These records represent thousands of packages seized per month. We utilise this reporting to undertake checks to identify any athletes/support people potentially subject to the jurisdiction of the WADA Code. We also use the data to do trend analysis (country of origin, substance, consigner, consignee etc) and provide those insights back to Department of Home Affairs for target development. We also receive ad-hoc reporting through State based Policing agencies regarding the seizure of doping substances as part of regular law enforcement processes. We are looking to further expand on these relationships through the National Strategy for Information Sharing to attempt to identify opportunities to increase the consistency of this reporting and to utilise our analysis of the seizure data above to identify potential targets involved in the trafficking of doping substance to be addressed in collaboration with law enforcement.

 International Anti-Doping Arrangement (IADA) 2021-2023(SIGNED).pdf

Objective :

In order to implement the requirements of Article 9 of the Anti-Doping Convention, the annual online questionnaire is ready for data-collection on anti-doping policies in 2022.

In addition to the standard questions, three new ones on doping in recreational sport have been added replacing those on whistleblower protection. Please note that the proposed definitions for these questions are included in the instructions for each question.

For example, Question 1 refers to "gyms/fitness centres users" as individuals with a membership to a gyms/fitness centres. Gyms/fitness centres users may include both men and women at all ages, who partake in any kind of exercise activity offered by the gyms/fitness centres, including, but not limited to, strength training, endurance training, and/or group training (aerobics, spinning, yoga etc). Gym/fitness centre: A health, recreational, and social facility where people go to exercise, for example by lifting weights or using other equipment. It is often a for-profit commercial facility but may also be a community-based or institutionally supported centre.

Objective :

In order to implement the requirements of Article 9 of the Anti-Doping Convention, the annual online questionnaire is ready for data-collection on anti-doping policies in 2022.

In addition to the standard questions, three new ones on doping in recreational sport have been added replacing those on whistleblower protection. Please note that the proposed definitions for these questions are included in the instructions for each question.

For example, Question 1 refers to "gyms/fitness centres users" as individuals with a membership to a gyms/fitness centres. Gyms/fitness centres users may include both men and women at all ages, who partake in any kind of exercise activity offered by the gyms/fitness centres, including, but not limited to, strength training, endurance training, and/or group training (aerobics, spinning, yoga etc). Gym/fitness centre: A health, recreational, and social facility where people go to exercise, for example by lifting weights or using other equipment. It is often a for-profit commercial facility but may also be a community-based or institutionally supported centre.

Instruction :

For general instructions, please select the documentation links at the top of the page.

For specific instructions, please note that each question has additional support tools - previous answers and specific information related to that question.

If you encounter any problems that prevent you from completing the questionnaire, please email us at sport.t-do@coe.int.

Please complete, save and submit your country's 2022 data preferably by 27 April 2023. The final deadline for completing the survey is 1 June 2023.

This includes, for example, the names of the categories of nutrients or other substances that are characteristic of the product, the recommended daily intake in servings of the product and a warning that this intake should not be exceeded. If a food supplement is to bear a health claim, this must be approved under the Health Claims Regulation (Regulation (EC) No. 1924/2006). Coffee or tea or beverages based on coffee or tea extract and where the term "coffee" or "tea" appears in the designation are exempt from this regulation. A comparable notification requirement (Contains caffeine. Not recommended for children and pregnant women) also applies to foods other than beverages to which caffeine has been added for physiological purposes. There are no special legal bases for this type of product. However, all products in Germany may only be placed on the market as food if they comply with the applicable food law regulations. According to the provisions of the Food and Feed Code (LFGB) and Regulation (EC) No. 178/2002 (so-called basic regulation in food law), e.g. prohibited from producing or placing on the market food that is unsafe. Implementation of anti-doping policies in 2022 - Questionnaire - Modified 1.0

Objective :

In order to implement the requirements of Article 9 of the Anti-Doping Convention, the annual online questionnaire is ready for data-collection on anti-doping policies in 2022.

In addition to the standard questions, three new ones on doping in recreational sport have been added replacing those on whistleblower protection. Please note that the proposed definitions for these questions are included in the instructions for each question.

For example, Question 1 refers to "gyms/fitness centres users" as individuals with a membership to a gyms/fitness centres. Gyms/fitness centres users may include both men and women at all ages, who partake in any kind of exercise activity offered by the gyms/fitness centres, including, but not limited to, strength training, endurance training, and/or group training (aerobics, spinning, yoga etc). Gym/fitness centre: A health, recreational, and social facility where people go to exercise, for example by lifting weights or using other equipment. It is often a for-profit commercial facility but may also be a community-based or institutionally supported centre.
