

Statement of interpretation on Article 7§7

The interpretation which the Committee placed on this paragraph was that the states who had accepted it were obliged to guarantee children and young people three weeks' leave, the number of working days granted depending on the length of the working week.