

Stanislava Stefanova is a member of the Advisory Council on Youth and a Gender Equality Rapporteur to the Joint Council on Youth of the Council of Europe. She is 23 and has been active in the youth sector for more than 6 years. She has served as a Vice President in the Executive Board of AEGEE – European Students' Forum (2022-2023). Her work in various youth and civil society organisations on a local level has equipped her with knowledge in the spheres of youth participation and leadership, inclusion, gender equality, human rights and intercultural learning. Her academic background in Law and Social Sciences has contributed to her research on the topics of human rights protection and socio-political inequalities. Above all gender equality has always been her passion topic and a basis for her journey as an activist. From projects, events and advocacy to policy and academic papers, fighting against gender-based discrimination is in the center of her work within and outside of the youth field.
