article 6 of the Convention.

Q260 (2022): The Law on the protection of the right to a trial within a reasonable time (from 2015)

Q260 (2019): A specific procedure exists for monitoring of ECHR judgments related to violations Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights, and reaction/compensation for the purpose of protection of Right to Trial within a Reasonable Time.

According to Article 46 of the European Convention on Human Rights, Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe monitors enforcement of judgments and decisions of the Court issued against all the contracting parties including the Republic of Serbia. Therefore, The Public Attorney's Office is obliged to submit reports on payments of compensation awarded, to the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. This has been done on regular basis and number of Action plans and action reports have been submitted to the Committee of Ministers.

Concerning the prevention of similar violations of the part of Article 6, which relates to the trial within a reasonable time, it is exercised by courts of general and special jurisdiction on the requests of the party. The Law on the Protection of the Right to a Trial within a Reasonable Time stipulates that this right is one of the aspects of the right to a fair trial under Article 6 of the ECHR. The right to a trial within a reasonable time is granted to each party to the court proceedings, including the enforcement proceedings, each party under the law governing non-contentious proceedings, and the injured parties in criminal proceedings, the private prosecutor and the injured party as a prosecutor - only if they have submitted a property claim (pecuniary damages). The protection of other various aspects of the rights under Article 6 ECHR is exercised before the Constitutional Court by lodging a constitutional complaint. Sources are the RS Constitution (Official Gazette of the Republic of Serbia No 98/06), the Law on the Constitutional Court ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 109/2007, 99/2011, 18/2013 - decision of the CC, 103/2015 and 40/2015 - other Law), the Law on the Organization of Courts ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 116/2008, 104/2009, 101/2010, 31/2011 - other Law, 78/2011 - other Law, 101/2011, 101/2013, 106/2015, 40/2015 - other Law, 13/2016, 108/2016, 113/2017, 65/2018 - decision of the CC, 87/2018 and 88/2018 - decision of the CC), and the Law on the Protection of the Right to a Trial within a Reasonable Time ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 40/2015).

Since the Republic of Serbia became part of the Convention system in 2004 the European Court has adopted many judgments and decisions establishing a violation of the right to trial within a reasonable time in respect of the Republic of Serbia (Nemet v. Serbia, no. 22543/05, judgment of 8 December 2009; Riđić and Others v. Serbia, no. 53736/08, judgment of 1 July 2014; etc.). In order to fully execute the mentioned judgments and decisions the Republic of Serbia adopted special domestic remedies with a view to preventing new violations of the right to trial within a reasonable time.

Concretely, the Law on Protection of the Right to a Trial within a Reasonable Time ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 40/2015) was adopted and entered into force on 1 January 2016. The purpose of this law was to provide judicial protection of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and thus prevent future occurrences of a violation of this right. The Law is applied both in respect of criminal investigation and civil procedures.

The law introduces an objection as a legal remedy proposing the expedition of court proceedings and of which the President of the court decides, in a procedure to which the provisions of the Law on non-contentious procedure are applied. In case a party is not satisfied with the outcome, an appeal can be submitted. On the other hand, the Law introduces a request for just satisfaction, as a remedy to provide a party with satisfaction in cases where this right was violated. The satisfaction can be obtained in the following forms: the right to be paid financial compensation for non-pecuniary damage and the right to publish a written statement by the State Attorney's Office establishing that the right to a trial within a reasonable time has been violated, including the right to publish a judgment declaring that the party has been violated the right to a trial within a reasonable time.

Q261 (General Comment): Yes. Law of the Republic of Serbia enables a review of a case of the Court previously established a violation of rights guaranteed by the Convention. Actually, Law on Civil Procedure, Criminal Procedure Code and Law of the Administrative Procedure, through prescribed extra-ordinary legal remedies, enable the review of cases following the Court's decision's establishing infringement of rights and freedoms set in the Convention. Art. 426 Par. 1 Line 11 of the Civil Procedure Code: The procedure that has been legally terminated by the court's decision can be repeated at the party's proposal if the party gets the opportunity to use the decision of the European Court of Human Rights, which established a violation of human rights, and this could have had an impact on the adoption of a more favorable decision

Art.485 Par.1 Line 3 of The Criminal Procedure Code: A request for the protection of legality may be submitted if a final decision or a decision in the procedure that preceded its adoption violated or denied the human right and freedom of the defendant or another participant in the procedure that is guaranteed by the Constitution or the European Convention on the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms and additional protocols , and this was determined by the decision of the Constitutional Court or the European Court of Human Rights.

Art.485 Par.3 of the Criminal Procedure Code: The request for protection of legality for the reasons prescribed in paragraph 1. line 2) and 3) of this article can be submitted within three months from the day when the decision of the Constitutional Court or the European Court of Human Rights was delivered to the person (Article 483, paragraph 1).

Q261 (2022): Please see the general comment section

Q261 (2019): In criminal proceedings, on the basis of Article 485 para. 1 point 3) of the Law on Criminal Procedure ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 72/2011, 101/2011, 121/2012, 32/2013, 45/2013, 55/2014 and 35/2019) a criminal case can be reviewed upon a decision of the European Court. It is possible to file a request for the protection of legality after a decision of the European Court of Human Rights if human rights and freedoms of the defendant or other participant in the procedure guaranteed by the Constitution or the European Convention have been violated or denied, as established by a decision of the Constitutional Court or the European Court of Human Rights.

Pursuant to the Law on Civil Procedure ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 72/2011, 49/2013 - decision of CC, 74/2013 - decision of CC, 55/2014 and 87/2018), there is a possibility for reopening a litigation proceedings which has ended with legally binding court decision in case a decision of the European Court was issued by which a violation of human rights was found, which can be of significance for adopting more favorable decision for the applicant.

According to the Law on General Administrative Procedure ("Official Gazette of the RS, No.18/2016 and 95/2018- authentic interpretation) there is a possibility of reopening a case in case the European Court has established a violation in respect of the same administrative matter, i.e. if the position from a subsequent decision of the European Court of Human Rights in the same matter may have an impact on the legality of a legally binding judicial procedure.

Question 260. Is there in your country a monitoring system for violations related to Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights?

Question 261. Is there in your country a possibility to review a case after a finding of a violation of the European Convention on Human Rights by the European Court of Human Rights?

Question 260

Albania

(General Comment): "For civil procedures (non-enforcement) The code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/3 has created a monitoring system as a remedy in case of violation of article 6 specifically: "Just satisfaction" 1. Just satisfaction for violation of reasonable time limits shall be deemed the recognition of violation, any measures taken to expedite the proceedings of investigation, trial of the case and execution of the decision, and/or compensation of the damage, according to the provisions of this Chapter. 2.

Anyone who is involved in a legal process, as a party in the process, has the right to just satisfaction as determined by Article 399/3 of this Code. For civil procedures (timeframe) The timeframe of Civil procedures are prescribed at the code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/2/b "Reasonable timing" –"b) The completion of a process in a civil trial at first instance within two years, in a civil trial on appeal within two years; and in a civil trial at the High Court within two years." For criminal procedures (timeframe) The timeframe of criminal procedures are prescribed at the Code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/2/d "Reasonable timing" – "d) In criminal trials at first instance, the time limit for adjudication of crimes shall be 2 years and for misdemeanors 1 year, the time limit of completion of a trial on appeal shall be 1 year for crimes and 6 months for misdemeanors, and the time limit of completion of a trial at the High Court shall be 1 year for crimes and 6 months for misdemeanors."

The final judgments of the European Court of Human Rights (herein after ECHR), in every case where Albania is a party are binding and are enforced following the procedures provided by Law No. 10018 "On the State Advocature", Chapter V/I "On the execution of Judgments and Decisions of the European Court of Human Rights".

The State Advocature, in the quality of the representative and defender of the interests of the state at the ECHR, is the competent institution for the initiation of the procedures for the execution of the ECHR judgments and decisions.

Upon receiving notice on the final judgment, the State Advocature, within 10 working days, forwards the judgment for translation and certification to the Ministry of Justice. A copy of the original judgment and a translated and certified copy by the Ministry of Justice are sent to the Constitutional Court, Supreme Court and other institutions, for the effect of a unified application of the judicial practice. By informing the aforementioned institutions, the ECHR's decision/judgment, reasoning and found violations become known with a view to unifying practices and preventing similar cases in the future.

The State Advocature is responsible for the coordination of the execution process, drafting of action plans (individual and general measures) and reports, representation in front of the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe, and the monitoring of the execution of the ECHR decisions/judgments by the national authorities. Also, the State Advocature has the right to suggest general preventive measures with regard to the necessary changes in legislation or practices that may cause a financial damage to the state as a result of the violation of the European Convention on Human Rights.

The State Advocate General, in the quality of the government agent, reports at least once a year to the Standing Committee on Legal Affairs, Public Administration and Human Rights of the Assembly of the Republic of Albania on the execution of the European Court of Human Rights' judgments and the measures undertaken in this regard. Law amendments in function of domestic effective remedy:

-Referring to Article 6 of the European Convention, we would like to emphasize the amendments to the Civil Procedure Code in 2017, where it is added Chapter X by Law no.

(2021): For civil procedures (non-enforcement) The code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/3 has created a monitoring system as a remedy in case of violation of article 6 specifically: “Just satisfaction” 1. Just satisfaction for violation of reasonable time limits shall be deemed the recognition of violation, any measures taken to expedite the proceedings of investigation, trial of the case and execution of the decision, and/or compensation of the damage, according to the provisions of this Chapter. 2. Anyone who is involved in a legal process, as a party in the process, has the right to just satisfaction as determined by Article 399/3 of this Code.

For civil procedures (timeframe) The timeframe of Civil procedures are prescribed at the code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/2/b “Reasonable timing” –“b) The completion of a process in a civil trial at first instance within two years, in a civil trial on appeal within two years; and in a civil trial at the High Court within two years.”

For criminal procedures (timeframe) The timeframe of criminal procedures are prescribed at the Code of Civil Procedure, specifically in article 399/2/d “Reasonable timing” – “d) In criminal trials at first instance, the time limit for adjudication of crimes shall be 2 years and for misdemeanors 1 year, the time limit of completion of a trial on appeal shall be 1 year for crimes and 6 months for misdemeanors, and the time limit of completion of a trial at the High Court shall be 1 year for crimes and 6 months for misdemeanors.”

(2019): The final judgments of the European Court of Human Rights (herein after ECtHR), in every case where Albania is a party are binding and are enforced following the procedures provided by the Law Nr. 10018 “On the State Advocature”, Chapter V/I “On the execution of Judgments and Decisions of the European Court of Human Rights”. The State Advocate, in the quality of the representative and defender of the interests of the state at the ECtHR, is the competent institution for the initiation of the procedures for the execution of the ECtHR judgments and decisions.

