GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT ZAGREB AND CROATIA

(please visit: <http://www.infozagreb.hr/>)

AREA: 56,542 sq km.

POPULATION: The total population in Croatia was estimated at 4.19 million people on January 1st 2017.

CAPITAL: Zagreb

Croatia is located between South-Central Europe and Middle Europe. Its shape resembles that of a crescent or a horseshoe, which flanks its neighbors Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina and Montenegro. To the north lie Slovenia and Hungary; Italy lies across the Adriatic Sea. Its mainland territory is split in two non-contiguous parts by the short coastline of Bosnia and Herzegovina around Neum.

Croatia is a cultural, historical and natural treat for travelers. The most popular possibility for travel and tourism, of course, is summer tourism. You can also enjoy the benefits of rural tourism in many of the villages in the continental region of Croatia, as well as of health tourism in a number of spas and thermal and mineral springs.

Weather and climate

Zagreb weather can be defined by its four seasons. During autumn, October and November, Zagreb experiences a colder temperature. The average high stands at 11 °C in October and 6 °C in the last month of the season.
