Courts of general jurisdiction are organised into specialised sections. For example, the commercial courts (which also deal with insolvency cases) are specialised sections of the district court. Only the administrative, military and social security courts of first instance are autonomous.

In addition to the specialised courts listed above, the law of July 27, 1997, established the Constitutional Court, which reviews the conformity of laws with the Constitution upon referral by judicial or administrative courts when such questions arise. Courts must refer these questions unless they deem them irrelevant, unfounded, or previously addressed. Parties can raise such issues, and courts may also do so on their own initiative. Representation before the Constitutional Court requires a lawyer listed in the annual bar association registers. The judgments of the Constitutional Court are published in the Official Journal of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg within thirty days from their pronouncement." Compared with the annual average salary in the country, the salary for a judge at the beginning of his/her career is 1,3 times higher (the EU median is 1,9).

At the highest level, the range of the EU absolute gross salary for a judge is from 58 623€ to 266 974€. Luxembourg's absolute gross salaries for judges at the highest level is 51% above the EU median of 118 595€.

For public prosecutors, the range for the absolute gross salary at the beginning of career is from a minimum of 25 759€ to a maximum of 101 592€.

In 2023, the absolute gross salary of a public prosecutor at the beginning of his/her career in Luxembourg of 101 592€ is more than double the EU median of 49 953€. Luxembourg is the country with maximum absolute gross salary in the EU.

Compared with the annual average salary in the country, the salary for a public prosecutors at the beginning of their career is 1,3 times higher (the EU median is 1,7).

At the highest level, the minimum absolute gross salary for prosecutors in the European Union is 51 456€ and the maximum is 199 670€. Luxembourg's absolute gross salaries for prosecutors at the highest level is 92% above the EU median of 93 759€.

As the starting salary for a professional judge of first instance or public prosecutor, the salary of attachés de justice after their initial appointment is taken into account. The salary scale for magistrates is based on 380 index points. While any prior professional experience may be added to this, it is not taken into account in our calculations.

For the theoretical maximum salary of a judge or prosecutor at the Court of Appeal, grade M6, step 7 is used, which corresponds to 647 points, plus 25 points for management duties. To calculate the annual salary, these points are multiplied by the value of the index point. The value of the index point, which changed three times in 2023, is:

- on 1 February: €21.7301,
- on 1 April: €22.2733,
- on 1 September: €22.8300.

Taking these indices into account, the 12-month gross salary amounts to €101,592 for a professional judge of first instance and €179,657 for a judge or prosecutor at the Supreme Court. These figures exclude any bonuses, allowances, or benefits that may supplement the basic salary depending on the magistrate.

Further details on the calculation of civil servants' salaries, applicable to the M career for magistrates, can be found on the Civil Service website (<https://fonctionpublique.public.lu/fr/carriere/parcours-remuneration/fonctionnaire/traitement.html>).

The law of 1st September 1988 concerning the civil liability of the State and public authorities permits the State to be held civilly liable before ordinary courts when a litigant alleges harm resulting from the defective functioning of judicial bodies. Examples of such dysfunction include excessive length of proceedings or a conviction stemming from judicial malpractice, which could form the basis of a claim. These complaints are typically brought before courts of first instance.

Additionally, complaints about excessive length of proceedings may be pursued before the European Court of Human Rights (for violations of Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights) or could result in procedural sanctions during ongoing proceedings. However, the latter do not appear within the scope of the national systems. The involvement of various actors complicates the identification and categorisation of claims and compensation decisions, making it challenging to provide data that accurately reflects the broader situation.

Nevertheless, it was possible to compile data on compensation for wrongful arrest/detention as regulated by the law of 30 December 1981 on compensation for inoperative pre-trial detention. Available figures pertain to requests for compensation and decisions granting such compensation in cases of inoperative preventive detention (IPD)(<https://mj.gouvernement.lu/fr/service-citoyens/detention-preventive.html>), as well as the total amounts disbursed. It should be noted that, under the provisions of the law of 30 December 1981, the decisions are of administrative nature, rather than convictions.