Law amendments in function of domestic effective remedy

-Referring to Article 6 of the European Convention, it is worth to mention the amendments to the Civil Procedure Code in 2017, added Chapter X by Law no. 38/2017, dated 30.03.2017 "Judgments on requests for ascertaining violations of reasonable time, expedition of proceedings and compensation for damage", in order to prevent the violation of reasonable time.

-Regarding to decisions subject to review, Criminal Procedure Code is also amended by Law no. 35/2017, dated 30.03.2017, Article 450 “Revision cases...d) if the ground for the revision of the final decision results from a European Court of Human Rights judgment making the re-adjudication of the case indispensable. The request shall be filed within 6 months from the notification of that decision...”

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): Bosnia and Herzegovina is represented before the European Court of Human Rights by its Agent (Agent of the Council of Ministers before the European Court of Human Rights). It is also within the scope of work of the Agent to coordinate and monitor implementation of the ECHR's decisions regarding BiH and to report on this issue to the Council of Ministers of BiH and the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. If violation of the Convention is established by the final decision of the ECHR, the Agent will take all actions necessary to ensure its implementation, from translating and distributing such decision to responsible domestic authorities, to conducting intensive and continuous cooperation with them, as well as with the Department for the Execution of Judgments of the ECHR. Furthermore, if Agent finds that domestic law, applicable in the case submitted to the ECHR, is not in line with European Convention, Agent will initiate, through competent authorities, procedure to amend and harmonize respective regulation. Agent has a deputy and an office (Office of the Agent of the Council of Ministers before the European Court of Human Rights). Office of the Agent is tasked to follow domestic and international regulation relevant for the protection of the human rights, and to follow and analyze the practice of the ECHR. Specific institutional safe-guard for the rights and freedoms protected by the Constitution of BiH and European Convention (including rights provided in article 6), derives from appellate jurisdiction of the Constitutional Court of BiH. Based on Article VI of the Constitution, Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina inter alia has appellate jurisdiction over issues under the Constitution arising out of a judgment of any other court in the country. Under terms provided by its Rules, the Constitutional Court may decide on the appeal even when there is no decision of a competent court if the appeal indicates a grave violation of the rights and fundamental freedoms safeguarded by the Constitution or by the international documents applied in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Appellants, who believe that the judgment or other decision of any court is in violation of their rights, shall have the right to file an appeal after all legal remedies have been exhausted while the Court shall also consider the effectiveness of possible legal remedies. If the Constitutional Court finds an appeal well-founded, it may decide on the merits or it may quash the challenged decision and refer the case back to the court that adopted the judgment for renewed proceedings. The court whose decision has been quashed is obligated to take another decision in expedient proceedings and, in doing so, it shall be bound by the legal opinion of the Constitutional Court concerning the violation of the appellant's rights and the fundamental freedoms guaranteed under the Constitution. If the Constitutional Court finds that violation of human rights is caused by systematic flaws in functioning or organization of the public authorities or by inadequate regulations, it may, in a decision granting an appeal, instruct competent institutions to implement measures aiming to eliminate causes that led to such violation.

Serbia

(General Comment): Office of the Agent of the Republic of Serbia before the European Court of Human Rights (hereinafter: the Court) , performs monitoring of violations of the Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights (hereinafter: the Convention) in capacity of authority competent to take care of the execution of judgments and decisions rendered by the Court. Following the delivery of judgments establishing violation of Article 6 of the Convention, the Agents office translate the judgment concerned and publishes it in Official Journal, as well as informs domestic courts or other domestic authorities , which acts or omissions led to the violation of the right about the Court's findings. Having in mind that the Agent's office deals with the process of the execution of the Court's judgments and decision's , it cooperates with domestic authorities in order to prepare and enforce appropriate measures to prevent similar violations in future. Moreover, on the request of the Agent's office, all domestic authorities are expected to provide necessary data in order to be presented before the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe in the form of action plans or action reports. Presented monitoring system is operated by the Agent's office and it is at the State level. There is no separate mechanism in the Republic of Serbia dedicated only to the monitoring of the violations related to Article 6 of the Convention.

(2022): The Law on the protection of the right to a trial within a reasonable time (from 2015)

(2019): A specific procedure exists for monitoring of ECHR judgments related to violations Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights, and reaction/compensation for the purpose of protection of Right to Trial within a Reasonable Time.

According to Article 46 of the European Convention on Human Rights, Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe monitors enforcement of judgments and decisions of the Court issued against all the contracting parties including the Republic of Serbia. Therefore, The Public Attorney's Office is obliged to submit reports on payments of compensation awarded, to the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. This has been done on regular basis and number of Action plans and action reports have been submitted to the Committee of Ministers.

Concerning the prevention of similar violations of the part of Article 6, which relates to the trial within a reasonable time, it is exercised by courts of general and special jurisdiction on the requests of the party. The Law on the Protection of the Right to a Trial within a Reasonable Time stipulates that this right is one of the aspects of the right to a fair trial under Article 6 of the ECHR. The right to a trial within a reasonable time is granted to each party to the court proceedings, including the enforcement proceedings, each party under the law governing non-contentious proceedings, and the injured parties in criminal proceedings, the private prosecutor and the injured party as a prosecutor - only if they have submitted a property claim (pecuniary damages). The protection of other various aspects of the rights under Article 6 ECHR is exercised before the Constitutional Court by lodging a constitutional complaint. Sources are the RS Constitution (Official Gazette of the Republic of Serbia No 98/06), the Law on the Constitutional Court ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 109/2007, 99/2011, 18/2013 - decision of the CC, 103/2015 and 40/2015 - other Law), the Law on the Organization of Courts ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 116/2008, 104/2009, 101/2010, 31/2011 - other Law, 78/2011 - other Law, 101/2011, 101/2013, 106/2015, 40/2015 - other Law, 13/2016, 108/2016, 113/2017, 65/2018 - decision of the CC, 87/2018 and 88/2018 - decision of the CC), and the Law on the Protection of the Right to a Trial within a Reasonable Time ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 40/2015).

Since the Republic of Serbia became part of the Convention system in 2004 the European Court has adopted many judgments and decisions establishing a violation of the right to trial within a reasonable time in respect of the Republic of Serbia (Nemet v. Serbia, no. 22543/05, judgment of 8 December 2009; Ridić and Others v. Serbia, no. 53736/08, judgment of 1 July 2014; etc.). In order to fully execute the mentioned judgments and decisions the Republic of Serbia adopted special domestic remedies with a view to preventing new violations of the right to trial within a reasonable time.

Concretely, the Law on Protection of the Right to a Trial within a Reasonable Time ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 40/2015) was adopted and entered into force on 1 January 2016. The purpose of this law was to provide judicial protection of the right to a trial within a reasonable time and thus prevent future occurrences of a violation of this right. The Law is applied both in respect of criminal investigation and civil procedures.

The law introduces an objection as a legal remedy proposing the expedition of court proceedings and of which the President of the court decides, in a procedure to which the provisions of the Law on non-contentious procedure are applied. In case a party is not satisfied with the outcome, an appeal can be submitted. On the other hand, the Law introduces a request for just satisfaction, as a remedy to provide a party with satisfaction in cases where this right was violated. The satisfaction can be obtained in the following forms: the right to be paid financial compensation for non-pecuniary damage and the right to publish a written statement by the State Attorney's Office establishing that the right to a trial within a reasonable time has been violated, including the right to publish a judgment declaring that the party has been violated the right to a trial within a reasonable time.

Albania

(General Comment): Yes it is possible to review a case after a decision on violation of human rights by the European Court of Human Rights. This is provided by the legal basis as follows:

- Article 450 of Criminal Procedure Code “Revision cases...d) if the ground for the revision of the final decision results from a European Court of Human Rights judgment making the re-adjudication of the case indispensable. The request shall be filed within 6 months from the notification of that decision...” and
- Article 494 of Civil Procedure Code “Request for reconsideration and cases of reconsideration.... e) where the European Court of Human Rights finds a violation of European convention “On protection of fundamental human rights and freedoms” and its protocols, ratified by the Republic of Albania”.

(2019): Legal basis:

- Criminal Procedure Code - Article 450 “Revision cases...d) if the ground for the revision of the final decision results from a European Court of Human Rights judgment making the re-adjudication of the case indispensable. The request shall be filed within 6 months from the notification of that decision...”
- Civil Procedure Code – Article 494 “Request for reconsideration and cases of reconsideration.... e) where the European Court of Human Rights finds a violation of European convention “On protection of fundamental human rights and freedoms” and its protocols, ratified by the Republic of Albania”

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): If the verdict of the European Court establishes a violation of the right to a fair trial that is of a nature that can only be resolved by reopening the criminal proceedings, the national court that violated such right in criminal proceedings, as stipulated with the Convention, shall reopen the criminal proceedings. The criminal procedure codes in Bosnia and Herzegovina explicitly prescribe that criminal proceedings may be reopened in favour of the accused if the Constitutional Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina or the European Court of Human Rights establish that human rights and fundamental freedoms were violated during the proceedings or that the verdict was based on these violations. The Rules of the Constitutional Court, prescribe that, exceptionally, if the European Court of Human Rights finds that human rights concerning access to a court have been violated in proceedings before the Constitutional Court and if the decision of the Constitutional Court is based on such a violation, the Constitutional Court shall renew proceedings not later than three months from the finality of the judgment of the European Court of Human Rights. Based on the verdict of the European Court of Human Rights in the case Avdic and Others vs Bosnia and Herzegovina, ap. no. 28357/11, which established a violation to Mr Avdic's right to a fair trial in proceedings before the Constitutional Court of BiH, proceedings were reopened before the same court in order to address the violation of the applicants rights, as identified. At the same time, a Decision was also rendered on amendments to the Rules of the Constitutional Court in order to avoid future human rights violations on such grounds as in the Avdic case. Based on the verdict of the European Court in the case Maktouf & Damjanovic vs Bosnia and Herzegovina, ap. no. 2312/08 & 3478/09, that established a violation of the rights from Article 7 of the Convention of the applicants in criminal proceedings against them before the Court of BiH, proceedings were reopened before the said court both, in their favour, as well as in favour of all persons convicted with finality and who were in the same/similar situation. Subsequent to the verdict of the European Court in the case Muslija Adnan vs Bosnia and Herzegovina, app. no. 32042/14, establishing a violation of the rights of the applicant pursuant to Article 4 of Protocol no. 7 to the Convention, criminal proceedings were reopened in favour of the convicted person – applicant Mr Muslija. Also, the civil procedure codes in Bosnia and Herzegovina have been amended enabling the parties to civil proceedings to request from the first instance court to reopen their case, if the European Court of Human Rights makes a decision that the court in Bosnia and Herzegovina in its judgment had made an infringement of one's human rights, or basic freedoms. The party to the civil proceeding may request from the first instance court to reopen the proceeding within 90 days from the day of the final judgment of the European Court of Human Rights.

