

Conny Rijken is a Dutch national. Since 1 September 2022, she has been the Dutch National Rapporteur on Trafficking in Human Beings and Sexual Violence against Children. The National Rapporteur investigates the nature and extent of human trafficking and sexual violence against children in the Netherlands, and advises national and local government, other administrative bodies, international organisations and professionals who provide help and support, on how to prevent and combat human trafficking and sexual violence against children.

Conny Rijken is also professor of Human Trafficking and Globalisation at Tilburg University in the Netherlands. She has spent the past 25 years researching the various aspects of human trafficking, including labour exploitation, the role of companies in combating human trafficking and the psychological consequences of human trafficking. In addition, she is an expert in the field of global migration and conducts research into abuses during migration, including human trafficking and smuggling.

In March 2025, Conny Rijken was elected as President of GRETA.

Conny Rijken holds a PhD in Law.
