The provided total number of judges corresponds to the number of de facto occupied judicial posts performing judicial functions. At the end of 2023, 861 judicial posts were formally occupied; however, 16 judges were assigned to other duties (e.g., the Ministry of Justice, the Supreme Court, or the Judicial Council) and did not sit in courts. Consequently, 845 professional judges (FTE) actively performed judicial functions.

Additionally, data on the actual presence of judges in courts—excluding maternity or sick leave but including annual leave—was collected. According to these calculations, the number of judges in the Slovenian judicial system in 2023 was 79.09.

Judges at the Administrative Court and higher judges at local and district courts (first instance courts) are reported as according to their courts (first-instance judges) and not according to their rank (higher-court judges).

As regards the distribution male/Female, it has to be specified that the total number of female professional judges (all instances) is 692, which represents 81,9% of the total number of judges. Although the majority of judges are female in the first and second instances (above 80%), at Supreme Court level female judges are slighly below 50%; with an increase between 2022 and 2023 from 43,3% to 48, 3%.

Data is not collected in a way to allow reporting in CEPEJ categories above. Court staff is employed by courts to work on posts as defined by the government regulation. Generally, positions in public administration are divided on "expert-technical" staff and "officials". The Courts Law explicitly provides typical profiles of non-judge staff: judicial assistants, higher and independent judicial assistants and judicial advisers (comparatively they can also perform some typical Rechtspflegers tasks in civil enforcement, land registry, business registry and insolvency cases). The law also provides for judicial trainees. Other typical profiles in courts include: typists, registrars (case management systems) as well as employees in court management and general services (e.g. accounting, HR, archives, general maintenance, cleaning) and IT staff (system administrators/engineers).]

The number of court staff is reported according to court management reporting standard (occupied work posts), while the number of males/females is calculated according to human resources records.

Break down by some typical profiles (number of occupied posts):

Court directors: 15
Judicial advisers: 617
Judicial assistants: 588
Court registrars: 498
Typists:881
Judicial trainees: 120

This classification applies regardless of the court where they actually perform their duties or if they are temporarily assigned to other institutions (e.g., the State Prosecutorial Council).

Slovenian state prosecutors perform their function in 13 organisational units – prosecution offices. There are 11 District State Prosecutor’s Offices and one Specialised State Prosecutor’s Office of The Republic of Slovenia, where local, district and senior state prosecutors are positioned. At The Office of the Prosecutor General of the Republic of Slovenia supreme state prosecutors and State Prosecutor General perform their functions, and also some state prosecutors of lower ranks. There are no higher state prosecutor’s offices as the proceedings before the courts of appeal are governed by the district prosecutor’s offices. According to the State Prosecution Service Act prosecutors with the rank of at least local state prosecutor may represent a case before local courts, prosecutors with the rank of at least district state prosecutor may represent a case before district courts, prosecutors with the rank of at least senior state prosecutor may represent a case before higher courts and only supreme state prosecutors may represent a case before the supreme court. Local state prosecutors may also appear before district courts if authorized by the head of state prosecutor’s office for certain categories of matters, for a particular matter, for certain categories of procedural acts or for a particular procedural act. The basic salary for judges and prosecutors is regulated by law, as well as their promotion. The salary of the prosecutor is determined on the same basis, with the same supplements and in the same way as the salary of the judge. All employees in the country (including judges and public prosecutors) are also entitled to the supplement for the period of employment. As the calculation of the average pay would be too complicated, we report figures calculated from above criteria.

All figures reported include the supplement for the period of employment.

Judge/prosecutor at the beginning of the career: starting salary for local court judge and for local state prosecutor (without promotion), including the supplement for the period of employment (5 years) - approx. 1-2% of the reported amount.

Judge/Prosecutor at the highest instance: salary of a supreme court judge and supreme state prosecutor – counselor (not president of the Supreme Court or State Prosecutor General) including the supplement for the period of employment (44 years) - approx 15% of the reported amount.

