4. Round table – Stadia: a welcoming space for all

The Convention on an Integrated Safety, Security and Service Approach at Football Matches and Other Sports Events (Saint-Denis Convention) will mark its 10th anniversary during the 19th Conference of Ministers Responsible for Sport in Monaco on 3-4 November 2026. The Saint-Denis Convention is increasingly recognised not only as a reference framework for safety, security and service at sport events, but also as an instrument for promoting welcoming, inclusive and accessible sporting environments.

Although sport can and should be a unifying force, racist, sexist and other forms of discriminatory behaviour towards spectators and players at sporting events remain common. Hate speech, verbal abuse and intimidation can result in physical violence and contribute to some spectators, particularly women and families, perceiving sporting environments as exclusionary or intimidating.

This round table will focus on how governments and sport organisations can ensure that stadia become genuinely safe and welcoming spaces, where all spectators can attend and access sporting events without fear of discrimination or abuse.

The first session will reflect on the legacy of the Saint-Denis Convention and the role of human rights due diligence in ensuring safe, inclusive and welcoming sporting environments. The second session will showcase promising initiatives and good practices developed by national authorities, federations, clubs and supporter organisations.