Montenegro

(General Comment): The Law on Civil Procedure defines that when the European Court of Human Rights establishes violation of human rights and fundamental freedoms guaranteed by the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, the party may, within three months from the final judgment of the European Court of Human Rights, submit request to the court which judged in the first instance in the case where a decision that violates human rights and fundamental freedom was made, to change the decision by which that right or fundamental freedom has been violated, if committed violation cannot be removed in any other way except by reopening of procedure. In the reopening of procedure, the court is bound by the legal views expressed in the final judgment of the European Court of Human Rights by which is established violation of basic human right or freedom. Also, the Criminal Procedure Code defines the possibility that the criminal procedure finalized by a final verdict is repeated in favour of the accused person, if by the decision of the European Court of Human Rights or another court established by a ratified international treaty it was found that human rights and fundamental freedoms have been violated in the course of the criminal proceeding and that the judgment is based on such violation, provided that the reopening of the proceedings can remedy such violation.

Also, the Law on Administrative Dispute defines as one of the reasons for the repeating the proceeding finalized by final decision – contrast of the verdict of the Administrative court from the verdict of the European Court of Human Rights in the same matter. Proceeding is repeated upon the request of the party.

Serbia

(General Comment): Yes. Law of the Republic of Serbia enables a review of a case of the Court previously established a violation of rights guaranteed by the Convention. Actually, Law on Civil Procedure, Criminal Procedure Code and Law of the Administrative Procedure, through prescribed extra-ordinary legal remedies, enable the review of cases following the Court's decision's establishing infringement of rights and freedoms set in the Convention. Art. 426 Par. 1 Line 11 of the Civil Procedure Code: The procedure that has been legally terminated by the court's decision can be repeated at the party's proposal if the party gets the opportunity to use the decision of the European Court of Human Rights, which established a violation of human rights, and this could have had an impact on the adoption of a more favorable decision

Art.485 Par.1 Line 3 of The Criminal Procedure Code: A request for the protection of legality may be submitted if a final decision or a decision in the procedure that preceded its adoption violated or denied the human right and freedom of the defendant or another participant in the procedure that is guaranteed by the Constitution or the European Convention on the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms and additional protocols , and this was determined by the decision of the Constitutional Court or the European Court of Human Rights.

Art.485 Par.3 of the Criminal Procedure Code: The request for protection of legality for the reasons prescribed in paragraph 1. line 2) and 3) of this article can be submitted within three months from the day when the decision of the Constitutional Court or the European Court of Human Rights was delivered to the person (Article 483, paragraph 1).

(2022): Please see the general comment section

(2019): In criminal proceedings, on the basis of Article 485 para. 1 point 3) of the Law on Criminal Procedure ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 72/2011, 101/2011, 121/2012, 32/2013, 45/2013, 55/2014 and 35/2019) a criminal case can be reviewed upon a decision of the European Court. It is possible to file a request for the protection of legality after a decision of the European Court of Human Rights if human rights and freedoms of the defendant or other participant in the procedure guaranteed by the Constitution or the European Convention have been violated or denied, as established by a decision of the Constitutional Court or the European Court of Human Rights.

Pursuant to the Law on Civil Procedure ("Official Gazette of the RS", No. 72/2011, 49/2013 - decision of CC, 74/2013 - decision of CC, 55/2014 and 87/2018), there is a possibility for reopening a litigation proceedings which has ended with legally binding court decision in case a decision of the European Court was issued by which a violation of human rights was found, which can be of significance for adopting more favorable decision for the applicant.

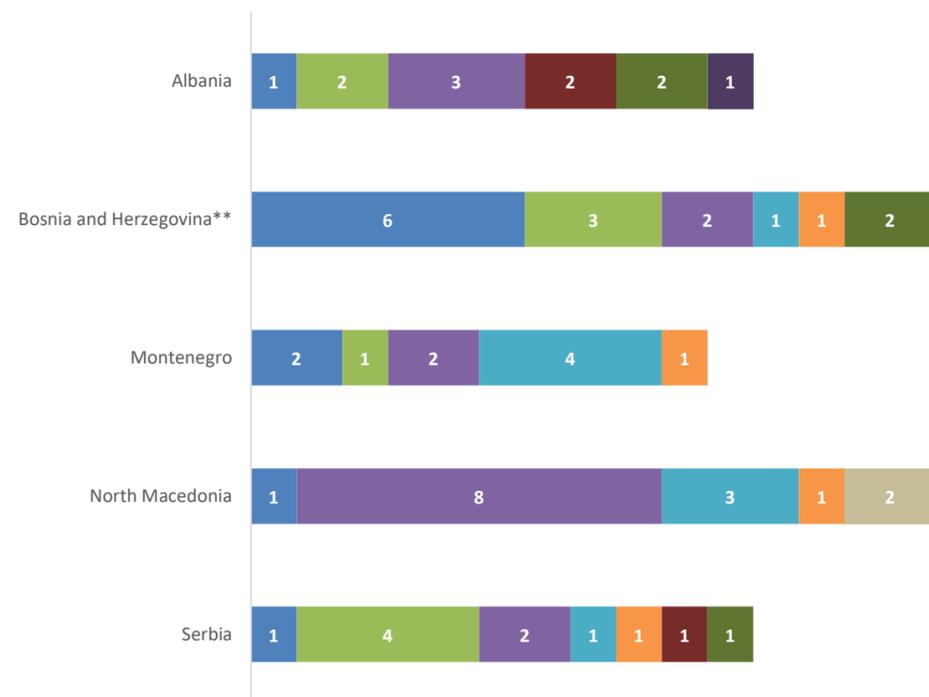

According to the Law on General Administrative Procedure ("Official Gazette of the RS, No.18/2016 and 95/2018- authentic interpretation) there is a possibility of reopening a case in case the European Court has established a violation in respect of the same administrative matter, i.e. if the position from a subsequent decision of the European Court of Human Rights in the same matter may have an impact on the legality of a legally binding judicial procedure.

Albania

Q265 (General Comment): There are two Councils, one for the judiciary and one for the prosecution service, each composed of 11 members (6 judges or prosecutors and 5 lay members; lay members are 2 from academia, 2 lawyers and 1 from civil society organizations)

Q265 (2021): There are two councils, the High Judicial Council, which ensures the independence, accountability and appropriate functioning of the judicial power in the Republic of Albania (only for judges) The High Judicial Council is composed of 11 members, six of which are elected by the judges of all levels of the judicial power and five members are selected by the Assembly among the ranks of non-judge jurists.

The High Prosecutorial Council Tguarantees the independence, accountability, discipline, status and career of prosecutors in the Republic of Albania. The High Prosecutorial Council is composed of 11 members, six of whom are elected by the prosecutors of all levels of the prosecution system and five members are selected by the Assembly among jurists who are not prosecutors.

Q266 (General Comment): As for the election and appointment of the members who are not judges or prosecutors the constitution provides that 5 members are elected by the Assembly in a procedure prescribed by the constitution and law. Two lay members are elected from the ranks of advocates, two members from the corps of pedagogues of law faculties and the School of Magistrates and one member from civil society. Hence, in the response to the questions, each of these options has been completed.

The procedure for electing lay members is as follows:

2. The High Judicial Council shall be composed of 11 members, six of which are elected by the judges of all levels of the judicial power and five members are elected by the Assembly among the ranks of lawyers who are not judges.
 3. The judge members shall be selected from the ranks of judges of high moral and professional integrity in accordance with an open and transparent procedure that ensures a fair representation of all levels of the judiciary. The lay members shall be selected among the ranks of prominent jurists, with not less than 15 years of professional experience, of high moral and professional integrity. They should not have held political posts in the public administration or leadership positions in a political party in the last past 10 years before running as candidates. Further criteria and the procedure for selecting the candidates shall be regulated by law.
 4. Two lay members shall be elected from the ranks of advocates, two members from the corps of pedagogues of law faculties and the School of Magistrates, and one member from civil society. The Secretary General of the Assembly, based on an open and transparent procedure, shall announce the vacancies in accordance with the law.
 5. The Secretary General of the Assembly, not later than 10 days from the submission of candidatures, shall verify if the candidates fulfil the criteria foreseen in the Constitution and the law and shall assess the professional and moral criteria for the member of the High Judicial Council and shall prepare the list. In case the candidates do not fulfil the criteria and conditions to be elected, the Secretary General of the Assembly shall not include their names in the list.
 6. The Secretary General of the Assembly, upon completion of the verification, shall immediately send the list of candidates who fulfil the formal criteria to the parliamentary subcommittee, in accordance with paragraph 7 of this article.
 7. The standing committee responsible for legal affairs in the Assembly shall establish a subcommittee for the further assessment and selection of candidates not later than three days from the submission of the list. The subcommittee is composed of five members of the Assembly, three members nominated by the parliamentary majority and two by the parliamentary minority. The subcommittee may, with at least four votes, include in the list of candidates even those who have been excluded from the list by the Secretary General of the Assembly for failure to comply with formal requirements. The subcommittee shall select the candidates with the support of at least 4 members. In case the required majority cannot be reached, the candidates shall be selected by lot.
 8. The names of the candidates selected by the subcommittee are consolidated into one list and sent to the Speaker of the Assembly. Within ten days, the Assembly shall approve the list of candidates by two-thirds of all the members. In case the list is rejected, the procedure shall be repeated in the subcommittee under paragraph 7 of this Article, but not more than two times. In case the Assembly shall, after conducting the procedure for the third time, not approve the presented list, the candidates of this list shall be deemed elected. Detailed procedures shall be regulated by law.
 9. The Chairperson of the High Judicial Council shall be elected at the first meeting of the Council from among the lay members in accordance with the law.
 10. Members of the High
- Q266 (2020): The High Judicial Council shall be composed of 11 members, six of which are elected by the judges of all levels of the judicial power and five members are elected by the Assembly among the ranks of lawyers who are not judges. The judge members shall be selected from the ranks of judges of high moral and professional integrity in accordance with an open and transparent procedure that ensures a fair representation of all levels of the judiciary. They should not have held political posts in the public administration or leadership positions in a political party in the last past 10 years before running as candidates. Further criteria and the procedure for selecting the candidates shall be regulated by law. Two lay members shall be elected from the ranks of advocates, two members from the corps of pedagogues of law faculties and the School of Magistrates, and one member from civil society. The institution proposes more than one member, and the Assembly has the right to choose one of the members proposed.

