1. Judicial organisation in Portugal (2021 data)

Under the Portuguese Constitution, there are two set of courts: judicial courts, which have general jurisdiction in civil/commercial and criminal matters and encompass specialised courts, and administrative and tax courts, whose role is to settle disputes arising out of administrative and tax relations. These latter are specialised in this domain only. The ordinary justice administration in Portugal is organised on a three-level structure which includes: 145 first instance courts of general jurisdiction, 5 courts of appeal and the Supreme Court of Justice. The administrative justice which is autonomous, i.e. independent from the civil justice, is organised on a three-level structure which includes: 17 Administrative and Tax courts (first instance), and 3 higher instance courts of administrative jurisdiction.

3. Legal aid and court fees in Portugal (2021 data)

In Portugal, legal aid is available for :

- > Representation in court:
  - Criminal cases ✓
  - Other than criminal cases ✓
- > Legal advice, ADR and other legal services:
  - Criminal cases ✓
  - Other than criminal cases ✓
- > Fees related to enforcement of judicial decisions as fees for enforcement agents (Q18) ✓
- > Other costs than above (Q19) ✓

The Portuguese law foresees the total or partial exemption from court fees and other expenses related to the case, such as fees for the enforcement of judicial decisions.

Legal aid may also include fees of technical advisors or experts, costs of other legal professionals (notaries) and travel costs. In addition, all applications, certificates and any other documents requested for legal protection purposes are exempted from taxes, fees and charges.

Timeframes of the procedure for granting legal aid (in relation to the duration from the initial legal aid request to the final approval of the legal aid request)

- Maximum duration prescribed in law/regulations: 30
- Actual average duration: 100

The maximum duration of the procedure for granting legal aid is 30 days (article 25 (1) of Law No. 34/2009 of 29 of July). Regarding the actual average duration, it should be noted that in the context of the COVID pandemic, procedural deadlines were suspended, which has influenced the duration of the procedural timeframes.

4. Performance of courts in Portugal (2021 data)

• Efficiency indicators

◦ Clearance Rate (CR) and Disposition Time (DT)

The Clearance Rate shows the capacity of a judicial system to deal with the incoming cases. A Clearance Rate of 100% and higher does not generate backlog.

The Disposition Time determines the estimated number of days necessary for a pending case to be solved in a court.

Clearance Rate by instance and by matter in 2021 (%)

DispositionTime by instance and by matter in 2021 (days)

The Clearance Rate is above 100% only in civil and commercial litigious cases in all instances. Among courts, only the Supreme Court maintained a Clearance Rate above 100% in all types of cases. The lowest Clearance Rate was in administrative law cases in 2nd instance courts (89,4%).

The Disposition Time in civil cases (253 days) is above the EU Median (234 days) in first instance courts only. The Disposition Time in administrative law cases in first instance courts (792 days) and second instance courts (836 days) is considerably above the EU Medians (296 and 284 days, respectively). In Criminal law cases, the Disposition time in Portugal (56 days) is considerably below the EU median (126 days) only at the Supreme Court level.

In 2021, in Portugal, the total length of proceedings, all instances together, was the longest in administrative matters, which is also the EU trend. However, the Disposition Time indicator in Portugal remained above the respective EU medians at all instances. Indeed, the values for first and second instance administrative cases remained unusually high, despite the decreases registered since 2020. As at the EU level, the total length of criminal proceedings appears as the shortest one in Portugal, slightly exceeding the EU value. It is worth highlighting that in Portugal, civil proceedings appear almost as fast as criminal proceedings, their total length being quite below the EU median. The Disposition Time indicator in civil matters is above the EU median only at first instance, while at second and third instances the values are remarkably low.

In Portugal, there is only one training institution that provides training for both public prosecutors and judges. Therefore, it is not possible to single out the sole budget dedicated to the training of prosecutors.

The data indicated for "number of processed cases" correspond to “the total number of criminal cases at the investigation stage that have been closed”. The Public Prosecutor's Office closes the inquiry as soon as it has gathered sufficient evidence that no crime has been committed, that the defendant has not committed it or that the procedure is legally inadmissible. The Public Prosecutor's Office also closes the inquiry if it has not been possible to obtain sufficient evidence that a crime has been committed or who the perpetrators were.

In 2021, the data for accredited or registered mediators who practice court related mediation is not available. The variation between 2020 and 2021 cannot be calculated.

In Portugal, there is a national registry of private mediators and also a national registry of public mediators, and it is not possible to determine which of them practice court-related mediation. Since the registration is not mandatory, there are also some mediators that are not registered and may practice court-related mediation.

8. Systems for measuring and evaluating the performance of courts and public prosecution services in Portugal (2021 data)

In Portugal, quality standards are determined for the judicial system at national level (e.g. quality systems for the judiciary and/or judicial quality policies). Specialised personnel within the public prosecution services is entrusted with implementation of these national level quality standards.

The Law on the organisation of the judicial system (Law 62/2013 of 26 August) sets out that the High Council for the Judiciary and the Prosecutor-General, in liaison with the member of Government responsible for justice, establish, within their respective competences, the strategic objectives for first instance courts for a three year period. These entities are also responsible for setting, every year, the strategic objectives of first instance courts for the following judicial year.

Taking into account the results obtained in the previous year and the strategic objectives formulated for the subsequently year, the president of the court and the public prosecutor coordinator, after hearing the judiciary administrator, articulate proposals for the procedural objectives for each court. This system is recent, and its implementation is subject to improvements. It only covers civil and commercial cases. For instance, the Prosecutor General's Directives and Instructions define good practices of functional performance at national level and their compliance may be viewed an indicator of the quality of the work developed (example, Directive 5/2019 on acting in cases of domestic violence (<https://dre.pt/home/-/dre/126870404/details/maximized> - text in Portuguese)).

In addition to Directives and Instructions, the performance assessment system for prosecutors is based on quality criteria/performance parameters, as a rule, uniformly applied at national level.

As regards the personnel entrusted with the implementation of these national level standards, the High Council of the Public Prosecution Service has “inspectors” (“inspectores”) who assess the quality of the work carried out by the prosecutors, applying national quality criteria or standards.

In Portugal, there is a system to regularly evaluate the court performance based primarily on defined indicators and the frequency of the reporting is annual.

In addition to the annual report, there are also trimestral and semestral statistics to evaluate judge's performance. In the case of the Administrative and Tax Courts, the reports are semestral.

Performance and quality indicators are defined for the activity of each court.

The following indicators are used:

The evaluation of the courts' activities is used for the later allocation of means in the courts. The Administrative High Council has been using this evaluation of the activity of the courts of the administrative jurisdiction in view of the predictable number of magistrates needed in this Jurisdiction, to propose annually to the Minister of Justice the number of vacancies that should be accommodated in the training courses for magistrates of the administrative and tax jurisdiction; and to authorize the exercise of functions, in an accumulation regime, by magistrates in more than one administrative and fiscal court or tribunal.

A regular monitoring system of public prosecution services activities is in place concerning:
