According to new amenedements of the Law on juducial council, in line with the ECHR jurisprudence, and in order to fulfill the EC progress report and the GRECO reccmendations, a new disciplinary procedure has been introduced, where the functions of detecting the evidence, initiating the investigation and conducting the disciplinary procedure against a judge (and president of a court), will be splited among different organs (a new Council for initiation of an investigation has been established, and then the Judicial council will decide on the disciplinary violation.)

- 1.16 Are the decisions by the Presidents shared/negotiated with the other judges or "boards" within the courts?

Yes. The president works closely with the head of the departments and the deputy president. The deputy president is to be assigned by the president and he/her is substituting the president in a case of his/her absence and for the competences that are delegated by the president him/herself.

- 1.17 Do the local lawyers association or any other authority play a role in the decision making process carried out by the court's President?

No. But, the president have regular meetings with the presidents of the Bar association, the Notary bar, and the other in order to solve the daily problems as regard managing, improving the IT system and case management system in the court, managing of the court and the cases, improving the lawyer, s access to the files, improving the process of delivery of the posts etc. But, of course this proactive approach depends of the proactivity of the presidents and their openness to the public and the citizens in general.

- 1.18 Are the organizational decisions taken by the Presidents supervised by any other authority (e.g. Ministry of Justice, Judicial Council, Supreme Court, other)

Presidents of Courts are managing the courts in accordance with the Laws who regulate that matter. Regarding their decisions about the court organization if necessary , they are supervised by the Judicial Council and Judicial Budget Council. As regard the administration of the court buildings and equipment there is a supervisory role of the Ministry of justice. The Ministry of justice do no perform any budgetary control on the presidents of the court as regard the preparation, realization, supervising of the budgetary plan, that is the role of the Judicial budget council. Also, the presidents actively participate in the managing of the judicial budget through their participation in the State budget council (where the president of the Supreme court is a deputy president, the four appellate courts presidents are regular members, and every year three presidents of the basic court are rotating. The presidents have competence to make the assignment of judges by an annual work schedule of the court upon a previously obtained opinion from the session of judges, that is, from the general session of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Macedonia, taking into consideration the decision of the judge for specialization in criminal, civil, commercial, administrative or another legal area. The judge who has not given consent to his/her assignment to the other department can appeal the decision of the president to the General Session of the Supreme court that can quash the decision of the president of the respected court. As an exception, the judge may be transferred to another court division against his/her will by a written, explained decision of the president of the court, upon previously obtained opinion from the general session of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Macedonia, when it is required by the increased workload and the subject of work of the court, but for a period of one year at the most.

As an exception, the judge of a court of appeal and a basic court may be temporarily, and at the most for a period of one year, transferred to another court in the same or lower instance or from one to another specialized division when due to prevention or recusal of a judge, or due to significantly increased workload, reduced efficiency, or due to the complexity of the cases the day-to-day operation of the court comes into question. The temporary transfer of a judge shall be made by the Judicial Council of the Republic of Macedonia and it shall immediately notify the president of the court from which the judge is transferred and the president of the court to which the judge is temporary transferred.

- 1.19 Is there any extra remuneration for Presidents, and how much is it in percentage of the regular judge's salary in the same court?

The amount of the salary of the judge shall be determined depending on:
 - the type of court, the specialized court division (the type of cases it acts upon), the internal duties in the court (president of a: court, division, department and council), the length of service as a judge, the scientific and professional titles and specialization, and the achieved results in the performance of the judicial office. The salary of the judge during the exercise of the judicial office cannot be decreased, except in the cases determined by law. The amount of the salary of the judge shall be defined so as to provide the judge protection against pressures and influences when acting and deciding. The salaries of the judges shall be divided in six groups expressed in coefficients. The distribution of the salaries shall be made according to the type of the court where the judge is employed, that is:

- the first group includes judges and presidents of courts with basic competence,
- the second group includes judges and presidents of courts with extended competence,
- the third group includes judges and presidents of the courts of appeal, and the judges in the specialized court department at the Basic Court Skopje 1 competent for trying in cases in the field of organized crime and corruption through the whole territory of the Republic of Macedonia,
- the fourth group includes judges and the president of the Administrative Court,
- the fifth group includes judges and the president of the Supreme Administrative Court and
- the sixth group includes judges and the president of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Macedonia.

