Discovering the Layers of İzmir

25 - 28 October 2025

3 nights 4 days

Shaped by millennia of cultural exchange, İzmir stands as a living testament to the layered history of the Aegean. From the ancient city of Smyrna to today's vibrant coastal metropolis, İzmir embodies a tradition of coexistence rooted in diversity and resilience.

Among its most celebrated heritage sites are Ephesus and Pergamon—both UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Ephesus mesmerizes with its grand Roman architecture, including the Library of Celsus, while Pergamon's acropolis reveals the intellectual and political might of a once-great Hellenistic capital.

İzmir also holds a special place in the European Route of Jewish Heritage, with one of the world's rarest ensembles of Sephardic synagogues concentrated in the Kemeraltı district. Synagogues like Bikur Holim and Algazi reflect a once-thriving Jewish presence, preserved in quiet courtyards and shared memory. Nearby, the elegant neoclassical facades and Orthodox churches of Basmane and Karataş recall the Anatolian Greek (Rum) communities that shaped the city's social and architectural fabric.

From Hellenistic temples to Ottoman bazaars, Sephardic cortijos to Rum mansions, İzmir is not just a mosaic of heritage—it is a city where memory is lived, not archived.

This journey invites you to explore a place where identities have long intertwined, and where the echoes of the past continue to shape a vibrant, plural present.

Chasing the Sun Among Eternal Stones (Adıyaman, Diyarbakır)

25 - 27 October 2025

2 nights 3 days

The sun has long been more than just a source of light—it is a guide, a witness, and a silent storyteller of ancient civilizations that thrived under its glow. In Mesopotamia's sacred lands, history was etched into stone, faith took root, and legends came to life. Following the sun's path here is a journey through time itself.

At Mount Nemrut, the morning light bathes the colossal stone heads of gods and kings in a divine glow. This UNESCO World Heritage Site is the final resting place of Antiochos I, a ruler who sought to unite East and West beneath the heavens. Along this solar route, Zerzevan Castle stands tall, sheltering the remarkable Mithraeum—a place where rituals to the sun god once illuminated the shadows. Listed on UNESCO's Tentative List, Zerzevan holds mysteries still waiting to be uncovered.

Nearby, the imposing Diyarbakır Fortress and the lush Hevsel Gardens—both UNESCO-listed—tell stories of resilience and continuity. Within the historic Suriçi district, layers of human history unfold, inviting visitors to walk through an ancient manuscript written in stone and soil. This journey promises chasing the sun through humankind's incredible works of art—where ancient stone monuments and sacred rituals illuminate the mysteries of past civilizations under the same golden sky.

Konya – The Sufi Path of Love

25 - 27 October 2025

2 nights 3 days

In the heart of Anatolia, Konya offers a profound encounter with the spiritual philosophy of Mevlana Jalaluddin Rumi. At the Mevlana Museum—once the center of the Mevlevi dervish order—visitors are introduced to a world shaped by poetry, music, and contemplative devotion. Beneath the iconic turquoise dome lies the tomb of Rumi, whose teachings on love, unity, and surrender continue to resonate across centuries and cultures.

A visit to Konya is also a journey through the deep companionship between Rumi and Shams of Tabriz, whose transformative presence ignited one of the most powerful intellectual and spiritual legacies of the Islamic world. To further immerse yourself in this tradition, you may take part in a Sema workshop: an introduction to the whirling ceremony recognized by UNESCO as Intangible Cultural Heritage—a ritual that transcends motion and becomes meditation.

This experience offers not only a glimpse into Sufi practice, but also a deeper reflection on the universal longing for connection, transcendence, and inner harmony.
