| MAIN TASKS ▼ |
| Under the authority of the Committee of Ministers, and bearing in mind the Council of Europe's legal standards, the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights and the findings and recommendations of the relevant monitoring mechanisms, the European Committee on Legal Co-operation (CDCJ) oversees the Council of Europe's work in the field of public and private law and advises the Committee of Ministers on all questions within its areas of competence. In particular, the CDCJ is instructed to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) ensure the follow-up of the relevant decisions taken at the 131st Session of the Committee of Ministers (Hamburg, 21 May 2021),² and in particular contribute to the implementation of the key strategic priorities relating to its specific field of expertise as identified in the Strategic Framework of the Council of Europe, and respond to the respective key findings and challenges set out in the Secretary General's 2021 Report on the state of democracy, human rights and rule of law "A democratic renewal for Europe"; (ii) steer legal co-operation among member States in order to identify new and emerging challenges and to provide effective responses in areas within its expertise ((inter alia justice and the rule of law, administrative law, family law, children's rights, nationality, technologies related developments), through the elaboration, supervision and evaluation of standard-setting activities in these areas, and by promoting and facilitating co-operation and understanding between member States, in close co-ordination and co-operation with relevant conventional and monitoring bodies and other Council of Europe bodies involved in areas of its competence and in synergy with other relevant stakeholders; (iii) promote and facilitate the functioning, implementation and where necessary the ratification of Council of Europe conventions, agreements and protocols within its area of competence; (iv) follow and promote the implementation of the non-binding instruments that it has prepared, and if appropriate, of others, within its area of competence; (v) advise the Committee of Ministers and the Secretary General on appropriate action to be taken and provide advice as requested; (vi) contribute (if necessary) to the preparation of the Conference of the Ministers of Justice (subject to invitation), in co-operation with other relevant committees and bodies, and ensure, as appropriate, the follow-up of any decision taken by the Committee of Ministers subsequent to the conference; (vii) contribute to the implementation of Council of Europe strategies and action plans and related activities and actions within its areas of competence, in close co-ordination and co-operation with those responsible for their coordination and/or oversight; and advise as necessary on priority areas for the development of Council of Europe co-operation activities in these areas, (viii) where necessary, co-ordinate transversal intergovernmental activities in the field of public and private law; (ix) effectively improve the impact of the work of the CDCJ and its subordinate committees/bodies by enhancing the access and dissemination of key instruments and documents to practitioners, by contributing through legislative advice on Council of Europe public and private law standards with a view to supporting member States in legal reforms, by undertaking awareness-raising activities for national authorities and other relevant stakeholders, and by strengthening its communication actions through modern technologies and means; (x) orient and oversee the activities carried out by its subordinate bodies, notably the Committee of Experts on the Protection of Lawyers (CJ-AV) and, jointly with the Steering Committee for the Rights of the Child (CDENF), the Committee of Experts on the Rights and the Best Interests of the Child in Parental Separation and in Care Proceedings (CJ/ENF-ISE) (cf. separate terms of reference); (xi) with expert support from the Steering Committee for Human Rights in the fields of Biomedicine and Health (CDBIO) and in consultations with other committees and bodies, elaborate a draft legal instrument on the rights of donor-conceived persons to know their origins, subject to the conclusions of the on-going comparative study; (xii) in co-operation and consultations with other relevant committees in their areas of expertise, develop one or more draft non-binding instruments (recommendation, policy guidelines) in the area of child-friendly justice, as a contribution to the Council of Europe Strategy for the Rights of the Child (2022-2027), and in administrative and migration law matters, as a contribution to the Council of Europe Action Plan on Protection Vulnerable Persons in the Context of Migration and Asylum in Europe (2021-2025); (xiii) hold an exchange of views annually in order to evaluate its activities and advise the Committee of Ministers and the Secretary General on future priorities in its sector, including possible new activities and those that might be discontinued; |

¹ These terms of reference are approved for the first biennial period 2022-2023. For the second biennial period 2024-2025, they are approved on a provisional basis, subject to confirmation upon the adoption of the budget for 2024-2025.
