CROATIA / CROATIE

EVENTS ORGANISED FOR THE 15th DATA PROTECTION DAY

EVENEMENTS ORGANISES POUR LA 15<sup>ème</sup> JOURNEE DE LA PROTECTION DES DONNEES

Country or Jurisdiction & Institution / Pays ou juridiction et institution: Republic of Croatia ; Croatian Personal Data Protection Agency

Site web / site internet : <https://azop.hr/>

Planned activity(ies) / Activité(s) envisagée(s) :

Croatian Personal Data Protection Agency is organising the international online conference Digital transformation and data protection in a pandemic world.

The conference will focus on micro, small and medium-sized entrepreneurs who are the most affected group by the global pandemic of the economic system in the Republic of Croatia, as well as in the entire European Union.

The Croatian Personal Data Protection Agency gave special attention to this target group in 2020 by supporting SMEs in the alignment of their business processes with the General Data Protection Regulation by conducting online workshops tailored-made to their specific needs. To support SMEs in specific and difficult market conditions caused by the global pandemic, and also additionally aggravated by two strong earthquakes in the Republic of Croatia, the Agency, with the support of the Croatian Chamber of Economy, is implementing the EU project ARC: Awareness Raising Campaign for SMEs on personal data protection, co-financed by the European Union.

During the global pandemic, data protection and digital transformation have become key factors for their survival on the market. Small and medium-sized enterprises must address more proactively challenges, and develop a comprehensive strategy for digital business transformation in order to respond to the current crisis.

Also, in this context, we would like to point out that the General Data Protection Regulation is a comprehensive legislative act based on the accountability and reinforcement of users trust in digital services as a key to the development of the digital economy in the single internal market. The General Data Protection Regulation also prescribes the rules applicable to the processing of personal data in circumstances such as the COVID-19 pandemic, which allow an effective response to the pandemic while protecting fundamental rights and freedoms. The key message we want to send to entrepreneurs and to the general public is that investment in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation, digital transformation, and information security is a worthwhile investment and not an administrative burden. Furthermore, it is also an opportunity to increase operational efficiency and to successfully exploit the business opportunities that the COVID-19 crisis has brought. The Croatian DPA and other public institutions are here to help SMEs and to offer support in their efforts, as well as to protect the fundamental rights of the citizens.

The conference is addressed at specialists whose daily life revolves around dealing with data protection issues e.g. entrepreneurs, legal advisers, specialists from EU institutions, as well as representatives of ministries, public bodies and institutions, academic community and NGOs.

Due to the situation caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, the conference will be organized in a hybrid format, and participants will have the opportunity to follow the conference live and online through a virtual conference platform. Putting the health and well-being of each participant first, the physical part of the conference will be organized in compliance with all epidemiological measures.

In addition to holding the conference, Croatian Personal Data Protection Agency is planning the following activities:

- Publication of an article in Jutarnji list, January 28th, 2021. in order to promote the level of personal data protection of citizens and organizations and to present the Agency as a proactive, modern data protection authority, present on the international scene and which in addition to protecting the rights of citizens and providing support to controllers and processors in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation, monitors trends in the field of data protection.
- Development of a Guide for citizens, controllers, and processors.
- Development of a brochure for data protection officers.
- A new web page of Croatian Personal Data Protection Agency and the mobile application GDPR HRVATSKA will be presented at the conference.
- Promotion of ARC project, infographics for small and medium enterprises.

Place / Lieux: The Westin Zagreb

Date(s): 28.01.2021.

Aim(s) - Who will this activity be aimed at? / Objectif(s) - Type de public visé:

The key message we want to send to entrepreneurs and the general public is that investing in the implementation of the General Data Protection Regulation, information security and digital transformation in an unprecedented economic and social crisis is not something which is only desirable but is now necessary for companies to survive in the market. General Data Protection Regulation is based on the accountability and strengthening of consumer confidence in digital services as a key to the development of the digital economy in the internal market. General Data Protection Regulation also lays down rules applicable to the processing of personal data in circumstances such as the COVID-19 pandemic, which enable an effective response to a pandemic while protecting fundamental rights and freedoms.

The aim of this conference is to empower entrepreneurs and let them know that in these difficult circumstances they can rely on the Croatian Chamber of Economy and public institutions that are ready to provide their unreserved support in dealing with the negative effects caused by the global pandemic.

Publicity envisaged (type of media) / Publicité envisagée (type de support):

The conference will be followed by a digital media campaign, publication in Jutarnji list which is one of the leading newspapers in Croatia, and through publications on various Internet portals.

(1) Webinar

Title: Data for the public good: Building a healthier digital future

On 25 January, the European Data Protection Supervisor (EDPS) will host a side event in the margins of the 2021 CPDP conference: Data for the public good: building a healthier digital future.

Our aim is to assess, in broad terms, the impact of measures taken in response to the COVID-19 pandemic and identify ways in which data can be used to be better prepared for the next one.

The online event will comprise two sessions and engage experts from the public health community in the EU and other international organisations to consider:

Session 1: When will the “new normal” stop being “normal”?

- What are the criteria that define the need for a temporary emergency measure?
- How do we determine when it is no longer necessary?

Session 2: How can we ensure a safer and healthier digital future?

- How can data be used to be better prepared for the next pandemic?
- How can we promote digital solidarity so that data and technology works for all people in Europe, especially the most vulnerable?