In June 2023, the Constitutional Court ruled that the regulation of judges' salaries in Slovenia was inconsistent with the constitutional principle of judicial independence and the separation of powers, leading to a required salary increase of 26.2%. Following up on this decision, the Constitutional Court has decided in May 2024 (U-I-8/24) that judges' pay be raised by an amount corresponding to the total rise in consumer prices in the past decade. The judges will receive higher salaries in September 2024, when they receive their monthly pay for August, along with the difference in back pay starting from 3 January 2024.

The State Attorney's Office determines compensation based on individual circumstances, including the duration of arrest, impact on family and social life, media exposure, health effects, and precedents from similar cases.

The figures above represent cases in courts or court settlements from 2023, where compensations will be paid in 2023 or later. These exclude procedures handled by the State Attorney's Office in 2023, which are mandatory before filing lawsuits.

There were also significant savings due to several longer absences from work for health reasons, which were reimbursed by the Health Insurance Institute of Slovenia. The same reasons apply also for lower expenditures on training.

Comments on writing assistance tools

Under „Civil“ only cases corresponding to the category: “1. Civil (and commercial) litigious cases” in Q91 are taken into account (i.e. civil litigious cases, commercial cases, labour cases, social cases, insolvency cases and various civil cases). In all of these cases, the CMS enables some form of writing assistance tools.

Writing assistance tools are also available in cases, not included in any of the categories above:

- civil enforcement cases - Deployment rate: 95-100%/ Usage rate: N/A
- family cases - Deployment rate: 95-100%/ Usage rate: N/A
- land registry cases - Deployment rate: 95-100%/ Usage rate: 95-100%
- bussines registry - Deployment rate:95-100%/ Usage rate: N/A
- civil enforcement cases on base of authentic document - Deployment rate: 95-100%/ Usage rate: 95-100%

Please also note that the number of (incoming) cases at Q91:”2. Non-litigious cases” is 14x the number of “1.Civil (and commercial) litigious cases” and the number of (incoming) cases at Q91:”4.Other cases” is 4x the number of “1.Civil (and commercial) litigious cases”.

Automatically generated text: In civil (and commercial) litigious cases, as well as in non-litigious, administrative and criminal cases, only simple court writings are available as templates (i.e. notifications, summons).

Automatically generated text: limited only to case metadata.

Speech-to-text system (TIPKO) is in a implementation phase in all Slovenian courts.

Comments on recording of court hearings

Usage rate: the option to record hearings is widely used. However, there is no data collected on actual usage, therefore the above answer is only an estimation.

Systematic recording for all hearings: the decision to record or not is in the hands of an individual judge.

Possibility to request a copy of the recording: a party has a right to acces the recording, as well as to object the authenticity of the transcript.

Voice recording: available in all courtrooms. Currently, a new system is in implementation for central collection of recordings (ASOD II), enabling (secure) remote access to recordings and providing interoperability with newly implemented speech-to-text system (TIPKO).

8. Systems for measuring and evaluating the performance of courts and public prosecution services in Slovenia
(2023 data)

In Slovenia, quality standards are determined for the judicial system at national level (e.g. quality systems for the judiciary and/or judicial quality policies). Specialised personnel within the courts and the public prosecution services is entrusted with implementation of these national level quality standards.

The Supreme Court's Data warehouse, containing all court cases, as well as financial data and human resources data was implemented in 2011. The data are collected based on CEPEJ Guidelines on Judicial statistics (GOJUST). A special office at the Supreme Court with specialised knowledge was introduced in order to monitor the quality and define quality policies on the level of entire judiciary and individual courts. Quality standards based on SATURN guidelines are taken into account in several predefined BI system reports.