Q266 (2019): 5 members that are elected by the Assembly, for each council, they are elected through a procedure, that the proposal comes from academics (2 members), bar association (2 members) and civil society organisations (1 member)

Q267 (General Comment): Based on the Law “On the governance institutions of the justice system”, as amended, the High Judicial Council is a collegial body, consisting of eleven members, who serve full-time. Six of the Council members are judges from all levels of the judiciary. The General Meeting of Judges of all levels elects 6 members of the High Judicial Council, according to the following report: a) three of the elected are first instance courts. At least 1 of them is a judge in a court of first instance outside Tirana; b) two of the elected are judges of the courts of appeal. At least 1 of them is a judge in an appellate court outside Tirana; c) one of the elected members is a judge at the High Court. The chair of the High Court announces the call for the expression of interest by judges interested in the position of a member of the High Judicial Council. Within 15 days of the announcement of the call for the expression of interest, the concerned prosecutors shall express their interest in a written request to the chair. Within the deadline for submission of expressions of interest, the chair of the High Court shall verify the fulfilment of the conditions by the candidates, according to the provisions of this law. Appeals against decisions to exclude candidates only for serious procedural violations are made to the Administrative Court of Appeal no later than 5 days from the date of notification of the decision. Not later than two months before the expiry of the term of office of the Members of the High Judicial Council in office, the chair of the high court convenes the General Meeting of Judges of all levels to elect the members of the Council. The voting for the election of members of the High Judicial Council from the General Meeting of Judges is secret and individual. At the conclusion of the voting process, under the responsibility of the chair of the High Court, members of the voting committee open the ballot boxes in the presence of all judges attending the meeting, count the votes and announce the preliminary election result. Complaints for violation of procedure related to convening the General Meeting of Judges, verification of participation, voting and counting of votes, ascertaining and declaring invalid and declaring the result during the General Meeting of Judges for the election of Council

Q266 (General Comment): There is a single regulatory body in Bosnia and Herzegovina (BiH), the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of BiH (HJPC), which is responsible for judges, as well as prosecutors in BiH. The HJPC was established by the Law on the HJPC as an independent and autonomous body, with the task of ensuring the maintenance of an independent, impartial and professional judiciary.

The independence of the HJPC is ensured through the autonomous status of this body, which is not in a hierarchical relationship with the legislative or executive authority, nor is a part of the state administration system.

The independence of the institution is reflected in the structure of the HJPC members, as well as in a system in which they are elected.

Out of the 15 HJPC members, 11 members are judges and prosecutors elected by their colleagues. The other 4 members of the HJPC are elected by the legislative and executive authority of BiH and the two Entity Bar Chambers.

The HJPC consists of 15 members as follows:

1. one (1) member who is a judge from the Court of BiH, elected by the judges of that Court;
2. one (1) member who is a judge from the Supreme Court of the Federation of BiH, elected by the judges of that Court;
3. one (1) member who is a judge from the Supreme Court of the Republika Srpska, elected by the judges of that Court;
4. one (1) member who is a judge from either a Cantonal or Municipal level court from the Federation of BiH, elected by the Cantonal and Municipal court judges;
5. one (1) member who is a judge from a District or Basic level court of the Republika Srpska, elected by the district and basic courts judges (including judges of the Higher Commercial and District Commercial Courts in RS);
6. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from the Prosecutor's Office of BiH, elected by the prosecutors of that Office;
7. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from the Prosecutor's Office of the Federation of BiH, elected by the prosecutors of that Office;
8. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from the Prosecutor's Office of the Republika Srpska, elected by the prosecutors of that Office;
9. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from a Cantonal level prosecutor's office of the Federation of BiH, elected by the Cantonal prosecutors;
10. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from a District level prosecutor's office of the Republika Srpska, elected by the district prosecutors;
11. one (1) member who is a judge or prosecutor elected by the Brcko District of BiH Judicial Commission;
12. one (1) member who is an attorney, elected by the Bar Association of the Federation of BiH;
13. one (1) member who is an attorney, elected by the Bar Association of the Republika Srpska;

15. one (1) member who is not a member of the judiciary and who is not a member of the Council of Ministers of BiH, elected by the Council of Ministers of BiH upon the proposal of the Minister of Justice of BiH. There are 3 courts of general jurisdiction in Bosnia and Herzegovina that are included in the Supreme Court category.

Q266 (2019): There is a single regulatory body in BiH, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of BiH (HJPC), which is responsible for judges, as well as prosecutors in BiH. The HJPC was established by the Law on the HJPC as an independent and autonomous body, with the task of ensuring the maintenance of an independent, impartial and professional judiciary.

The independence of the HJPC is ensured through the autonomous status of this body, which is not in a hierarchical relationship with the legislative or executive authority, nor is a part of the state administration system.

The independence of the institution is reflected in the structure of the HJPC members, as well as in a system in which they are elected. Out of the 15 HJPC members, 11 members are judges and prosecutors elected by their colleagues. The other 4 members of the HJPC are elected by the legislative and executive authority of BiH and the two Entity Bar Chambers.

The HJPC consists of 15 members as follows:

1. one (1) member who is a judge from the Court of BiH, elected by the judges of that Court;
2. one (1) member who is a judge from the Supreme Court of the Federation of BiH, elected by the judges of that Court;
3. one (1) member who is a judge from the Supreme Court of the Republika Srpska, elected by the judges of that Court;
4. one (1) member who is a judge from either a Cantonal or Municipal level court from the Federation of BiH, elected by the Cantonal and Municipal court judges;
5. one (1) member who is a judge from a District or Basic level court of the Republika Srpska, elected by the district and basic courts judges (including judges of the Higher Commercial and District Commercial Courts in RS);
6. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from the Prosecutor's Office of BiH, elected by the prosecutors of that Office;
7. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from the Prosecutor's Office of the Federation of BiH, elected by the prosecutors of that Office;
8. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from the Prosecutor's Office of the Republika Srpska, elected by the prosecutors of that Office;
9. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from a Cantonal level prosecutor's office of the Federation of BiH, elected by the Cantonal prosecutors;
10. one (1) member who is a prosecutor from a District level prosecutor's office of the Republika Srpska, elected by the district prosecutors;
11. one (1) member who is a judge or prosecutor elected by the Brcko District of BiH Judicial Commission;
12. one (1) member who is an attorney, elected by the Bar Association of the Federation of BiH;
13. one (1) member who is an attorney, elected by the Bar Association of the Republika Srpska;
14. one (1) member who is not a member of the judiciary or a member of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH, elected by the House of Representatives of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH; and
15. one (1) member who is not a member of the judiciary and who is not a member of the Council of Ministers of BiH, elected by the Council of Ministers of BiH upon the proposal of the Minister of Justice of BiH. There are 3 courts of general jurisdiction in Bosnia and Herzegovina that are included in the Supreme Court category.

Firstly, at entity level, there are the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina Supreme Court and the Republika Srpska Supreme Court.

Q268 (General Comment): The House of Representatives of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH, the Council of Ministers of BiH and the Entity Bar Chambers carry out the procedure of selection of their representatives in the HJPC in accordance with their own rules, by respecting the basic rules defined by the HJPC Rulebook on Selection of the HJPC Members. The Rulebook on the selection of HJPC members specifies the rules on ethnicity and gender structure, and defines the basics of the procedure for selection of HJPC members.

Q268 (2022): In accordance to the Law on the HJPC: One member of the HJPC who is elected by the House of Representatives of the Parliamentary Assembly of Bosnia and Herzegovina must not be a member of the judiciary or a member of the Parliamentary Assembly of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Q270 (General Comment): In accordance to the Law on the HJPC (Article 5), the HJPC members have a mandate of four (4) years and may have a maximum of two (2) consecutive mandate of four years. A person who has held two (2) consecutive mandates as a member of the HJPC may not be appointed again as a member of the HJPC until the expiration of four (4) years since the end of his/her previous mandate as a member of the HJPC. There is no specific procedure for renewing the mandate of a HJPC member. The HJPC member who wishes to be reappointed applies for the member position and goes through the selection process as other candidates. The HJPC has a President and two (2) Vice-Presidents. The President and two Vice-Presidents of the HJPC are Q272 (General Comment): In accordance with the HJPC Law (Article 14), the Council acts and decides as a single body. Decisions are made by a majority vote of the members present and voting. The quorum requires the presence of at least 11 Council members. In matters on which the votes are divided, a vote shall be taken by roll call of the members, and the vote of the President or the Vice-President has the casting vote. In a case that the Council member who is present but abstains from voting, it will be deemed to have cast an abstention vote, and this abstention vote will not be included in the vote count.

The Council may delegate certain decisions within its jurisdiction, with the exception of appointment decisions, to standing committees. The powers of standing committees to make decisions relate to less complex issues (eg simpler queries on compatibility of functions, opinions on laws that are not systemic and organizational and do not regulate the status of judicial office holders, shorter absences from office etc). In disciplinary proceedings against judges and prosecutors, decisions are taken by the competent disciplinary commissions, as well as by the Council when in the third instance, the Council decides on appeal against the decision of the second instance disciplinary commission. Members of the First Instance and the Second Instance Disciplinary Committees have the right to participate in the decision making process of the Council as a whole, unless their exemption is requested for reasons other than their earlier participation in the decision on the same matter. In accordance with the Rules of Procedure of the HJPC, the Council members are required to inform the President of the Council on any possible conflict of interest it may arise during their work, and must state the reasons for the exemption in writing or orally in the minutes of the Council session. If any the Council member considers that another member should be exempted from participating in the proceedings, he/she informs the President of the Council on that issue. The Council member whose exemption is being discussed may participate in that discussion, or make a statement on the request related to his/her exemption, but may not vote on his/her own exemption. An exempted member of the Council may not participate in a proceeding or discussion related to the issue for which he/she was exempted.

The Rulebook on Conflict of Interest of the HJPC members prescribes cases in which a conflict of interest is presumed. A member of the Council is obliged to resign from membership in the Council if he/she or his child, parent, adoptee, adoptive parent, and spouse or partner apply for a vacant position in the judiciary. In other cases of presumed conflict of interest, a member of the Council is obliged to request his/her exemption from the panel for interviewing, from the procedure of nomination and appointment of candidates, as well as disciplinary procedure, fully and immediately upon learning of the existence of such circumstances. The existence of a conflict of interest in other situations not covered by the presumed conflict of interest is decided by the Council in each specific case. Compliance with the Rules on Conflict of Interests is ensured by its provision regulating that acting contrary to this act shall be considered as violation of impartiality and independence in performing of the duties of a member of the Council, which may form the basis for initiating the dismissal procedure.

