European Thermal Heritage Day 2023

Summary

Every year in October, EHTTA's Scientific Committee organises an event to highlight and promote particular aspects of one of its thermal towns. This year 2023 the « European Thermal Heritage Day » took place as 2-day-event in Mondariz-Balneario (Galicia, Spain) and in a hybrid format. In person attending were about 120 participants, plus an online audience.

The programme of the 2023 European Thermal Heritage Day not only included the conference itself but also site visits and workshops on specific topics related to architecture and landscape in this thermal town. Contributions to the topic came from Spa (Belgium), Saratoga Springs (USA) and Caldas da Rainha (Portugal) – all three members or international partner of the European Route of Historic Thermal Towns.
