United States of America	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • MLA: MLA requests should be sent by email to OIA.MLA@usdoj.gov. The Department of Justice's Office of International Affairs (OIA), as the U.S. Central Authority for MLA, will execute requests to the extent possible during the health crisis. (Note: Other MLA-related correspondence should be sent via email directly to the assigned OIA Attorney and/or International Affairs Specialist.) • Prisoner Transfer: Prisoner transfer requests and communications should be emailed to OIA.IPTU@usdoj.gov. Any communications that cannot be transmitted electronically should be mailed directly to the International Prisoner Transfer Unit in OIA as the U.S. Central Authority for International Prisoner Transfer matters. • Extradition: Extradition requests continue to be received as before the current health crisis. Where the pertinent treaty permits, requests for provisional arrest may be sent by email directly to OIA. Other provisional arrest requests and complete extradition requests must be sent via diplomatic channels. During the current health crisis, when a person is to be surrendered to the United States from a partner nation, OIA will request additional information from its foreign counterparts regarding the person's health. When a person is to be surrendered by the United States to a partner nation, OIA will seek special authorization for the entry of escorts into the United States.
