

Biographies

Barbara Wasson is a full Professor of Information Science at the Department of Information Science and Media Studies, University of Bergen, Norway, and Director of the Centre for the Science of Learning & Technology (SLATE), the national competence centre for learning analytics funded by the Norwegian Ministry of Education.

In addition to her work for the Council of Europe, she is a member of the Norwegian Government's expert group on learning analytics, which is looking at the technical, pedagogical, legal and ethical aspects of the implementation of learning analytics in the Norwegian educational sector.

ORCID: 0000-0003-4897-1394.

Professor Michael Draper PFHEA RLAUKAT is Deputy Pro Vice Chancellor Education at Swansea University. He is co-chair of the Welsh Integrity and Assessment Network and an expert consultant with the UK QAA Academic Integrity Advisory Group and the ETINED platform of the Council of Europe. He has published and presented extensively on aspects of ethics academic integrity and assessment. Michael is a Professor of Legal Education and is a member of the Law Society's Education and Training Committee and a member of the QAA's subject benchmark committee for law. ORCID: 0000-0003-1272-8122.

Professor Phil Newton works at Swansea University where conducts teaching and research in the field of Evidence Based Education. He has published extensively in the field of academic integrity where his research is focused on practical, pragmatic solutions to the promotion and maintenance of academic integrity, particularly through assessment design. ORCID <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5272-7979>

Nick den Hollander is Research Integrity Coordinator at Erasmus University, Rotterdam, The Netherlands. The responsibilities of the Coordinator revolve around promoting research integrity in general. He is also responsible for EUR policies related to PhD's and research assessments.