The coefficients for determining the salary of the judges shall be from 2,8 to 3,7. The coefficients shall be determined according to the type of the court where the judge is employed, and according to the complexity of the duties and authorizations for performing additional activities defined by law:

a) in the first group the coefficient shall be:

- 2,8 for a judge and
- 3,0 for a court president;

b) in the second group the coefficient shall be:

- 2,9 for a judge and
- 3,2 for a court president;

c) in the third group the coefficient shall be:

- 3,2 for a judge and
- 3,5 for a court president;

d) in the fourth group the coefficient shall be:

- 3,3 for a judge and
- 3,6 for a court president;

e) in the fifth group the coefficient shall be:

- 3,35 for a judge and
- 3,65 for a court president and

f) in the sixth group the coefficient shall be:

- 3,4 for a judge and
- 3,7 for a court president.

The coefficient of the salary of the president of a court where more than 50 judges are employed shall be 3,4.

The coefficient shall be increased for 0,2 for a president of unit or department.

The coefficient shall be increased for 0,1 for a president of council.

The salary of the judge per hour shall be increased due to:

- work longer than the full time working hours in the amount of 35% and
- work during the holidays in the amount of 50%.

The records of this kind of work shall be kept by the president of the court.

The judge shall have the right to salary supplement for:

- special working conditions,
- existence of a high risk, and
- confidentiality.

The salary supplements shall not be mutually exclusive.

The total amount of the supplements cannot be more than 35% of the basic salary of the judge.

1.20 Please add any critical issue or further information that you consider relevant for this section.

In my opinion more should be done in strengthening the managerial competences as regard the budgetary independence of the presidents of the courts towards the Ministry of finance that is the institution that have the final say in approving the budgetary and human resources that are to be allocated to each court.

2. Tasks, Functions, Relations

- 2.1 Are the Presidents of the courts adjudicating cases as the other judges or they have a reduction fixed by the law, or by practice, of their caseload?

President of the courts do not have to adjudicate cases. However, there are exceptions, the presidents of the first instance court are obliged to decide upon the case regarding the Law of execution and also if the number of judges is not sufficient in the particular court they can adjudicate cases. The presidents of the Appellate courts and of the Supreme court also participate in adjudicating cases. Namely, in accordance with the Law on management of case flow, the president of the court is obliged to follow the situation with the management of court cases, in particular:

- admission, opening and review of the written submissions, submissions, documents and data in an electronic form, the work of the court registry in view of the keeping of registers, formation of cases, submission of cases in progress, reallocation of cases, scheduling of hearings/appearance in court, undertaking of court activities outside of the court building, adoption, preparation and announcement of judgments, delivery of written submissions, delivery on cases on the basis of legal remedy, delivery of cases on the request of another court or a state body, referring to judges jurors, forensics, interpreters, translators and court experts, status of cases submitted for expertise, acting on cases related to international legal assistance, statuses of the functioning of the automated court case management information system for management of court cases, revival of cases and writs, implementation of judgments and other actions, archiving of cases, status of the charging of court fees, execution of criminal and misdemeanor judgments, timely keeping of records of the criminal database and the misdemeanor database.

The obligations are performed by the president of the court on daily basis and immediately through the monitoring of the database and the reviews of the obligations of the presidents of court departments, the judges, the court administrator, the responsible court administrators and each court administrator with regard to the timely fulfillment of their obligations for the management of court cases in the court. Unfortunately this new management system should be further improved in the practical implementation as all judges who should have additional managerial tasks do not get extra reduction of the regular number of case that they have to solve monthly and due to their daily regular work they can hardly find enough time to assist the president.

