Summary

Sport di Tutti is a sport and social intervention model that seeks to break down barriers surrounding access to sport and concretely implement the principle of the right to sport. Sport di Tutti – Carceri directly targets access to sport for incarcerated youth in regions marked by social exclusion and promotes reintegration through support to amateur sports associations and prison administrators to reduce crime and recidivism rates.

Objectives

1. Promote sport as a tool and opportunity for rehabilitation of incarcerated persons
2. Encourage healthy lifestyles, physical and mental health, and social inclusion
3. Provide sport-related education to prison officers, incarcerated persons, and sports associations
4. Support sports associations with developing targeted sports programmes

Best Practices

- ♦ Workshops and training courses are supplied to sports associations and prison administrators
- ♦ Incarcerated youth perform shows and take part in sports such as golf and gymnastics
- ♦ Funding is also given for improvements to infrastructure

Insights

- ♦ In 2025, 19,000 minors were incarcerated, of which 1,500 were girls
- ♦ Over 1,700 registered sports associations received funding out of over 5000 applications
- ♦ €3mn allocated to fund projects, €1mn allocated to improve structures