The category "Wrongful convictions": includes applications for review lodged with the Court of cassation. In 2023, no requests for compensation were lodge and consequently, there were no compensations granted.

4. Performance of courts in Luxembourg (2023 data)

• Efficiency indicators

- Clearance Rate (CR) and Disposition Time (DT)

The Clearance Rate shows the capacity of a judicial system to deal with incoming cases. A Clearance Rate of 100% and higher does not generate backlog.

The Disposition Time determines the estimated number of days necessary for a pending case to be solved in court.

Clearance Rate by instance and by matter in 2023 (%)

DispositionTime by instance and by matter in 2023 (days)

At the outset, it should be recalled that in Luxembourg data on criminal law cases are partial. Namely, the Clearance Rate indicator cannot be calculated at first instance, while the Disposition Time can be calculated at Supreme court level only.

The Clearance Rate is below 100% for both civil and commercial litigious cases and administrative cases at first instance, while at second instance it is slightly below 100% for civil and commercial litigious cases and at 91,9% for administrative cases. Second instance criminal cases show a Clearance Rate of 114,1%. The Disposition Time for first instance civil and commercial litigious cases is below the EU median, while first instance administrative cases take an average of 479 days, exceeding the EU median of 322 days. At the second instance, the trend reverses: civil and commercial litigious cases have a significantly higher Disposition Time (497 days) compared to the EU median of 204 days, while administrative cases match the EU median of 288 days.

At third instance the Clearance Rate is well below 100% for the two available matters, and particularly for civil and commercial litigious cases, with 73,1%. The number of incoming cases rose by 37% from 2022 to 2023, following a decline in 2022 compared to 2020 (108 cases) and 2019 (116 cases). This fluctuation stems from external factors, such as the volume of appeals, which depend on decisions at other levels of jurisdiction. The legislative framework remained unchanged during this period. At the Court of Cassation, magistrates handle both criminal and non-criminal cases. In 2023, a rise in resolved criminal cases, including applications for judicial review of decisions by the Council Chamber (excluded from reported figures), reduced the time available for non-criminal cases. Additionally, fluctuations in the Court’s composition, including temporary unavailability of certain magistrates, may have impacted case resolution rates.

Regarding criminal law cases at the highest instance, the number of incoming cases increased due to external factors and the number of decisions taken at other instance levels. As for the number of pending criminal cases at the highest instance, it increased by 23%, which in absolute terms corresponds to a difference of 6 pending cases, with pending cases increasing from 26 to 32, due to a higher number of incoming cases than resolved cases. The Clearance Rate is at 89,5% at Supreme Court level, while at second instance is above the threshold.

Misdemeanour and/or minor cases	NA	NA	1,22	NA
Other criminal cases	NA	0,40	0,31	NA

The number of total incoming and pending criminal cases in 2023 in Luxembourg is not available due to the specific organisation of workflow between courts and public prosecution services. Files are only transferred to courts shortly before a hearing date, and if a case is not heard on a scheduled date, it is returned to the public prosecution service until a new hearing date is given. Thus, there are - with few exceptions - no pending cases before criminal courts over an extended period, and the number of incoming cases is more or less equal to the number of resolved ones.

The number of total resolved criminal cases in 2023 in Luxembourg (2,15 per 100 inhabitants) is somewhat above EU median (1,59 per 100 inhabitants).

Minor criminal cases include cases concluded by criminal order in the magistrate's court or district court. Serious offenses encompass all cases concluded by a first-instance judgment in the police, correctional or criminal courts.

The figures listed under 'other criminal cases' correspond to cases referred to the investigating department. The initiation of an investigation by a judge at the Tribunal requires a requisition from the Public Prosecutor. Two types of investigations exist: judicial investigations for crimes or misdemeanors and "mini-investigations" based on Article 24-1 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (CCP). In 2023, a significant number of cybercrime cases (phishing) led to "mini-investigations" under Article 24-1. Additionally, investigative chambers saw increased activity in financial and economic cases. "Mini-investigations" allow prosecutors to request specific investigative measures without opening a full preparatory investigation, expediting case resolutions and contributing to the rise in closed cases.