- 2.2 Are the Presidents involved in the selection and recruitment of the judges? (Please make a distinction, if applicable, between full-time/permanent judges, temporary judges, lay judges if it applies in your respective jurisdiction).

No.

2.3 Are the Presidents involved in the selection and recruitment of the court staff?

The courts shall plan the employment in the judicial service on the basis of the Planning Methodology stipulated in the Law on Public Service Employees, for the purposes of which the Judicial Administrator, or the President of the Court not having a judicial administrator elected, shall prepare an Annual Employment Plan for the judicial officers for the following calendar year. The judicial administrator, or the President of the Court not having a judicial administrator elected, shall submit the Plan for approval to the Court Budget Council the latest of 1st March, which, on the basis of received plans by the courts, shall prepare a universal Annual Employment Plan, to be submitted to the Ministry of Finance for approval, in line with its competencies, within a time period of two months.

2.4 Do the Presidents assess the work of the judges of the court? (If this the case, please describe how often does it happen, what kind of procedure is followed, what are the consequences of this assessment, and if the assessment can be challenged by the judges before a tribunal/court).

No.

2.5 Are the Presidents in charge of starting a disciplinary procedure against a judge? (If this is the case please describe briefly the procedure and who is going to make the final decision about the charge).

The president of the court shall be obliged to notify the Judicial Council of the Republic of Macedonia about the disciplinary offences within a period of eight days as of the day of committing the offence. The procedure is urgent and of confidential character and is conducted without presence of the public and with respect to the reputation and dignity of the judges and also respecting the regulations on protecting the personal data of the judges.

2.6 Can, and under which circumstances, the Presidents fire a judge or a court employee?

No. Decision on dismissal of the judge shall be adopted by the Judicial Council of the Republic of Macedonia. The judge shall be dismissed from the judicial office:

- due to serious disciplinary offence that makes him/her discreditable to exercise the judicial office prescribed by law and
- due to unprofessional and neglectful exercise of the judicial office under the conditions defined by law. As of the day of dismissal of the judge by the Judicial Council of the Republic of Macedonia, the judge's right to salary shall cease.

Yes, the President of the court can fire a court employee. The judicial officer shall be held personally accountable for performing the works and tasks on the job. On any violation of official duty, the judicial officer, except for the Judicial Administrator shall be subject to disciplinary measure. Termination of employment in cases of harmful outcome for the court, without the possibility to determine extenuating circumstances for the judicial officer acting as offender. In pronouncement of disciplinary measures, the following shall be taken into consideration: the severity of the violation, the consequences of violation, the degree of responsibility of the judicial officer, the circumstances under which the violation has been committed, former conduct and performance of tasks by the judicial officer, as well as other extenuating or aggravating circumstances pertinent to the pronouncement of the disciplinary measure.

The disciplinary measures against the judicial officer for disciplinary violation shall be pronounced by the Judicial Administrator, or the President of the Court not having a judicial administrator elected.

- 2.7 Which is the procedure in assigning cases to judges? Is there place for discretion of resident of the court in this procedure If yes, is it regulated by law or other kind of regulation.

Cases are assigned to judges randomly by automatic system. The President of the court can only decide to stop assignation of cases to particular time if there are justified reasons for such decision (i.e. sickness, judge is dealing with huge and complex cases etc.)

- 2.8 Can Presidents set priorities in the handling of the cases (e.g. family cases must be dealt with before contracts)?

The priorities are set up in the law. President are in position to set priorities as an order but can suggest to judges to pay more attention to some cases if circumstances justify such measure (i.e. old cases)

- 2.9 Which are the circumstances that may allow Presidents to retrieve cases from judges and re-assign them?

In general if judge is not in position to deal with the cases anymore. (i.e. transfer to other division, sick leave, etc.)