Q273 (General Comment): The transparency of a work of the Council is ensured primarily by holding public sessions. Also, the first instance disciplinary proceedings against judicial office holders are generally transparent and public.

The HJPC regularly informs the public of its decisions, attitudes and activities, by publication of information and press releases. The HJPC also actively cooperates with journalists through the preparation and distribution of answers to media questions concerning the judiciary and the work of the HJPC.

The HJPC publishes reports on its work, as well as plans for future activities (strategic plan, action plans, annual work program, etc.).

The HJPC regularly processes the requests for free access to information relating to the work of the HJPC.

The HJPC holds annual conferences for courts presidents and chief prosecutors, as well as thematic conferences which are open to journalists and to the public, and by which the public is informed about the work of the judiciary and other topics of interest to the judiciary and to the public.

Q274 (General Comment): In accordance with Article 17, item 27 of the Law on the HJPC BiH, the Council provides its opinion on complaints submitted by a judge or prosecutor who considers that his/her rights established by this or another law, or his/her independence, are endangered. These opinions are issued in order to identify threats to the independence of judicial institutions, that is holders of judicial functions, and to publicize it, as well as to invite relevant participants to refrain from further activities that threaten the independence of the judiciary. The Law does not provide for sanctions that the Council may impose in these situations.

The criminal laws in BiH contain chapters dedicated to the judiciary. The object of the criminal protection of this group of crimes is the functioning of the judiciary. The main objective of the prescribed criminals is to ensure and protect the independence of the judiciary and the legitimate work of the judiciary and other bodies. Most of the offenses in this group relate to endangering the criminal proceedings, endangering the smooth conduct of criminal proceedings and executing the criminal sanctions, ie protecting the special categories of subjects in criminal proceedings.

The criminal laws contain provisions by which obstruction of the judiciary is criminalized (eg. Article 241 of the Criminal Code BiH, Article 339 of the Criminal Code RS, 358, 359, 359a of the Criminal Code FBiH, Articles 352, 353 of the Criminal Code BD BiH) in such a way that attacks, threats or intimidation of a judge or prosecutor in connection with the

Any influence on a judge while performing his/her judicial function shall be prohibited.

Art 153 prescribed that the High Judicial Council is an independent and autonomous body which shall provide for and guarantee independence and autonomy of courts and judges.

According to Art 3 of Law on judges all state bodies and officials are required to preserve, with their actions and behavior, the confidence in independence and impartiality of judges and courts.

The High Judicial Council, at the session held on 25 October 2016, adopted amendments to the Rules of Procedure of the High Judicial Council, which was published in the "Official Gazette of the RS", no. 91/16. The above mentioned amendment stipulates the procedures of public reactions of the High Judicial Council in cases of political interference in the judiciary. The judge, who considers that there is a political influence on his work, may address the Council in writing.

The President of the Council, on his own initiative, on the proposal of one member of the Council or on the basis of the address of the judge, convenes a session of the Council which the political influence on the work of the judiciary will be considered.

The statement of the judge, the initiative of the President of the Council and the proposal of the member of the Council must be reasoned.

The session shall be convened without delay.

The President of the Council shall determine in advance the agenda of the session at which political influence on the work of the judiciary is discussed. According to Art 3 of Law on judges all state bodies and officials are required to preserve, with their actions and behaviour, the confidence in independence and impartiality of judges and courts.

At the session held on April 15, 2021. The High Judicial Council adopted Amendments to the Rules of Procedure of the High Judicial Council, which prescribes the manner of work and decision-making of the Council not only in cases of political influence on the judiciary - but also in cases of any influence on judges and judiciary (from media, lawyers, business community, civil servants and others).

At the session held on May 13, 2021 the High Judicial Council appointed a judge competent to act in cases of undue influence on judges and the judiciary.

The competent judge is in charge and authorized to: acts upon the requests of judges for protection against undue influence, examines the existence of undue influence expressed in public, through the media, social networks, at public gatherings or in any other public way, obtains the necessary evidence and information on the existence of undue influence, submits a reasoned proposal for convening a session of the Council to decide on the existence of undue influence, at the session of the Council, presents the factual situation and gives a proposal for a decision, cooperates with the competent institutions in conducting training of judges on recognizing and reacting to undue influence, proposes to the Council measures to prevent undue influence, cooperates with the Ethics Committee and disciplinary bodies, keeps records of all cases of undue influence and submits to the Council an annual report on the undue influence on judges and the judiciary.

An important new solution is that the competent judge has the authority to order to the person who is stated in the request to have committed an undue influence to respond to the allegations from the request for protection against undue influence within eight days, on its own initiative or at the proposal of the applicant to conduct a confidential interview with the applicant, as well as to request information and evidence from the court, other state bodies, public institutions, legal and natural persons.

Albania

(General Comment): As for the election and appointment of the members who are not judges or prosecutors the constitution provides that 5 members are elected by the Assembly in a procedure prescribed by the constitution and law. Two lay members are elected from the ranks of advocates, two members from the corps of pedagogues of law faculties and the School of Magistrates and one member from civil society. Hence, in the response to the questions, each of these options has been completed.

The procedure for electing lay members is as follows:

2. The High Judicial Council shall be composed of 11 members, six of which are elected by the judges of all levels of the judicial power and five members are elected by the Assembly among the ranks of lawyers who are not judges.
3. The judge members shall be selected from the ranks of judges of high moral and professional integrity in accordance with an open and transparent procedure that ensures a fair representation of all levels of the judiciary. The lay members shall be selected among the ranks of prominent jurists, with not less than 15 years of professional experience, of high moral and professional integrity. They should not have held political posts in the public administration or leadership positions in a political party in the last past 10 years before running as candidates. Further criteria and the procedure for selecting the candidates shall be regulated by law.
4. Two lay members shall be elected from the ranks of advocates, two members from the corps of pedagogues of law faculties and the School of Magistrates, and one member from civil society. The Secretary General of the Assembly, based on an open and transparent procedure, shall announce the vacancies in accordance with the law.
5. The Secretary General of the Assembly, not later than 10 days from the submission of candidatures, shall verify if the candidates fulfil the criteria foreseen in the Constitution and the law and shall assess the professional and moral criteria for the member of the High Judicial Council and shall prepare the list. In case the candidates do not fulfil the criteria and conditions to be elected, the Secretary General of the Assembly shall not include their names in the list.
6. The Secretary General of the Assembly, upon completion of the verification, shall immediately send the list of candidates who fulfil the formal criteria to the parliamentary subcommittee, in accordance with paragraph 7 of this article.
7. The standing committee responsible for legal affairs in the Assembly shall establish a subcommittee for the further assessment and selection of candidates not later than three days from the submission of the list. The subcommittee is composed of five members of the Assembly, three members nominated by the parliamentary majority and two by the parliamentary minority. The subcommittee may, with at least four votes, include in the list of candidates even those who have been excluded from the list by the Secretary General of the Assembly for failure to comply with formal requirements. The subcommittee shall select the candidates with the support of at least 4 members. In case the required majority cannot be reached, the candidates shall be selected by lot.
8. The names of the candidates selected by the subcommittee are consolidated into one list and sent to the Speaker of the Assembly. Within ten days, the Assembly shall approve the list of candidates by two-thirds of all the members. In case the list is rejected, the procedure shall be repeated in the subcommittee under paragraph 7 of this Article, but not more than two times. In case the Assembly shall, after conducting the procedure for the third time, not approve the presented list, the candidates of this list shall be deemed

Bosnia and Herzegovina

(General Comment): In accordance with the HJPC Law (Article 14), the Council acts and decides as a single body. Decisions are made by a majority vote of the members present and voting. The quorum requires the presence of at least 11 Council members. In matters on which the votes are divided, a vote shall be taken by roll call of the members, and the vote of the President or the Vice-President has the casting vote. In a case that the Council member who is present but abstains from voting, it will be deemed to have cast an abstention vote, and this abstention vote will not be included in the vote count.

The Council may delegate certain decisions within its jurisdiction, with the exception of appointment decisions, to standing committees. The powers of standing committees to make decisions relate to less complex issues (eg simpler queries on compatibility of functions, opinions on laws that are not systemic and organizational and do not regulate the status of judicial office holders, shorter absences from office etc). In disciplinary proceedings against judges and prosecutors, decisions are taken by the competent disciplinary commissions, as well as by the Council when in the third instance, the Council decides on appeal against the decision of the second instance disciplinary commission. Members of the First Instance and the Second Instance Disciplinary Committees have the right to participate in the decision making process of the Council as a whole, unless their exemption is requested for reasons other than their earlier participation in the decision on the same matter. In accordance with the Rules of Procedure of the HJPC, the Council members are required to inform the President of the Council on any possible conflict of interest it may arise during their work, and must state the reasons for the exemption in writing or orally in the minutes of the Council session. If any the Council member considers that another member should be exempted from participating in the proceedings, he/she informs the President of the Council on that issue. The Council member whose exemption is being discussed may participate in that discussion, or make a statement on the request related to his/her exemption, but may not vote on his/her own exemption. An exempted member of the Council may not participate in a proceeding or discussion related to the issue for which he/she was exempted.

The Rulebook on Conflict of Interest of the HJPC members prescribes cases in which a conflict of interest is presumed. A member of the Council is obliged to resign from membership in the Council if he/she or his child, parent, adoptee, adoptive parent, and spouse or partner apply for a vacant position in the judiciary. In other cases of presumed conflict of interest, a member of the Council is obliged to request his/her exemption from the panel for interviewing, from the procedure of nomination and appointment of candidates, as well as disciplinary procedure, fully and immediately upon learning of the existence of such circumstances. The existence of a conflict of interest in other situations not covered by the presumed conflict of interest is decided by the Council in each specific case.

Compliance with the Rules on Conflict of Interests is ensured by its provision regulating that acting contrary to this act shall be considered as violation of impartiality and independence in performing of the duties of a member of the Council, which may form the (General Comment): In accordance with Article 17, item 27 of the Law on the HJPC BiH, the Council provides its opinion on complaints submitted by a judge or prosecutor who considers that his/her rights established by this or another law, or his/her independence, are endangered. These opinions are issued in order to identify threats to the independence of judicial institutions, that is holders of judicial functions, and to publicize it, as well as to invite relevant participants to refrain from further activities that threaten the independence of the judiciary. The Law does not provide for sanctions that the Council may impose in these situations.

