

Thu, 18 Nov
16h30-17h30

Outlook 3: Cooperation against cybercrime in 2022

Languages: EN/FR/ES

Purpose: Having discussed treats and challenges but also shared experiences and good practices throughout this conference, the aim of this session is to have organisations involved in policies, standard setting and capacity building on cybercrime present their intentions on how to enhance international cooperation on cybercrime and e-evidence in 2022.

Moderator/s: Alexander Seger (Head of Cybercrime Division, Council of Europe)

Secretariat: Celine Dewaele (Cybercrime Division, Council of Europe)

▶ Introduction

▶ Panel

— UNODC (Neil Walsh, Chief of the Cybercrime and Anti-Money Laundering Section, UN Office on Drugs and Crime)

— African Union Commission (Abdul-Hakeem Ajijola, Chair of African Union Cyber Security Expert Group)

— [TBC: Russian Federation (Ernest Chernukhin, Head of Section, Department of International Information Security, Ministry of Foreign Affairs the Russian Federation)]

— Organisation of American States (Anthony Teelucksingh, Chair of the OAS/REMJA Working Group on Cybercrime, US Department of Justice)

— European Union (Cathrin Baur-Bulst, Head of Unit Security in the Digital Age, DG Home, European Commission)

▶ Conclusions