GEORGIA / GÉORGIE

EVENTS ORGANISED FOR THE 17th DATA PROTECTION DAY

ÉVÉNEMENTS ORGANISÉS POUR LA 17^{ème} JOURNÉE DE LA PROTECTION DES DONNÉES

Country or Jurisdiction & Institution / Pays ou juridiction et institution: Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia

Address / Adresse* : 7, Vachnadze Str. 0105, Tbilisi, Georgia

Contact* / Contacts* : Phone: (+995 32) 242 1000; E-mail: office@pdps.ge

Site web / site internet: www.personaldata.ge

Planned activity(ies) / Activité(s) envisagée(s) : In celebration of Data Protection Day, the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia plans to hold an event that combines various activities. Activities will be held throughout the day in a space specially reserved for this day and adapted to different age categories. Interested parties are kindly invited to attend it and get information about thematic topics of data protection and privacy.

In the scope of the event, the following activities will be held:

1. A public lecture: "The Psychology of Habituation - How to Make It a Habit to Protect Personal Information?" will be held by the famous Georgian psychologist, who will discuss how to practice data protection and make it a habit. The participants will get acquainted with the campaign of the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia - #MakeItAHabit to protect personal data, which aims at raising public awareness.
2. Presentation of fully open access, bilingual, peer-reviewed scientific periodical publication: "Journal of Personal Data Protection Law." In celebration of the 4th anniversary of the application of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), upon the decision of the President of the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia, a bilingual, scientific periodical publication, "Journal of Personal Data Protection Law," was established. By tackling the questions of contemporary legal interest, it aims to foster comparative legal research in the field of Public Law, present the best practice, raise public awareness, and contribute to legal studies begotten by theoretical and practical legal analysis. The Journal strives to establish a dynamic and international scientific platform and publish scholarly papers, including scientific articles, academic reviews, analysis of legal practice, and translation of foreign scientific papers, concerning basic human rights and freedoms, especially in the field of personal data protection law. The Journal is published in printed and electronic forms. To fortify the internationalization component, each edition combines papers authored by Georgian and foreign authors in both Georgian and English. Editorial Board of the Journal is represented by the Georgian and foreign scholars and professorship. The very first issue of the publication is dedicated to Data Protection Day. The scholarly articles of the first edition are authored by Georgian and foreign scholars and practitioners. It is worthwhile that the first issue combines also special letters authored by the European Data Protection Supervisor, Presidents of Croatian and Italian Data Protection Authorities on the occasion of the first edition of the Journal.
3. Presentation of a video clip on personal data protection and privacy. In the scope of the event, the participants will view five videos-clips prepared by the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia on the occasion of the Data Protection Day. Relevant specialists from different fields (a doctor, a photographer, a teacher, a cyber-security counselor, and an employer) will speak about personal data protection from the perspective of their profession.

4. Public lecture for school students on the topic of personal data protection. Representatives of the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia will discuss and highlight the importance and necessity of personal data protection. Also, various games and interesting activities will encourage students to contemplate and think about the significance of privacy and data protection.
5. Cognitive master class for kids. At the end of the event, a cognitive master class will be held for schoolchildren, so they will get information about personal data in an amusing way and language that they understand. As part of the master class, the gingerbread figures will be given their personal data, which will make them unique and special.

Additionally, a consultation corner will be available throughout the day for all interested participants, who will receive information on topics of their interest. Furthermore, informational brochures published by the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia will be distributed, the main slogan of which is: "Be informed, protect your personal information! A compilation of personal data, this is you."

The participants will be greeted by the Georgian alphabet space, according to which they will find 33 personal data referring to each letter. Upon the request of the participant, the calligrapher will write their personal data, "name and surname," distinctively. The attendees will also receive thematic and symbolic gifts. On the occasion of data protection day, the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia will actively share relevant information, postcards, covers, and special frames on social media. A calendar of events will also be posted. Furthermore, from January 28th, the Personal Data Protection Service of Georgia will gradually share and post video clips and lecture notes via social networks.