The criminal laws in BiH contain chapters dedicated to the judiciary. The object of the criminal protection of this group of crimes is the functioning of the judiciary. The main objective of the prescribed criminals is to ensure and protect the independence of the judiciary and the legitimate work of the judiciary and other bodies. Most of the offenses in this group relate to endangering the criminal proceedings, endangering the smooth conduct of criminal proceedings and executing the criminal sanctions, ie protecting the special categories of subjects in criminal proceedings.

(2019): In accordance with Article 17, item 27 of the Law on the HJPC BiH, the Council provides its opinion on complaints submitted by a judge or prosecutor who considers that his/her rights established by this or another law, or his/her independence, are endangered. These opinions are issued in order to identify threats to the independence of judicial institutions, that is holders of judicial functions, and to publicize it, as well as to invite relevant participants to refrain from further activities that threaten the independence of the judiciary. The Law does not provide for sanctions that the Council may impose in these situations.

The criminal laws in BiH contain chapters dedicated to the judiciary. The object of the criminal protection of this group of crimes is the functioning of the judiciary. The main objective of the prescribed criminals is to ensure and protect the independence of the judiciary and the legitimate work of the judiciary and other bodies. Most of the offenses in this group relate to endangering the criminal proceedings, endangering the smooth conduct of criminal proceedings and executing the criminal sanctions, ie protecting the special categories of subjects in criminal proceedings.

The criminal laws contain provisions by which obstruction of the judiciary is criminalized (eg. Article 241 of the Criminal Code BiH, Article 339 of the Criminal Code RS, 358, 359, (General Comment): The Judicial Council of the Republic of North Macedonia is an autonomous and independent judicial body that ensure and guarantee the autonomy and independence of the judicial authority, through performing its function in accordance with the Constitution and the laws. According to article 11 of Law on courts, the judge shall decide impartially by applying the law on the basis of free evaluation of the evidence. Any form of influence on the independence, impartiality and autonomy of the judge in the exercise of the judicial office on any grounds and by any entity shall be prohibited.

The judicial office is incompatible with the office of a member of the parliament, that is, member of a council in the municipality, that is, the City of Skopje, and the offices in state bodies, the municipality and the City of Skopje, except for cases provided by law. The judge cannot hold any other public office or practice a profession, except an office determined by law which is not contrary to his/her independence and autonomy in the exercise of the judicial office. The judge cannot be a member of a managing or supervisory board of a trade company, or another legal entity established for the purpose of gaining profit. The judge may be an educator or may deliver lectures in the Academy for Judges and Public Prosecutors and in a higher education institution and may participate in scientific projects. The Judge must not use his office or the reputation of the court to accomplish his personal interests. The judge cannot be a member or hold a political office within a political party or carry out political or party activity. In this case, The Judicial Council shall at the latest within ten days from the day of knowing of the fulfillment of these conditions determine the termination of the judicial office, except when the judicial function is in abeyance under conditions determined by law. The judge cannot accept gifts or enjoy privileges and conveniences during the exercise of the judicial office. According to articles 74 and 75 of Law on courts, the judge shall be dismissed from the judicial office due to serious disciplinary offence that makes him/her discreditable to exercise the judicial office prescribed by law. Decision on dismissal of the judge shall be adopted by Judicial Council, if the violation is committed with the intention or apparent negligence by the fault of the judge without justified reasons and if the injury caused severe consequences. Serious disciplinary offences are:

- 1) Gross influence and interference in the performance of the judicial function of another judge;
- 2) Manifestly violation of the rules for exemption in situations in which the judge knew or should have known about the existence of one of the grounds for exemption provided for by law.

In the exercise of the judicial office, the judges shall enjoy immunity. A judge cannot be held criminally liable for a stated opinion and manner of deciding during the adoption of a court decision. A judge cannot be taken in without an approval from the Judicial Council, unless caught in commission of a crime for which an imprisonment sentence in duration of at least five years is foreseen. The Judicial Council of the Republic of North Macedonia shall decide upon revocation of the immunity of judges. The procedure for deciding about revocation of a judge's immunity shall be urgent. The judge shall be suspended from exercising the judicial office while in custody, or while the procedure for the crime for which an imprisonment sentence of at least five years is foreseen is ongoing. The judge shall be suspended from exercising the judicial office in case of initiated procedure for establishing liability, in accordance with law and when there are justified reasons for suspension from exercising judicial office. The decision to suspend the judge from exercising the judicial office shall be adopted by the Judicial Council of the Republic of North Macedonia.

(General Comment): The Constitution of the Republic of Serbia in Art 149 prescribed that in performing his/her judicial function, a judge shall be independent and responsible only to the Constitution and the law. Any influence on a judge while performing his/her judicial function shall be prohibited.

Art 153 prescribed that the High Judicial Council is an independent and autonomous body which shall provide for and guarantee independence and autonomy of courts and judges.

According to Art 3 of Law on judges all state bodies and officials are required to preserve, with their actions and behavior, the confidence in independence and impartiality of judges and courts.

The High Judicial Council, at the session held on 25 October 2016, adopted amendments to the Rules of Procedure of the High Judicial Council, which was published in the "Official Gazette of the RS", no. 91/16. The above mentioned amendment stipulates the procedures of public reactions of the High Judicial Council in cases of political interference in the judiciary. The judge, who considers that there is a political influence on his work, may address the Council in writing.

The President of the Council, on his own initiative, on the proposal of one member of the Council or on the basis of the address of the judge, convenes a session of the Council which the political influence on the work of the judiciary will be considered.

The statement of the judge, the initiative of the President of the Council and the proposal of the member of the Council must be reasoned.

The session shall be convened without delay.

The President of the Council shall determine in advance the agenda of the session at which political influence on the work of the judiciary is discussed. The agenda so established is not voted on and cannot be changed. The Council shall, after the session, inform the public of the conclusions of the session by holding a press conference, by making a statement to the media or by publishing the conclusions on the Council's website. Art 153 prescribed that the High Judicial Council is an independent and autonomous body which shall provide for and guarantee independence and autonomy of courts and judges. According to Art 3 of Law on judges all state bodies and officials are required to preserve, with their actions and behaviour, the confidence in independence and impartiality of judges and courts.

At the session held on April 15, 2021. The High Judicial Council adopted Amendments to the Rules of Procedure of the High Judicial Council, which prescribes the manner of work and decision-making of the Council not only in cases of political influence on the judiciary - but also in cases of any influence on judges and judiciary (from media, lawyers, business community, civil servants and others).

At the session held on May 13, 2021 the High Judicial Council appointed a judge competent to act in cases of undue influence on judges and the judiciary.

The competent judge is in charge and authorized to: acts upon the requests of judges for protection against undue influence, examines the existence of undue influence expressed in public, through the media, social networks, at public gatherings or in any other public way, obtains the necessary evidence and information on the existence of undue influence, submits a reasoned proposal for convening a session of the Council to decide on the existence of undue influence, at the session of the Council, presents the factual situation and gives a proposal for a decision, cooperates with the competent institutions in conducting training of judges on recognizing and reacting to undue influence, proposes to the Council measures to prevent undue influence, cooperates with the Ethics Committee and disciplinary bodies, keeps records of all cases of undue influence and submits to the Council an annual report on the undue influence on judges and the judiciary.

An important new solution is that the competent judge has the authority to order to the person who is stated in the request to have committed an undue influence to respond to the allegations from the request for protection against undue influence within eight days, on its own initiative or at the proposal of the applicant to conduct a confidential interview with the applicant, as well as to request information and evidence from the court, other state bodies, public institutions, legal and natural persons.

Article 2 of Law on State Prosecutorial Council:

(2019): With regard to judges:

The Constitution of the Republic of Serbia (Official Gazette of the Republic of Serbia No 98/06) in Art 149 prescribed that in performing his/her judicial function, a judge shall be independent and responsive only to the Constitution and the law. Any influence on a judge while performing his/her judicial function shall be prohibited.

Art 153 prescribed that the High Judicial Council is an independent and autonomous body which shall provide for and guarantee independence and autonomy of courts and judges.

According to Art 3 of Law on Judges (Official Gazette of the RS, No. 116/2008, 58/2009 – decision of the CC, 104/2009, 101/2010, 8/2012 – decision of the CC, 121/2012, 124/2012 – decision of the CC, 101/2013, 111/2014 – decision of the CC, 117/2014, 40/2015, 63/2015 – decision of the CC, 106/2015, 63/2016 – decision of the CC and 47/2017) all state bodies and officials are required to preserve, with their actions and behavior, the confidence in independence and impartiality of judges and courts.

The High Judicial Council, at the session held on 25 October 2016, adopted amendments to the Rules of Procedure of the High Judicial Council, which was published in the “Official Gazette of the RS”, no. 91/16. The above mentioned amendment stipulates the procedures of public reactions of the High Judicial Council in cases of political interference in the judiciary. North Macedonia	"Strategy on Gender Equality 2013-2020" and "Law on Equal Opportunities for women and men promulgated in 2012" are implemented. New Strategy for Gender Equality 2022-2027 was adopted on 27 July 2022 by the Assembly of the Republic of North Macedonia. This is the basic strategic document of the Republic of North Macedonia, which establishes a comprehensive framework of activities for the promotion of gender equality and the promotion of the status of women. The Strategy is adopted for a period of six years 2022 - 2027, as a fourth strategic document in this area.	In order to improve the position of women in all areas of public and private life, according to the new Strategy, one of the specific goals is: Equal access to justice for all women and men. Also, a new Law on Gender Equality is still in a process of drafting. The draft text is reviewed by experts (TAIEX instrument) for its compliance with international standards. According to article 3 of the draft Law on Gender Equality, " The Law shall be applied by all state bodies, units of the local self-government, legal entities with public authorizations and all other legal entities in the area of: 4) Judiciary and administration".	The new Strategy for Gender Equality 2022-2027 as a new key document was adopted in 2022. According to the new Strategy one of the priority areas is Policy and Decision making. It is necessary to increase the number of women in decision-making positions in the executive branch, political parties, media, sports, local self-government, and also in all areas where no legal solutions or quotas are established and where women's participation is very low, according to the Commitment 50 -50. The increase in the number of women decision-makers should be done through incentive measures, and awareness rising, as well as binding legal measures. It is especially important to encourage women to participate in the decision-making structures in the local self-government units, where decisions and measures are made that directly affect the quality of life in the local self-government units. Also, in 2022 we must emphasize some important achieved activities for implementation of Istanbul Convention and Law on the prevention and protection from violence against women and domestic violence. Amendments of the Criminal Code and new criminal offences in compliance with Istanbul Convention were adopted. Also, new bylaws for generating statistics in courts and public prosecution offices for domestic violence was adopted by the Minister of Justice in December 2022. At the end, the most important, the first Law on payment of monetary compensation to victims of criminal offences (Law on state compensation) was adopted in November 2022. Implementation of this Law is starting from May 2023.

