

Response from the Swedish Government

“Safeguarding the rule of law is high on the Swedish Government’s agenda. An independent judiciary and a well-functioning and trustworthy justice system are essential foundations of a democratic society. A preliminary investigation has been initiated and the handling of the case is now a responsibility of the independent law enforcement authorities.”