

HOW TO BECOME A MEMBER OF EURIMAGES? <sup>1</sup>

	Member States of the Council of Europe	Non-member States of the Council of Europe
1.	The competent authorities of any Council of Europe member State which wishes to accede to the Eurimages Fund can send a letter, at any time, to the Secretary General of the Council of Europe. This letter is generally sent by the Ministry for Foreign Affairs, the Ministry of Culture or by the Permanent Representative to the Council of Europe of this State.	A non-member State of the Council of Europe may accede to the Fund first as an 'associate member'<sup>2</sup> for a period of at least four years and then as a full member. An official letter by which the State requests to accede to the partial agreement must be addressed to the Secretary General of the Council of Europe by the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the applicant country or a diplomatic representative empowered to do so.

<sup>1</sup> See Article 6 of the Resolution \(88\) 15 and Article 5 of the Rules of Procedure.

<sup>2</sup> The status of an "associate member" is equivalent to that of a full member of the Fund, with the exception of decisions concerning the policy of the Fund, which can be taken only by full members (see Article 5 bis of the Rules of Procedure)

Member states and non-member States of the Council of Europe
2.	The Secretary General forwards this letter to the Executive Director of Eurimages who informs the Board of Management of the Fund.
3.	The President of Eurimages contacts the authorities of the applicant country and requests that they prepare a report (in English and in French) describing the cinematographic situation in the country. The report is then submitted to the Eurimages Board of Management for examination. This report shall describe the existing legal, structural and material systems, i.e.: : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>√ the legislation to protect copyright and intellectual property and regulate the audiovisual sector in line with the spirit of the Council of Europe Convention on Transfrontier Television, the Convention on Copyright and Neighbouring Rights and the European Convention on Cinematographic Co-Production;</li> <li>√ the situation of arts and culture with regard to international trade negotiations and the most-favoured nation clause (WTO);</li> <li>√ the status, legal means, financial resources and functioning of the national authority with responsibility for film;</li> <li>√ the scope and functioning of national support systems for production, the number of films produced, their average budget, and the total amount of investment in production;</li> <li>√ studio and technical production resources, the distribution and exhibition network and methods used to collect statistical information on the film industry.</li> </ul>
4.	For practical reasons relating to the calculation of the member states' contributions, the applicant country must supply statistical data on cinematographic production (national productions, majority and minority co-productions) for the ten years preceding the year of its accession. To that end, the applicant country should have an independent technical infrastructure for collecting cinematographic data.
5.	Upon receipt of the report on the cinematographic situation, the President of Eurimages will acknowledge receipt of it, inform the authorities of the date of its examination by the Board of Management.
6.	After examination of the report by the Board of Management, the President sends a letter to the authorities reporting on the discussions held and inviting a delegation to attend the next meeting of the Board of Management.
7.	The President confirms the precise date of the invitation by letter addressed to the authorities of the applicant country.