Q278 (2022): In October 2020, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted the Strategy on Improving Gender Equality in the Judiciary of Bosnia and Herzegovina, based on which all judicial institutions will prepare their implementation plans.

The Strategy is available here: <https://pravosudje.ba/vstvfo/E/141/article/95500> The Strategy was created within the Project Improving Court Efficiency and Accountability of Judges and Prosecutors in BiH - Phase 2, financed by the Government of Sweden, in cooperation with the Swedish National Courts Administration, as the coordinator of gender mainstreaming activities in the courts of Sweden and HJPC's long-term partner.

In 2021, the HJPC has carried out the piloting phase of implementation of the Strategy on Improving Gender Equality in the Judiciary of BiH, in order to create good practices, which will be applied to other judicial institutions.

The piloting phase of implementation of the Strategy was carried out in four judicial institutions in the period March – October 2021.

In cooperation with pilot judicial institutions and Swedish experts, the HJPC has commenced the preparation of activities, with the purpose of implementing the Strategy in the entire judiciary of BiH, within the Project Improving Court Efficiency and Accountability of Judges and Prosecutors in BiH - Phase 3.

The HJPC will provide support to judicial institutions in the process of preparation of their implementation plans and will regularly monitor their realization by judicial institutions.

In 2022, the HJPC has organized seven workshops for all judicial institutions, aimed at providing knowledge necessary for the creation of action plans for the implementation of the Strategy on Improving Gender Equality in the Judiciary of BiH.

The workshops were carried out in partnerships with the Swedish National Courts Administration, Swedish experts and the ambassadors from pilot judicial institutions.

In addition, the HJPC has provided support to judicial institutions in the process of preparation of their action plans for the implementation of the Strategy, which was followed by their assessment and adoption.

As a result, the judicial institutions have commenced implementing their action plans in 2022, whilst the HJPC will regularly monitor their realization.

Serbia

Q275 (General Comment): The Constitution and relevant legislation guarantee equality before law, equal protection of rights before the courts and other state bodies and bodies of AP Vojvodina and LSGs. The Constitutional provisions on the equality before law include equal protection before courts and other bodies and equal access to legal remedies (Art. 36) and legal assistance (Art. 67), right to rehabilitation and compensation of material or non-material damage inflicted by unlawful or irregular work of state bodies or other entities (Art. 35). The equal right to legal capacity is also guaranteed (Art. 37.1). The Law on Prohibition of Discrimination and the Law on the Equality Between Sexes ("Official Gazette of the Republic of Serbia", No. 104/2009), please see unofficial English translation: <http://www.legislationline.org/documents/action/popup/id/16015> and in Serbian: https://www.paragraf.rs/propisi/zakon_o_ravnopravnosti_polova.html) additionally stress equality before law of both women and men; that all people are equal and enjoy the same status and equal legal protection regardless of their personal properties. Everyone has equal access and equal protection of rights before courts and public authorities.

Discriminatory treatment by an official, namely by a responsible person of public authority is considered severe violation of work duty pursuant to law. It would be useful to note that the statistics of gender equity in employment in Serbian judiciary is considered generally appropriate, as the „Serbia Judicial Functional Review” (Multi-Donor Trust Fund for Justice Sector Support in Serbia, October 2014, p. 309, <http://www.mdtfjss.org.rs/archive/file/Serbia%20Judicial%20Functional%20Review-Full%20Report.pdf> , accessed on 15 January 2018), published in 2014, states.. Figures submitted to the CEPEJ by Serbia throughout the evaluation cycles show more female than male professional judges in courts at all levels. Also, generally, among Court Presidents at first instance courts, the proportion of women is greater than men. This is reflected in the proportion of candidates for presidency of courts that are women.

Figures submitted to the CEPEJ by Serbia throughout the evaluation cycles show more female than male professional judges in courts at all levels. Also, generally, among Court Presidents at first instance courts, the proportion of women is greater than men. This is reflected in the proportion of candidates for presidency of courts that are women. However, among Court Presidents at the second instance, men far outnumber women. The vast majority of non-judge staff in the courts are women. The overwhelming majority of professional judges sitting in courts are female: Generally, throughout the cycles: total: 70%; -First instance: 70%; -Second instance: 75%; and even at supreme court level: 58%. Therefore, the conclusions on gender representation made in 2014 by the MDTF Serbia Judicial Functional Review likewise stand today, although female second instance court presidents have become significantly more represented.

With respect to public prosecutors, while the proportion of women is higher in basic than higher level PPOs, women represent close to 50 percent of all prosecutors at all levels other than the Office of Organized Crime, throughout the cycles. In 2017, the State Prosecutorial Council has made an analysis of the number of female deputy prosecutors at various levels, based on data from 2016, which was submitted to the CEPEJ. The percentage of female deputy prosecutors is as follows: Basic PO: 58%; Higher PO: 53%; Appellate PO: 48%; Special PO's: 19%; Supreme (State) PO: 42%. In total, in 2016, out of 617 deputy prosecutors in public prosecutor's office of Serbia, 338 were female (55%) and 279 were male (45%). The percentage of female heads of offices is: in Basic PO: 41%; Higher PO: 32%; Appellate PO: 25 %; Special PO: 50%; and Supreme (State) PO: 100%. In total, in 2016, out of 90 heads of prosecutor's offices, 55 were male (61 %) and 35 were female (39 %). Thus, for the public prosecutor's office, it can be noticed that the female participation in the number of deputy prosecutors in 2016 remained the same as in 2013 – 55%, while their participation in the number of heads of public prosecutor's offices increased from 31% in 2013 to 39% in 2016. Further, female court presidents (professional judges) in 2016 have represented the majority of the court presidents (professional judges) -In total: 54%; First instance: 54%; Second instance: 50%; Supreme court of Cassation: 0%.

In April 2017, there were 97 female and 68 male notaries, pursuant to the “Report on the Implementation of the Notariat in the Republic of Serbia” (OSCE, Dejan Đurđević, Ph.D.,

Q285 (General Comment): As statistics point out, gender balance in Serbian judiciary is generally present in terms to access to different judicial professions. With respect to the promotion of non-judge staff, the Commissioner for Protection of Equality in Serbia has addressed gender inequality issues in 2016 and 2018. Namely, on 1 June 2018, the Commissioner for Protection of Equality in Serbia issued a General Recommendation on Equality Measures to all courts in Serbia, with respect to the promotion of non-judge staff (please see: <http://ravnopravnost.gov.rs/preporuka-mera-za-ostvarivanje-ravnopravnosti-sudovima-cir/>). This is a follow-up on the recommendations issued on April 20, 2016 by the Commissioner, following an application filed by S.V. and A.M.M. from Kragujevac against the Basic Court in Kragujevac. The applicants were denied promotion under same conditions as other employees due to maternity leave and childcare parental leave. The applicants stated in their complaints that during 2012 and 2013 they received maximum job performance marks but that in 2015 they failed to be promoted as they were not given a job performance mark in 2014 since they were on maternity and childcare parental leave respectively. The Basic Court in Kragujevac stated in its justification that applicants were not eligible for promotion as they had not received the highest job performance mark for the second year in the row since they were not assessed in 2014. The Commissioner for the Protection of Equality has issued a recommendation to the Basic Court in Kragujevac instructing them to implement the regulations governing the promotion of civil servants correctly and in such a way as to prevent putting them in a disadvantaged position due to a protected characteristics, that is, the Court is advised to consider the possibilities for their promotion by taking into account the job performance marks they have already been awarded i.e. to disregard the year in which they have not received a job performance mark due to maternity and childcare parental leaves (please see: <http://ravnopravnost.gov.rs/en/complaint-filed-by-s-v-and-a-m-m-against-basic-court-in-kragujevac-for-discrimination-on-grounds-of-family-status-in-area-of-work-and-employment/>).

Figures submitted to the CEPEJ by Serbia throughout the evaluation cycles show more female than male professional judges in courts at all levels. Also, generally, among Court Presidents at first instance courts, the proportion of women is greater than men. This is reflected in the proportion of candidates for presidency of courts that are women. However, among Court Presidents at the second instance, men far outnumber women. The vast majority of non-judge staff in the courts are women. The overwhelming majority of professional judges sitting in courts are female: Generally, throughout the cycles: total: 70%; -First instance: 70%; -Second instance: 75%; and even at supreme court level: 58%. Therefore, the conclusions on gender representation made in 2014 by the MDTF Serbia Judicial Functional Review likewise stand today, although female second instance court presidents have become significantly more represented.

With respect to public prosecutors, while the proportion of women is higher in basic than higher level PPOs, women represent close to 50 percent of all prosecutors at all levels other than the Office of Organized Crime, throughout the cycles. In 2017, the State Prosecutorial Council has made an analysis of the number of female deputy prosecutors at various levels, based on data from 2016, which was submitted to the CEPEJ. The percentage of female deputy prosecutors is as follows: Basic PO: 58%; Higher PO: 53%; Appellate PO: 48%; Special PO's: 19%; Supreme (State) PO: 42%. In total, in 2016, out of 617 deputy prosecutors in public prosecutor's office of Serbia, 338 were female (55%) and 279 were male (45%). The percentage of female heads of offices is: in Basic PO: 41%; Higher PO: 32%; Appellate PO: 25 %; Special PO: 50%; and Supreme (State) PO: 100%. In total, in 2016, out of 90 heads of prosecutor's offices, 55 were male (61 %) and 35 were female (39 %). Thus, for the public prosecutor's office, it can be noticed that the female participation in the number of deputy prosecutors in 2016 remained the same as in 2013 – 55%, while their participation in the number of heads of public prosecutor's offices increased from 31% in 2013 to 39% in 2016. Further, female court presidents (professional judges) in 2016 have represented the majority of the court presidents (professional judges) -In total: 54%;

(2022): In October 2020, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted the Strategy on Improving Gender Equality in the Judiciary of Bosnia and Herzegovina, based on which all judicial institutions will prepare their implementation plans.

The Strategy is available here: <https://pravosudje.ba/vstvfo/E/141/article/95500> The Strategy was created within the Project Improving Court Efficiency and Accountability of Judges and Prosecutors in BiH - Phase 2, financed by the Government of Sweden, in cooperation with the Swedish National Courts Administration, as the coordinator of gender mainstreaming activities in the courts of Sweden and HJPC's long-term partner.