4. Pending cases on 31 Dec. ref. year	NA	NA	NA	0,88

* Please note that these figures include traffic offence cases.

Cases concluded by a penalty or measure imposed or negotiated by the public prosecutor are considered closed if the party concerned complies with the condition imposed by the warning or fulfils its obligations arising from the mediation. In the event of non-compliance, the public prosecution will resume.

Cases discontinued for other reasons mainly concern two specific measures: firstly, with regard to road traffic, the obligation to follow a driving course and, only for young adult offenders, participation in a course in the Choice 18+ programme designed to prevent drug addiction (<https://www.solina.lu/fr/facilities/impuls/>).

The decrease in cases discontinued for other reasons is linked to a decline in cases involving young adult offenders (18–21 years old). Under the Choice 18+ program, designed to prevent drug addiction, cases are closed if participants complete the program successfully. However, due to internal organisational practices within public prosecutors' offices, these cases are closed collectively rather than individually upon completion of the traineeships.

Additionally, the drop in discontinued cases since 2023 relates to narcotics and young offenders and is attributed to the legalisation of recreational cannabis in Luxembourg in July 2023, which led to a reduction in prosecutions by law enforcement.

In 2023, there are 292 accredited or registered mediators who practise court related mediation which represents 43,4 accredited or registered mediators per 100 000 inhabitants.

The variation of the number of mediators between 2022 and 2023 is about 8,1%.

The figures provided represent the total number of accredited mediators as of 3 December of the reference year (in civil, commercial and criminal matters) without taking into account mediators who have ceased their activity.

Mediators in Civil and Commercial Matters

Any individual may apply for accreditation as a mediator under the Act of 24 February 2012 and the Grand Ducal Regulation of 25 June 2012. Applicants must meet the following cumulative conditions:

- Provide guarantees of probity, competence, training, independence, and impartiality.
- Submit a criminal record extract from Luxembourg or a similar document from the country of residence over the last five years, proving no convictions for crimes, child-related offenses, or fraudulent bankruptcy, and no withdrawal of parental authority.
- Enjoy civil and political rights, evidenced by registration on Luxembourg's electoral rolls or equivalent documentation.

Have specific mediation training, proven by:

- A master's degree in mediation from an EU-recognised institution, or
- Three years of professional experience plus at least 150 hours of mediation training, including 40 hours in a single program and a minimum of 50 hours of practical training (internship or role-playing).

Applications must include the required proof and be submitted to the Minister of Justice.

Mediators in criminal matters

Anyone wishing to be approved as a criminal mediator must submit an application to the Minister of Justice, who will decide on the application after seeking the opinion of the State Attorney General. The individual must provide guarantees of probity, competence, training, independence and impartiality.

8. Systems for measuring and evaluating the performance of courts and public prosecution services in Luxembourg (2023 data)

In Luxembourg, quality standards are not determined for the judicial system at national level.

Systems for measuring and evaluating courts' performance

A regular monitoring system of court activities is in place concerning:

Number of incoming cases	✓	Satisfaction of users (regarding the services delivered by the courts)	✗
Length of proceedings (timeframes)	✓	Costs of the judicial procedures	✓
Number of resolved cases	✓	Number of appeals	✓
Number of pending cases	✓	Appeal ratio	✓
Backlogs	✓	Clearance rate	✓
Productivity of judges and court staff	✗	Disposition time	✓
Satisfaction of court staff	✗	Other	✗

No regular system has been implemented up to today. However, a monitoring can be done through the statistical service of the judiciary (SSJ) on a punctual basis and upon request of the competent authorities.

Quantitative performance targets do not exist for judges. ✗