The celebration of Data Protection Day this year focuses on the data subjects as the target audience. Specifically, to:

1. Introduce the National Privacy Commission and the concept of data privacy;
2. Educate data subjects regarding the Data Privacy Act of 2012 and their rights;
3. Emphasize the relevance and importance of data privacy, especially in this digital era; and
4. Encourage them to spread data privacy awareness within their respective community.

Publicity envisaged (type of media) / Publicité envisagée (type de support) :

1. Social media campaign by posting theme-related posts and teasers in Facebook and Instagram

EVENTS ORGANISED FOR THE 17th DATA PROTECTION DAY

ÉVÉNEMENTS ORGANISÉS POUR LA 17^{ème} JOURNÉE DE LA PROTECTION DES DONNÉES

Country or Jurisdiction & Institution / Pays ou juridiction et institution: Poland, Personal Data Protection Office (Urząd Ochrony Danych Osobowych, UODO)

Address / Adresse* : ul. Stawki 2, 00-193 Warszawa

Contact* / Contacts* : +48 22 531 03 00, kancelaria@uodo.gov.pl, Infoline (in Polish): +48 606-950-000

Site web / site internet : www.uodo.gov.pl

Planned activity(ies) / Activité(s) envisagée(s) : In 2023, the Data Protection Day will be celebrated as part of Poland-wide Scientific Conference "The Future of Personal Data Protection in the Light of Technology Development". The event will be organised by the Personal Data Protection Office in cooperation with the University of Warmia and Mazury in Olsztyn - Branch in Elk and the Mayor of the City of Elk.

A plenary session and 5 thematic sessions are scheduled as part of the conference:

1. Challenges for personal data protection related to technology development;
2. Churches and other religious associations in the service of data protection;
3. Current challenges related to personal data protection in the public sector;
4. Current challenges for the personal data protection - European and international perspective;
5. Legal guarantees of personal data protection - selected issues.

In addition to the conference, additional events are planned:

I organised at the seat of the University of Warmia and Mazury in Olsztyn - Branch in Elk:

1. Workshops with students "Personal data protection in the context of cyber threats";
2. Workshops with seniors "Personal data protection on a daily basis in connection with the challenges of modernity".

II organised at the seat of the Elk City Hall:

1. Legal advice provided by 2 UODO experts;
2. Training for the management of local governments from the Warmińsko-Mazurskie Voivodship conducted by an UODO expert "Designing personal data protection by local government units in connection with technological challenges".

During the celebration of the Personal Data Protection Day, the Michał Serzycki Award will also be presented.

It is awarded to persons and organisations appreciated for promoting, both in Poland and abroad, the value of personal data protection and the right to privacy. It is also an award for those who, through their achievements, emphasise the extremely important role of social education in this area.

The idea of this Award is to draw attention to the role played by activities that increase citizens' awareness of the protection of personal data and the right to privacy. The aim is also to disseminate such initiatives, as they are of particular importance in times when more and more of our data and information about us are processed every year.

As part of the "Your Data - Your Concern" programme, at the end of January and the beginning of February (due to the timing of winter holidays in various voivodeships), schools and teacher training centres will organise numerous classes on personal data protection and other thematic events (e.g. competitions, school assemblies, games, plays, meetings with experts, meetings with seniors, trainings, conferences). An important element of the celebrations of Data Protection Day is also the letter that the President of the DPA sends to headmasters, teachers, parents and students, encouraging them to participate in and organise numerous events in order to raise young people's awareness and sensitise them to the need to protect personal data in the era of rapid development of new technologies.