The Supreme Court plays a key role in determining quality standards through its "Opening of the Judicial Year" document, which sets priorities monitored throughout the year using automated BI tools and customised analysis. The 2013 amendment to the Courts Act requires the Supreme Court to adopt Criteria for Quality of Work for courts based on its annual Report on Efficiency and Effectiveness. Since 2015, the Supreme Court has also set timeframes for various procedures and procedural phases as part of these criteria.

For public prosecution, quality criteria are defined in the Prosecution Policy (adopted by the Prosecutor General), while quantitative performance aspects are outlined in the Criteria for Evaluating Performance adopted by the State Prosecutorial Council.

The Office for Court Management Development at the Supreme Court promotes the improvement in leadership and management of courts and the increase in effectiveness and efficiency. It is responsible for the preparation of different reports and analysis regarding the work of the courts and the promotion of best practices.

The Department for the Organisation and Development of Management of the Supreme State Prosecutor's Office of the Republic of Slovenia is responsible for monitoring the implementation of the Prosecution Policy and the Criteria for the Success of Prosecution of State Prosecutor's Offices.

Systems for measuring and evaluating courts' performance

A regular monitoring system of court activities is in place concerning:

Number of incoming cases	✓	Satisfaction of users (regarding the services delivered by the courts)	✓
Length of proceedings (timeframes)	✓	Costs of the judicial procedures	✓
Number of resolved cases	✓	Number of appeals	✓
Number of pending cases	✓	Appeal ratio	✓
Backlogs	✓	Clearance rate	✓
Productivity of judges and court staff	✓	Disposition time	✓
Satisfaction of court staff	✓	Other	✗

In Slovenia there is a regular monitoring system in a form of collecting data on court statistics. Court statistics are collected and published four times a year by the Ministry of Justice. They include data on the number of judges and court staff, number of incoming, resolved and pending cases, age of unresolved cases, length of proceedings, average time to resolve a case, type of decision, court backlogs, legal remedies and time to issue a court decision.

Besides that, the data on court activities are automatically on national level, thus statistical analysis are made possible. All courts have access to a wide range of special reports, generated in the Court management information system. Reports include detailed information on court activities (for example length of specific phases of a court proceeding, top 20 oldest cases in certain area of law, etc.), human resources, court performance indicators (the critical indicators are marked red for unsatisfactory performance and green when meeting the standards) that provide guidance to presidents and directors of courts. The business intelligence system that creates priority reports derives the data from the Data warehouse of the Supreme Court. The same source is used for Court statistics publications by the Ministry of Justice. Each court is able to access the above mentioned reports at any moment, while some data are quarterly collected and published on national level (as prescribed by the Court rules).

The satisfaction surveys are performed and results published bi-annually.

Since 2016, the Criteria on the work abilities does not include standards for the minimal expected number of solved cases (however the number of resolved cases is still monitored).

Systems for measuring and evaluating public prosecution services' performance

A regular monitoring system of public prosecution services activities is in place concerning:

Number of incoming cases	✓	Satisfaction of users (regarding the services delivered by the public prosecution)	✗
Length of proceedings (timeframes)	✓	Costs of the judicial procedures	✗
Number of resolved cases	✓	Clearance rate	✓
Number of pending cases	✓	Disposition time	✓
Backlogs	✓	Percentage of convictions and acquittals	✓
Productivity of prosecutors and prosecution staff	✓	Other	✓
Satisfaction of prosecution staff	✗

In Slovenia, there is a system to regularly evaluate the activity of each public prosecutor both quantitatively and qualitatively. In addition to the categories monitored by the system presented above, the “Other” category includes data on the percentage of different types of decisions, the value of proceeds of crime under freezing orders, and pronounced criminal sanctions.

The BI tools that use data gathered in information system of the State Prosecutor's Office provide the Heads of prosecution offices with up-to-date overview of the performance of state prosecutors and the functioning of the office. Heads can customise the level and content of information presented to them for the purpose of making quantitative data supported decisions on allocation of work among prosecutors, control of the case-flow.

Quantitative performance targets do not exist for public prosecutors.
