Mr Kleijssen paid tribute to the PC-IBC, its Chair and scientific experts for their excellent work and extended his thanks to DG II and the PACE for their collaboration. In his view the elaboration of the draft Council of Europe Convention on Offences relating to Cultural Property has been a textbook example of how to conduct a multi-stakeholder approach and process. He also underlined the importance of the draft Convention for international cooperation to counter crimes involving cultural property – not only at the European level, but also globally. Finally, Mr Kleijssen drew attention to the ongoing work between the CDPC and the steering committee on counter-terrorism, the CODEXTER, on the links between organised crime and terrorism.

6. The role of victims within the criminal justice system

- to take note of the information provided by Ms Anita van de Kar concerning the questionnaire on the Council of Europe Convention on the compensation of victims of violent crimes;
- to examine the draft questionnaire and provide the Secretariat with its suggestions;

- to express its keen interest and availability in providing its opinion on the draft for the aforesaid additional protocol, as foreseen under the Budapest Convention;