What is more, the UODO is organising a 45-minute online lesson entitled. "Data Protection Day Agency - a mythological intervention" for 7th and 8th grade primary and secondary school students. The planned webinar is an interactive lesson (on the Nearpod educational platform) in which the class participants, as detectives of a prestigious agency, solve a criminal mystery. The investigation is divided into several stages. After each of them, students have the opportunity to test their knowledge of Greek mythology and to recognise how correctly they analyse facts and make inferences based on the available information. The plot of the game is a modern version of the myth of Sisyphus enriched with data protection and privacy rights content. Introducing these themes into the world of Greek mythology allows a better understanding of the importance of these issues from the point of view of individual well-being and emphasises their universality and timelessness.

In addition, we will join the activities related to the 9th Open Day of the Personal Data Protection Office at the WSB Academy in Dąbrowa Górnicza (15 February 2023 - Dąbrowa Górnicza). A thematic conference combined with the promotion of good practices "New technologies and personal data protection in business and administration" will be organised there. We will take the event under our honorary patronage and contribute substantively by delivering speeches.

Planned activity(ies) / Activité(s) envisagée(s) : It is expected that a ceremony similar to the one we hosted last year will take place in celebration of Data Protection Day this year. Last year about 110 professionals and stakeholders from the public sector, industries and academia were brought together to share their views and insights under the theme of “How to better protect and use personal information in the trusted data economy.” The ceremony also highlighted key achievements made by the PIPC since it was restructured as an independent data protection authority representing Korea in August 2020. In addition, the ceremony recognised individuals for their contribution to strengthening privacy while awards were given out to those who showcased best practices in linking pseudonymised data.

Kindly note that this is subject to change depending on circumstances.

Place / Lieux : to be determined

Date(s) : 30 September 2023

Unlike many DPAs around the globe celebrating 28 January as Data Protection Day, the PIPC celebrates 30 September as its own Data Protection Day to mark the enactment of the Personal Information Protection Act on 30 September 2011.

Aim(s) - Who will this activity be aimed at? / Objectif(s) - Type de public visé : Like last year, professionals and stakeholders from the public sector, industries and academia will likely be invited to this year’s ceremony.

Publicity envisaged (type of media) / Publicité envisagée (type de support) : Normally information about this kind of event is shared on PIPC’s website and SNS channels. Posters and banners are also created to support publicity and promotional activities.

ÉVÉNEMENTS ORGANISÉS POUR LA 17^{ème} JOURNÉE DE LA PROTECTION DES DONNÉES

Country or Jurisdiction & Institution / Pays ou juridiction et institution: Gibraltar/ Gibraltar Regulatory Authority

Address / Adresse* : 2nd Floor, Eurotowers 4, 1 Europort Road, Gibraltar

Contact* / Contacts* : dpinternational@gra.gi

Site web / site internet : www.gra.gi

Planned activity(ies) / Activité(s) envisagée(s) : The Gibraltar Regulatory Authority, as Information Commissioner, is committed to increasing awareness about the importance of privacy and the impact data protection may have on our daily lives, particularly in view of the highly networked and interconnected online world in which we live. With this in mind, the Information Commissioner has launched a new public campaign that focuses on the prevalence of “sharenting” in Gibraltar. Sharenting is the practice of parents/guardians publicising content about their children on social networking sites. When images or information about children are posted online, there is sometimes little understanding or regard to the fact that, in essence, a digital footprint is being created for those children. This may have an impact on a child’s digital identity, privacy and even safety.

As part of the Information Commissioner’s campaign an anonymised, online, multiple-choice survey targeting parents/guardians in Gibraltar (the “Survey”) has been circulated over the past months. The aim is to collate the results and publish these in a report on Data Protection Day 2023, as well as creating social media content surrounding the same.

Place / Lieux : This will take place virtually.

Date(s) : 28 January 2023.

Aim(s) - Who will this activity be aimed at? / Objectif(s) - Type de public visé : Parents/Guardians in Gibraltar.

Publicity envisaged (type of media) / Publicité envisagée (type de support) : A report highlighting the Survey’s key findings, analysis and conclusions will be published on Data Protection Day 2023 and shared via our social media platforms and website. A press release will likely also be issued and sent to local media outlets in an attempt to maximise outreach.
