

Information from the Swedish authorities

The legal process in this case is handled by the Swedish Prosecution Authority and a preliminary investigation is ongoing. Two individuals are detained at this time suspected for attempted murder and conspiracy to attempted murder. The Prosecutor acts independently of the Government. The Government has no right to interfere with the decisions of any public authority in a particular case. The exercise of public power under the law by independent public authorities is an important safeguard for the rule of law.