What is the Congress?

The Congress of Local and Regional Authorities is the Council of Europe's political assembly dedicated to strengthening local and regional democracy and upholding human rights and the rule of law at grassroots level in the organisation's 46 member states. It brings together elected representatives from local and regional authorities and provides a forum for political dialogue. The Congress monitors the implementation of the European Charter of Local Self-Government, observes local and regional elections and supports local and regional authorities when putting the Council of Europe's fundamental values into practice.

The Congress and youth participation

A precursor in integrating youth perspectives in the Council of Europe's work beyond youth-specific policies, since October 2014, the Congress has invited young people from different backgrounds – youth activists, youth workers, students, youth political leaders – who take an active interest in the work of the Council of Europe and the role of local and regional authorities to take part in its sessions and meetings, express their views in debates and exchange with Congress members on the issues on its agenda.

As an integral part of their participation, youth delegates have since 2016 also been required to develop their own projects at local and regional level in between the sessions.

Please consult our website for additional background on the Congress's youth delegates programme.

Participating in the Congress's work for one year

Being a Congress youth delegate is a unique opportunity to gain international experience as a part of a diverse group of young people, to network and to make an impact by bringing youth perspectives to Congress debates. The participation of youth delegates in its work both highlights and helps to strengthen the Congress's continuing commitment to youth empowerment.

1. Participating as a youth delegate in the sessions

During the sessions, youth delegates sit in the hemicycle alongside the Congress members.

A two-day preparatory meeting is held prior to each session. This is not a training session but serves to familiarise youth delegates with the functioning of the Congress; candidates should already have the necessary public speaking skills, be able to prepare short speeches and be capable of analysing policy documents.

Youth delegates must commit to taking part in the whole of the two sessions in 2027:

- From Saturday 20 March (19.00) until the debriefing session on Thursday 25 March (17.00)
- From Saturday 23 October (19.00) until the debriefing session on Thursday 28 October (17.00)

A dinner will be organised before (20 March and 23 October 2027) and after (26 March and 28 October 2027) each session.

2. Developing and implementing projects between the sessions

Between the March and October sessions, youth delegates will be required to develop a local or regional project related to the Congress's priorities or to thematic debates held by the Congress during its 2027 sessions. These projects may take different forms (conference, mobile application, presentation to school, podcast, ...). The summaries of the projects of the 2026 youth delegates give an indication of the range of possibilities that can be envisaged.

For the development of their projects, youth delegates will have the support of trainers to develop and assess their ideas through mentoring sessions.

The Congress does not provide funding for project development but does provide youth delegates with an introduction letter to act as a visiting card in their dealings with local or regional authorities. It may also provide information documents and other material, if needed.

3. Other events

There may also be possibilities during the year for some youth delegates to take part in other events organised by the Congress in or outside Strasbourg, such as its committee meetings, seminars or conferences, or to take part as a Congress youth delegate in other Council of Europe or external events.

Aims and objectives

By inviting young people from every member State to take part in its Rejuvenating Politics initiative, the Congress aims to give young people an opportunity to express their opinions directly to local and regional elected representatives, to ensure youth perspectives are heard, and to promote young people's ongoing participation in democratic processes both at international level and at home, in line with the principles of the European Charter on the Participation of Young People in Local and Regional Life.

The specific objectives of the youth delegates programme are to:

- involve young people directly in all aspects of the Congress's work;
- make young people aware of the Congress's work and the tools it has developed to support youth participation;
- exchange with young people and raise the awareness of Congress members regarding how local and regional youth participation can be boosted;
- bring youth perspectives to all thematic debates within the Congress;

- motivate and empower youth delegates to multiply the information and experience acquired during the sessions on their return home, in particular through the development and implementation of their own projects at local and regional levels;
- share information about existing models of youth-led structures;
- inspire young people to spread the word about the Congress's work;
- promote co-operation between members of the Congress and youth delegates;
- show national delegations the importance of officially including more young people as members.

Programme

The entire youth delegates programme is compulsory. Youth delegates who do not take part in one or more of these aspects will be replaced by their national substitute delegate.

Compulsory activities include:
- participation in all the preparatory activities with the trainers, including possible online meetings, prior to each session;
- full attendance during both sessions (which includes the preparation days on the eve of each session and the evaluation meeting on the last afternoon of each session);
- participation in several meetings via videoconference (April - September) with trainers to prepare the grassroots project;
- implementation of the project between April and mid-September 2027.

Profile of candidates

All youth delegates should:
- be open, committed and motivated to develop and strengthen dialogue between young people and elected representatives at local/regional level;
- be aged between 18 and 30 years old on 31 December 2026;
- live in and hold the passport of one of the 46 Council of Europe member States;
