Nejat Taştan

Nejat Taştan has been an activist of the human rights movement since 1986. Taştan, who is still acting as a member of the executive board of Association for Monitoring Equal Rights, has been working on discrimination and human rights monitoring and reporting for the last decade. His studies include Report on Monitoring Race and Ethnical Origin Based Discrimination in Turkey (Istanbul Bilgi University, co-publication), Education and Employment of the Disabled in Turkey (Article, Konrad Adenauer Foundation), Monitoring Report of Independent Election Platform for General Deputy Elections for XXIV Period, 12 June 2011 (Author), Rights-Based Perspective for Independent Monitoring and Elections (Güncel Hukuk September 2014, joint article) and Report on Discrimination and Right Violations Against the Disabled in Turkey (ESHID, co-publication). He is a member in İHD, THİV and ESHİD.

Feray Salman

Feray Salman, who has been actively engaged in the struggle for human rights since 1993, is currently acting as General Coordinator of Human Rights Joint Platform. In addition to various components of human rights movement and monitoring and reporting trainings, she is working together with civil society organisations on rights based approach trainings for civil society, EU Universal Periodic Review and monitoring execution of the European Court of Human Rights judgments. She is a member of Women's Solidarity Foundation, Women's Coalition, İHD, TİHV, Freedom of Expression Association and Association for Monitoring Equal Rights.

Adem Arkadaş-Thibert

Adem Arkadaş-Thibert is an international human rights consultant and advocate. He is working as a key expert on human rights monitoring and advocacy in Etkiniz EU Programme since May 2019. He published numerous international book chapters, articles and implementation guides specifically in relation to monitoring children's rights. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of International Children's Rights Network.

He worked as Human Rights Programme Manager in International Child Centre, an international CSO in Turkey. He also worked in the Organisation for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE) in Bosnia-Herzegovina immediately after the war, United Nations Refugee Agency, Association for Solidarity with Asylum Seekers and Refugees in Turkey and Child Law Centre in United Kingdom.

He studied political science in London School of Economics and Middle East Technical University. He completed his post-graduate studies on demographics in Hacettepe University and on human rights theory and its implementation in Essex University. He is currently completing his PhD on human rights in L'Université d'Aix-Marseille.