For more information about the event and registration, please visit: https://edps.europa.eu/data-protection/our-work/publications/events/data-public-good-building-healthier-digital-future\_en

(2) Podcasts

Theme: Democratic societies in the digital age: facing surveillance, online manipulation and other impending challenges

People and policymakers have become increasingly aware of the reality and potential of digital technology, more so in 2020, the year of the COVID-19 pandemic. The most successful companies in the world are those whose business models rely on collecting and monetising personal information.

New technologies have profoundly changed the way we live and newer ones could potentially change us further still. Determining how best to regulate the development of these technologies is not an easy task.

The trainees at the European Data Protection Supervisor will host 3 podcast episodes with the aim of exploring technological developments and the implications for data protection and democracy. Raising awareness about issues such as but not only, surveillance and manipulation among the trainees in the European Institutions and indeed others who may be interested, the podcast series will call on a number of experts from different disciplines. The podcasts will explore Online manipulation and dark patterns; Mass surveillance and Facial Recognition Technologies; and Emerging technologies, future challenges. Episode 1 will be available on data protection day, 28 January 2021.

More information will soon be available on www.edps.europa.eu

GEORGIA / GÉORGIE

EVENTS ORGANISED FOR THE 15th DATA PROTECTION DAY

EVENEMENTS ORGANISES POUR LA 15<sup>ème</sup> JOURNEE DE LA PROTECTION DES DONNEES

Country or Jurisdiction & Institution / Pays ou juridiction et institution: Georgia, State Inspector's Service

Site web / site internet : <https://personaldata.ge/en>

Planned activity(ies) / Activité(s) envisagée(s):

This year the State Inspector's Service decided to celebrate Data Protection Day in a form of Data Protection Week which means that the activities will be conducted not only on 28 January but rather as a campaign, starting from 22 January ending on 28 January. Given the COVID-19 Pandemic, all the activities will be conducted online yet interaction with public will be maintained. The campaign will be accompanied by visual effects. The main theme will be an x-ray photo in the style of a person where, instead of bones, personal data is seen. Several cards with slogans and appeals will be made as part of the campaign. The main idea of this packaging is the following: all people without personal data are the same, which is perfectly reflected in the X-ray photo. In addition, hashtags will be used (e.g. #28January #PersonalDataProtectionDay #MyPersonalDataMatters etc.).

The activities comprise:

➤ 22 January

- Announcement of the week and uploading the calendar of events on social media;
- Presentation of best essays within the framework of competition which, in cooperation with one of the universities, was announced for students on 11 December 2020 on topics related to personal data protection (personal data protection of pupils or students during distance learning; personal data protection during COVID-19 pandemic; COVID-19 effect on personal data protection; risks of sharing personal data of minors on the Internet);

➤ 23-24 January

- Social media used for popularization;
- Meetings of Data Protection Ambassadors (Data Protection Ambassadors is a project of the State Inspector's Service aimed at awareness raising. Within the framework of this project 20 students were selected for the purpose of awareness raising from different academic institutions across the country and trained in data protection issues) with target groups;

➤ 25 January

- Facebook Live on Data Protection in online activities;
- Announcement of photo competition for pupils regarding the importance of personal data protection;

➤ 26 January

- Online presentation of the compilations of the State Inspector's decisions regarding data protection of minors and data protection in healthcare sector – for the first time at the initiative of the State Inspector, to address the challenges existing with regard to data protection of minors and data processing in healthcare sector, the State Inspector's Service prepared compilations based on the cases studied in Service in 2014-2020. Following the presentation these compilations will also be made public;

➤ 27 January

- An online introductory meeting and discussion with the experts of the field concerning the challenges and possibilities of future cooperation related to data protection;

➤ 28 January

- Uploading congratulation card on a Facebook official page;
- State Inspector's congratulation message uploaded on official Facebook and web page;
- Online meeting with universities, concluding MOU-s with them and discussing prospects of future cooperation aimed at promoting introducing a discipline on personal data protection in high educational institutions, as well as announcement of 3 winner essays. The authors of the essays will be given a possibility to undergo traineeship at the State Inspector's Service.

Place / Lieux:

All the activities will be conducted in an online format

Date(s):

22 – 28 January

Aim(s) - Who will this activity be aimed at? / Objectif(s) - Type de public visé:

The aim of the activities is raising public awareness regarding data protection. The activities will be aimed at public, including target groups like minors, healthcare institutions, educational institutions, field experts and other interested persons and organisations.

Publicity envisaged (type of media) / Publicité envisagée (type de support) :

As usual, Data Protection Day encounters Uruguay on the traditional summer holidays. That is why, the DPA concentrates the activities aimed at spreading the knowledge of the Right to Personal Data Protection in the upcoming months. Due to the pandemic, activities such as the National Week on Data Protection and the presentation of the various publications related to this particular topic will be held in August and through online platforms.

The Unit will continue to provide courses on protection of personal data to public entities and data protection officers, as well as to the general public through several events on the issue –such as the “Charlas de Café” series.-.

This year though, Uruguay will be present at the event co-organized by the Council of Europe and the Iberoamerican Network on Data Protection, precisely on January 28th, to commemorate the 40th anniversary of Convention 108. In such event, the different iberoamerican authorities (including Uruguay) will be discussing the importance of the Convention and the modernization protocol (108+) as well as the benefits of joining the ever-growing list of members of the Convention.