In 2021, the HJPC has carried out the piloting phase of implementation of the Strategy on Improving Gender Equality in the Judiciary of BiH, in order to create good practices, which will be applied to other judicial institutions.

The piloting phase of implementation of the Strategy was carried out in four judicial institutions in the period March – October 2021.

In cooperation with pilot judicial institutions and Swedish experts, the HJPC has commenced the preparation of activities, with the purpose of implementing the Strategy in the entire judiciary of BiH, within the Project Improving Court Efficiency and Accountability of Judges and Prosecutors in BiH - Phase 3.

The HJPC will provide support to judicial institutions in the process of preparation of their implementation plans and will regularly monitor their realization by judicial institutions.

In 2022, the HJPC has organized seven workshops for all judicial institutions, aimed at providing knowledge necessary for the creation of action plans for the implementation of the Strategy on Improving Gender Equality in the Judiciary of BiH.

The workshops were carried out in partnerships with the Swedish National Courts Administration, Swedish experts and the ambassadors from pilot judicial institutions.

The Government of the Republic of North Macedonia on July 19, 2021 adopted the text of the new Strategy for Gender Equality 2021-2026, now in the parliamentary procedure for adoption. The Strategy is the basic strategic document of the Republic of North Macedonia, which establishes a comprehensive framework of activities for the promotion of gender equality and the promotion of the status of women. The Strategy is adopted for a period of six years 2021 - 2026, as a fourth strategic document in this area. According to the new Strategy 2021-2026, one of the priority areas is Policy and Decision making. It is necessary to increase the number of women in decision-making positions in the executive branch, political parties, media, sports, local self-government, and also in all areas where no legal solutions or quotas are established and where women's participation is very low, according to the Commitment 50 -50. The increase in the number of women decision-makers should be done through incentive measures, and awareness rising, as well as binding legal measures. It is especially important to encourage women to participate in the decision-making structures in the local self-government units, where decisions and measures are made that directly affect the quality of life in the local self-government units. In order to improve the position of women in all areas of public and private life, according to the new Strategy, one of the specific goals is: Equal access to justice for all women and men. (General Comment): As statistics point out, gender balance in Serbian judiciary is generally present in terms to access to different judicial professions.

With respect to the promotion of non-judge staff, the Commissioner for Protection of Equality in Serbia has addressed gender inequality issues in 2016 and 2018. Namely, on 1 June 2018, the Commissioner for Protection of Equality in Serbia issued a General Recommendation on Equality Measures to all courts in Serbia, with respect to the promotion of non-judge staff (please see: <http://ravnopravnost.gov.rs/preporuka-mera-za-ostvarivanje-ravnopravnosti-sudovima-cir/>). This is a follow-up on the recommendations issued on April 20, 2016 by the Commissioner, following an application filed by S.V. and A.M.M. from Kragujevac against the Basic Court in Kragujevac. The applicants were denied promotion under same conditions as other employees due to maternity leave and childcare parental leave. The applicants stated in their complaints that during 2012 and 2013 they received maximum job performance marks but that in 2015 they failed to be promoted as they were not given a job performance mark in 2014 since they were on maternity and childcare parental leave respectively. The Basic Court in Kragujevac stated in its justification that applicants were not eligible for promotion as they had not received the highest job performance mark for the second year in the row since they were not assessed in 2014. The Commissioner for the Protection of Equality has issued a recommendation to the Basic Court in Kragujevac instructing them to implement the regulations governing the promotion of civil servants correctly and in such a way as to prevent putting them in a disadvantaged position due to a protected characteristics, that is, the Court is advised to consider the possibilities for their promotion by taking into account the job performance marks they have already been awarded i.e. to disregard the year in which they have not received a job performance mark due to maternity and childcare parental leaves (please see: <http://ravnopravnost.gov.rs/en/complaint-filed-by-s-v-and-a-m-m-against-basic-court-in-kragujevac-for-discrimination-on-grounds-of-family-status-in-area-of-work-and-employment/>).

Q288-3 (2022): As per the new judicial map, decided in 2022 there will be a reduction of the number of courts. For instance a total of 18 courts will close. 5 Appeal Courts, 13 First Instance Courts. HPC: With Decision no. 495, dated 21.07.2022, "On the reorganization of the judicial districts and territorial powers of the courts", the Council of Ministers has approved the proposal of the Minister of Justice, for the reorganization of the distribution of courts in the territory of the country. According to this decision, throughout the country will operate a total of 13 courts of first instance of general jurisdiction, 1 Court of Appeal of General Jurisdiction and 2 administrative courts of first instance. According to the law, the prosecutor's offices work alongside the judicial system. Consequently, the organization of the prosecution offices will be carried out in accordance with the new judicial map, respectively, near the courts of first instance of general jurisdiction and the Court of Appeal of General Jurisdiction. Specifically, out of 23 prosecutor's offices that are currently in place will function only 13 prosecutor's offices, and out of 6 prosecutor's offices at the appeal level that are currently in place will function only 1 prosecutor's appeal office.

Decision no. 495, dated 21.07.2022, "On the reorganization of the judicial districts and territorial powers of the courts", of the Council of Ministers has determined deadlines during the year 2023 for the merger of the courts according to the new map, dictating the merger of the prosecution offices in accordance with this regulation

Q288-1 (2022): Reform Programme of HJPC for the period 2021 – 2023 has been adopted in May 2021 (available on: <https://vstv.pravosudje.ba/>, Activities, European Integration, Recommendations European Commission) and its Implementation Plan in September 2021. It takes into account recommendations of the European Commission's Peer Review assessment missions, that were carried out between 2016 – 2017, the European Commission's Opinion on Bosnia and Herzegovina's application for membership of the European Union from May 2019 and the accompanying Analytical Report of the European Commission, the Expert Report on Rule of Law Issues in Bosnia and Herzegovina from December 2019 (the Priebe Report), recommendations of the European Commission sent to BiH institutions after the 4th and 5th meetings of the Subcommittee for Justice, Freedom and Security, as well as the third Annual OSCE Report on Judicial Response to Corruption and documents prepared within the framework of USAID's project - The Judiciary against Corruption "Assessing procedures and processes in cases involving high-profile corruption, organised crime and commercial crime".

Q288-3 (2022): Planned reforms:

Debate on the reform of state level judiciary and drafting of the new Law on Courts of BiH is still ongoing; the legislative debate focuses on the establishment of the Appellate/Higher Court of BiH and redefining, in clear terms, criminal jurisdiction of state level judicial institutions. There are no plans set to reform regulation on the competencies and organization of court system and prosecutor's offices.

Implemented reforms:

The HJPC of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted a new Book of Rules on performance indicators for prosecutors in Bosnia and Herzegovina (hereinafter: " Book of Rules ") at the session held on January 17 and 18 in 2022. The Book of Rules seek to ensure uniform application of the rules on measuring and evaluating of the performance of all prosecutors and to ensure more efficient performance of prosecutors and prosecutor's offices in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

The new Book of rules, among other things:

- Significantly reduced the quota for Chief Prosecutors and Deputy Chief Prosecutors in order to direct most of their work to the increased supervision of the work of prosecutors in the prosecutor's office. - The trial phase is weighted by prescribing a higher weighting of indictments compared to order not to conduct investigation and order to discontinue investigation. -The number of prescribed indictments has been reduced, which constitutes the annual quota for certain types of cases with the aim of improving the quality of indictments.
- The proposed new solutions give the possibility that exceptional commitment and work on the most complex cases will be adequately weighted, with a special focus on cases of economic crime, high-level corruption and organized crime.
- Stricter procedure for making decisions on additional weighting is prescribed, which additionally evaluates the prosecutor's work on the most complex types of cases.

Q288-5 (2022): Drafting procedure of the revised Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council is still ongoing, aiming improvements regarding organization and functioning of the HJPC, appointment of judges and prosecutors and disciplinary procedure, system of the appraisal of judges and prosecutors, and straightening of judicial integrity.

In parallel, in 2022, legislative initiative has been newly launched, but not finalized, in order to propose amendments on the existing Law on HJPC and achieve necessary short-term improvements (mainly issues of judicial integrity such as asset declaration for judges and prosecutors and disciplinary matters).

Q288-6 (2022): As explained under Q288-5, drafting of the revised Law on the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council is undergoing. Apart from regulating functioning and organization of the HJPC, Law on HJPC regulates issues regarding appointment/promotion of judges and prosecutors, their discipline and related aspects.

All this issues (appointment, appraisal system, disciplinary procedure and straightening of judicial integrity) are subjected to comprehensive revision in order to improve current system. At the end of 2022, the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina adopted certain changes to the criteria for assessing the work of judges and prosecutors, in accordance with the analysis of the process of assessing the work of judicial office holders in the previous year. Reforms of the criteria for assessing the work of judicial office holders will continue.

Q288-7 (2022): In 2022, the HJPC has organized seven workshops for all judicial institutions, aimed at providing knowledge necessary for the creation of action plans for the implementation of the Strategy on Improving Gender Equality in the Judiciary of BiH.

The workshops were carried out in partnerships with the Swedish National Courts Administration, Swedish experts and the ambassadors from pilot judicial institutions.

In addition, the HJPC has provided support to judicial institutions in the process of preparation of their action plans for the implementation of the Strategy, which was followed by their assessment and adoption.

As a result, the judicial institutions have commenced implementing their action plans in 2022, whilst the HJPC will regularly monitor their realization.

The Strategy is available here: <https://pravosudje.ba/vstvfo/E/141/article/95500>

Q288-12 (2022): Planned reforms:

- CMS/TCMS v3 - Development of the CMS/TCMS v3 is in its final phase. Implementation in the pilot institutions is planned for June 2023, and implementation in the rest of the judiciary institutions is planned to start in August 2023. - Software for planning and tracking of budgets in judiciary institutions – Technical specification for development of the Software is finished. Development of the Software is planned to be finished by the end of the 2023 and implementation in the judiciary institutions is planned for 2024.

- BiH Organized Crime And Corruption Case Map – It is planned that the Case Map will be developed and implemented by the August 2023. Implemented: - e-Sentence Portal – Since January 1, 2022 the e-sentence Portal is available to all employees in judiciary, and from February 1, 2022 it is available to professional community as well as to citizens. It contains judicial practice of 4 highest court in BiH – Court of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Supreme Court of Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Supreme Court of Republica Srpska and Appellate Court of the Brčko District of Bosnia and Herzegovina. It contains selected court decisions and legal opinions. Approximately, 5000 legal opinions with accompanying court decisions have been published so far.

- System for the electronic submission and processing of utility cases (SOKOP – Mal v2) – Implemented in pilot courts and utility companies during March 2022. Implementation in the rest of the courts is planned for the second half of 2023.
