	preconditions to extradition. In the case that the decision to refuse extradition is passed, next instance higher court shall (after hearing the public prosecutor and the defence attorney) ratify, revoke or revise the decision. The decision on fulfilment of preconditions to extradition may be appealed to the next instance higher court. An enforceable decision on the fulfilment of preconditions to extradition shall be transmitted to the Minister of Justice, who shall pass a decision granting or refusing extradition. 2. Simplified extradition The person requested for extradition may be surrendered in a simplified procedure if he/she consent to the simplified procedure (after presenting to him/her the consequences and establishing that the such consent was expressed voluntarily). The consent is irrevocable. Without the delay, all the documentation shall be addressed by the judge to the Pre-trial Chamber, which will pass a decision on fulfilment of preconditions to extradition. The decision may not be appealed. The decision of the Pre-trial Chamber shall be transmitted to the Minister of Justice without delay, who shall pass a decision granting or refusing extradition.
