Group of experts on conservation of amphibians and reptiles

The terms of reference of this group are to revise current problems on herpetile conservation in Europe and to suggest adequate action. Particular attention will be given to implementation of Recommendations Nos. 14, 15 and 16 and to identification of species requiring special habitat conservation measures. Priority will be given to the implementation of the Recommendations Nos. 26 (91) and 27 (91) and to the making of action plans for globally threatened species.
