Iceland has been invited to provide information on the follow-up measures taken in response to the conclusions and recommendations of the Consultation of the Parties.

Iceland remains committed to the Council of Europe Convention on Access to Official Documents and to ensuring that national legislation is consistent with its provisions.

A review of the Information Act No. 140/2012 is currently underway. It is envisaged that the Prime Minister will submit to Althingi (Parliament) a bill to amend the Information Act during the spring session of 2026.
