

WOMEN FORGING LASTING PEACE

Annual Conference of the Council of Europe Gender Equality Commission

Victoria Sandino Simanca Herrera, peace negotiator for the FARC-EP in the 2016 Final Peace Agreement, coordinator of the gender equality subcommittee that incorporated a gender perspective into the Agreement, former Senator of the Republic (2018-2022); she supported the Office of the High Commissioner for Peace in incorporating a gender perspective into the talks within the framework of complete peace (2023).

She works with victims of the armed conflict within the framework of early reparations and their empowerment to influence public policy in PDET (priority) territories (2026). She is a journalist and sociologist, holding a master's degree in Equality and Equity for Development, and a master's degree in Conflict Resolution and Mediation. She is an international consultant on women, peace and security issues, and on women's participation in mediation and conflict resolution. She defines herself as an insurgent feminist with a Black identity, and she also supports community women and peace signatories in mediation and conflict resolution in complex and violent territories.
